ALPHA GAMMA GOES NATIONAL

Kappa Kappa Gamma National Sorority Grants Charter to University Local. Installation Will Take Place in the Near Future.

Tuesday, January 29, the members of the Alpha Gamma sorority received word that they had been granted a charter in Kappa Kappa Gamma, a strong national sorority. This granting of a chapter not only shows that the Alpha Gamma girls are recognized as a strong local, but also that the University of New Mexico is being recognized as a school of some standing.

The Alpha Gamma sorority was founded August 25, 1915, by eleven girls whose names follow: Irene Boldt, Kathleen Long, Myrl Hope, Shirley von Wachenhausen, Margaret Flournoy, Margaret Cooke, Louise Bell, Gertrude Isenberg, Edith Isenberg, Rebecca Horner and Katherine Conway.

With these eleven members as a foundation, the sorority grew rapidly, until last year it had twenty active members, and this year nineteen active members and two pledges.

Early in February of 1917, Alpha Gamma petitioned Kappa Kappa Gamma for a charter, and in April, Mrs. Estelle Kyle Kemp, grand secretary of Kappa Kappa Gamma, visited and inspected the local here. Her report to the grand council was favorable, and the grand council acted upon it. The proper ratification was not secured until a few days ago, however.

It was necessary for the Alpha Gammas to issue a booklet about the University and themselves, to send to each active and alumni chapter of the national, before final action was taken. This booklet, which was distributed the last fall, contained a short history of the University and of the sorority. It also contained pictures of the girls petitioning and a number of recommendations from University authorities and national fraternity men and women.

There are at present three members of Kappa Kappa Gamma in Albuquerque, Mrs. Bullock, Mrs. Jerry Haggard, and Mrs. Frank Miller. At the time of the local's petitioning, Mrs. Giltner, another member, was here, and took an active interest in the petitioning.

While the time of the initiation and installation ceremonies has not been definitely announced, it is expected that they will take place sometime within the next month or two.

The granting of the charter marks the end of a strenuous campaign by the Alpha Gamma girls for recognition, and they are certainly to be congratulated on their victory.

DR. BOYD RETURNS.

Dr. Boyd returned the early part of the week from a visit to Union County. He had been absent from the University for a week or ten days.

CABARET AT ELKS' NEXT FRIDAY NIGHT

Woman's Pan-Hellenic Will Give Excellent Entertainment for Purpose of Raising War Work Funds. Time, February the 8th.

'Tis an opportunity for a big time, called a "Carry on Cabaret," which the omen's Pan-Hellenic is giving at the Elk's club Friday evening, February the eighth. Leave it to the Greek letter women to stage something original which will furnish entertainment to the town people and at the same time raise the much needed funds for their proposed war work.

The "Carry on Cabaret" begins and ends with a dance, as every well regulated cabaret does, and sprinkled all through the evening will be attractions of all sorts, a musical program, illustrated with tableaux, side shows, plenty to eat and drink, French pastries, flowers, Red Cross girls, and all that goes with a gay bazaar. The whole affair promises to be one of the most entertaining of the year, and will be largely attended by University students. An admission fee of twenty-five cents will be charged, with fifty cents extra for the men who dance.

SKATING BY MOONLIGHT.

The above head does not sound like New Mexico; nevertheless, this time it does apply to the "Sunshine State." Several of the more venturesome ones, encouraged by the continued cold weather last week, went out to Blueher's pond, in Old Town, and there found good ice for skating, or so they report. A large fire was built to thaw out hands and feet. The Varsity people who went had a perfectly lovely time.

There was also a little skating on the Varsity swimming pool, one or two mornings last week, in which some dozen or more girls and one lone boy participated. The girls all say Scruggs can skate wonderfully.

WORK ON MIRAGE PROCEEDS.

All that was needed to start work on the Mirage was the election of a business manager. The editor, Miss Lina Ferguson, had her plans all laid, her staff all picked, and was ready for the word go.

The manager is busily engaged this week in securing photographs of the different fraternities and sororities, and of the clubs, staffs of the publications and the like. The class pictures will be arranged for in the near future. Hanna and Hanna are doing the photographic work.

The plan now is to have the Mirage off the press by May 15, so that a selling campaign may be put on before the close of school on June 10.

COAST ARTILLERY OFFICERS WANTED

Appeal Made to Universities for Material for Instruction. Enlistment Necessary Before Appointment to School.

