BERGER HAS HARD DEBATE SCHEDULE FORMED FOR FORENSIC ARTISTS

Dates Announced So Preparation
Can be Begun at Once for Meeting Californians and Wild Cats in April.

That debating will take a prominent place in University activity this semester is assured when Debating Manager Berger announced the dates of some of the contests he has arranged. Five debates are expected this year providing plenty of incentive to come out for the contests. The dates as arranged are:

April 13—University of Southern California, here, on the subject, "Resolved, that candidates for the presidency of the United States shall be selected by a national system of direct primaries." The University squad will uphold this proposition.

The University of Texas will send a team to Albuquerque for a debate on April 19, on the question, "Resolved, that the several states institute courts on industrial relations similar to that of Kansas."

April 1, University of Arizona, at Tucson. The same question will be debated, but the University will try to prove the negative.

In the first week in March, the New Mexico A. and M. college will meet U. N. M. at Mesilla Park on the subject, "Resolved, that the United States shall subsidize the merchant marine."

A contest is pending with Colorado College, to be held here. Colorado owes U. N. M. a debate, but final arrangements have not been made. Try-outs will be held to determine the men who will take part in each of these debates, the trials for the U. S. C. and Arizona events to be staged March 25.

In each debate, the team will consist of two men, except in the case of the Aggies contest, when three will compete for each side.

DR. HILL ANNOUNCES C. T. FRENCH MEDAL

Dr. Hill informed the student body that the C. T. French scholarship medal would be awarded at the close of the current academic year, probably during commencement week. Records of students for the last semester will be taken into consideration when determining the winner.

The students are eagerly anticipating the award of this coveted honor and there is a considerable amount of speculation as to who will prove to be the fortunate recipient.

Dr. Hill also told of the traditions of other universities, among which he included that of giving certificates of award for excellency in various activities, such as football, basketball, dramatics, authorship, and other branches of student endeavor. These awards, according to the president, would be made, not to individuals, but to campus organizations, societies and classes. Dr. Hill made known his intention of bringing the matter before the student council for discussion at their next meeting.

He also touched upon the lack of scholarships at our University, acquainting us with the incentive which they invariably prove and their tendency to raise standards in the different departments in which they are offered.

MARY McILVAIN AND MARY MIZE WIN HOTLY CONTESTED BEAUTY SCRAP

The beauty and popularity contest closed last Saturday evening at six o'clock with both sides fighting hard, and with Helen McIlvain taking the beauty honors and Mary Mize carrying away the long end of the popularity fight.

The feature of the early part of the contest was the big lead taken by Ada Bell Travis in the beauty contest. The real fight did not begin until the last week of the contest. Then the campaign managers for the two Alpha Chi Omega candidates got busy. Miss McIlvain and Miss Mize both took big jumps and were soon in the lead. The "opposition" then got into play, but it was not able to put over their candidates—Lorena Burton in the beauty contest, and Blanche Guley, the popularity candidate.

The two who will appear in the vanity fair department of the Mirage, are both attractive and popular young women and will add a lot to the U. N. M. year book.

STUDENTS VOTE FACULTY MAJORITY ON THE ATHLETIC COUNCIL

An interesting talk was delivered before the students and members of the faculty at the University of New Mexico at the regular assembly Friday January 21, by Dr. Bergman, rabbi of Temple Albert, which dealt with the subject of Brotherhood. This difficult subject was well delivered and was indicative of much thought. Judging from the applause of those who were privileged to hear the address, Dr. Bergman is the favorite speaker of the U. N. M. and his talk was appreciated by all.

Rabbi Bergman commenced his lecture with a quotation from the Old Testament, by which he explained that the author of the Biblical story of the creation of Adam and Eve believed that all men are created in the image of God and that all of the nations of the world are descended from the same original ancestors. A number of stories were quoted to show the belief of the ancients in the brotherhood of man and to prove that no one had the right to say, "My ancestors were greater than yours," for the analysis discloses the fact that all humanity are descendants of the same original ancestors.

In conclusion the students were urged to strive for those things that spell brotherhood.

Faculty to Continue to Control Athletics.

After an address by Rabbi Bergman and announcements by Dr. Hill, a meeting was called by John Scruggs, president of the Student Body, in order to consider the reservation to the acceptance of recent amendments to the constitution of the Athletic Association which had been submitted to the faculty for approval.

The exception referred to the clause which, as amended by the Student Body, would provide for a majority of undergraduates over faculty members on the athletic council. The chairman informed the Student Body that the faculty and Dr. Hill believe that the section concerning the athletic council as originally agreed upon by the student county and by the administrative council of the faculty should not be changed.

Section 1, article IV originally was: "There shall be an athletic council composed of three students elected by the Associated Students at the regular March election, and four faculty members appointed by the President of the University."

