COMING!! VARSITY CIRCUS!! INTERCLASS FIGHT ON MARCH 16th

UNIVERSITY CIRCUS TO BE MADE ANNUAL EVENT FROM ALL PRESENT INDICATIONS

Big Parade! Wild Animals! Bare-back Riders! Wild West Show! Concert! Everything Usually Pertaining to First Class Show Will be Presented by Students of U. N. M., April 21st; Save Your Jitneys Now; Sideshows, Peanuts and Popcorn, Red Lemonade and Hot Dog Will All be Anxious to Take Your Money; Talk to Your Friends About It.

The University circus is now a sure thing. The date is to be April 2. Efficient men and women have been appointed for the heads of the important committees, and all of them are busily at work. These people will all be glad for any useful suggestions that you may think of; anything funny that you know belongs to a circus, any stunt your yourself can do, do not be bashful about saying so. The following committee has been appointed:

Coach Hutchinson, director; Professor Edington, manager of parade; Professor Seder, musical director; Professor Wand, Engineer; Professor Leupold, boss mechanic; Floyd Lee, assistant manager and wild west man; Pelham McClellan, side show man; Alberta Hawthorne, Concert manager; Lena Fergusson, costume designer; Earl Gerhardt, chief grafter; George White, head clown; Bill Grimmer, ballyhoo man; Robert Hopewell, stable man; Louis Nohl, chief of police; Tom Williams, chief of roustabouts; Lyle Vincent, Ringmaster; Carl Brorein, canvas man; Ray McCanna, manager.

These people are all working on this thing, but they will need the hearty support of the student body to enable the circus to be the success it is going to be, so everyone do their part without waiting to see what the other fellow is going to do.

Every big college has some annual event that the student body, as a whole, takes part in. Up until this time, the University of New Mexico has been behind the times in this respect, but we are now waking up and the big circus to be given on April 21 will mark a new era in the life of our institution. Everyone will have a chance to take part so that when the circus is a thing of the past and has become a settled part of the college year, they will have a chance to be proud of the fact that they took part in the first circus ever given by the University. There is a great deal of satisfaction gained from the knowledge that you were one the first persons to start some good thing.

Now is your chance to boost the circus in every way in your power. Tell everyone about it for it is going to happen, and is going to be a good circus, too.

The parade will be the first hint the public will have of the wonderful things that will happen in this event. Gorgeous show wagons will roll along the streets, stopping all traffic on the morning of April 21. The clowns will all be loose then, but they are all harmless. The "fat lady" and the "thinnest man in captivity," as well as all the freaks will be much in evidence. The cowboy and cowgirls from the "wild west show" will ride in the parade, too. Be there at 10 o'clock and don't forget to look for "TONTLE," April 21, 1917.

ANNUAL LOWER CLASS FIGHT PROMISES TO BE MOST SPECTACULAR EXHIBITION STAGED

Final Arrangements Have Been Made for Contest Between Freshmen and Sophomores, to be Held on Varsity Athletic Field Friday Afternoon; Record Breaking Crowd is Expected; Advance Sale of Tickets Largest Ever Noted.

After much urging and advice from upper classmen, the Sophomore and Freshman classes have at last got together and definitely arranged their annual St. Patrick's day battle.

For the past number of years this annual struggle, between the younger members of the student body has been a rather hap-hazard affair. There has been no definite plan followed, no systematic procedure, merely a general free for all tussle, usually ending with both classes claiming to be the victor. It has been customary for one class or the other to start the fight by placing its colors on the flag pole on the campus. As the most appropriate time has generally been at night, the result has often been a nightly engagement, with all its accompanying honors of unexpected attack upon the sleeping enemy dark and cunning strategy, hand to hand combats, in the perpetration of which the maidens of Hokona have been aroused from their gentle slumbers by a groaning cry, a muttered curse, or the dull thud of a body falling in the dark.

