PATROL SERVICE FULL OF THRILLS

Former Aviator In American Army, Says Experience Is One of a Lifetime.

The Air Patrol Service on the coast of England, offered many thrilling experiences and interesting scenes, stated Lieutenant Glenn L. Emmons, recently discharged from the U. S. Air Service, after five months service overseas.

Lieutenant Emmons was stationed at Dover, England, just across the channel from France. "On a clear day we could see France from a hill near our camp. Although I saw France many times, and flew over parts of it, I never once set foot upon the country," continued Emmons.

"Most of the time our patrol duty was uneventful, except for occasional near accidents which happen to any flier."

Emmons missed the only chance which his patrol had to distinguish itself in conflict with German planes. On one flight, when he was forced to remain and sign some papers, as commandant of the camp, the plane in which he was to have gone, returned in an hour and reported the destruction of a German plane.

The 336th Aero Squadron, of which Emmons was the head, was assigned to the British Air Service, and was furnished with British planes and equipment. The type of machine most used by them, according to the Lieutenant was the De Havilland 9. This is a large machine with a seating capacity of two. The machine gun which is mounted on the front of the plane is so adjusted that it is fired by the exhaust of the motor, and the bullets pass between the propellers.

According to Emmons, the English and American soldiers are continually getting into arguments, and fistful encounters are common.

"The signing of the Armistic on December 11, was the cause of the biggest celebration in the history of the camp," said Lieutenant Emmons. "The Englishman has the funniest way of celebrating. He first gets a good jag on, and then proceeds to break everything in sight. The morning after the celebration, we did not have a dish to eat out of, nor any chairs and tables."

"I wouldn't trade my experience for a whole lot, nor would I go through the same thing for a whole lot," he stated "I am perfectly content to remain in the United States now."

Out of a total chapter roll of 77, the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity has a record of 66 men in the service, or 86 per cent. Of these 26 were in overseas service.

BASKETBALL MEN TO LAS CRUCES THURSDAY

Squad of Eight Players and the Coach Will Make Trip. Lineup To Be Announced Thursday.

The boys' basketball team of the university will leave Thursday night at 10:15 for Las Cruces, where they will play a series of two games with the State College on the nights of February 21 and 22. Eight men besides the coach will make the trip. Return games have been scheduled to be played here February 28 and March 1, at the armory.

Coach Purdy stated that he would announce the lineup Thursday. "There is such keen competition for some of the positions that I have not fully decided whom to play," he stated when asked about the matter. "It is practically a toss up between four men at guard, four men at forward, and two men at center."

Greenleaf and Steed have been handicapped in practice this week owing to burns received when they ran into a steam pipe on the Menaul floor. Both expect to be in shape by the time the team leaves. Pendergrass is rapidly recovering from a sprained ankle, received in practice three weeks ago. Sganzi, Foraker, Witten, Miller, Moots, Chess, Moore and Culpepper are all in excellent condition and anxious to get a chance at the Farmers.

An election for Captain of the team will be held this week, probably on Wednesday night at practice.

The men will return from Cruces at 7:35 Sunday evening.

U. N. M. WINS FROM MENAUL SECOND TEAM

Varsity Uses Two Teams Against Presbyterian School Men. Final Score 36-18.

With a score of 36 to 18 in its favor the University defeated the Menaul school in a game of basket ball on the Menaul's floor, Friday night.

The game started at 8 o'clock on a poorly lighted court which was the cause of much fumbling of the ball and poor basket shooting. However, both teams showed up well. The University used a double line-up for the game to try out for a team to meet the Aggies on February 21 and 22 at Las Cruces.

During the first half which ended with a score of 16 to 10 in favor of the University, the game was closely contested, the score being tied three times, 2-2, 4-4 and 6-6. But in the second half the University team made a clean get-away, their score rose rapidly until at the end of the half they had to their credit twice as many points as their opponents.

"GET AN EDUCATION" ADVISES J. S. KNOX

Efficiency Expert From Cleveland
Addresses Students On Need Of Higher Education.

