INTRODUCTION

CONTENTS

Jurisdiction as May Be Provided by Law: Some Issues of Appellate Jurisdiction in New Mexico
Seth D. Montgomery & Andrew S. Montgomery

Jurisdiction as May Be Provided by Law: Some Issues of Appellate Jurisdiction in New Mexico
Seth D. Montgomery & Andrew S. Montgomery

Harry Potter and the Three-Second Crime: Are We Vanishing the De Minimis Defense from Copyright Law?
Julie D. Cromer

A Taxonomic Analysis of Mortgage Broker Licensing Statutes: Developing a Programmatic Response to Predatory Lending
Lloyd T. Wilson, Jr.

Should the Tail Wag the Dog?: The Potential Effects of Recidivism Data on Character Evidence Rules
Charles H. Rose III

Alone and Out of Excuses: The Tenth Circuit’s Refusal to Apply Federal Rule of Evidence 407 to Product Liability Actions
Evan Stephenson

An Originalist Theory of Precedent: Originalism, Nonoriginalist Precedent, and the Common Good
Lee J. Strang

COMMENT

District Court Review of Judicial Officers in New Mexico Domestic Violence and Domestic Relations Cases: Rethinking the Rules
Seth McMillan

MISCELLANY

Wheir’s the Beef? Buffalo Law and Taxation
Erik M. Jensen