FAST INFO

Have a question? Ask it at http://fastinfo.unm.edu and we’ll try our best to answer it here.

Question: Do I need a minor or focus or anything else to graduate with a BBA?

Answer: We do not require Anderson students to have a minor with their BBA, however, most students need about 25 hours of free elective credit to graduate and pursuing a minor can help you to focus those classes rather than just taking random courses to get enough degree hours to graduate. You can also add a second concentration to your degree plan, like accounting AND finance, for example. The additional courses for the second concentration count toward your degree hours and both concentrations will appear on your transcript; this could potentially make you more marketable.

You do not have to have a focus for your BBA. We do have something called the No Concentration option where you complete 12 hours of management courses (4 courses from four different management disciplines) in addition to the 30 hours of management core classes that all Anderson students complete. We do not recommend the No Concentration option unless you’re interested in going right on to graduate school. If you want to graduate and find a job with your BBA, you should have a concentration.

ANDERSON BIG SHOTS

The Association of Graduate Business Students (AGBS) strives to create an inviting and friendly atmosphere at each and every of its many social networking events. The diverse graduate student body at Anderson is encouraged to bring their significant other, family members, and/or peers to engage in various activities going on throughout the UNM and Albuquerque community. Previous events this 2007-2008 school year have included: football tailgating with Rudy’s BBQ, Santa Fe Brew Co. Concert, movie showing with food, buffets at Jackson Student Center, Zinc Wine Bar happy hour, Scorpions hockey game night, and playing paintball at Hinkle Family Fun Center. And the year is not over yet. Future events include: April 12 Isotopes baseball game night, Century Rio Movie Ticket Night, and the graduation dinner at El Pinto Restaurant!