This year, however, on account of the war in Europe and their progressive idea on humane warfare, the classes have decided to have their little engagement in the full light of the afternoon sun, free to the public (in general, and Hokona in particular.)

The contest will take place on Friday, March 16, at 4 p. m. sharp. A general outline of the battle is as follows:

At each end of the football field a goal will be placed resembling a basketball in everything except size. An equal number of Sophomores and Freshmen, perhaps forty men on a side, will defend their respective goals. The ball to be used will be the regular basketball, and it will be the object of each class to cage as many baskets as possible in a given length of time. The class having the most points at the end of the set time wins the game and will be allowed to put its color on the flag pole, where it will remain the entire St. Patrick's day, without disturbance.

The contest will be free from slugging and fighting, and the ball may not be kicked. It may be carried like a football for an end run or a line buck; it may be passed or dribbled like a basketball; or it may be thrown like a baseball.

This is the general outline of the plan, minus its minor details. All desiring to see this new combination football, basketball, baseball game in action are requested to come early and bring their lunch or buy their seats in advance, as a record crowd is expected. The first and only performance will begin at 4 o'clock, March 16. Remember the date.

CINDER PATH ARTISTS NOW HARD AT WORK

All Track Letter Men From Last Year's Team Have Returned and May be Seen in Action at Any Time; New Material Shows up Well.

The weather man has at last favored us with opportunities which all trackmen should eagerly take advantage of and adorn the track from ten in the morning until sun down. If you are a sprinter get out and get your legs in shape; if a long distance man have your wind in the best possible condition. The inter-class meets will be held in the course of a few weeks. CONSTANT practice and hard work is absolutely necessary to put out a winning team.

The entire team from last year is back and together with the new material which is available, there is no reason why we should not put forward a championship aggregation. The Typewriters Defeat U. N. M. Aggregation in Practice Game on Varsity Field Last Saturday; Hard Practice Necessary to Build up a Strong Team.

The first baseball game of the season was played last Saturday afternoon on the Varsity field, the Albuquerque Business College defeating our team by the score of 7 to 5. The game was well attended by business college routers, the loyal supporters of the cherry and silver were not in evidence. Regardless of this fact the team representing the University played exceptionally good ball.

Only two men from last year's squad occupied positions Saturday. The rest of the team was made up of entirely new material, all of which in spite of the defeat, speaks well for the prospects of the coming season. Jason Williams and Clifford Bernhardt co-

Today is the 13th day of March, and we have the solemn word of our editor-in-chief that the Mirage will be out on May the first. That is no very far off now. Remember that the support of every student in the University is necessary to make this Mirage a success.

Just to prove to you that this number will be better than any other that have been published yet, here are some of the pictures that will be in the book this year.

A whole set of "Go Ask Willie" pictures; one copy of every proof that was printed will have its place in the Mirage, so that those who were in the cast will have a chance to see themselves as others saw them, while those

CONSTITUTION TO BE REVISED SOON

The Committee Will Soon be Able to Make Report in Regard to Progress Made Concerning Student Body Organization.

An important meeting of the committee on the student body constitution was held on Friday, Fe. 9, to revise the constitution.

The committee has been working hard on this thing, and though they have no report to offer now, it will soon be ready.

When completed, the constitution will be as near like that of the state as possible, and all student body elections will take place at one time, voting the Australian ballot system. The plan is to have student government—all student affairs to be taken care of by the student themselves. A brief outline of the principals of the constitution will be published in the U. N. M. Weekly as soon as completed and all

BASEBALL ENTHUSIASM.

There is nothing that helps a person to do a thing well like a good beginning. This is especially true in athletics; the man that gets a good start in the hundred-yard dash is generally the one that finishes with flying colors. The U. N. M. baseball season made a start on Saturday, Feb. 10, but it was not the sort of start that is necessary in the hundred yard dash; far from it. This does not apply to the team as much as to the lack of support on the part of the U. N. M. students. It is true that we lost 5-7 but it is only the man that is not a good sport that gives up with the first defeat; that is the part would never bother the season but the other side will cripple this season seriously. The High School students show far more school spirit than we do.