As a result of a motion by Charles Caldwell, which was duly seconded and voted upon, the faculty will continue to have four members on the council to three for the students.

Clair Fetzner, Pi Kappa Alpha, expects to attend the U. N. M. next semester.

There will be a meeting of the A. E. at 7:15 in the Practical Mechanics building.

DORM AND KAPPA GIRLS LEAD FIELD IN BASKET BALL TOURNAMENT

Dormitory Girls Win Against Phi
Mus and Alpha Delta Phi
Before Large Crowds.

A great deal of interest is being shown in the woman's basketball tournament which is being played in the woman's gymnasium by the classes of Mrs. M. V. Wittmeyer as a part of the regular gymnasium work. The girls are divided into five teams—four sorority teams and the fifth team made up of the girls who live in the dormitory.

The opening game of the series was played between the dormitory team and the Alpha Delta Pi sorority. While the latter did some very good work they were lacking in the offensive and could not score against the superb team-work of the dormitory girls. All of the dormitory girls play an excellent game and prove that if all work together a good team can be turned out. The guards—Leona Sherwood and Dorothy Crawford—are two excellent players, who have the entire field in mind at all times and not only keep the opposing forwards from scoring but constantly send the ball down to their own basket. Blanche Guley fulfills all prophecies as jumping center and she was constantly cheered by the spectators for her splendid playing. When the ball was in her division she would always get it and make accurate pass. Her opponent never got the ball away from her.

The dormitory stars—Emma Gerhardt and Helen Nelson—distinguished themselves as forwards and showed remarkable accuracy in throwing baskets.

The Alpha Delta Pi's played a very good game. They have some promising players. Mary Wood is a good guard. Edna Hand and Hazel Morris showed good work as forwards and with more practice the Alpha Delta Pi's will develop a strong team.

The second game in the league was between the Alpha Chi Omega and the Kappa Kappa Gamma sororities. Both sides played a fast game, and the game was very interesting from the side lines. The Alpha Chi Omega team was built around Dorothy Stephenson. Dorothy is easily a star and the quickest and lightest on her feet of any of the team. Helen Lindsey, the second best player on the team, did some good guarding.

In the first part of the game the score was nearly even but from the middle of the game to the closing whistle there was no chance for the Alpha Chis. Mary Mize did her share of good playing, as did Helen Jackson and Jessie Harrington.

The Kappa Kappa Gammas have a strong fast team and played well. Every one was on the jump all the time and there was some good basket shooting. Talk about doing things—well, the Kappas accomplished some excellent playing. Helen Stowell advanced

NEW CUT REGULATIONS FOR NEW SEMESTER SAYS THE DEAN

Penalty for Absence Falls Upon
Grade Only; Number of Absences Which Cause Dropping Lowered 33 1-3%

The new regulations which go into effect at the beginning of next semester, do away with the deduction of credit for absences, and place the number of absences 33 1-3% lower, which causes the student to be dropped from the course with a failing mark. Every absence will be counted a zero by the instructor. The new regulations are posted on the official bulletin board and will be published in the student hand book soon to be off the press.

Dean L. B. Mitchell made the following statement about the new regulations:

"The present regulations affecting absences have been in force for about five years. The distinguishing feature of the old system is deduction in credit hours on account of absences in addition to deduction in grades. For some time officers of administration and of instruction have had doubts of the justice and of the effectiveness of the system, which, at any rate, entails an extra amount of clerical labor in the recorder's office, and has proven unsatisfactory to students, in some cases, who have felt that errors had been made in the amounts deducted from their credits.

"The new regulations are much less complicated, since the penalty for absence falls upon the grade only, and requires that an absent student be marked zero for that exercise. The principal change in the direction of raising standards is seen in section 6, where the number of absences which cause a student to be dropped from a course is lowered by 33 1-3%.

"I feel that attention should be called to the error entertained by many students, namely, that a certain number of absences was permitted without any penalty whatever. This has been the cause of disaster to several students. Any absence in the past was supposed to have been marked zero and will be so treated in the future."

MISS MOSHER HONORED.

Dr. Edna Mosher of the department of biology has just been notified that she was elected a Fellow of the Entomological Society of America, and also an active member of the American Association of Economic Entomologists at their recent meetings in Chicago in affiliation with the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Election to fellowship in the Entomological Society is based on a member's contribution to the science, and Miss Mosher is the second woman to receive this honor, as well as the second to be elected to active membership with the Economic Entomologists, whose list includes only those actively engaged in the practice of economic entomology, with a few exceptions of members who have made some special contribution to the literature of the subject.

Dr. Edith M. Patch, state entomologist of Maine, was the first woman to be recognized by these societies.

DEBATING.

The schedule of our collegiate debates this year should be looked upon with pride. We are meeting worthy opponents who will expect to win. In every case the enrollment of the schools is larger than our own. Just as in football our opponents outweighed us, so in these contests the odds will seem one-sided.

