LEAGUE TO ENFORCE PEACE EXPLAINED

Dr. A. P. Wedge of the Indian Service Makes Plain Certain Aims and Features of the League.

In place of a series of debates which were to have been held on the subject of "A League to Enforce Peace," Dr. A. P. Wedge, chairman of the New Mexico branch of the League, delivered a short address to the students of the university Thursday morning January 30th.

In part Dr. Wedge said:

"That there should be a league of nations is very evident. We hope that it may increase the resort to arbitration, and thus in some degree lessen the horrors and sufferings of war.

"Whether or no it can put an end to the war is an open question. Enough that it bids fair to lessen the total volume of war.

"What is the minimum that we shall insist upon in order that the league of nations shall be a reality, and not merely the use of an expression to disguise one of the old-fashioned and hostile alliances?

"There are at least two things we must obtain. First, we must obtain security for all nations whether they are big or little, highly organized, or agricultural. Second, we must obtain equality of economic opportunity. No logic is so funny as that which talks about safety lying in the highest kind of military preparedness, only.

"Two great considerations brought on the world war, along with many minor causes that need not detain us now. One was jealousy about the sources of raw material all over the world; that jealousy expressing itself in the Bagdad controversy, the Morocco controversy, and a dozen other scrambles for the control of undeveloped fields. The other was an attempt to meet this menace by constantly increasing armament, so that the Germans, seeing the balance of power tending against them with the growth of Russian railroads, decided to touch the match to the magazine in 1914.

"A child might be led to account for the war exclusively by the villainy of a few men, and so might a mob, but the intellectual simplicity of such a view, is a hopeless basis for any solution of the present world agony, that will give us any promise of a better, and safer civilization.

"A league of nations ought certainly to be highly enough organized to consider and settle questions that might otherwise lead to war, and yet it ought, at this time at least, to encroach as little as possible on the freedom of action of its members.

"That any league will somewhat limit freedom of action is obvious. In our modern world the relations determined by contract, and every contract limits the freedom of action of the men entering into the contract.

U. N. M. AND Y. W. C. A. GIRLS MEET TUESDAY

First Game of Season for Girls Will be Played at Y. W. C. A. Feb. 4th.

February the fourth is the date set for the first game the Varsity girls will play this season. On that date they shall play the Y. W. C. A. basketball team on the Y. M. C. A. floor at 8:00 p. m.

Coach Purdy is very enthusiastic over the athletic work of the girls this year. He says that they are putting up a hard fight for places on the university team and he believes that the team when picked will be a winner. Mr. Purdy is considering a series of games for the girls to play off the second and third week in March. Word has been received that the Silver City girls' team will play. If a game can be scheduled with a college in El Paso at the same time, the girls will play them when they play Silver City. A game may be arranged with Magdalena for this same trip.

The coaches policy is that "He who plays will get games to play" and he is doing all that he can to arrange all the games possible for those that want to play.

The probable lineup for the basketball game, Tuesday night is: Beals and Goss, forwards; Wood, jumping center; Stevenson, running center; and Chess and Borgerding, guards. The substitutes will probably be Jacobson, center or guard; Hayerford, forward; Lee, running center or forward; and Russel, running center.

The girls unanimously elected Dorothy Stevson captain for the coming season.

It must be so with nations.

"Here must be some sort of a body for mediation of differences.

"There must be an administrative body for the many, and constantly growing matters of common interest. Finally, there must be a deliberative body of some kind. How such a body shall be composed, what its powers should be, is yet to be determined. One point is sure. Representation should be to some extent proportioned to the people represented. We must not make the mistake of allowing a single state to block the passage of an essential reform.

"Then there is that very thorny question as to membership in the league. To be perfect such a league should be a voluntary association of all the people in the world; but of course it cannot start by being perfect. Under the circumstances it must clearly begin with the leading powers taking a vigorous part and winning the victory in the world war."

Dr. Wedge ended his lecture by stating that a League of Nations would simply be the application of the Monroe Doctrine brought up to the circumstances of 1919.

END OF WAR FULLY PICTURED BY EMMONS

Former U. N. M. Man Now In France Vividly Portrays Happenings of November 11.

