1919 CATALOG OFF PRESS IN FEBRUARY

Several Changes In Courses, and in Entrance and Graduation Requirements: No German Offered.

The 1919 catalogue, which will soon be off of the press, reveals a number of changes in courses and regulations.

No German Course.

Changed conditions in world affairs seem to have changed the attitude toward teaching the German language in many parts of our country. At the University of New Mexico the language has been pushed out by the pressure of circumstances without official action. There is no demand for German, consequently there has been no professor employed and no provision made for the subject this year.

Romance Languages.

Advanced courses of high order in romance languages are to be offered by Professor Drake, who is well equipped for this work.

Sociology and Philosophy.

In the courses accepted for admission to the College of Arts, Philosophy and Sciences the subjects of sociology and philosophy have been added to the group of history, government and economics.

Names Changed.

What have heretofore been designated as Schools of Education and Home Economics are now called departments in the College of Arts, Philosophy and Science.

Hereafter the Department of Education will offer courses only for the preparation of teachers for high schools, or secondary schools. The work which has been given for grade and rural school teachers, has been discontinued to avoid duplication of courses offered by the state normal schools.

Mrs. Partridge, director of physical education for women, offers an attractive course in folk dancing.

B. A. or B. S.

For exactly the same work a student may choose either the B. A. or the B. S. degree.

No Thesis Required.

The thesis requirement for Bachelor of Science in Engineering has been removed.

General Regulations.

For conditional admission to the University fourteen units will be accepted, and fifteen for full standing.

The maximum number of hours a student may carry is sixteen, and eighteen on petition.

The number of hours for a minor study is decreased from eighteen to sixteen hours.

Hours for graduation from College of Arts, Philosophy and Science have been reduced from 192 to 186 on the four-quarter basis.

For home economics and engineering the same hours will be required, or a reduction from 216 to 186.—University News.

SENIORS ELECT OFFICERS.

At a meeting of the Senior Class held Friday, January 10, officers for the year 1919, were elected. They are: President, Miss Allie Athinson; Vice President, Miss Vera Kiech; Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Roberta Wood.

Several committees were appointed to consider plans for the future, and to look into the matter of class pins.

There are at present twelve Seniors, not all of whom will be graduated at the same time. One or two will be able to finish in March, four or five in June, and the remainder of the class will be required three quarters' work before graduation.

Another meeting of the class has been called for Friday, January 17, at 12:30 in room 25 of the main building.

BASKETBALL PRACTICE BEGINS ON THE HILL

New Coach Starts Athletics Immediately Upon His Arrival. States That No Previous Experience Needed To Come Out and Try For teams.

L. H. Purdy, the new athletic coach, arrived last Friday and began at once to work on plans for future athletics at the U. N. M. The first two or three days after his arrival were spent in looking the field over, and in cleaning up the gymnasiums and checking up on apparatus.

When spoken to about the outlook, Mr. Purdy stated that he was short on equipment and apparatus, but that he hoped to secure more at once. He stated that he would ask the athletic council to meet to discuss plans with him, and to appropriate money for immediate needs.

Asked whether he thought it practicable to have a basketball team this year, he said:

"I want to see seventy-five men out for basketball practice Wednesday night. It makes no difference whether a man has ever played basketball before in his life or not. We will organize a rookies' squad, in which those men will be played, and taught how to play. If one of us makes a mistake he will be laughed at, by men who are very likely to make the same mistake or worse."

Continuing, he said, "I saw the game between your fraternity teams Saturday night, and there is material in those bunches for a successful team. I don't know what other material there is, but there is doubtless just as good outside of these organizations."

Already, Mr. Purdy has been coaching the girls who are out for practice, "There are about ten girls out, when there should be fifty he stated, and I want to see those fifty out."

BUSINESS COURSES PROVING POPULAR

Department Under Direction of Professor Howard Enrolls More Students Than Expected.

That the new courses in Business Administration which were added to the curricula this quarter are going to be well received is evinced by the fact that fifty students are enrolled at the present time. Nineteen of these are in the class of Business Law, 17 are taking Accounting and 14 are enrolled in the class of Economics.

These courses, which will be followed in succeeding quarters by more advanced ones, give the groundwork of business principles which are invaluable to the business man or woman. Several of those enrolled are working down town part of the day and were only attracted to the university by the new subjects being offered.

Prof. Russell M. Howard, an officer in the S. A. T. C. camp here was retained by the university after his discharge, has charge of the department. Prof. Howard formerly taught in the school of commerce of the Oregon Agricultural College.

Below is the list of courses to be offered in this department in the fall, winter, spring, and summer quarters, respectively:

Introduction to Accounting. Principles of Accounting. Advanced Principles Accounting and Industrial Evolution.

Business Organization and Management, Principles of Economics, Principles of Economics and Transportation.

Advertising and Selling, Business Law, Business Law and Insurance.