A lecture of timely interest was delivered in Rodey Hall Monday morning at 11 o'clock by J. S. Knox, of Cleveland, Ohio, who is one of the best known efficiency experts in the United States. He is in the city this week delivering a series of lectures on business efficiency at the high school building.

The subject of Mr. Knox's talk was the necessity of a broad, sound education for any man or woman who would succeed in the world, no matter what line of work he may engage in.

"Ninety-five per cent of the unsuccessful people in this country today owe their misfortune to insufficient education," he said. "This is not a theory, but a hard, cold fact. The United States is only five per cent efficient, and it is up to the schools of the country to wake up to its responsibilities and remedy this terrible condition."

The speaker quoted statistics showing the disadvantages an uneducated man has to work against. Boys who leave school at the age of 14 reach their maximum earning capacity at 22, which averages $10.20 per week. These same boys, it was shown, when gaining a technical education from 18 to 22 years of age, increase their average earnings to $43 weekly, and their maximum earning capacity is extended to 32 years.

"The greater one's education, the greater will be his service in later years," he said. "Boys who leave school in their teens reach their maximum earning capacities in their early twenties. But age only increases the capacities of men who have a sound foundation, as for example, President Wilson, Pershing, Foch or Clemenceau."

Mr. Knox predicts that the state will soon have to wake up to the necessity of furthering higher education. "The United States should spend a billion dollars a year advertising its educational institutions," he said.

Mr. Knox is a convincing speaker, and put his talk in such a way that it was driven home to every one of the good sized audience that heard him. He gave many concrete illustrations of his subject matter and was given unusually good attention throughout his address.

Following are some of his most striking statements:

"The minds of most people are like a saw that has not been sharpened in five years."

"Of the thirteen million people engaged in agriculture in this country, only one per cent are efficient."

"If you want to be a leader, take an interest in humanity."

DEBATING TEAM TO BE CHOSEN FRIDAY

Six Men Have Announced Their Intention of Competing For Team.
Three Highest To Be Selected.

The three men who will represent the university in the debate with the State College March 21, will be selected in Rodey Hall Friday, Feb. 21, will be held on that date, and from all indications it will be worth attending.

The Monroe Doctrine, the everlasting and eternal debatable question, will be the subject to which the orators will devote their enthusiasm. The three having the highest percentage accorded by the judges will make the trip, the captain being the one who stands highest in the list. The judges have not yet been selected, but will probably be chosen from the teachers in the university.

So far as is known, six will try out in the contest. Of these Morris and Williams were on the team last year, and Gentry, Bryan, Wilkinson and Higgins will make their debut in university forensics.

Each contestant is required to submit a brief in writing to the judges before the preliminary. The choice of sides is left to the individual.

The question as it was proposed reads, "Resolved, that the Monroe Doctrine should not be continued as a part of the United States foreign policy." The university chose the negative side.

As the debate will be held at Cruces this year, the tryout will furnish the only opportunity for hearing the question at this place. No admission will be charged, and the public is invited to be present.

"The biggest word in business is not profit, but service."

"No one thing costs so little and is worth so much as courtesy."

"There is no such thing as opportunity if a man is not ready to grasp it."

"If we go forth to serve humanity, humanity will take care of our salary."

"If a man has only muscle to offer, he will be competition only to the horse and the mule."

"The obstacles of the ordinary man are the stepping stones of the educated man."

Finally, the speaker urged that each one should take a broad interest in life, not being wholly absorbed in one or two little lines of endeavor, but having interest in and working for the betterment of the world in general. Too many people are like the girl who was asked what kinds of cattle were raised in her part of the country, he said. She considered a moment, then brightly exclaimed: "Cows, heifers, and calves."

THE RIGHT COURSE.

The two following letters are self-explanatory. We do not know whether there is any truth to the report that U. N. M. students are responsible for the loss of lights or not, but Dr. Boyd has taken the right stand and the only one possible in such a case.

Dear Sir:

I am enclosing a letter to the Electric Company, which is self explanatory.

Will you kindly bring to the attention of the student body the policy of the university to not interfere in cases where students may commit offense against property or the law outside of the university?