In a letter published in the Long Beach Daily Telegram of January 22, Grover Emmons, U. N. M. '09 (e.l. of some of his experiences "over there" as secretary to Bishop Lambuth. He says in part:

"For five weeks prior to the signing of the armistice I was on the Metz front, and I shall never forget the morning of the eleventh of November. Early that morning we heard rumors that hostilities would cease at eleven o'clock, but very few believed it as our guns had kept up a terrific bombardment all night which became more and more intense during the morning. Everybody thought that instead of peace it meant that the expected drive on Metz was about to begin. Later, however, we heard officially that hostilities would cease at eleven o'clock.

The end came with dramatic suddenness. Our guns kept at work right up until the last second. All up and down the line was one continuous roar. The nearer the hour of eleven approached the more intense the firing became until it seemed that the very heavens were hurling defiance at the beaten hordes of the kaiser. Then at the stroke of eleven the cannon ceased to roar and a sudden and mysterious silence fell upon the shell-swept hills. It was as though all the world were dead and the very clouds themselves seemed to take on the aspect of mourning. But this was only for a moment. Then men began to shout, bells ring, whistles blow, bands play, and two million happy American boys began to sing:

"Send the word, send the word over there
That the Yanks are coming, the Yanks are coming—"

But now those words had a new meaning, for it was over, "over there."

The manner in which Germany has treated her prisoners of war is one of the worst crimes to her credit. The British, whom they bitterly hate, have been by far the worst sufferers in this respect. I saw some of the first of these men to reach the Allied lines. They were in rags and simply the shadows of the men they once were. Every indication pointed to the fact that these men had simply been starved.

The Americans haven't the horrible tales to tell of their treatment in the German prison camps that the British relate, tho many of their experiences have been more or less thrilling and tragic. It is evident that the Americans were favored as a matter of propaganda. At one camp I have been informed that the

VARSITY WINS FROM MENAUL BY 8 POINTS

Barely Manage To Defeat Presbyterian Schol After Hard Fight. Return Game Next Week.

"If Cruces is to be handled, a great change will have to come over the varsity, including the athletics, the students, and the faculty," said "Snooks" Pendergrass, star player of the Pi Kappa Alpha basketball team, after he had played with the university in a game with Manual School on the Menaul court at 8:00 p. m. Thursday night, when the varsity won the game by the score of 36 to Menaul's 28.

"The team needs, first of all, a gymnasium that is too large to spit across," continued "Snooks." They need to come out for practice. It either means practice or get beat by Cruces, so let there be a change take place within the next few days for the sake of the team and the school.

There are only fourteen days left for practice and the outlook is rather discouraging," said coach Purdy at his office Monday while talking with some of the players. The players need practice and they need a large court on which to practice. After playing on the small gymnasium court here on the Hill, the Varsity basketball players always experience a great handicap when they play on a large court. At Manual the boys played as if they were playing a game of golf. They seemed to be completely lost. Mr. Purdy is trying to secure the armory but has been unable to do so but here is hopes that the Armory or some other large court will be secured in the next few days.

The lineup for the Varsity and Manual game was:

U. N. M.	Manual
Moore i. f.	Rodriguez
Steed r. f.	Gonzales
Pendergrass c.	Martinez
Chess r. g.	Gonzales
Moots i. g.	Garcia
Substitutes—Sganini for Moore and Witten for Moots.

Field Goals—Pendergrass 6, Moore-Sganini 5, Moots-Witten 2, Steed 4, Chess 1, Rodriguez 4, Gonzales 4, Martinez 3, Gonzales 2.

The lineup for the game with Cruces has not been definitely decided at the present. The games with Arizona and Santa Fe have been canceled because there has not been enough men turning out for the practice.

German commander made a speech just before releasing the Americans in which he begged them not to hate the Germans, to remember that they had been well treated while prisoners, and said that the "peace-loving" Germans hoped to have future friendly relations with America. I have yet to see my first American who has been taught by such bait.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1919.

THERE'S GOING TO BE A ROW.

"Backward, turn backward, O, Time in your flight," saith the poet. And he spaketh not in vain, for it has turned back about five hundred years at the girls' dorm since last spring.

