"Knight and Shepherd's Daughter" (Grainger)—Mrs. Lewis B. Thompson.

Accompanist, Mrs. D. W. Faw.

WHO'S WHO CONTAINS U. FACULTY MEMBERS

With the new edition of "Who's Who in America" appears several names of men connected with the University.

Dr. David Spence Hill appears as having been connected with sixteen different educational institutions, including large state universities and Cornell. Dr. Hill is the author of several publications on educational subjects and is a member of the American association of Clinical Criminology.

Dr. John D. Clark, professor of chemistry, belongs to six different Greek letter fraternities and was a member of the naval consulting board during the war and is a member of the American Mining congress.

Deans Charles Elkanah Hodgkin and L. B. Mitchell appear in the book. Dean Mitchell belongs to the American Association of University Professors and has been teaching Greek and Latin since 1906.

ENGINEERS CHALLENGE ARTS AND SCIENCES TO BASKETBALL GAME

Art Men Have Accepted But No Definite Date Is Yet Set.

A challenge was posted on the bulletin board last week by the engineers who want a basketball game with the Arts and Sciences college men. A date has not been set as yet, but arrangements for a game are being made between O. B. Witten for the Engineers and George White for the Arts men.

The contest will be interesting and will no doubt show up some fine basket shooting. One unusual feature of the contest is the fact that the Arts men seem to have all the forwards and centers, while the Engineers have a plurality of guards.

Word was received recently by his friends on the hill from "Sing" Grantham, sent from Panama. He is on the battleship New Mexico, and said he expected to leave for New Orleans in the near future.

BAGLEY FAVORS PLAN FOR CONSOLIDATION: ABANDON SOME SCHOOLS

Single Institution at Albuquerque or Las Cruces or Three Schools Under One Board Recommended.

Radical changes in the educational system of New Mexico, either through the consolidation of all higher institutions at Albuquerque or Las Cruces or through the consolidation of all the institutions except the normal schools in the single state university and the combining of the three normal schools in a single teachers' training institution, or, finally, through the organization of a university of New Mexico, comprising all the needed colleges and secondary schools but located at three different centers, are suggested in the report on New Mexico educational institutions by William C. Bagley, Ph. D., professor of education in the teachers' college, Columbia University.

Should the three-center plan be adopted, there would be a northern state college, probably located at Albuquerque, with a state college of liberal arts, a state college of engineering, possibly a state college of commerce where teachers of commercial subjects would be trained, and later a state college of law and a central state teachers' college; and a southern state college, located at Las Cruces, embracing a state college of agriculture and a southern state teachers' college.

Schools to Be Abandoned.
Under the three-center plan as outlined by Professor Bagley, the state school of mines at Socorro, the Spanish-American normal school at El Rito and the Silver City normal school would cease to function as state educational institutions, while all state support would be withdrawn from the Roswell military institute.

The three-center system follows the Montana plan, that state now maintaining at Missoula a college of liberal arts and a college of law; at Butte, a school of mines; at Dillon, a state teachers' college, and at Bozeman, a college of agriculture and a college of engineering. These institutions operate under a single administrative board and with a single executive head known as the chancellor of the university.

Would Abandon Boards.
"Any form of centralization," says Professor Bagley, "would mean doing away with the present governing boards of the several institutions and the organization of a single new board. Whether consolidation" (Continued on page 2)

PHI MUS DEFEAT THE ALPHA DELTA PI TOSSERS

The Phi Mu girls defeated the Alpha Delta girls last Wednesday afternoon in a fast and exciting game of basket ball in the girls' gymnasium. Both sides played well and there was not a lull in the playing from whistle to whistle. Mrs. Witmeyer refereed. Final score 16 to 26.

EL CIRCULO ESPANOL TO MEET NEXT WEEK

The Spanish club will have a meeting some time next week for the purpose of reorganizing, and all interested are urged to be present and to take part.

The officers this year are Anita Osuna, president; Tonchita Perez, secretary, and Pepita Espinosa, treasurer. With the large number of students taking Spanish it is anticipated that the size of El Circulo Espanol will be materially increased.

HON. NESTOR MONTOYA ADDRESSES U. N. M. JOURNALISM CLASS

Patriotic Spirit of Spanish-American Presses at All Times Worthy of Admiration.

Because of his deep interest in our University and regard for Mr. Cosulich, news editor of the Morning Journal and instructor of journalism at the U. N. M., the class was fortunate to be able to hear an informal address by Congressman Montoya, who has had the honor to be president of the New Mexico State Press association for the past fifteen years and who recently we re-elected to serve another term.

Need of Spanish-American Press.