The handful of rooters that witnessed the baseball game Saturday would never help any team very far on the road to victory. Any man that is in any branch of athletics ought to be willing to give his fellow-student the cheer that he expects when it comes his turn to win honor for his school and the men that do not enter any of these branches certainly ought to at least support them in the one way that will help; to go and show that you care just how the score stands; who plays and how they play. This game is over now and those who did not see it or even know it was going to happen will have a chance to see the next one for of course more are coming. It has been reported that there was not a single University girl that witnessed the game.

DEBATING.

Debating has held the floor for some time past and has by no means ceased. We have two more important debates, one with the University of Redlands, California, and the other with the University of Arizona. Having last two previous contests this season, we should put forth every effort to land the decision in both cases to follow. The men are working exceptionally hard as is also Professor Bonnet and the rest of the members of the faculty who have been appointed to assist in the work. These few men are not going to be able to win these debates if the rest of the student body falls by the wayside, and allows them to go as they please. Act intelligently about the matter at least. Pretend that you know something about the debates, and this will incite you further until you really learn some few facts about the situation. Drop a kindly word to the men who are devoting a considerable portion of their time. Place yourself in their position and imagine how it would make you feel to have the same thing done to you. Put a few kind remarks away for these men occasionally and watch for results. Co-operation is the by-word of success in any undertaking. Let the student body of the University of New Mexico lead in all such operations.

BOOST A GOOD THING.

For many years past it has been the custom at the University to have a flag pole fight, free-for-all, or anything you may desire to name it. Now at last we have a regular organized contest between the Freshmen and Sophomores, which is to take the place of the former "rough neck" affair. This is the first time such an attempt has been made to do away with the ancient custom, and it is sincerely hoped that it will meet with the greatest success. There is no reason of any special note that should compel or oblige an upper classman to get out on St. Patrick's Day and fight for or against a certain other class. In most all other educational institutions any fight that is necessary in the hundred yard dash; far from it. This does not apply to the team as much as to the lack of support on the part of the U. N. M. students. It is true that we lost 5-7 but it is only the man that is not a good sport that gives up with the first defeat; that is the part would never bother the season but the other side will cripple this season seriously. The High School students show far more school spirit than we do.

CURRENT EVENTS.

March 4, 1917—Seven senators attempt by manifest to avert shame.

March 5, 1917—Twelve senators prevent passage of executive bill in senate; 76 on record as favoring it.

March 6, 1917—Little fighting is reported on war fronts from headquarters.

March 7, 1917—Austria stands firmly against courtialment of submarine war.

Note to involve Mexico defended by Zimmerman.

March 8, 1917—Senate rules certain of amendment; Republican and Democratic caucuses now agree on resolution.

Protection for American ships to be extended by government.

March 9, 1917—U. S. senate is quick to change rule as to make filibuster by few men ineffective.