To read the rules of that particular spot is like turning the pages of medieval history. Whoever is responsible for such rules we do not know, and would hate to learn, for such brain products are the products of the middle ages. We only regret that their author wasn't born some twenty or so generations earlier, for then he or she or they would have felt perfectly at home.

In this day and age, in the year of our Lord 1919, in this supposedly up-to-date state university, the following rule is guiding the footsteps of the residents of the girls' dormitory; "Avoid being seen on the campus with young men at any time."

One of the sterner sex is no longer allowed to approach within a block of that sacred precinct in the daytime. If he wants to stroll from dinner with his lady friend, he does so at the risk of both their reputations, and then has to leave her at the street. No more are the steps, or the swing, or the piano at Hokena of any use, except to look at a block away.

Now rules are all right and perfectly necessary, but carrying them to this extent is absolutely foolish and unnecessary. When a girl gets to be old enough to go to the university, she is supposed to know enough to be able to take care of herself, even to the extent of walking on the campus with young men. Girls at the dormitory have been granted decent privileges in the past, and have not abused them; why should this blood-and-iron policy be instituted now?

To make it all the more inconsistent, the young, innocent wards of the institution are allowed to go out with men a certain number of times a month, after night, mark you. These are called dates, and are perfectly alright. But as for being seen in the daytime in the company of a man—that is disgrace.

These medieval rules are going to be bucked, and bucked hard, and they should be. Even young folks will stand anything within reason, but cases like this are an entirely different matter.

If the intention is to turn the girls' dorm into a nunnery, let's import a real nun, a few bolts of black cloth, and go into the business right.

If this is supposed to be a co-ed institution, let's have a little "co" as well as the "ed."

SPECIAL EDITIONS.

Several years ago there was a custom in the school, of letting each class get out a special edition of the Weekly. A staff was chosen entirely from members of the class getting out the paper, and it was left up to them to get out an edition. Why not try the same plan this year?

If any class wishes to get out a class edition, we will gladly permit it to do so, provided, that the management be taken care of by the present manager. In other words, the class can choose an editorial staff who will have complete charge of all matter to be printed except the advertisements.

STUDENT COUNCIL MEETS.

Wednesday evening, the Student Council met at the home of Mr. J. P. Williams to discuss and draw up a constitution for the student body to vote upon.

The council drew up a form of constitution, determining certain points which should and should not be embodied. At present the constitution is complete with the exception of one or two sections upon which no decision was reached.

One point upon which a discussion arose was in regard to the method of nominating candidates for various offices. Some members of the council believed that candidates should be nominated by a certain number of students, and that notice of their nomination should be posted a definite length of time before elections. Others favored a form of the primary plan, which would provide for open nominations. A committee was appointed to look into both sides, and report at the next meeting of the council, which will be held Thursday, February 13th.

WHAT IS TO BE DONE?

The College of Fine Arts has become, within the past few years perhaps the best known part of the university. Under the leadership of Prof. Seder the music department came to be recognized throughout the state for its excellence.

The good that this has done the university is evident to every one. People became interested in the school through this medium who would never have given it a thought otherwise. The chorus and other organizations were well received at public gatherings, and Prof. Seder himself was in constant demand for any kind of musical affairs.

If we do not keep the good reputation that has thus been built up, a great opportunity will be lost.

In order to do this, the right sort of person must be in charge of this work. He must not only be a good musician, but he must be a gentleman, popular with the students and townspeople, able to make friends and keep them. He must be a man who will in every action reflect credit upon the institution he represents.

The College of Fine Arts faces a great future; a wide field is open before it. The question is, will a man be put in charge who is capable of making the most of these opportunities? The students have a right to expect something to be done about the matter.

ALL MEN TO MET THURSDAY
AT 10:00 O'CLOCK.

A meeting of all men of the school has been called for Thursday morning at 10:00 o'clock in the Chemistry Lecture Room, to discuss the question of the R. O. T. C. and its establishment at the University of New Mexico. Any one having objections or having something to say in favor of the plan, is asked to come prepared to speak.

At the same time the girls will meet in Rodey Hall to hear a discussion of farm work being done by women in the east.

PHI MU RECEPTION.

