LIEUTENANT BROREIN TELLS EXPERIENCES

U. N. M. Man, Now Aviator In Marines Is Speaker At Assembly Monday; Has Been Stationed In Azores.

Lieutenant Carl D. Brorein, who graduated from the university in 1917, and is now at home on a 30 day furlough from the Marine Corps, was the speaker at assembly Monday morning and told of his experiences in the service.

Although Lieut. Brorein never reached the battle front, he had many interesting experiences while stationed at the Azores, where some thousand marines and sailors were stationed to guard against submarines. He described the islands as being one of the most beautiful places imaginable, with a temperate climate the year round, and said that the anti-sub measures taken there were of very great importance in lessening the submarine peril.

In describing his first flight in a hydroplane, Lieut. Brorein said that when he got up in the air he lost all track of distance and started down when at an altitude of 1200 feet, where he should have begun the descent at 500. Luckily he made the water without injury, but his machine "was carried back and used for spare parts." But the incident that impressed him the most was when he was flying from his base in the Azores and got lost at sea in a fog. He managed to get back by noting the direction of the wind as he started out, but the feeling he had when completely lost, he said, was anything but pleasant.

He once made a trip up through Portugal, whence he said many gamblers and adventurers had gone from France. He described the people as one who would bet on anything, and said that gambling was one of the principle industries of Lisbon. "If you see two sparrows in the street you can always find some one willing to bet on which will fly first," he said.

Before introducing the speaker President Boyd made a few remarks urging every student to give careful thought and study to the proposed League of Nations. He compared the difficulty of agreeing upon a league to the difficulties of our forefathers in establishing the Union, and said that the same obstacles would have to be overcome if the League could succeed. He especially asked that everyone read again and study the Articles of Confederation, Declaration of Independence, and the Constitution to better understand just what kind of government we are really living under, as those would be the framework and model of the world-organization.

AGGIES AGAIN CAPTURE TWO GAMES FROM VARSITY

Farmers Aggregation of Basketball Players Proves Too Much For Light In Experienced U. N. M. Men. Game Hard Fought.

In two of the hardest fought and roughest games ever seen on an Albuquerque court the basketball team from the State College defeated the Varsity team 39-8 and 29-21 in the games played Friday and Saturday nights at the Y. M. C. A. Ability to locate the basket and superior team work were responsible for the Aggie victories.

Standing of the teams:

Game at—when played	A.	V.
Las Cruces, Feb. 21	57	20
Las Cruces, Feb. 22	40	22
Albuquerque, Feb. 28	39	8
Albuquerque, March 1	29	21
Total.....	165	71

By winning the series of four games at Las Cruces, Feb. 21 and 22, and at Albuquerque, Feb. 28 and March 1, with more than twice the standing as the University, the State College made a clean sweep over us this year.

Hill, O'Hara, and Ross did the star playing for the college by making 33, 21, and 19 field goals respectively. Pendergrass, Foraker, and Greenleaf, who made 17, 7 and 3 field goals respectively were the Varsity's best goal shooters.

Both teams put up a good fight but the superiority of the veteran players on the Aggie team was shown in all the games. They used only six men in all four games and did no substituting while the University used nine. The Varsity men could hold the Aggies for the first few minutes of the games then afterward the college scored almost at will until substitution was used. In the last game, the best played game of the series, the score stood 0-0 for several minutes, then the Aggies scored two points. Immediately following the Varsity scored two points making a tie, the only tied score during the game for from then on the College's points rapidly accumulated until in the second half when the score stood 29-15 in favor of the Farmers, the University substituted some new players and scored six more points making a final standing 29-21 in favor of the Mesilla ark players.

A dance was to have been given for the Aggie team and the University students on last Saturday night but because the players were not able to attend the entertainment it was called off.

The lineup for the series of games was: Aggies—Hill and Ross, forwards; O'Hara, center; Graham, Blackwell, and Butler, guards. Varsity — Pendergrass, Sganzi, Gerpheide and Moots, forwards; Foraker, center; Greenleaf, Witten, Steed, Chess and Culpepper, guards. Field goals—Hill 33, O'Hara 21, Ross 19, Pendergrass 17, Foraker 7, Greenleaf 3, Gerpheide 2, Moots 2, Butler 2, and Blackwell 1.

WOUNDED VARSITY MAN HAS RETURNED

Lieutenant Lembke, Shot Three Times by Machine Gun Bullets, Arrives in Albuquerque.

Lieutenant Charles H. Lembke, U. N. M. '13, and veteran of some of the most severe fighting in France and Belgium, arrived home Monday night from Fort Sam Houston, where he has been recovering from severe wounds which he received from airplane machine gun fire at Audenarde, Belgium, last November.

The train was met by a host of the lieutenant's friends who gave him a real welcome and later he was the guest of honor at a specially prepared banquet given by the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity of the State University.