The following letter, received by Dr. Boyd, presents a good opportunity to those desirous of enlisting in the army:

From: Acting Chief of Coast Artillery.

To: The President, University of New Mexico.

Subject: Training camp for officers of coast artillery.

There has been established at Fort Monroe, Va., and will be maintained throughout the war, a training camp from whose graduates will be appointed all officers of coast artillery. The course is of three months' duration, commencing early in January, April, July and October. The number of students will vary according to the prospective needs of the service. Only enlisted men of the coast artillery are admitted, selection being made by boards of officers convened in all commands about a month before the beginning of each course.

The coast artillery is charged with defense of harbors in the United States and the insular possessions, both by guns and by sub-marine mines; and with the service in Europe of the railroad artillery, the anti-aircraft batteries, the greater part of the heavy motor-drawn artillery, and the heavy trench mortar batteries. For officers of this service men of good education are needed, preferably college graduates or those who have completed the greater part of the college course. Electrical and mechanical engineers are especially desired, but technical education is not a necessity. Excellent opportunities for promotion are offered to men of this class, after very short enlisted service. In the belief that many of your alumni and undergraduates may be interested in this branch of the military service, this matter is brought to your attention, with the request that you give it the widest publicity.

A man who desires to enter the coast artillery, and is not registered for draft, should apply for enlistment at the nearest recruiting station, stating that he wishes assignment to the coast artillery. A registered man should write to the Acting Chief of Coast Artillery, Washington, D. C., giving a brief statement as to his education, and this office, if satisfied as to his qualifications, will return to him a letter for presentation to his local board, authorizing his immediate induction into the army and his assignment to a coast artillery station. Upon arrival there he should consult his company commander as to recommendation for appointment to the training camp.

For the Acting Chief of Coast Artillery:

THOMAS M. SPAULDING,
Major, Coast Artillery Corps.

CAMOUFLAGE IS AGAIN INVOKED

Dormitory Men, Acting Through a Desire to Help Hoover and to Imitate the French, Decide to Grow Moustaches.

A number of enterprising Dormitory men have conceived the idea of saving shaving soap, time and labor, and of becoming as much like our French allies as possible. This they plan to do by abstaining from the use of shaving soap or razor on that portion of the anatomy of the face which lies between the upper lip and the nose for the period of one month. Some twenty youths have signed the pledge, and from this time on misplaced eyebrows will be the style.

Sacks says he knows his won't show in a month's time, while Harry Lee assures us that we will not be able to see the rest of his face at the end of the month. Among other signers are all members of the Sigma Chi house, and Buckley, Craig, Gerhardt, Williams, Moore, Paulsen, Papen, Scruggs, Keinath, and others too numerous to mention.

Some one had predicted that French customs and ways would impress themselves on Americans as a result of the war, but probably he did not realize that the effects would be noticed so soon and so far from the front.

Plans are on foot to give a grand party at the end of the month, at which only camouflaged men and their ladies are to be present.

FEBRUARY THE FIRST IS TO BE KODAK DAY

Everybody Urged to Take All the Snapshots Possible and Turn Them in to the Mirage Editor.

What do you think is the most interesting feature of a college annual? What page do you always pore over the longest, and often clip for your own use? The kodak section, of course. Everybody admits it, even the editor. Ergo, Kodak Day, Friday, February the first, all day long on the University campus.

Everything from the old pin-hole camera to the newest Eastman ball-bearing, anastigmatic, autographic kodak special will be on hand and ready for business on Friday.

Everybody is going to take pictures of everybody else and of everything on the campus, and turn their pictures in to the editor of the Mirage as soon as finished, with the result that the 1918 year book will contain an almost invaluable picture record of student life. Unusual snapshots and artistic views are particularly desirable. Do your bit toward an attractive Mirage and bring your kodak on the Hill Friday.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 30, 1918.

THOSE WHO STAYED AT HOME.

Since the war began, the college man of military age and fitness who stays at home is constantly between two fires. On the one hand he is advised by college authorities to stay in school until called for service; that he can be of more real service to the country by preparing himself for work after the war. Even President Wilson has stated that all young men who were not called could best serve the nation by remaining in school. On the other hand, the young man's conscience, no matter how hardened it may be, cannot help but prick him occasionally upon the course he is taking. He cannot help but ask himself, "Am I a slacker and a coward, not to sacrifice as much as other fellows have for my country?" There is also pressure brought to bear upon him by outsiders, which, though it is not openly applied, can nevertheless be felt.