Complimentary to the newest bride of the Phi Mu fraternity, was the informal reception given last Tuesday night at the attractive Phi Mu home on the Hill. The guests were limited to the active and alumni members of the Phi Mu and Sigma Chi fraternities, the respective fraternities of the bride and groom, Miss Pearl Tompkins and Lieut. Charles M. Weber. Receiving with Lt. and Mrs. Weber, were Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Ross and Mrs. Eleanor Anderman.

The fraternity house was a mass of many colored butterflies, which clung from the curtains to the lights, forming a portiere between the two rooms. Dainty refreshments in old rose and white, were served during the evening. About twenty-five couples danced until a late hour.

K. K. G. DANCE POSTPONED.

University students extend their sincerest sympathy to the K. K. G. fraternity, who are mourning the death of their national treasurer Mrs. Martha Willea of Trenton, N. J. Because the news of the death reached their chapter Saturday morning the fraternity postponed their dance, which was to have been given for their pledges and invited guests.

PHI MU OPEN HOUSE.

About two hundred guests and friends called during the afternoon, at the Phi Mu house, for tea, and an enjoyable afternoon was spent. Mrs. Goss, the home mother, poured and was assisted by Mrs. Howard.

FRESHMAN MEETING.

The Freshman class held a meeting Tuesday, January 28. Great secrecy as to what transpired, has been observed, but it has leaked out that there was some opposition to the Student Council having anything to say in regard to the Sophomore-Freshman fight and class day. No other business seems to have been transacted.

DEBATERS GETTING TO WORK.

At a meeting of the Debating Club last Friday definite plan of action was mapped out and plans made for the preliminary tryout, to be held probably the latter part of the month. Enough debaters have declared their intention of trying out to make the contest of interest and to insure the selection of a good team.

Unless something unforeseen appears, the debate will be held at the State College on the night of March 21. Three debaters will represent each school, as usual.

COMMUNICATION.

January 24th, 1919.

To the Editor of the Weekly:

We noticed with interest your article in the last issue of the Weekly regarding the question of whether it will be advisable to publish the grades of the fraternities here, and thereby as a natural result placing their scholarship more or less on a competitive basis.

There is not the slightest doubt in the minds of any of the members of this chapter that this plan will work out beneficially, and by all means should be carried out here as it is in other universities.

In the campaign that was waged several years ago for the elimination of Greek Letter Fraternities from the colleges and universities, the chief point made against them was that the members were deficient in scholarship as a result of the division of energy and time between scholastic and fraternity duties.

That the fraternities realized these conditions should be remedied was shown in the "Scholarship First" campaigns which were agitated by all the leading fraternities, and which have met with very gratifying results. The latest figures show that the fraternity men not only now lead the non-member men in scholarship, but that more "Greeks" than non-fraternity men obtain diplomas, which is the highest test.

From the foregoing it seems clear that a chapter of a fraternity which is not paying enough attention to the scholarship of its members is not only failing in its duty to the school, but to its national organization and to the common cause of all fraternities.

Of course it is true, as is shown by comparing the lists of averages of fraternity grades of different schools, that the scholastic standing of a chapter frequently bears no relation to the reputation and real worth of the fraternity which it represents. Quoting from Banta's Greek Exchange, "It is with real amusement that we note that Alpha Sigma Phi and Acacia stand at the head of the list, with most of the best known fraternities in the middle, and Psi Upsilon at the end." This is unfortunate to say the least.

Be assured that we are heartily in favor of the proposed plan believing that it will be helpful to us as well as to the other fraternities here, and we look forward with interest to seeing what the other organizations have to say on the subject.

RAY F. WALKER, President.

P. K. A. AND S. X. TIE IN CITY LEAGUE.

By Winning Saturday Night, Sigma Chis Tie for First Place With Former Leaders.

The standing of teams in the Duke City League basketball tournament:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
P. K. A.	4	1	.800
S. X.	4	1	.800
R. O. P.	2	3	.400
A. T. & S. F.	0	5	.000

With only one minute and thirty seconds of the last half left and a score of 24 to 28 against them, the Sigma Chis threw three field goals and defeated the Pi Kappa Alphas while completing in the Duke City League Basketball Tournament on the Y. M. C. A. court last Saturday night.