Such a situation merely offers greater incentive to win. Let every one—man or woman—take seriously to heart the question of his or her own participation in these contests and by contesting in the try-outs help the chances of our victory.

NIX ON CRAMMING.

The new semester opens. New subjects are offered us for study. New students find themselves a part of the three hundred and a new atmosphere prevails throughout.

Our mistakes and failures of the last semester are now apparent. There is something which all of us wish we could do again or would have undone. But the past cannot be changed. We must abide by the rules of the game and take the results as irrevocable.

What we have in our power to do and that which we must do, is to use our past experiences, whether sad or otherwise, in such a manner as to make our work to come more fruitful and more conscientiously attended to.

We leave our work until the eleventh hour and cram four months of study into a brain of four weeks' capacity. We retain it barely long enough to spice our exams with this concentrated information.

The writer does not wish to give the impression that he is an exceptional student or a prodigy. He merely has made an introspection of himself in an attempt to ascertain his weaknesses and shortcomings. The ability to cram may be a good asset to a lawyer, but for a college student—nix.

NEW TENNIS COURTS.

Due to the fact that the old courts were not able to accommodate the students who wished to play tennis, the administration has seen fit to construct three new tennis courts east of the girls dormitory.

The new courts are constructed of rolled adobe on gravel. Mr. Frank, the campus superintendent, says that due to the continued freezing and thawing the courts probably will not be ready for use for two or three weeks. This is due to the fact that the adobe will not harden and cannot be rolled while frozen.

a step over her usual good guarding and kept Dorothy Stephenson down in her scoring. Helen MacArthur showed what gameness and real ability will do. Mary McGuire held the center with her strong guarding and passing. The forwards—Elizabeth Hill and Gail Beckman—had the ball much of the time and did some excellent basket shooting. Lorraine Cleaveland played well and when there was any hard work to do she was right there to do it.

In the third game of the series the dormitory defeated the Phi Mus by a very one-sided score. In spite of Clarissa Parsons, who is a veteran player at center and forward, and the playing of Susan Tully, famous as guard, center or forward, they could not score against the Dormitory machine and the latter walked away with the score. Mention should be made of the good playing of Gwendolyn Grigsby and of Ruth Heflin.

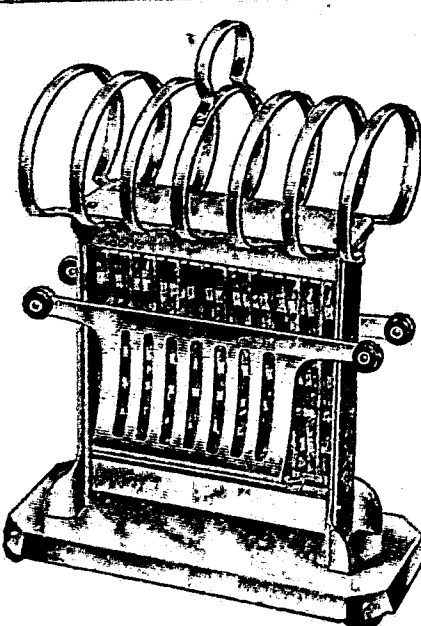

The largest crowd that has ever been seen in the girls gymnasium turned out for the games. Besides the two rows of chairs on one side of the gymnasium, there were a row of people standing along the other side of the gymnasium. However, the girls managed to play in the little aisle of floor space.

The scores of the games were as follows:
Dormitory, 58; Kappa Delta Pi, 14.
Dormitory, 60; Phi Mu, 18.
Kappa Kappa Gamma, 25; Alpha Chi Omega, 14.
The game will probably be a double header next Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

LOCALS

Maynard Hempstead will not return to school for the second semester. Maynard has shown a lot of school spirit since he has been here, has entered into the student activities with vim and pep and has therefore made many friends. His plans at the present time are indefinite, but wherever he goes he has the well wishes of many people on the hill.

Bill Roslington has moved home for good. He has been living at the Sigma-Chi house. We guess Bill finds more time for "stepping out" when he lives at home.

Bill Bacon is in the city again. Since his last visit to this city, he has roamed from Texas to the coast and says of all the places he has seen, Albuquerque is the best.

Miss Joy Spruce will not return after examinations but will attend the University of Texas instead. Her many friends on the hill wish Joy "all the luck in the world."

Mr. Edward Horgan has accepted a position with the First National Bank of Albuquerque, N. M. Eddie is continuing at school as his role of banker will be assumed only in the afternoons.

Stewart MacArthur and Charlie Culpepper are leaving school this semester. Both of the boys have accepted positions with the Citizens National Bank of Albuquerque, N. M. "Mac" and "Charlie" have many friends at the Varsity who wish them success in their banking venture and hope to see them often on the hill.