More and more it seems that the latter side is winning. Every day or so we see some young man who had formerly declared that he was not going to enlist, but wait to be called, suddenly changing his mind and voluntarily enlisting. No one has openly urged him to enlist, no one has called him a slacker, but he enlists just the same.

It may seem to be the best thing to remain and complete one's education, but if a man, in doing it, loses his self-respect (as some are doing), far better would it be for that man to enlist. If matters come to a point where it is a man's education and even life against self-respect, there is only one course. No man is a man without self-respect.

THE NEW NATIONAL.

The granting of a charter to a local sorority by a national one marks a step, not only in the girls' fight for recognition, but also in the University's fight for recognition. National fraternities are, as a rule, very conservative about placing their chapters, and will not place one in a school whose status and standing are doubtful. One of the first questions asked of the petitioning body is, "What kind of a school have you? How strong is it? What is its standing?" etc. Unless the fraternity can see that the school is well established and has a future of growth and progress before it, it will not grant a charter to any society within the school.

Previous to 1911, the University of New Mexico had no national organization among its students. This was not because there were no men and women of national fraternity calibre present in the school, but because the future of the school was extremely doubtful. Even then only one national sorority believed enough in the future of the University to grant a chapter. But under Dr. Boyd's administration the University made such rapid progress that in 1915, another national was established here, in 1916 still another, and last of all, this one in 1918.

Four nationals in a school of this size ought to be proof enough to anyone that the University of New Mexico ranks high in other parts of the United States as well as in New Mexico.

Eat at the New Republic Cafe.

S.

The ten great ingredients of a perfect man are indicated by S. Such are:

Silence: the secret of power, the doorway to the infinite, the beloved of the wise, the refuge of the distressed.

Strength: the goal of effort, the means of success, the joy of self-expression, the foundation of self-respect, the purpose and product of health.

Sense: the end of wisdom, the right use of knowledge, the harvest of experience, the balance of the faculties. Surety: the result of faith, knowledge of general laws, practice of hand and maturity of thought.

Sweetness: the crown of strength, the leafage and flower of a well-ordered life, the profit of discipline, the gain of sorrow.

Simplicity: the consummate art of both craftsmanship and life, the atmosphere of great souls, the style of great thoughts, the mien of great men.

Soundness: healthiness in all we think, say, and do; no perversions, prejudices, poisonous passions, overheated enthusiasms.

To those who like to play with great thoughts, who can use ideas with a sense of humor, and who can profit by logomachy in the gentle light of harmless artificiality, all this may not be without profit. — Dr. Frank Crane.

CARL H. MAGEE, JR., TELLS OF HIS EXPERIENCES.

Carl H. Magee, Jr., a last year's student, who was in France four months with the American ambulance corps, has been a visitor in Albuquerque and on the Hill the past week. While here Magee was kept busy relating his experiences in the war zone. Thursday he appeared before the Rotary club and talked on some of his experiences on the French front. Sunday night at the Y. M. C. A. luncheon, he related events of the trip over the sea and through England. Monday night, under the auspices of the Woman's club, Mr. Magee delivered a lecture on the various weapons, the hand grenades, etc., used by the French armies. An admission was charged, and the proceeds went to the Y. W. C. A. war work. Magee is an interesting speaker and has had numberless experiences to relate.

GUN CLUB.

The gun club is out after new members. They have plenty of ammunition and guns for everyone who joins to shoot. All that you have to do if you wish to join, is pay one dollar to Scruggs, Craig, or Professor Wand. This entitles you to 120 rounds of ammunition and the use of a gun at the shoots. The club has a great deal of ammunition left over from last year, and more than 120 rounds may be secured at a cheap rate.

Every boy who will become of military age within the next year or so and who is physically able should without doubt join the rifle club, and get all the benefit which it gives. Professor Wand, who took a course in a training camp, is in charge of the shooting. This insures a competent instructor. The instruction will be better than that received in many of the army cantonments, owing to the fact that there will not be so many to instruct.

Get that dollar and go on the next shoot with the club on Saturday afternoon.

SIGMA CHI PARTY.

