Your Support is Needed at Varsity-Redlands Debate Wednesday Night

CINDER ARTISTS AT HARD TRAINING

Track Season Opens With Old and New Material Training With Determination to "Bring Home Bacon" from Interstate Triangular Meet.

Track season is now opened and with the old men from last year's team, mixed with the new material which we have on the hill, the Varsity should "bring home the bacon" from Tucson, where we will take part in a triangular meet with the University of Arizona and the New Mexico Agricultural College May 6.

Coach Hutchinson is very enthusiastic over the prospects for this year's team, and is working constantly with the men, rounding them into shape for the coming meet.

The students on the hill, especially, ought to make a special effort to get out on the bleachers every night and encourage the track and baseball men. Let's have the same spirit that was shown during football season, and watch the men get down to work in order to bring glory to the Varsity.

"Speedy" Bud Friday is with us again year, and will be a sure point winner in the coming meet.

Joe McCanna, our fast dasher, is on the job again, and will figure materially in the long run.

Carl Brorein, the best hurdler the Varsity has had for a good many years, is out practicing hard and is expected to place in both the hurdles and the broad jump. Brorein holds the record now in the broad jump.

Our renowned long distance runner, "Peg" Claiborne, may be seen on the track any and every day, and undoubtedly will prove a very handy man to have.

Adlai Feather, the only man we have had in the weights for the past two years, is developing to be quite an expert. We will be strengthened greatly in this respect by the addition of George Threlkeld, who is capable of handling the weights exceptionally well.

Lee Walker will do his share in the pole vault, and anything else that the coach may put him in. George White is another candidate for the pole vault, and the high jump, and a couple of "firsts" are expected from him.

Fullerton and Loudon both have good reputations in the long distance line, and are hard at work.

Ray McCanna (captain) will be used to good advantage in the 440-yard dash.

Joe Hamilton, who entered college the second semester, coming here from Simmons College, Abilene, Texas, is a snappy little track man, and the "dashers" will have to go some to keep him from getting a place on the team. He holds several records in Texas, both in the dashes and long distance runs, but will confine his efforts entirely to the 100 and 200-yard dashes.

"Red" Thackeray, the whirlwind in the hurdle races, will be a hard man to catch and is figuring on mowing down all opposition, in order to land at the top. Thackeray holds

SPRING TENNIS TOURNAMENT ON

Tennis Courts in Fine Condition, and in Use During Daylight—Twelve Men and Eleven Women Entered for Tournament Singles.

Tennis is again the Varsity pet amusement. Some of the courts are in use all the time and all of the courts are some of the time—to paraphrase an old quotation. During the afternoon it is especially difficult to obtain a court unless one reserves it some hours in advance. More work was done on the fourth court last Saturday week. The wire netting back-stops have been put up, but there still remains work to be done on this court before it is in fit shape for use.

The spring tournament is on, with twelve entered in the men's singles; eleven in the women's singles; six teams in the men's doubles; five teams in the similar women's events; and eight twos will face the net in the mixed doubles. As yet only two matches have been played, but as all must be played by March 28, it is likely that the wielders of the racket will get busy this week.

The matches played were: Cook vs. Ferguson, in the women's singles, won by the latter, 6-3, 6-1; and Seder vs. Hunt, in the men's singles, won by the former, 6-2, 6-0.

ASSEMBLY PLACED ON FORMER BASIS

At Meeting of Faculty and Student Committee Compulsory Attendance at Assembly is Removed, and Part of Assembly Period Set Apart for Student Body's Business.

At a meeting held in President Boyd's office a week ago Tuesday, the members of the faculty who were present and the student body came to a satisfactory solution of assembly attendance and the division of time between student body business and University business. A careful consideration of compulsory attendance resulted in the opinion that such a measure would not remedy the real cause of non-attendance. The interest in assembly should be a wholesome interest coming from the inside of the student out.

As a result, assembly attendance was placed on the same basis that it previously existed. If the students show by their attendance that they are interested in the hour for student body business, and addresses by the ablest men to be obtained, the assembly period will be continued. But rather than have the interest in assembly as indicated by attendance shown only by a few, and the majority of the students using the hour for campus recreation, the assembly classes come in its place. period will be cancelled and regular

JUNIORS PRESENT ANNUAL PLAY

Home Talent Play, "St. Patrick's or St. Bridget's," Takes Well With Audience of Students and Town People.