Chester Boldt acted as toastmaster at the banquet and toasts were responded to by the following fraternity men: "Pi Kappa Alpha," Allen Williams; "Pi's We Meet in the Service," Perkins Patton; "Our Estufa," Errett Van Cleave; "From a Pledge," William Sganzi. The guest of honor, Lieutenant Lembke, gave a short address relating a few of his experiences and absolutely refuting the report, which was received here several weeks ago, that he had been killed in action.

Lieutenant Lembke enlisted in May, 1917, going to Presidio. He went across soon after this time and was a participant in many of the bitterest fought battles of the war. While on the fighting line near Audenarde, Belgium, on November 3, his company was attacked by a number of German airplanes, which opened fire on the Americans from a fairly close distance with machine guns. The fire was returned with interest by the American gunners and although the Germans were finally forced to turn tail, many of the Yanks were either killed or wounded among the latter Lieutenant Lembke, who was shot through the lower jaw and lost several teeth and suffered the breakage of the jaw bone.

Although immediately sent to a hospital, it appears that for a time he was not located by his commanding officer and as a result was reported killed, which report reached here within a few days and was then contradicted by a cable from him,

Y. M. C. A. LUNCHEON MONDAY EVENING

Men are Addressed by Lieutenant Zeigler, Army Chaplain Just Returned from France.

The University Y. M. C. A. began its activities for 1919 by giving a luncheon to the university men at 6 p. m. Monday evening in the university dining hall.

Lieut. (chaplain) W. H. Zeigler, who has just arrived in Albuquerque after serving as army chaplain during the war period gave an inspiring talk on the value of association of men, relating many of his experiences with the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Kuhn who has been with the American soldiers teaching them the art of singing lead several popular songs sung in camps, and told of some of his experiences with the army boys.

Dr. Boyd made a short talk on his appreciation of the efforts that the boys are putting forth in this year's school activities after which the president of the association made his announcements as to the mechanism of the Y. M. C. A. for this year.

A combined membership between the University Y. M. C. A. and the City Y. M. C. A. is being put before the City Y. M. C. A. Council. If obtained special inducements will be made for the rest of this year and next year's membership.

The officers of the association compose the executive committee. The president's cabinet will be composed of the chairmen of the different committees. These men have in their hands the activities of the organization. The following committees have been appointed: program, athletic, entertainment, membership, attendance, and music. Other committees will be organized to take care of other activities as the need for them makes its appearance.

Plans are now being negotiated to obtain a club room or "Y. hut" as it might be called to be used by the "U" students when on the hill.

The snake dance up and down Central avenue Saturday night reminded us of old times. Let's have a few more such celebrations.

stating, that although badly wounded, he was rapidly recovering.

After being dismissed from the French hospital, Lembke was sent to a London recuperation hospital and later returned to the United States, where he was immediately sent to a hospital at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. He is now home on twenty days leave and expects to be mustered out of service at the end of that time. His wounds have been well taken care of and he will experience little discomfort from them in any way. —Evening Herald.

HOW STUDENT SENTIMENT IS FORMED.

Last Saturday night after the game the male students of the university expressed their enthusiasm by marching snake fashion up and down Main street and "rushing" the picture shows.

The first one they came to was the Ideal. The manager held open the door and bade them welcome, evidently remembering when he was in school and appreciating the spirit of the "mob." The crowd marched in and out and gave a cheer for the Ideal.

Similar treatment was received at the Pastime and the B. But when the Lyric was reached, the men were refused admittance.

The manager was entirely within his rights in refusing to let the men enter. He evidently failed to see the spirit behind the demonstration, and probably considered it an organized attempt to get into the show without paying the necessary two-bits.

The students get terribly broke sometimes, but we have yet to see the one who would take advantage of such a condition to beat his way in.

Little things like this are unimportant, but they are remembered when one is deciding what show to go to.

THOSE GOOD OLD DAYS!

In digging around among the old files of the Weekly the other day we ran across the following article, published in the issue of Sept. 12, 1916. Our only comment is that it makes us feel so sad that we couldn't have enjoyed those days, too.

PROCLAMATION: "We, the girls of the U. N. M. do hereby give notice that we do desire and prefer to ride the street cars up and down the hill for all dates, dances and other affairs which formerly called for a taxi. First, because we realize that boys attending school are not millionaires; second, because we know that boys often cannot afford the price of a taxi; third, because it is a waste of perfectly good money to ride in taxis, when street cars are good, cheap and sociable; and fourth, because we want to be up with the times and street cars are the very latest and most approved style of travel. Wherefore do we hereby resolve that we will not ride in a dollar taxi when the street car will take us to the same place for a dime."

(Signed) The Girls of U. N. M.

COMMUNICATION.

Editor of Weekly:

I want to take issue with you on the editorial which appeared in the last Weekly, headed "Courses Called and Uncalled For."

I know nothing of the merits of the course which you say is being offered, as I am not musically inclined. But I do say you are wrong in hinting that Higher Planes of Conversation is not a fine art.