Factory Cost Accounting, Theory and Practice of Auditing, Accounting Problems and Labor Problems.

Public Finance, Corporation Finance, Money and Banking, and Foreign Trade and Exchange.

(The last two groups are given in alternate years.)

The first practice for men was called for Wednesday evening at 6:30 in the U. N. M. gymnasium. All fellows who have the time are urged to come out, whether they have played before or not.

"I want this understood," stated Coach Purdy, "That athletics at the University of New Mexico will for all, and not for those few who are skilled players, and who need the training and experience least of all."

The girls have been practicing and will continue to do so, two practices a week being held at the Armory.

The coach has begun planning for basketball and track, and will make some announcements regarding them in a short time.

Dwight McClure is ill with the influenza, at the home of Birch Foraker.

IT MAKETH ME SICK.

Yea, verily, I have had many sickening experiences. I have been on the ocean when the fishes were fed, I have seen lovesick couples by moonlight, and I have eaten limburger cheese. But the thing that maketh me sicker than all others, yea, verily I say unto you it turneth my stomach inside out and maketh me exceedingly painful, is to see one who is not an officer buy a cap and putts and try to look like one.

By taking the first game of last Saturday night's basketball program at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium the Pi Kappa Alpha basketeers went into the lead in the city league. They played the Sigma Chis. The score was 42 to 30.

The game was hard fought. Frequent misses in attempts to cage the ball held the score down as well as the guarding ability of the fraternity men's defensive players. Ray and Joe McCanna, playing with the winners, showed something of their old-time form and were big factors in their team's winning. Sganzzini and Moots also put up good basketball while Gerpheide and Wait of the Sigma Chis starred for the losing five.

In the second game the Santa Fe shops quintet strengthened its position of the bottom of the standing by losing again—to the R. O. P. team. The score was 32 to 24.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1915.

We are now facing the largest task that any student body of this university has faced since the beginning days of the institution. And that task is the reorganization of every student activity which a school should normally have.

The war, by taking the majority of the men from school, and the S. A. T. C. by prohibiting various class and student organizations, have killed every resemblance of order and spirit that we ever possessed.

All restrictions have now been removed, and some of the former students are returning, and we must now begin almost at the beginning and rebuild.

It is possible that by the time this article makes its appearance, the student body will have met and elected officers. At least they will have met and discussed various ways and means.

If officers have been elected and organization effected, those heads, chosen by the students, should devote much of their time and energy to settling conditions and arousing school spirit. The president of the student body should at once call a meeting of the Freshmen Class for organization. The other classes should organize without any delay. (The Seniors have already done so.)

There will be innumerable other things to be done, and the officers will not be able to do them alone. They must have the help and support of every member of the school. There has been too much of the tendency "to let the other fellow do it." Whenever a person has been elected to some office, he has been left alone to do the best he could—by himself. Let's forget this tendency, and be willing to help in any way we can.

One of the best ways to arouse enthusiasm is through the medium of athletics. We now have the opportunity to do something in that line. If you can't come out for a team, get behind if for all you are worth and give it your support.

Another way is to learn the traditions and customs of U. N. M. There are various ways of doing this. Talk to alumni of the institution, get back numbers of the mirage, and in every way possible strive to learn something of the history of our university. Then do all you can to help make history.

We must not expect to accomplish all that is needed, this quarter or next. It is going to be a slow, hard process, but if we go at it in a determined manner, it will be a sure one.

THE R. O. T. C.

The question of the R. O. T. C. which the university is practically sure of getting has aroused considerable discussion among the men.

Everyone is agreed that military training is a great factor in developing both the mind and the body, but not every one is willing to go into the army again, or even the reserve, for these reasons:

First, it is probable that every man would have to attend a summer camp, taking the greater part of the vacation months. A large percentage of the men in the university make their own way, and have to work during the summer months to lay by enough to tide them over the school year. They feel that they cannot afford to lose this time, from a financial stand point.

Second, a majority of the men do some work outside of school hours. They fear that the military work will interfere with this work, which must be done if they stay in school.

Third, the probability of it being made compulsory turns some against it outright. When a man has gotten out of the army recently he feels his freedom, and is to be handled in a manner similar to the mule which is to be watered.

The details of the organization have not yet been formulated. Perhaps all these fears may be groundless; we hope so. This is not in the least an attempt to dampen the spirits of the men toward the R. O. T. C., but merely calls attention to the sentiments in the minds of a great many students. It is to be hoped that a plan may be worked out which will make it possible for every man to take it, and want to take it.

EASING THE CARES OF SOLDIERS' FAMILIES

The ten thousand Home Service Sections of the American Red Cross, in their work of looking after the families of the enlisted men, are doing wonders for the morale of the army. Our fighters are not men who are going to worry about themselves, but if they do not get cheerful letters from home, or if anything goes wrong there, they are going to worry, and that delicate thing the army men call morale is going to be disturbed. It is to safeguard against this and also to prevent needless suffering and to promote that spirit of neighborliness and kindly aid that binds each community into an organic whole that the Home Service was organized.