Yours truly,
DAVID R. BOYD,
President.

Mr. Ernest Hammond, Pres.,
Student Body Council,
U. N. M.

COPY.
February 13th, 1919.

Gentlemen:

It has come to my attention that you have been losing lights from your street cars and that you think the students of the university have been guilty of taking them, and that you would like for the university to take some steps in regard to the matter.

I have to say that it is my opinion that the best way to manage it is for your Company to deal with the students as you would with any other similar offenders. Your officers are nearest to the evidence and can deal with it directly, and this is what the law contemplates anyway.

On the other hand, I shall bring the matter to the attention of the students and say to them that we expect any of them who offends in that way to be subject to the process of the law without any interference on the part of the university.

Trusting this will be satisfactory, I am,

Yours respectfully,
D. R. BOYD.

Albuquerque, N. M.

WELL WORTH READING.

An article in the Independent of February 5, entitled "The S. A. T. C.—A Comedy," is about the best description of that renowned would-be organization that we have yet seen. One would think that it was taken directly from this institution; perhaps it was, the article is incognito.

Anyhow it is an excellent piece of writing, and if you have not already read it you should do so. The Librarian has consented to leave the magazine on the newspaper rack for a few days until everybody has had a chance to read the piece.

OUR APPROPRIATION.

Evidently the law makers of this state are determined to lower taxation at whatever cost. The purpose is admirable, but the methods are not above criticism.

The method, in this instance, is to draw from the state educational institutions. Instead of striving to aid its schools at the expense of a mill or so on the taxpayer, our representatives think it best or at least the best policy, to lop off on our appropriations and say to the voters, "We have lowered your taxes for you."

The appropriation, which stands for the next two years, is for the university $20,000 less per year than our present appropriation—which no one could call an abundance.

Such a situation is not the most encouraging, but the best will have to be made of it.

SMALL NOISES CREATE GREAT DISTURBANCES.

Have you ever noticed how hard it is getting to be to study in the library?

The place is not as quiet as it should be. Of course there are unavoidable noises; that door for instance, which always has squeaked and probably always will. But there are a few persons who make it a point to carry on conversations there in a low monotone which is anything but conducive to studying.

Everybody should be absolutely quiet in there. If anything is to be said, let it be said in a real whisper, and in very few words, for remember the other fellow is trying to work.

If everybody who uses the library will have a little thought on this matter one will have no difficulty in studying to a good advantage. Please remember that a little noise to you is a big noise to one who is trying to work a math problem or study the poets of the seventeenth century. A literal application of the golden rule will solve the problem admirably.

The sign "Silence please," means just what it says. If there are a few who persist in making a noise, the Librarian should see that they either keep quiet or leave the room.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL.

The athletic council, at its meeting held Monday noon, voted the coach authority to draw upon the athletic fund for expenses of the coming trip of the basketball team to Las Cruces. A few bills were presented and their payment authorized.

LT. JOHN J. EMMONS HERE.

Lieutenant John J. Emmons, member of the Marine Corps, has returned to Albuquerque after being discharged from the service. Lieutenant Emmons was a former U. N. M. man and was at one time President of the Student Body. He intends to go to Gallup, where he has business interests which require his attention.

SOCIETY

SIGMA CHI VALENTINE.

The Sigma Chis gave a very attractive dance at the Country Club Thursday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Matthews, who were recently married in Seattle. The bride was formerly Miss Helen Swedes of this city and Mr. Matthews has been manager of the Standard Oil Co. in China for the last six years.

The club house was decorated with Valentine hearts and with the fraternity colors of blue and gold. The dancing started at nine thirty and continued until two. Delicious punch was served during the evening and at twelve refreshments of sandwiches and coffee were much enjoyed.

