STUDENT CONVENTION A GREAT SUCCESS

Interesting Report Made by U. N. M. Representatives on Big Meeting in Des Moines.

Wednesday, December 31st, the first day of the Eighth Annual Convention of the Student Volunteers, was a momentous day in the history of the movement. Polk County Court House was jammed from door to door, from basement to dome. Seven thousand five hundred students from a thousand colleges and universities in the United States, and Canada were present. Not only were the American schools of higher learning represented, but students from all the South American countries, Asia, Africa, Europe, Australia, and the Islands of the Seas were present. All gathered together that they might see and become inspired by the world's greatest needs.

Among the most significant delegations were those from our negro colleges. Standing near the main entrance of the Court House and watching the delegates crowd in, one could not but be impressed with the potential possibilities within these colored delegates for the uplift and Christianizing of their own race the world round.

Another nationality represented by numbers of delegates were the Chinese. With these Chinese inspired and returned to China to inspire thousands of their own people, these thousands inspiring millions in their return, can we not read the prophecy of a converted and Christianized China within the next century?

At twenty minutes past two, the Coliseum was crowded to its limits. Seventy-five hundred college students, one thousand Christian leaders from every empire, state, or province in the world, and fifteen hundred interested people from various parts of the United States and Canada were gathered together in the first session of the greatest convention of its kind ever held. A hymn was announced by John R. Mott, chairman of the convention and head of the Student Volunteers, and that assembly "sang." Never was there such singing. The way in which that hymn grew in power and rolled upward, it's a safe bet that the golden harpists had to strike their harps and sing a little louder to make themselves heard:

Onward Christian soldiers,
Marching as to war,
With the Cross of Jesus,
Going on before.

Thousands of those singers were inspired with the thought that they themselves would some day be carrying the Cross of Christ; the emblem of purity, universal love and moral freedom, into the darkest, farthest, most outposts of the dwellings of

FRATERNITY AVERAGES MADE PUBLIC BY REGISTRAR

Scholarship Cups Go to Phi Mu and Phi Kappa Alpha for Last Quarter.

Averages for the various fraternities and sororities have been compiled by the office, and published together with the winners of the scholarship cups. These cups are bought by the fraternities and sororities for the purpose of encouraging better scholastic records in the University. The fraternity winning the cup keeps it until averages are made up for the next quarter, when it is again awarded to the group having the highest average grade. The fraternity winning the cup five times keeps it as a permanent possession.

Phi Mu sorority won the cup for the women, and Phi Kappa Alpha for the men, with the respective averages of 83.67% and 81.13%. Averages for each fraternity are printed below:

Phi Mu	83.67
Alpha Chi Omega	82.27
Phi Kappa Alpha	81.13
Kappa Delta Nu	80.38
Alpha Delta	79.71
Kappa Kappa Gamma	74.50
Sigma Chi	70.30

With regard to the above averages, the following information was given out by the office:

70 hours of S were made by the men, and of these Alpha Delta made 48.

6 hours of S were made by the women, and Alpha Chi Omega made 4 of the 6.

Phi Mu and Kappa Delta Nu had no conditions or failures.

Alpha Chi Omega had no failures.

Kappa Kappa Gamma had no work incomplete.

Phi Mu had the largest average credit hours for women.

Alpha Delta had the largest average credit hours for men.

Phi Kappa Alpha made the most hours of G.

SPANISH CLUB ORGANIZED.

At a meeting of some forty people interested in the study of Spanish on January 12th, it was decided to reorganize the Spanish club which was begun two years ago but dropped on account of the scarcity of students at the University. The meeting was presided over by Anita Osuna, secretary of the club, and the following officers were elected to pilot the society through the remainder of this school year: Charles Gerhardt, president; Mary O'Loughlin, vice president; Anita Osuna, secretary-treasurer.

A program of meetings for this year was left with a committee to be made up of the officers of the club with Professors Hill and Ibarra as advisors. It is planned to have regular meetings.

AN EVENING IN SPAIN

Play To Be Given Friday Evening Under Auspices of Community Playhouse Association.

The Spanish play which is to be staged in the "Little Theatre" on the Hill on January the 23rd is sure to prove a big success. The play is under the direction of Prof. Roscoe R. Hill who made a study of Spanish plays during his residence in Spain. The splendid rehearsals reflect much credit on the department of Spanish. The Spanish dance by Chafin under the direction of Mrs. Wittemeyer a graduate of the Chafin school of dancing New York City, will be highly appreciated. The feature dances "Flower of Spain" and "By the Firelight" are delightfully interpreted by Mrs. Howard and Miss Elizabeth O'Hara. The costumes for the play were designed and made at the University and charming results are expected. Members of the Community Play House Association will be charged no admission.