To be able to carry on an eloquent conversation is one of the finest arts in the universe. Behold the ladies. They work some and they study some, but I say unto you that the kind of a fish they finally land all depends upon the agility and behavior of their tongues. And we men owe whatever success we may have in fussing, to the way we are able to manipulate our tongues and make our friends the ladies think we are brilliant even if we actually are stupid.

I am of the opinion that a class in Higher Planes of Conversation would fill a long felt want. For myself, I would like to learn the most appropriate things to say at the proper times, and believe that if I had such knowledge I would easily outshine all social rivals. This is an age of specialization, and in order to succeed at anything one must give it thought and study. Don't you really think that all of us could have better luck if we were graduates of such a course?

As to who could be found to teach such a class, that is a difficult matter. Not that no one would be willing to, as you said. But who would be capable of instructing us in such fine matters? I would suggest that the most successful heartbreakers could fill the place. You might hold a contest, and declare the one who had the most proposals to be the teacher. Surely such a person would know pretty well what to teach us.

Being naturally rather modest and unobtrusive I hesitated to express these opinions, but am rewarded, if in no other way, by the prospect of what lies in the future for me if you can only persuade Dr. Boyd that what I say is true. You know from experience that it is, don't you?

Respectfully,
PERKINS L. PATTON.

NEW PHYSICS APPARATUS.

A new guathometer has arrived. It is firmly constructed device used in determining the amount of pressure exerted by the human jaw. It registers a maximum pressure of 1,000 pounds. The instrument has been tried out on several members of the faculty. Perhaps the results of the experiments would interest the students.

Vice president Hodgkin, 0 pounds; Miss Hickey, 5 pounds; Prof. Landers, 15 pounds; Prof. Dow, 500 pounds; Prof. Sherwin, 635 pounds; Dean Mitchell, 675 pounds; Dr. Perrin, refused to bite.

ARKANSAS CLUB.

To the envy and admiration of those not eligible, six of the varsity's most noted or notorious members, all hailing from the "Bear" state, have formed an organization which will be known as the Arkansas Club. In addition to being a native of the much abused state, prospective members must possess certain other qualifications, the exact nature of which is secret.

A constitution is being drafted, and officers will soon be chosen. A secret grip has been perfected, and is being constantly used by members of the club.

It is the plan of the club to meet at weekly luncheons, varied occasionally by an elaborate banquet at the City cafe.

Howard S. Bateman, U. N. M. '16, will arrive April first to take up his work as instructor in the mathematics department. Mr. Bateman has just been discharged from the service. Until his arrival Mrs. Dow will teach in this department.

Many persons now connected with the university remember the Hutchinsons. The sad news has come that little Tiny, while playing near a bon-fire on January 31, had her clothes set on fire and she was badly burned. She is still in the hospital. There is some consolation to be derived from the fact that her face and hands were not burned.

The next issue of the University News will be of especial interest to varsity students as it will contain particulars of the annual high school track meet to be held this spring under the auspices of the university.

Coach Purdy announces that the track and baseball season starts this week and that he would like to see all those interested in these sports. If enough men turn out it is his intention to organize a team to enter the city league.

Prof. Sherwin will leave the university at the end of this quarter for the university of Chicago where he will enter the department of English.

Fletcher Short was initiated into the Alpha Delta Fraternity Monday evening.

Lieut. Charles Lembke, a former varsity student arrived in Albuquerque Monday evening. Lt. Lembke has seen active service in France and was severely wounded shortly before the armistice was signed.

Margaret Flournoy ex '19, returned from Washington, D. C., and was a welcome visitor on the campus a few days ago.

Lieut. Carl D. Brorien and Mrs. Brorien will leave Wednesday for Miami, Florida, where Lt. Brorien will be stationed with the Marine Aviation.

The sympathy of the university is extended to Gustave Swedes who is mourning the death of his father. Mr. Swedes left Tuesday for his former home in Cincinnati, Ohio.

VALUABLE RELIC DONATED.

A friend of the university understanding that we were anxious to start a historical museum has given us an interesting and valuable relic. It is an 8 gallon keg which was brought over on the Mayflower. For the present it will be kept in the library. Miss Stone will show it to you.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL DOINGS.

At a meeting of the athletic council Monday, the fact was disclosed that the association is very short of funds with which to carry on the rest of this year's work. The basketball season resulted in a heavy loss.

Plans were discussed for beginning track work, and the possibilities for meets with other schools were mentioned. Provided, the men turn out and work hard between now and May, the university will send a track team to the meet in Tucson to compete against the Arizona U, the N. M. Aggies and one or two other schools.

Also it was brought out that Coach Purdy has taken steps toward organizing a city baseball league, of which the varsity will be a member. Other teams will probably be the Menaul School, Indian School and R. O. P's.

The council expressed itself in favor of sending Coach Purdy to the meeting of the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference Council, which takes place the latter part of March. The university is a member of this conference. While there the coach will consider the advisability of scheduling games with conference teams in football, basketball, and track.