Besides the guest of honor, who is a member of the Alpha Rho Chapter at Lehigh University, those present were members of the Beta Xi Chapter and their guests. Those who danced were:

Mesdames L. G. Matthews, Edmund Ross, Kenneth Balcomb, Misses Anita Hubbell, LeClair Cavanaugh, Anne Harris, Dorothy Cleve, Ruth Kid, Marian Spicer, Dorothy Stevenson, Pearl Hayerford, Grace Stortz, Catherine Dougherty, Belle Barton, Beatrice Black, Dorothy Bowman, Viola Herkenhoff, Marion Turner, Jewel Hubbard, Velma Pritchard, Alice Gould, Mildred Burtless, Nola Keene, Mamie Hart, Katherine Goss, Irene Soward, Messrs. Clara Blueher and Ralph Meyers furnished the music.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA ENTERTAIN WITH A THE DANSANT

The Kappa house never looked lovelier than it did Saturday afternoon when the Kappas entertained with a Thé Dansant honoring their pledges. The curtains were drawn in the big chapter room and candles topped with shades in pink and blue made a pretty effect. Baskets of pink and white roses tied with fluffy tulle bows were used in this room. In the music room refreshments of pink and white ice cream, pink iced cakes and pink and white mints were served from a beautifully laid table. Here baskets of pink and blue sweet peas and candles in the same color were used. Dancing was in order between the hours of four and seven. The Kappa pledges are: Annette Jacobson, Martha Bergerding, Margaret Lee and Alexandria Vaughney.

Those who danced were: Alexandria Vaughney, Ralph Miller, Martha Borgerding, Bruce Robinson, Annette Jacobson, Charles Culpepper, Margaret Lee, Frank Neher, Anne Harris, Glenn Emmons, Claire Bursum, Wm. Sganzi, Dorothy Ohmart, Dick Barton, Katherine Kelleher, Harvey Kelley, Katherine Little, Frank Mangin, Anita Hubbell, Arthur Prager, Margaret McCanna, Louie Hesselton, Katherine Conway, Biff White, Irene Boldt, Grover Devine, Wilma Snyder, Thomas Bunn, Dorothy Cleve, Lloyd Kellam, Ruth Kidd, Perkins Patton, Helen Darowrow, John Scruggs, LeClair Cavanaugh, Ray Walker, Pearl Hayerford, Ernest Hammond, Elizabeth Lord, Frank Steed, Mrs. Malcolm, Mr. Wm. FORMER VARSITY

STUDENTS WED

Mr. and Mrs. William Kieke announce the marriage of their daughter Ethel Louise to Lieut. Carl D. Brorlein, in St. Patrick's cathedral, Washington, D. C., Monday morning, February 17, 1919.

The above announcement will be of unusual interest to university students since both young people are graduates of this institution "before the war." Miss Kieke has been at Columbia for special training in domestic science. From Columbia she entered the service of the government at Washington where she has been for the last eight months.

Lieutenant Brorlein has been in military service for the last two years, being with the naval aviation and stationed in the Azores. Lieut. and Mrs. Brorlein are on their way to Albuquerque and will reach here sometime later in the week. After a short visit with relatives here they expect to be stationed at Miami, Florida.

REORGANIZED SOON

Steps Taken for Meeting of All Men Interested. Athletics to Play Important Part.

The organization of the Y. M. C. A. for this year will be some what different than it has for the past years. The chief aim in the organization is to get every one interested and to have such activities for the Y. M. C. A. as will hold that interest.

A University Y. M. C. A. base ball team is expected to make its appearance in the near future. Coach Purdy will do all he can to help the "Y" athletics along, so it is up to the students as to whether they want these activities. The Y. M. C. A. athletic teams here on the hill could play in a league with other teams in and out of the city. Mr. Purdy says that he will see to it that there are plenty of games arranged for in the city and that several trips be made to near by cities providing that the boys show enough interest in these athletics.

It is hoped that the Y. M. C. A. membership of the organization on the hill will be combined with the membership of the city "Y." Weekly meetings can be held in some convenient place where the members could enjoy a fellowship luncheon and hear some good speaker.

TENNIS CLUB MEETS AND ORGANIZES

At a meeting of those interested in tennis, held Monday noon, the university tennis club was organized and the following officers elected:

Claire Bursum, President; Louise Clark, Vice-President; Martha Borgerding, Secretary and Treasurer.

