To the Young and Young
Women of the N.M.

At this time of the year we begin to receive our New Fall Goods, and every year adds new interest and variety to the subject of the total investment of 175, 125 goods of college grade. This year the novel features are the use of new and old standards which are better represented than ever before, with many new schools introducing a college type; that is, in the students. The large order list is open to all students and there are students of all colleges and schools interested in the wide variety. This speaks well for the store as a whole.

T. M. C. A. to Be Live Propositions

(Clipped from page 1) The store is interested in the appearance of new schools and real rough stuff instead of a place where the apples don't fit out of the rough; there will be Portuguese and Spanish clothing, English, German, and English clothing of flyshing, yachting and other outdoor events in keeping. Also, T. M. C. A. will be a welcome surprise to the store.

Two men were out for football practice Friday afternoon. There were about twenty-five members of the football team who voted.

Rush Week is over, and we understand there will be a few more students who will look into the store.

Y. M. C. A. Conference at Estes Park

(Lexie Lounsbury)

The Western Student Conference of the Young Men's Christian Association was held at Estes Park, Colo., August 20th to 25th. It was the twenty-third conference of its kind, and the first time that the conference has been held in the West.

Due to the present situation in American University life, the conference has been moved from Washington, D.C., to Estes Park, Colo., August 20th to 25th. It was the twenty-third conference of its kind, and the first time that the conference has been held in the West.

At the conference, there were three hundred and fifty students from twenty-five different colleges and universities throughout the United States. The purpose of the conference is to provide an opportunity for college students to meet fellow students from other institutions and to discuss the various problems that they face.

President Roosevelt will be the keynote speaker of the conference. He will address the students on the subject of "The Future of Democracy." Other speakers will include Governor James W. Goodwin of Colorado, Senator Hiram B. Love of Washington, D.C., and Governor John J. Rankin of California.

The conference will conclude with a banquet on Friday evening, August 24th. The keynote address will be given by President Roosevelt, followed by a speech by Governor James W. Goodwin of Colorado. The banquet will feature a dance and a keynote address by Governor John J. Rankin of California.

Prospects Bright for Football

Wool of New Mexico indicates strong interest in football.

Prospects were brighter for football this year than ever before. The Boys' and Girls' teams are making good progress, and the interest is much greater than in previous years.

the leading to the arrest or apprehension of the masterminds behind the recent string of attacks.

Joe McCauley, a member of the football team, was arrested earlier today in connection with the situation. McCauley, along with several other students, is believed to have been involved in the planning and execution of the attacks. The situation is expected to be taken very seriously by the university administration, who have already started investigating the matter.

The university has also urged all students to avoid any potential risks and to report any suspicious activities to the authorities immediately. The university is committed to maintaining a safe and secure environment for all its students and staff.

As for the other news items mentioned in the article, there is an emphasis on the importance of maintaining a close relationship with the university's sponsors and partners, who are key to the university's success. The university is also highlighting the importance of embracing new technologies and innovations, such as artificial intelligence and data analytics, to stay ahead in the competitive landscape of higher education.

The university is also encouraging its students to engage in extracurricular activities to enhance their learning experience and to help them develop the skills and knowledge needed for success in their future careers.