The junior class presented its annual play, "St. Patrick's Day, or St. Bridget's," Friday night in Rodey Hall. The production was written by a member of the class and staged entirely by juniors. It was a very creditable affair, both from the cleverness of the lines and situations provided by Miss Daphne, the author, and in the way in which the students worked up the situations and made the most of the lines.

The cast included besides the author of the comedy, Miss Wilkinson, Miss Hamilton, Miss Thelma Fortney, Miss Reeves, Messrs. Ray and Joe McCanna, Joe Rosenbach, M. L. Doering, C. D. Brorein, A. E. Bruce, and Messrs. Fullerton and Butler acted as stage manager and property man respectively.

Between the acts Miss Thelma Fortney executed an Irish jig to the accompaniment of much applause, and Jack La Praik and Pryor Timmons sang a duet. Miss Marie Higgins was accompanist.

A very enjoyable dance followed the program.

KWATAKA KOYOTES IN DAYLIGHT SESSION

Last Tuesday's Assembly Turned Into Koyote Klub Entertainment.

The right honorable Coyote Club assembled at assembly last Tuesday morning where it cut cunning capers the first half of the period for the amusement of those who are not so fortunate as to be members. It was a howling success from start to finish. As the curtain raised the old bugle call, the bathrobe assembler using a coyote phrase, sounded forth just as if it were midnight and the coyotes trotted onto the stage to the accustomed animal march produced by Tipton.

After the yelping bunch became somewhat quieted the following numbers were rendered:

Brief history of the organization and the purpose for which it was organized by President Fully.

Violin Duet—"Aloha Oe," Mozley and Tipton.

Reading—"Watchin' the Sparkin'," E. A. Gerhardt.

Vocal Duet—"Those Endearing Young Charms," by Timmons and Mozley.

Reading—"Each in His Own Tongue," Roy Hall.

Negro Sermons, by James K. Polk.

A mock initiation was put on next but owing to the great dissimilarity to the real genuine initiation it seemed more like a domestic animal affair to the Coyotes and did not stir the general public as much as they

VARSITY-REDLANDS CLASH ON MONDAY

First Varsity Inter-state Inter-Collegiate Debate to be Staged Monday When Varsity Clashes with Redlands, Cal., Team Over Question of Government Ownership of Railroads.

The University of New Mexico will clash with the University of Redlands, Cal., over the question of government ownership of railroads, Monday evening at the high school auditorium in the second debate of the U. N. M. debating season.

The question to be debated Monday evening is: "Resolved, that the Federal Government Should Own and Operate all Interstate Railways." The affirmative of the question will be supported by Pryor B. Timmons and Lee W. Walker for the Varsity, while the names of the Redlands debating team have not yet been received, nor have the judges for the debate been selected. The selection of judges has been rather difficult because it is a problem to find competent men who will serve.

The debate Monday evening will represent the first interstate inter-collegiate debate ever held in New Mexico, and will mark the beginning of the Varsity's interstate relations in the debating field with other states. If the University wins this coming debate that victory will go a long way toward placing the name "New Mexico" on the debating map of the country.

It will be from start to finish a contest well worth seeing, and should be supported by the students. Students owe that much to the institution they attend, their alma mater.

FROSH AND SOPHS IN NIGHTLY BATTLE

Annual St. Patrick's Day Scrap Between First and Second Year Men Staged Near Gym in Dead Hours of Night.

The speed-defying American of today is elbowing Father Time back among the class of also rans; the American women wear furs in the summer, exposed backs in the winter, and wrist watches all the year round. Imbibed with this spirit the students of the U. N. M. jumped the gun, as it were, on St. Patrick's Day, and three hours after the well known 17th of March had been ushered in it opened its eyes on a gym full of frosh and upper classmen with their allies.

The fight began when both forces gathered on the hill to place their respective flags on the pole before the other should act. The frosh raised the Green at an early hour and greased the pole; then retired to the dorm to plan for the defense of the morrow. The frosh president got mixed up in a den of sophs and the first fracas started when his classmen came to his rescue. The sophs were outnumbered and very soon

TUESDAY, MARCH 21, 1916

David Starr Jordan has said somewhere that "those who cannot pay their way from the cradle to the grave have no right to make the journey." There seems, however, to be a few Varsity people who have either never heard of this maxim, or are too careless to heed the warning therein concealed. These students want to get something for nothing, at the expense of the other fellow. Rumors have floated in to us more than once that property has been taken without permission, and that horses, buggies, automobiles, and even money, has been borrowed from time to time, and not returned at the moment when most needed.