"The history of our state has occasioned," quoting Mr. Montoya, "two primary race elements—the Spanish-American element and the Anglo-American element. By co-operating they have succeeded to progress rapidly, as is evident by our improved systems of schools. Most of the younger generation are taking advantage of the great opportunities offered by such education and there are also many who come between the 'older and the younger' generation who have become proficient in both Spanish and English. But a large number of my lineage were too old or for other reasons unable to learn the newly introduced language, and it is for their benefit and to satisfy their desire that New Mexico has between fifteen and twenty Spanish-American newspapers. These papers are also subscribed for by many of the younger 'more up-to-date' generation because of their love for the mother tongue."

Spanish-American Press Insists on American Policies.

"It cannot be said of a single Spanish-American newspaper that by one word or sentence they were disloyal to the actions taken by our country at any time. The efforts of the Spanish-American newspapers, with no reward except that which comes to American citizens for doing their duty, to uphold a purely American view point as to justice and right was urged upon all their subscribers. The proof of their ready patriotism is clearly evident, first, by the large number of Spanish-Americans who enlisted in Roosevelt's Rough Riders, second, by the fact that the first regiment of Americans formed after the Mexican invasion consisted of one-half Spanish-Americans, and, third, by the thousands of evidences of the extent of their love for their country during the recent war."

Good Advice to Class.
The necessity for thoroughly pondering and analyzing all editorials before printing was emphasized by Congressman Montoya. Also, the usefulness of the expressions "it is said," "it is reported," "it is alleged," etc., to eliminate a source of considerable trouble and worry.

SIGMA CHI DEFEATS HIGH SCHOOL TEAM

The Sigma Chi basketball team won last Friday night from the High School basket tossers in one of the cleanest and hardest fought contests seen on the floor of the Y. M. C. A. gym, by the score of 7 to 10.

The Albuquerque men played hard basket ball but the superior work of the Greek letter men was evidenced at all time. The High School men showed fine team work but the basket proof Sig guards would be on the job to prevent shooting them when the High quintet passed the ball under their goal.

The line-up was as follows.
Sigma Chi—Gerphelde, r. f.; B. Bevans, l. f.; B. Gerphelde, c.; O. B. Witten, r. g.; D. L. McClure, l. g.; C. B. Foraker for Bevans, second half.
High School—N. Glassman, Wilkinson, Benjamin, E. Glassman, Wilson. Referee—Burton.

INTERESTING HOUR SPENT AT ASSEMBLY

Hon. Nestor Montoya Gives Principal Talk on Success in Politics.

Congressman Nestor Montoya spoke on Success in Politics. He urged the coming generation to keep out of regular politics. Keep away from the common politician and keep the record straight, were two points strongly emphasized by Montoya. On the other hand one must not forget that there is a government. Take an active interest in the state but do not become a professional politician.

Montoya is soon to leave for Washington, and he promised to remember us while there and to do everything possible to help us.

Mr. Klein offered three very pleasing musical selections. Klein is one of Albuquerque's best vocalists.

WELL-LIKED CHINESE STUDENT DIES IN CHINA

Was Student Here. Word Received by Prof. Landers.

The death of C. H. Chao, former student at the State University, in Soochow, China, became known here this week upon the receipt of a letter from his brother, T. C. Chao, of Soochow university, by Prof. J. S. Landers.

"With deep regret I now report to you the irrecoverable loss of Chih Hui, my brother," wrote Mr. Chao. "After seven months of growing despair and deepening sorrow, fighting against malaria and tuberculosis, he gained peace only by leaving this world of pain."

"Before his departure he had me write down his farewell words. And in accordance with his directions none of the old customs of funeral services were followed. The whole university was so deeply moved that all the students and faculty came out to his funeral service. His remains is now in his churchyard by the side of our second brother, who died also young."

Mr. Chao was well liked by the students of the University, and left many friends here. He had in his quiet way the ability to make friends and those who knew him well be deeply grieved to learn of his death.

JONAH DAY FOR ALL IN CHEMISTRY TWO

Friday, February 18, proved decidedly unlucky for several coming scientists. Frank Georges set the bad example for the freshmen by showing how a junior can spill cleaning mixture over a desk and over the floor. Ralph Brooks caught the idea and let a lot of bromide, which had been dissolved in caustic soda, fly up the sleeves of a white sweater. Walter Gilbert came next. He tried the effect of strongest oil of vitriol on a suit of clothes. The acid hit below the belt, leaving a large vacancy where once had been trousers. It went through the underwear to the skin. Gilbert lost no time in getting to the bath room at the men's dormitory, following which friends supplied him with a barrel and a pair of suspenders so that he could get to town and secure a new suit.