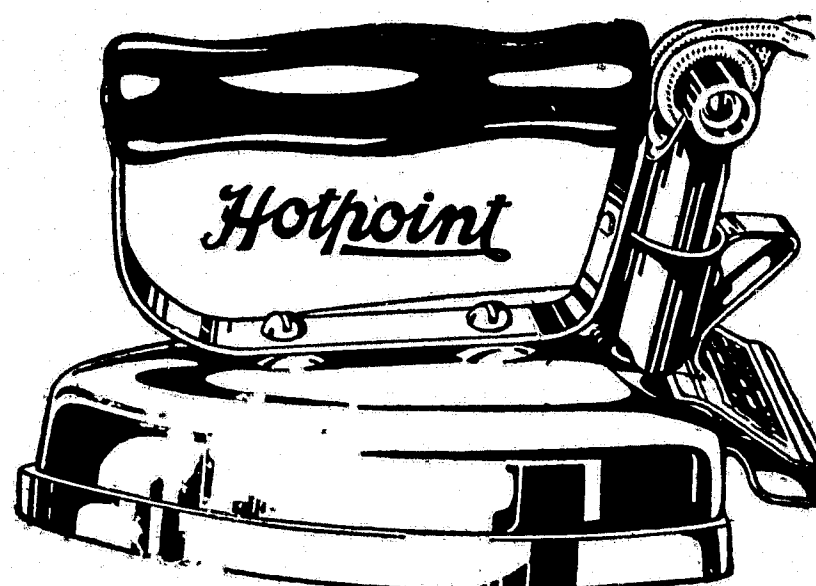

Appropriations increased for institutions of New Mexico.

Do not wait until the time comes to vote on this thing, but study it out for yourselves, and if you have any objections, write them out and hand to any member of the Weekly staff. These objections will be taken note of and the constitution modified to fit them before being submitted to the student body for a vote.

COMING FOOTBALL SEASON'S SCHEDULE

Pigskin Chasers to Meet Strongest Opponents Ever Played by U. N. M.; Arrangements Made.

The most wonderful football program the University has ever known has already been arranged for next year.

Games with big colleges, opponents worth working against are scheduled. There will undoubtedly be the most heated contest on the gridiron for places on the team; the lucky men who prove themselves the ablest "pigskin chasers" will play the following colleges in the coming football season: Oct. 6, Colorado University on our home field; Oct. 20, Colorado College at Colorado Springs; Nov. 10, University of Texas at Austin; Nov. 17, University of Arizona at Tucson; Nov. 29, Aggies at Cruces.

This splendid program is impetus enough to make any football man anxious to get out and "bite the dust", and the entire student body is looking forward to helping our boys win them.

CINDER-PATH ARTISTS NOW HARD AT WORK

track is in fine shape, and should prove inviting to the followers of the cinder-path game. It may well be remembered that the University of Arizona took first honors in the Triangular meet held at Tucson last year, and it is our duty to get revenge. Heretofore we have had a dual meet with the Aggies, but we should direct all our efforts toward defeating the Wild Cats.

Some excellent material has been discovered the last week or two, which adds greatly to the strength of the last year's team. Let everyone get behind the trackmen and therefore keep the University in the athletic world.

FIRST BASEBALL GAME OF SEASON LOST TO A. B. C.

cupied the mound. Captain Louis Nohl handled first base like a veteran, while young Powell and Hover held down second and third sacks respectively to good advantage.

There are not outside games scheduled as yet for this season, but the prospects are very good for games with the Scorro School of Mines and St. Michael's College at Santa Fe, and our course our old stand by, the Agricultural College of Las Cruces.

Coach Hutchinson and Captain Nohl have been working hard with the new material this week and in the course of another week or ten days will undoubtedly have them in the pink of condition. The defeat last Saturday simply showed the men that hard and constant practice would be necessary in order to make any kind of a showing before the big game.

From now on it is sincerely hoped that the student body will get behind the men, devoting their time to such activities.

RUDOLPH GANZ GAVE SPLENDID CONCERT

Famous Swiss Pianist Entertained University Students and Town People With Several Lively Selections.

Rudolph Ganz, the famous Swiss pianist, honored the University on Friday morning, March 9, by playing for them a few selections at assembly.

Those who heard Mr. Ganz on Thursday evening knew what a treat to expect, and those who did not were delighted beyond their expectations. The perfect technique and wonderful expression with which Mr. Ganz interprets his music hold his audience spellbound from the minute his hands touch the piano until the last echo has died away.

Such a musical treat as this one is seldom heard in Albuquerque, which fact makes it all the more appreciated.