Over 50,000 workers are serving on these ten thousand committees, which reach into every corner of the country, however remote. Not a town or village or crossroads that is not within reach of the Red Cross; not a wife or child or mother of a man in service who cannot claim the ready aid of the Red Cross workers.

More than 300,000 families of American soldiers and sailors have been relieved of money troubles, legal difficulties and worries of all sorts by the protecting arm of the Red Cross. If the allowances of allotments under the War Risk Insurance law do not come the matter is at once referred to Red Cross Headquarters, taken up with the proper government bureau and promptly straightened out.

SOCIETY

On the February 12th, Albuquerque Society, will give an up-to-date vaudeville "The Merry Whirl." The plan is copied from one of the French Cabarets in New York City, and promise to be most entertaining. This event is being given for the Armenians and many people have donated their time and material for such a good cause. Among some of the attractions will be, fancy dancing by Misses Cora and Sidney Nelson who were studying that cut in Paris, when the war broke out. A one act sketch "Ellen Goes First" of which Mrs. G. K. Angle is the director, is now well underhand. Among the university students who will take part are, Allie Atkinson, Margaret Lee, Flora Marshall, Ruth Thomkins, Katherine Angle, Margaret McCanna, Jule Hubbard, Grace Stortz.

YOUR RED CROSS

An Army Without a Gun

By MEREDITH NICHOLSON

Of the Vigilantes.

THE Red Cross is the greatest instrument of mercy the world has ever seen. Noble as the service of mercy and helpfulness was in Civil War days, the Red Cross surpasses it immeasurably not only in the range and variety of its effort, but in efficiency and effectiveness.

The Red Cross is, we may say, the arms of the mothers of the world reached out to their sons to bind up their wounds and comfort them. The Red Cross is an army without a gun that wages war only upon suffering and heartache. Where the flag of the stars goes there the banner of the Red Cross must fly beside it. We watch our boys go forth to war with a spirit of hopefulness because we know that this great agency of humanity presses close behind them; that its work is not incidental, but the intelligent directed effort of one of the most marvelous organizations ever contrived by American genius.

We have all contributed to the Red Cross; we shall be called upon again to contribute to its funds,—again and perhaps again. And we will respond again and yet again! For this is a war for the defense of civilization, and we of great, free, splendid, glorious America, have every intention that it shall be fought with the army of the Red Cross solidly supporting our soldiers.

Lieutenant C. Annis, of the Oregon Aggie College, is the guest of his fraternity brother, Herbert Hickey.

That well known order "The Koyote Klub," have been given their freedom and for the present, anyone desiring information, should ask the new student at the varsity.

There was a Panhellenic Meeting on Tuesday afternoon, and the delegates discussed a future program.

There will be a meeting of the Senior Class, Friday noon, Jan. 17th.

One of the most important campaigners on the hill this week, is the Y. W. C. A. One hundred per cent. roll call. Miss Ethel Hickey will address a meeting next Friday afternoon, and it is hoped that the university girls will support the work.

Mrs. L. B. Mitchell tendered a reception to the ladies of the faculty and the wives of faculty men last Friday afternoon at the Mitchell residence on East Silver. The occasion proved to be very pleasant and is a beginning of greater social activity among university people during the winter term.

The university has received from the U. S. Civil Service Commission a copy of the announcement of examinations to be held February 4th, for the position of Chief, Smith-Sears Division, at $5,000 a year, and other offices. The positions are in the office of the Federal Board for Vocational Education. The tests will be based on (1) education, (2) experience and (3) thesis and publications. THE FUNNIEST THING IN LIFE.

Is to hear a gentlemen attempt to entertain his lady friend during a basketball game. Especially when the lady is one much sought after, and he considers it his duty to do his darnedest. The following conversation was taken down approximately verbatim at last Saturday night's game. It was between He and She.

He—"That boy X is some bird, believe me. Look at him fall on that ball." (5 times.)

She—"Ugh-huh" (three times.)

"He sure is, isn't he" (two times.)

He—"That guy Y isn't bad either, for a beginner. He was never on the floor until tonight."

She—"You don't say," (looking surprised.)

He—"And this man Z sure plays well. You know he was sick in bed for the last few days." (two times.)

She—"Is that so," (once) and "You don't say" (once.)

He—"That man A held up pretty well; I expected he would have to drop out sooner, for you know he's been sick, too."

She—"Re-ally!"

He—"Yes, and if our men had practiced some more we would have beat those other guys very badly."

She—"You don't say!"

It looks as though we have a "Dere Mabel" in the varsity. The following letter was found in the Weekly box with a statement that it is a true copy of an original received by a certain U. N. M. girl, name not given.

Lyons, Kansas.

"My sweetest little girl:

"I should have written to you sooner but I did not. I received the finest present you could have sent me I wish to thank you for it.