The Sigma Chis threw open their house Sunday afternoon and evening to their girl friends, who entertained the Sigs with a feast of candy, hot chocolate and various other good eats. Abig fire was built in the open fireplace and the gay company formed a circle around it, and sang and talked and played the ukeleles to their heart's content. The Sigs all voted the girls the best of entertainers.

KAPPA DELTA NU OPEN HOUSE.

Wednesday afternoon, from 6 to 8, the Kappa Delta Nu sorority held open house at their sorority rooms in the girls' dormitory. Miss Garrett was in charge, and Miss Sisler, the University librarian, chaperoned. The affair was an enjoyable one. Light refreshments were served.

HIGH SCHOOL DANCE.

Some fifteen to twenty couples of University students attended the High School dance Friday night at the Colombo hall. The party was full of "pep" and all who attended resolved to go to the next one of these dances.

COYOTE CLUB TO ENTERTAIN.

The newly organized Coyote club (that is, it was organized last quarter) will entertain the students of the dormitories and fraternity houses Saturday night in Rodey hall. The Coyotes have promised an interesting evening. It is rumored that a real Coyote trial will take place. More details will be given next week.

"Let me tag you for a Mirage, please," says a pretty co-ed of the Mirage Tag Day committee. "Oh, certainly," you acquiesce, graciously, "I'll take two," handing the young lady a dollar, and then taking her over to see that your room-mate gets in line also.

DR. CLARK MAKES TRIP TO SANTA FE.

Dr. Clark, president of the Albuquerque Game Protective Association, made a trip to Santa Fe last week in the interests of the association. Dr. Clark is working to secure Stinking Lake as a game preserve. This lake, contrary to name, is a beautiful one, and an ideal game refuge.

"A WHOLE LOT."

The Same Which Means "So Long
Lettie" in Ukelele.

I've hated like thunder to do it,
It hurts like the devil to tell—
It hurts from my hair to my digits,
For I never climbed high till I fell;
And now I must witness the curtain;
So this is "A Whole Lot" farewell.

First to the mangy gymnasium,
Next to the old swimming pool,
The home of the Wa-Haha-Lotes,
And ill-fed mosquitoes, so crool;
I say with my hat off, "A Whole Lot,"
"Accept the regards of a fool."

Now to the youthful Hokona,
I chortle "A Whole Lot" with zest,
I've said it before on the doorstep,
And twice 'twas good-bye on request...
By smoking cheroots at Hokona,
I stood in a class with a pest.

To say "Good night shirt" to Kwa-taka,
And the Order o Stale, Hard-boiled-
Eggs—
The compounded spirits of nitre,
Evolved in the make-up of yeggs—
The cheap games of poker on credit—Hell! It makes me feel weak on my pegs.

To the buildings of study and labor,
I grumble, "A Whole Lot," in glee,
For I feel clear down to my uppers,
A fiendish delight to be free
From the tortures of old Rab, the Crabed,
On the drive for the Bachelor's degree.

The committee on grades will be useless,
When I've sifted the dust from my shoes,
But I know in my heart they will miss me—
There'll be nothing more left to abuse.
Gosh! It's sad to tell them "A Whole Lot,"
For they gave the poor devil his dues.
(Also the devil.)

So it's one fond good night! from the hard-head,
The slippery dodger of toil,
Who cut more than half of his classes,
Made the blood of the faculty boil—
In wild accents he hands you "A Whole Lot,"
As they say it in French "Olive Oil."

Loco Weed

Apropos of the campaign for saving shaving soap, some cruel-hearted wretch said:

"The boys who do not enter into this campaign ought to be more popular with the girls."

Whereupon a girl remarked fervently, "They certainly will!"

The detective is on the trail of the mysterious Mr. H., who has been removing various forms of foodstuffs from the rooms of the men's dormitory.

Rumor has it that there is a new
Mr. Darrow and a new Mrs. Scruggs, both from out of town.

"I want to thank you," she said
"For the flowers you sent last night.
They proved that I was wrong,
And that you were in the right."

The youth accepted the thanks,
As they strolled among garden bowers,
But he wondered as they chatted
along,
"Who in the deuce sent those flowers?"

He meets her at twelve-thirty,
They stroll about 'til one;
He meets her at three-thirty,
When her day's work is done.

She's never seen without him,
She's never seen alone;
If persistence e'er won fair lady,
She is already won.