MIRAGE IS RAPIDLY NEARING COMPLETION

who saw the play will think again of the best the University ever gave. Besides these, many football pictures will be there. Not only the "official" football picture, but some of the game in Colorado, and other action pictures of games that you will all remember of seeing here will have their place in the Mirage. There will be others, of course, too numerous to mention here, but this is enough to show you that you will have a valuable book for your $1.50, and do not forget to sign the subscription list and be sure to get your Mirage.

THE VARSITY FLUNKERS

During the time of our own mid-semester, this bit of information concerning one of the biggest and best colleges in the United States is especially opportune. Evidently every college "has its own troubles," and we may well follow the standard of "survival of the fittest" in college work.

THE VARSITY "FLUNKERS"

At least 250 students of the University of Wisconsin have been sent home by the faculty, most of them because of deficiencies in their studies, according to The Daily Cardinal, the student paper.

Now this wholesale dismissal indicates that there is something wrong somewhere. Either these students are mentally deficient or failed to give proper attention to their school work.

Dean Goodnight attempts to saddle the poor showing upon those students who came from homes that "lack cultural tradition," but he forgets that the poor boy who "works his way" through school is the boy who usually makes the best record in college. He says that in the old days students "went" to university; nowadays they are "sent." This is doubtless true—doubtless many of the student body is in college only because the "old man" sent them there. The others, who have responsible minds, who think, who have ambitions, who are serious in their work are in school for purpose and they usually apply themselves to attain their aims. They do not all have "cultural traditions," however—far from it.

The sarcastic resolution of Assemblyman Pieper castigating the varsity junior prom, while rather out of place and extreme in its views, nevertheless offers light on the probable cause of many dismissals. There is too much fashion, too many frills, too much "fussing," too many fads and fancies—in other words many students give more time and attention to follies and frivolities than to education. They do not take school seriously; they make a joke of education whereas school is intended to be a serious training to prepare young men of them the better.—Milwaukee News.

Who'll loan me a sheet of paper? Look in that note book there, will you Rebecca? None there either? Everytime I come into this library to study something is lacking. And I must have a fountain pen. Loan me your fountain pen won't you Don? Thanks. Now if I only had some paper. Whats that Miss Sisler? Oh I was only talking business. It was absolutely necessary. The history is the dullest thing. Oh, Floyd, have you heard about the new club. Don't you wish you knew? I overheard Jimmie—there's Miss Sisler again! Well I suppose I'll have to make a trip over to the Grotto. Come on Helen, are you hungry? Let's go to Earl's for some note book paper.

Why hello Glen! Yes I'm feeling fine too. But don't shake my hand off. The Junior Prom? I wish you wouldn't talk about it. Its a shame not to invite the Freshmen. Look what we've done for you. You're going to invite the class officers. That doesn't help me any does it? You do your best now won't you?

What's the news this morning? Are there any new parties posted. There ought to be a good many after lent. Did you know there were only eight more weeks of school. This has been the shortest year! Here have a drink. Look out! The fountain's in a spurling mood this morning. Hello Jimmie. Why the peeved look? Where are your colors? Good for them! I saw Carlton Clark with them a little while ago. Oh, there's Martha. Wait just a minute. I have some important news to impart to her.

Well let's go or we never will get that paper. Say did you know that—Hello Bob!—the Freshman boys are—hello Spick, what's the rush—what was I going to say? Oh yes?—Hello Larry? Is that all you eat for breakfast. Pie is bad to start the day on. Give me some note book paper please, Earl. Yes. Oh, there's some tin foil. Rescue it Helen. George gave you about five pounds didn't he? No, Wilard; that isn't fair. We just came after this paper—well if you insist. Yes a Hershey's please. Thanks awfully. Please don't talk so much about Sophomores Thack. You make altogether to much noise—well we must go. I have a hundred pages of history to read.

Who is that playing tennis? Its Evelyn and Kathleen isn't it? Lets go watch them—What? Eleven—thirty. Well we might as well stay now its really to late to begin those notes this morning.
