NEW MEXICO LAW REVIEW
Published by the University of New Mexico School of Law, Albuquerque, New Mexico

Volume 37 Summer 2007 Number 3

INTRODUCTION ................................................................. ix

NOTES AND COMMENTS

The Constitutionality of Faith-Based Prison Programs: A Real World Analysis Based in New Mexico
Maya Anderson ................................................................. 487

New Mexico as Hollywood’s Backlot: An Examination of Film Financing, State Tax Incentives, and Constitutional Limitations
Danielle M. Cantrell .......................................................... 533

Manning v. Mining and Minerals Division: Sovereign Immunity as a Bar Against Claims for Damages Brought Under the U.S. Constitution
Nat Chakeres ................................................................. 573

Multiple Tortfeasors Defined by the Injury: Successive Tortfeasor Liability After Payne v. Hall
Megan P. Duffy ................................................................. 603

ACLU of New Mexico v. City of Albuquerque: Does Current Equal Protection Adequately Protect Some of the Most Hated Members of Our Society?
Jeremy K. Harrison .......................................................... 637

State v. Romero: The Legacy of Pueblo Land Grants and the Contours of Jurisdiction in Indian Country
Robert L. Lucero, Jr. .......................................................... 671

The Right to Consul and the Right to Counsel: A Critical Re-Examining of State v. Martinez-Rodriguez
Marshall J. Ray ............................................................... 701

INDEX: VOLUME 37 ............................................................ 733