On Jan. 26, government officials told reporters that liquidation of potassium mining and processing company, Petrobras Mineracao S/A (Petromisa), had been completed. The Petromisa complex is located in Sergipe state. (See Chronicle 03/21/90 for report on plans for liquidation of state-run companies.) The plant's 1,359 employees were dismissed, and assets including the potassium mine-mill operation were turned over to the Companhia Vale do Rio Doce (CVRD).