Harold Brandebury then took a Bolshevik attitude and blew up an ammonia generator, the contents of which hit him in the face. He closed his eyes promptly, thus avoiding serious injury. Those who washed his face for him, following which he opened his peepers and looked around. There is no telling what might have happened, had four o'clock not arrived. It is reported that dealers are doing a good business in laboratory aprons.

 tion is effected or not, the advantages of a unit board for the higher institutions as against multiple boards merit serious consideration. In so far as I am informed, every state that has in any significant manner reorganized its higher institutions during the past two decades has adopted the single board policy. Coming to the state university, he finds that the city has been well selected as the seat of the state university and that the buildings are well located and constitute a fitting nucleus for later development. The present administration is branded as "sneaky aggressive" in its efforts to develop the institution. It is suggested that the fee of non-residents of New Mexico be raised at the state university and also at other schools. As to the faculty, he finds that the university staff is beginning to

"assume the characteristics of a true university faculty, although much still needs to be accomplished here. The salary schedule is quite inadequate; the average of full professors is nearly $800 below the average for full professors in the institution reported in a recent bulletin of the federal bureau of education."

"Mines Little Service." As to the State School of Mines, he finds that "the students are non-resident in a measure unapproached, I believe, by any other state-supported institution in the country." There were nineteen students bona fide residents of the state, as against 68 from outside of the state out of a total of 85. Of the 1920 graduates, none is practicing his profession in New Mexico. "It is clear that the school of mines is not serving the state in measure that the vital importance of its field to the state's progress and prosperity demands," Mr. Bagley states.

The college of agriculture and mechanic arts is thoroughly considered. Its buildings were not as well kept up as some others, but it seemed fairly well located for its purposes as a school of agricultural instruction and investigation. Here again a good proportion of the students were from outside Mexico. Professor Bagley commends the short agricultural courses but doubts the legitimacy of using Morrill funds for commercial courses. As to the military institute, the report assumes that the tax burden represented by this institution will be either eliminated or reduced to a negligible minimum.

Consolidation Favored. Considering the possibilities of consolidation, the report says: "It is clear that New Mexico is attempting to operate a larger number of separate tax-supported higher institutions than the needs of the state warrant and a larger number of such institutions than the taxpayers of the state are now either willing or able to provide for in a manner that would be consistent with the importance of the service that the various institutions should render." The report recommends that the Spanish-American normal be discontinued as a tax on the state and also that state aid to the Roswell institute be withdrawn. It suggests the transfer of engineering courses from the Las Cruces plant to the state university at Albuquerque. Although there would be little money economy, it asserts that there would be educational economy in consolidating all institutions, probably at Las Cruces. There being obstacles to this, Professor Bagley suggests steps toward a remedy—the single educational board, the consolidation of certain normal schools, the possible establishment of the three-center plan, providing for northern, southern and central plants operating under one board with a single administrative head.

 SOCIETY *****

To the casual observer, there is much to be seen and heard of in the way of society at our University. Rush parties are commencing with a vim, now that old pledges have been initiated, for it is of paramount importance that new victims be obtained to perform such necessary duties as are required of them, including shining shoes, cleaning house, and the like.

Furthermore, there is much to be admired in the spirit of the Pi K. A.'s who are commencing a series of smokers similar to those which proved so successful when given by the Alpha Deltas. And the Pi K. A.'s are "going one further," as they are also planning to entertain the fair coeds with a series of teas. The congenial and hospitable attitude thus displayed cannot help but breach all real or imaginary gaps between the different fraternities.

PI KAPPA ALPHA.

Sunday afternoon the Pi K. A. house on Silver avenue was the scene of the first of a number of entertainments, which will include all U. N. M. students and faculty members, when the dorm boys and non-fraternity men living in the city were the guests of honor.

The Pi K. A. will be "at home" next day afternoon to the faculty, the following Sunday a tea will be given for the dorm girls, town girls, the Kappa Kappa Gammas and Alpha Delta Pis. Net, the Phi Mus and Alpha Chi Omegas will have their turn and the series will terminate with a smoker for the Sigma Chis and Alpha Deltas.

The house members of the Pi K. A.'s were the guests at an informal dance Friday night at their chapter house in honor of their new pledges, George Savage, Richard Coffman and Ralph Miller. The guests were Misses Helen MacArthur, Lorena Burton, Margaret Hardeman, Ruth Heffin, Alexandria Vaughney, Emma Gerhardt, Elsie Ruth Dykes, Myrtle Walker, Blanche Guley, Helen Nelson and Elizabeth Hill. Dr. Edna Mosher chaperoned the affair.

KAPPA MU.

One of the most delightful parties of the week was given Saturday night by the "kitchen mechanics" of the dining hall. Besides dancing and card-playing, the weird art of "telling fortunes" was indulged in by Mrs. Frazie to further the variety of indoor sports for the lucky participants. There will soon be several deaths of "unknown relatives" leaving immense fortunes to particular members of the Kappa Mu, according to the mystic seer, so all adventures, bait your lines and keep your eyes on Kappa Mu.