Coach Purdy made a short talk, stating that the courts would be put in first class condition, and that class tournaments would be arranged, provided the members wished them. About sixty students were present.

LOCALS.

Victor Miller is at St. Joseph hospital recovering from a badly infected arm, the result of a fall on the tennis court.

A meeting of those interested in tennis was held Monday noon and an organization effected. The meeting was full of pep until it was suggested that the members get busy and roll the courts. Someone is always taking the joy out of life.

At the meeting of the KiYote Club Tuesday evening it was decided to have the big KiYote dance the 7th of March. It will be held in Rodey Hall and all Varsity students are invited.

Jewel Moore, a last year's student, was a recent visitor on the Hill. He has been stationed at the Goat Island navy yard.

Signs of spring are with us again. Have you seen Mr. Davis' gorgeous ice cream pants? Now that he has broken the ice we predict that Palm Beach suits will soon be all the rage.

Joseph Jordan, student, announces his intention of going to Kansas City at the end of this quarter, April 1, to go into business with his brother who has just been discharged from the Automobile corps of the army.

The Kappa Delta Nu fraternity is mourning the loss of Laura McCollum, a charter member of the society, and a graduate of the normal department of this institution, who was reported as having died in El Paso Friday morning. She was the daughter of J. B. McCollum, of 1124 East Silver avenue, who is superintendent of the ward schools in this city.

Miss Mable Goss has been recently added to the library force of the university.

Jewel Moore, a last years student passed through Albuquerque Wednesday night on his way to Clovis, after being discharged from the naval training station at Mare Island. Jewel will return to the university this spring quarter or next fall.

REUBEN COUNTRY HOPPER WRITES TO MAW.

The University, U. S. A.
Middle of January, 1919.

Deare Maw:

Well its been a purty long time since i rote you last maw, so will sit down & do it now. My edgukashum is proceeding verry nicely, and the only trouble is the financial one, as i have sed before a good edgicayshum costs munny, and i no you want your sun to have a good won. Do you ketch the drift? as Prof. Sherwin, I think it is, says.

Well maw, this place is a burd of a place. Your sun is getting along exseruciatingly (i just had that yisterdie, an it is still fresh) and is quite popular up here. The girls don't all run away from me like they used to. i think they use to be afraid to show there ignorance, for you no i always was a good conversashionilst, but they no i won't make fun of them. I haven't got any of them to go to the moovys with me yet, but i still try every day, and as i have been the rounds only twice, so far, I figger i'll have sum luck sum day. Persevearence, maw, you no me.

Well maw i got my hare cut the other day. I no it was only last Sept. that it was done, but i'm getting to be so popular i hav to ho keep up with another fello who falls in love with every new girl who comes up here. He thinks he is awful in love maw, but he isn't, just thinks so. in 2 or three days a new won shows up and he gos after her. Fikkle, maw, thats the name.

id tell you about the Kyotos, but i'm afrade youd have that old trouble with your hart. Suffise to say your sun Reuben is getting better, but can't sit down comfortably yet.

You no maw, they have fraternitys hear, i said to one of there men the other day, says I, "i wouldn't mind getting in with you." But he explaned to me then about how only moderately intellectual people could get in, and i wasn't in that class Of course i should ought to have reconized my own supereor mental abilities, but that just showed me how much in a class of my own im in. That's the trouble, maw, i'm so brite these common mortels don't appreciate me.

Well maw I got kicked off the porch of the girls dorm the other night, and as i was leaving the music instructor nabed me, and in 1 and three-fourths hours, after i got away from him, the knots got me, so altogether it wasn't a very pleasant evening.

It doesn't matter so much about the girls dorm though, for we can walk over to the Kappa house and sit on the porch with them. But you no, maw, i always was a stickeler for individule rites and human libertys.

Well maw im working hard and learning lots. All my teechers have been sick since skule begin, but you have no idea how much time outside work takes. I ame to be profishent in that, if nothing else.

Please don't forget maw about your wanting me to get a good ed-jickashun. i mite get a cheep won without a check, but i no you want me to get a good one.

Your obedient sun,