THE N. M. P. H. A. ENDORSES "U" DRIVE

Endorsement of the campaign of the University of New Mexico for $12,000 with which to build and equip a domestic science building has been given by the officers of the New Mexico Public Health Association. The association is giving support to the campaign because it realizes that proper home surroundings and well cooked food are big factors in the promotion of health in every community.

Health departments in all parts of the country have been spending much time recently trying to teach individuals the importance of clean well-kept homes. The modern theory of disease

THE OLD TOPIC.

The time to improve on last quarter's grades is at hand. "Procrastination is the thief of time." "Never put off till tomorrow what can be done today." How many thrills of pleasure you experienced when you saw those S's on your grade slip last quarter! How satisfied you were with those good looking G's! Those M's—well, they didn't thrill so. Those W's—let's pass them by. Those I's certainly could be remedied. Those F's—let's don't discuss them at all, banish them entirely from the records this time.

Every professor here appreciates work; and the better the work, the more the appreciation. We may fool them once or twice, but we can't fool them all the time with our pretenses and excuses. Put that in your pipe and smoke it! They estimate us day by day, and at the end of the month or quarter, their final estimation appears in the form of our grades. No one can alter this verdict but the student himself, and now is the time to begin. Mentally we should be strong or this quarter than last, we should be able to grasp ideas and thoughts more quickly, and reason more clearly. Day by day we are forging our destiny.

Let's make this quarter better than last.

THE VALUE OF A MISTAKE.

Some one has said that a wise man never makes the same mistake twice. There can be no doubt that one can learn a great deal from his mistakes. This suggests the thought that we have observed two ways of treating the corrected blue books, so numerous just recently. Students of one sort have picked up the blue books, full of corrections made by an instructor, observed the grade and then have torn up the blue books, or have left them for a janitor to throw away. Another sort of a student has taken his blue book home. And there has opened his text and has read over what he should have said on examination. The former sort of student may not make his mistakes a second time, but he is a long way from being as certain of that, as is the student who digs thoroughly into those points which once he has missed.

men. And who can express the thoughts of those hardy, loyal, consecrated soldiers of the Cross present who had been fighting and laboring in the un-Christianized lands over the seas, holding on to and keeping the far-flung battle line of Christianity in anticipation of the time when hundreds of young men and women, represented by that convention, should come out to their needy fields and make a great offensive of their heroic defensive for Jesus Christ.

Following the preliminary service, John R. Mott delivered an address. His general theme was a discussion of the challenge of the problems of the time of University students and our responsibility toward their students.

These statements of Dr. Mott will show the entire trend of his thought:

"The call of today is the call to leadership."

"Whatsoever you would put into the life of a nation, you must put into its schools."

"This convention has not only brought us together before the needs of the world, but also to make us realize our common unity of purpose and God-given solidarity."

The second speaker for the afternoon was Robert E. Spier. His address was primarily of the relation of Man to God. He spoke not so much concerning the need of the time in any particular endeavor, but rather of the necessity of the individual to have a close, personal relationship to God. Robert E. Spier has been a missionary for several years and spoke "as an authority" of the vital personal God in his own life. The following statements will express the thought he attempted to convey.

"The great need of every day is of men who will think boldly and trustfully of God, and who will venture out on that bold thinking."

"If a man is properly dedicated to God and the service of humanity, he is as truly dedicated as if he were ordained to the Christian ministry."

It would be impossible to give even the most brief resume of the great speeches delivered at the convention. Of course the greatest inspiration was not through what one heard at the sessions, but by the spirit of the meetings which one had to feel, and also by discussion between groups outside of the regular meetings.

One of the most fruitful sources of inspiration was the luncheons one could absorb some great ideas with their potatoes and gravy, and at the close of each of these meals the speeches of the preceding sessions were discussed. In this manner every person present had the opportunity of hearing the attitude of the student delegates toward the issues discussed.

(This report will be continued next week.)

SPANISH CLUB ORGANIZED.

lar meetings which will be conducted wholly in Spanish, and some very pleasant as well as profitable evenings may be spent in this manner. At present fifty-three students have signified their intention of participating in the activities of the club, and more will undoubtedly be attracted in the near future.

KAPPA OPEN HOUSE.

The Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity was at home to the faculty members and the student body of the University, Sunday afternoon, at the residence of Professor and Mrs. R. M. Howard, from four to six.

