Narrow GSA Victory for Evans; All Election Amendments Pass

By Laura Tolley

Voters in the University of New Mexico Graduate Student Association general election yesterday gave C. Jeffrey Evans a narrow win in his presidential race against John Hooker.

Official results tallied Thursday night by the GSA Election Committee showed Evans capturing 190 votes, while Hooker took 156. One write-in vote was cast for John Tan, and two students cast "no contest" votes for president.

"I'm happy that I did win," Evans, a 27-year-old student enrolled in UNM's College of Arts and Sciences and School of Architecture and Planning graduate programs, said Thursday night.

Evans said of the estimated 4,250 graduate students at UNM, he expected about 500 to vote, but the low voter turnout "doesn't bother me that much."

"I'll be ready (to take office) June 6."

The voters passed the GSA internal budget at $96,502 and the external budget at $38,688 on a vote of 309 to 32.

* Amendment 1, pertaining to the duties and salary of the GSA president, passed 299 to 20.

* Amendment 2, regarding election procedures, passed 294 to 25.

* Amendment 3, proposing that the GSA Finance Committee be fiscal overseer of GSA 운영, passed 294 to 25.

* Amendment 4, outlining the GSA Finance Committee's duties pertaining to the budget, passed 301 to 18.

* Amendment 5, outlining qualifications of GSA members, passed 301 to 18.

* Amendment 6, regarding the Special Projects and Speakers Committee, passed 301 to 15.

* Amendment 7, allowing for the GSA Council to appoint and create other committees, passed 302 to 17.

* Amendment 8, allowing the GSA president to create executive committees, passed 304 to 15.

GSA President Dolph Barlow said the Election Commission did a good job, and it was an unfortunate voter turnout in the new.

Evans said during his campaign that financial aid was the No. 1 crisis at UNM: He said the problem must be addressed by the GSA, the president and the UNM administration.

Evans said he hopes to see the creation of support services for graduate students.

GSA Election chairwoman Deena Russell said the last GSA meeting will be May 7. The new president usually takes office soon after that.

China Stops U.S. Exchanges

PEKING (UPI) — China suspended all official cultural and sports exchanges with the United States Thursday to protest Washington's decision to grant political asylum to Chinese tennis player Hu Na.

A Western diplomat called the suspension a "major step backwards" in Sino-U.S. relations.

Communist Party Chief Hu Yaobang later praised the United States as a "hegemonistic" power interfering in China's internal affairs.

Although China cut back on U.S. imports in a trade dispute earlier this year, it was the first time since the normalization of relations in 1979 — after a 30-year break — that China has cancelled an existing agreement with the United States.

The retaliation was announced less than 24 hours after China, acting with unusual speed, lodged an extremely bitter protest with the United States over Monday's decision to grant political asylum to Miss Hu, who defected last July during a tennis tournament in Santa Clara, Calif.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman called the decision "an overreaction" in China's part and "a matter of regret to us." He refused to comment further.

A Western diplomat called it "the first concrete, major step backwards in Sino-American relations."

Zhang Weiping, who was to present his credentials as China's ambassador to the United States to President Reagan at the White House Thursday, earlier called the decision to grant asylum to Miss Hu "compromised, deliberate, a provocation."

In another sign of China's displeasure, Communist Party chief Hu delivered a strong personal attack on President Reagan at the White House Saturday.

"These are all acts of interfering in China's internal affairs," he said. The decision to suspend all further contacts under a two-year-old cultural exchange agreement was announced by the Ministry of Culture, which accused the United States of purposely manufacturing "a serious political incident" to set back Sino-U.S. relations.

A similar move was later approved by the Sports Federation, which said the granting of asylum to the star tennis player had "impaired the normal atmosphere in sports exchanges between China and the U.S."
Budget Panel Turns Down Ten Percent Defense Hike

ALBUQUERQUE — Senate Budget Committee Chairman Pro-Ed Enholm of Colorado on Thursday voted with the majority of his panel to increase defense spending by only 9 percent over the current year.

But the New Mexico Republican criticized President Reagan's advisory commission for recommending the chief executive a 22 percent increase.

Senator Bob Packwood of Oregon, the panel chairman, had not set a time limit on Enholm's remarks before the panel adjourned for the day. "We're trying to give Enholm some breathing room," Packwood said. "We're out to earn your trust.

But unlike leaders of some of his party's opposition, Enholm said he would have been willing to try to get different defense spending figures acceptable to his panel if President Reagan would have suggested some modifications and not accepted "nitty gritty" numbers where we could see some money, instead of maintaining their "black box" figures.

"We are trying to get a budget that looks right," he said. "I think that is why I am concerned about the budget. That is all I am doing. I am not trying to be a hardliner." Enholm declared.

"I am not worried about anything, except that our worry is going to be that our budget is going to be cut, we are not going to have the money to do the right things and we are going to have to make priorities."

"The way that I am doing it, my money is in our prior three years," he said. "I don't think we have enough money to do what we have to do."

"We have a lot of money to do it. I think that we need to do it. I think that we need to do it."

Warsaw Pact To Support General Armaments Reduction

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia — Communist leaders of the Warsaw Pact said Thursday they supported elimination of all nuclear weapons from Europe and a general arms reduction pact, including a NATO ban on atmospheric nuclear tests.

There has been no sign of any movement toward a general arms control agreement, including a NATO ban on atmospheric nuclear tests.

They also promised to eliminate all nuclear weapons from Europe as a goal for the future, but the Soviet Union has not yet made any moves toward eliminating them.

"This is a difficult but necessary task," Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze said.

"It is a task that we must accomplish," he said. "We cannot go on forever with nuclear weapons on our territory."

"We will work on this task," he said. "We will work on this task."

For example, the New Mexico Legislature has passed a bill requiring witnesses to report a rape or Imprison ($500 in Rhode Island, $500 in California). In addition, the Indian Health Service hospital during the period 1965 through 1979, would be 57,000, which represents 2.6 expected in the world I am not suggesting to simply name some unknown by unreported: according to 1980 U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics data, while $1 million produces in a fundamental education, or $12 billion in health, $100 billion in construction and $27 billion in transportation.

2. There are other ways to reduce oil imports than relying on nuclear energy. One way is to encourage the energy efficiency, especially appropriate in New Mexico, would be coal and wind energy.

3. It is not true that "we have never had a death row" with nuclear energy in its more than two years history. According to a December 4, 1983, report by the Worldwatch Institute, the largest amount of human, with the Federal Energy Administration during the period 1965 through 1979, is 16.8 million. The total amount of uranium required to make 140 kilograms of enriched uranium is about two to three days worth. This means that even if the uranium is not used for nuclear power, it would be have been depleted if they had experienced the non-fuel properties of the uranium-plutonium alloys — on the other hand, the cancer rate was found to be five times higher among miners than among workers who work with uranium. And here we are talking only about the miners. But even if the cancer rate were to be found to be five times higher than the general population, it would still be 0.00001 percent of the general population. Remember that there are now 110,000 uranium miners employed in the United States, and the results are