Seven field goals was the best that "Snooks" Pendergrass could make for the Pi Kappa Alphas but that was enough to make one half of his teams score and give him the honor as the basketball star of the game. "Snooks" was knocked out twice but he never quit, until the last goal had been made, also McCanna starred for the Pi Kappa Alpha by making two field goals and five free throws, and Waite and Gerpheide starred for the Sigma Chis, they having made five and four field goals respectively. Foraker was knocked out once during the game, but he played on through.

A cheering crowd of about four hundred strained every nerve and yelled at the top of their voices as the score see-sawed back and forth between the fast and enthusiastic teams.

The Sigma Chis stayed in the lead for the first half which closed with a score of eleven to sixteen in their favor but after the first minute of the last half had elapsed the Pi Kappa Alpha took the lead and held it until the Sigma Chi's had a streak of luck and threw two long field goals making a tie score of 28 to 28 to be played off in thirty-five seconds. During these last few seconds there was a great scramble as to who would break the tie, but that was soon decided when the Sigma Chi's scored another field goal and the time out signal sounded.

The winning of this game by the Sigma Chi's ties the standing of the two fraternity teams and the championship will be decided on February the fifteenth when they again meet for the final game.

LOCALS.

Hastings W. Shields, former U. N. M. student, writes that he had his Christmas dinner in Paris. "Speedy" is in the Marines and has been over there some time.

The Alpha Deltas held an initiation ceremony last week. Herbert Paulsen and Herbert Stacher are the new members.

Emmet Hannum, a former varsity student, writes that he will soon be back in Albuquerque as he is to be discharged very shortly.

Burch Foraker, who left school at the end of last quarter, is coming back to school this week.

Lieut. Charles M. Weber, an old U. N. M. student was a recent visitor in Albuquerque. Lieut. Weber has been overseas several times and on one trip his ship was torpedoed. He is now on his way to Siberia.

The Coyote Club, after a short interval of quiet, has resumed its activities. It won't be very long till the big Coyote dance from present indications.

Something ought to be done about the heat, or lack of heat rather in the boy's dorm. Most of the radiators are frozen solid to all appearances and some of the cottages are so cold that the boys have to go out side to dress in the mornings.

Kwataka looks like a sub-station for the City Pound these days. Where do all the mutts come from anyway, and what is the attraction?

University circles were agreeably surprised by the marriage of two former varsity students, last Monday evening, when Miss Pearl Tompkins became the bride of Lieutenant Charles M. Weber. Miss Ruth Tompkins, a sister of the bride was bridesmaid and Ben Becker of Belen acted as best man.

Dorothy Cleve of Elk, N. M., and Ruth Kidd of Sadalia, Mo., registered for Junior class work last Friday. Both young ladies are graduates of Steven's College, Columbia, Mo.

Mary Brorein received a telegram from her brother, Carl, stating that he was in Norfolk, Va., and would be home in the next few days, to spend his leave of absence. Carl is a lieutenant in the aviation branch of the Marines.

Anita Hubbell, former U. N. M. student, is now assistant stenographer in the office of her father, F. A. Hubbell.

Mrs. R. G. Goss of Denver, Colo., arrived here to visit her daughter, Mable and Katherine Goss, and is staying at the Phi Mu house in the capacity of house mother.

Betty Arnot substituted in the public schools last week.

Professor Worcester, former head of the department of Psychology is a visitor in Albuquerque. He came here to recuperate after a severe illness.

Does anybody know who was the Prof. that had a date with every girl in his class one afternoon, during class hour, too?

STATEMENT FROM REGISTRAR.

The grade average for the various organizations will be furnished at the end of each quarter.

On account of the unsettled conditions and the seeming lack of interest on the part of many of the students, it has not been thought advisable to furnish these averages during the past year, but we are glad to see renewed interest in securing these averages.

Attention should be called to the fact that when a student withdraws from the university a withdrawal card should be secured promptly; otherwise, absences accumulate and it is necessary to record the record as failure on our books, which, of course, lowers the general average of the organization to which the student belongs.

We shall be glad to co-operate with you in this matter.