The guests were Misses Gott, Jan, Russell, Sherwood, Connor, Nelson, Dykes, Gerhardt, Sands, Shaw, McMullin, Masten, Travis, Shotwell, Mrs. Crawford and Mrs. Frazie; Messrs. Bowers, Gilliam, Fetzer, Dow, Bryan, Hite, Bursey, Little, Pearce, Crawford, Swinney, Colwell, Willey, Masten. The chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Simpson and Mr. and Mrs. Frank. Another ace placed by the hosts was displayed in the originality and deliciousness of the "eats" which included regular banana split n'everything!

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA.

An informal "rush party" was held at the home of Miss Alexandria Vaughney, 220 N. Ninth street, Monday night for actives, pledges and alumni of the sorority. The party was chaperoned by Mrs. William White, an alumna of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

PHI MU.

Mrs. N. F. Dion was chaperone at a "rush party" given at the chapter house Saturday night.

ALPHA DELTA PI.

Mrs. Jack Lapraik was at home to Alpha Delta Pi and guests at her home 11 W. Marquette, Saturday afternoon from 2:30 to 5:00.

SOPHOMORE DANCE.

Invitations are out for the Sophomore dance to be given at the Woman's Club Saturday night. The committee in charge of the affair consists of John Fernstrom and Lorena Burton. Dr. Edna Mosher will be the chaperone.

COMMITTEE ON BASKET BALL HAS REPORT READY

A committee was appointed for the purpose of investigating the possibilities of a basketball season with Manager Fernstrom as chairman. The appointing of the committee was in accord with the wishes of the student body. However, it was known by those acquainted with the situation that this action was a mere technicality.

Back in October the manager was negotiating with various institutions relative to fixing up a schedule. At this time the athletic council anticipated a deficit in the football season and called a halt to the proceedings. After a thorough investigation it was found that football would absorb the entire athletic fund from the first semester and that it would be necessary to cut into the fund anticipated in the second semester, leaving merely enough to fill our contract to bring a track team from Arizona University to the meet at Albuquerque.

It was plain that the finances for a basketball season would have to be raised unaided by the athletic fund. Consequently, the manager and Coach Johnson lost no time in investigating all possible sources of the required amount. The only results were hearty endorsements on the part of the prospects, and no cash. After an appeal to President Hill, who was unable to give any possible solution, the manager and coach gave it up as an impossibility, hoping that following years may profit by this situation and provide a sum sufficient to finance a basketball season.

STUDENT OPINION.

OUR NEW BLUE LAWS.

U. N. M. is rapidly coming to the front with all the up-to-date stuff you read about in the papers. Our Puritan forefathers will soon have nothing on us at the pace we have set. While it was extremely unfortunate that the founders of this University did so on a co-educational basis, we are struggling mightily to overcome the handicap and soon it seems that our ambition will be realized and there will be no more social intercourse between the men and women of this institution. Then, and only then, will we develop the ideal woman and the real he-man.

Our latest progressive step toward this end is the abolishment of mixed tennis games. Men and women are not to play on courts that are within one hundred yards of each other. This will eliminate one extremely dangerous opportunity of "fussing" and "spooning."

The cry goes up among some of our "Jazzers" and "co-Jazzers," "What is a couple going to do while they are together on the campus?" There is just where we have you, Mr. Jazzer. Tennis has been practically your only resort when you attempted to entertain a girl on the campus. Now, since it is impossible for you to play tennis with her you will not be together, and those half dozen serious minded persons who are trying to train for a tournament will not have their game interrupted by a social game going on in the adjacent court. In this way two ends will be gained, namely: A national sport will not be socialized, and second, and many times more important, social intercourse will practically be eliminated on the campus.

One of our last steps toward the minor end, that of obtaining a non-social basis of all sports, will be to eliminate women from the football games.

ALUMNI NOTES.

It will be of great interest to her friends on the hill to learn that Miss Grace Startz has made her musical debut in Chicago, appearing before a large audience at the Chicago Culture club winter gardens on February 14. Miss Startz has also been asked to sing with the famous Apollo club, a Chicago organization of more than three hundred selected voices.

Allen Bruce made a business trip to Santa Fe last week. Mr. Bruce is assistant manager of the southwest agency of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company.

Word has been received through the medium of his wife, Mrs. Harry Frank, of Topeka, Kansas, who is in the city on a short visit, that Mr. Frank is prospering in Topeka, Kansas. He is connected with a fire underwriters' office at that place.

Miss Evelyn Trotter is in the city for a short stay on her way from California to Dallas, Texas.