Delicious tea and waffles were served by a bevy of Kappa girls, and Mrs. Howard poured, while Claire Bursom gave several piano selections. The Kappas were voted swell hostesses by every one present.

LUNCHEON IDEA ADOPTED.

The luncheon idea which has become so popular with city organizations has been adopted by Xi Chapter of Phi Mu. Alumnae members and those active students, whose classes do not interfere, have arranged to lunch together down town one day each week. Thursday has been chosen as the day, being the same that other members of the same fraternity, scattered in large cities from New York to San Francisco get together.

The first luncheon was held at the Alvarado, last Thursday, the following girls being present: Angelica Howden, Ruth Tompkins, Marian Spier, Grace Stortz, Eleanor Anderson, Lee Clair Cavanaugh, Virginia Henley, Louise Lowber, Alma Baldrige, and Flora Marshall.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

The pledges of the Phi Mu Fraternity will give an interesting little vaudeville after meeting next Tuesday evening, "in honor of their appalling alumnae a dñe formal active chapter," and as one pledge says, "it's simply going to shock them all to pieces." The one active in whom they have confided does not hold the same opinion.

The Alpha Delta Informal dance which was to have occurred at the Woman's Club Friday night, was necessarily postponed, and will be given in the near future.

Alpha Chi Omega Sorority will be entertained by the pledges at a delightful dance Saturday night, at the Woman's Club.

Kappa Delta Nu will keep open house Sunday afternoon, January 25, from 4 to 6 p. m. Miss Jahn is in charge.

Miss Betty Arnot and Miss Wenonah Dixon will be hostesses Saturday night at an informal dance, given at the residence of Miss Arnot. Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell will chaperone.

Miss Belle Barton had as her dinner guests Tuesday night, Helen McArthur, Margaret Lee, Grace Winfrey, and Frances Bear.

HAPPENINGS ON THE HILL.

The Kiyotes were out in full force late Saturday night, and after entertaining the girls at the various houses, initiation was held. Those appearing with pillows at breakfast next morning were Collins, Swinney, Murphy, and Holderness.

Miss Flora Marshall, a former student of U. N. M., registered again this week after an absence of several months. She says that it's mighty good to be back again and it's good to have her.

The Y. W. C. A. will entertain on Wednesday, January 29th, with their annual middy dance. Every girl in the University is cordially invited. The dance will be held in Rodey hall.

Prof. and Mrs. R. M. Howard chaperoned the Wednesday night recreation hour last week. Everybody had a good time!

Miss Edna Mosier, house-mother and chaperone of the Phi Mu House, has been quite ill the past week, but is very much better, and will be able to take up her duties at the University in a short time.

Miss Mamie Mills has registered at the University.

Byron E. Morris and Herbert C. Stacher, who were enrolled at the University last quarter, enlisted in the navy last week, and left Sunday night for El Paso. Morris goes to Chicago from there, and Stacher to Mare Island.

The Spanish class which is taught by Prof. Ibarra of the University at the Chamber of Commerce twice a week is rapidly growing in numbers, and more and more business men are taking advantage of the opportunity afforded them to learn Spanish. The hour is so arranged as to accommodate the greatest number of downtown people, and the course promises to be very popular.

No. 1

In groups they stand before the door,
And chat and laugh and flirt,
While others lounge against a tree,
And kick among the dirt.

A pleasing odor fills the air,
A noise is heard inside,
A slam of plates, and then a hush
For the door is opened wide.

A sudden rush, a tramp of feet,
On though the porch they pass,
And scrambling through the open door,
They reach their seats at last.

BASKET BALL SCHEDULE.

Five basket ball games have been scheduled by the University with other schools to be played at home and at other towns. With twenty-five men out for practice every night it is hoped to produce a basket ball team which will equal the record of the football squad, but it is recognized by all that great progress will have to be made in the near future. As yet no stellar forwards have been found, and the playing as a whole lacks teamwork, but with hard work during the next two weeks that difficulty should be overcome to a great extent.

The games as scheduled so far are:
Jan. 30—N. M. School of Mines at Albuquerque.
Feb. 4—University of Arizona at Albuquerque.
Feb. 5—University of Arizona at Albuquerque.
Feb. 13, 14—Agricultural College at Albuquerque.
Feb. 25, 26—University of Arizona at Tucson.

HIS DIFFICULTY

There was a boy in the room that couldn't pronounce the letter "r." The teacher gave him this sentence to read: Robert gave Richard a rap in the ribs for roasting the rabbit so rare. "He looked at it a few minutes and then read: "Bobby gave Dickey a thump in the slats for cooking the bunny so rare."