We do not know who the guilty parties are, nor do we care very much. You know who you are, and whether you are guilty, and in this as in most other things, it is just a simple matter of putting yourself in the other fellow's place. You would, without a doubt, be very angry if such a "joke" were to be played on you. So, have a little consideration for the other fellow, because that other fellow might be you sometime. If you want that pleasure take it at your own expense, you will enjoy it much more. Just try it once.

RHODES SCHOLARS.

The appointing committee will elect a Rhodes scholar next December from the list of those who successfully pass the qualifying examinations which will be held at the University next October third and fourth. Are we going to send somebody to Oxford next year? Is a scholarship good for three years and paying a stipend of $1200 a year going to receive no serious attention here in this institution? Is there anybody here in the whole state of New Mexico who would like to be free from the anxiety of meeting expenses while he secures his education? Does it strike anybody that the Rhodes scholarship is worth having when it gives a man a fine chance to see other young men from all over the something of the world and to meet world? The Rhodes scholar is expected to travel every summer and to acquire a speaking knowledge of some European language other than English by actual contact with people speaking that language. What it indicated by the fact that only 158 candidates appeared in the whole United States to take the examinations last October and that there was not a single one in the state of New Mexico? That is an average of less than four in each state. Ninety-one of these did not pass. Why? Too lazy to study a little? It must be, for the examinations are not too difficult for an earnest, serious, diligent student. If the student is not earnest, serious, and diligent he is not wanted at Oxford and he will never amount to much anywhere. The examinations are made just hard enough so that the lazy and careless will not pass them. The writer of this article does not know of any student here who has announced that he will be a candidate, who will have a much better chance of passing the examinations next October than the proverbial snowball has of retaining its figure in Gehenna. Where in all the United States does a man have a better chance for appointment than in New Mexico where there never has been much competition?

The whole thing boiled down and with the scum skimmed off is simply this: Mr. Cecil Rhodes wanted to gather at Oxford the earnest, serious young men of the British empire and America, allow them to get acquainted with each other and exchange ideas, finish their education and distribute them around the world and let them act as leaders in the world's activities of their generation. And he offered to pay them pretty well while they were getting ready. Is it to be said that the present generation of college men are showing no intention of taking up the great problems that are crying for solution? This is the most important period in the world's history. More weighty problems have to be solved now in economics, sociology, in government than any generation in the past has been called upon to solve. Do the students in our colleges realize this? Does the United States need any thinkers? Does New Mexico? Does any man come here to learn how to think? To improve his mind? It does not look much like it, or else he would grasp at some of the opportunities given him to develop his mind. Now, is there any man here who is willing to sweat a little for a while so that he can go to Oxford in October, 1917? Come, somebody speak up and tell us how a man can earn $3600 easier than to study a little while for it? Even if he studies for two years before he passes the examination, can he earn $1800 a year in any easier way?

FROSH AND SOPHOMORES IN NIGHTLY BATTLE

their president found himself deposited in the cemetery, alone with the ghosts. The frosh had barely assembled when taunting cries regarding the present whereabouts of the green flag were heard coming from the top of the administration building.

The first year men to their surprise found that the sophs. had climbed the greased pole and taken down the flag. Four sophs yelled defiance from the top of the building. The frosh scaled the walls, bound the second year fellows, and gave them a free ride into the country where they were left alone with their thoughts. The frosh forces now approximating fifteen men fortified themselves in the gym with the intention of remaining there until morning. They had hardly reconnected themselves before two advance guards of the enemy appeared and immediately afterward were followed by the sophs strongly reinforced with upper classmen, who advanced from the Sigma Tau house.

Beside the gym the battle royal began. After about an hour's scuffling the victorious frosh carried the sophs and allies into the gym bound hand and foot. At 3.00 a. m. St. Patrick's Day in the morning truce was declared and a yellow and green flag raised on the pole; indicating an even break. So passed the St. Patrick's Day flag rush, marked by sore and peeled heads and the high cost of salve and mentholatum.

Hear them howl, with a fiendish shriek of glee,
And when that howl rings out, its easy enough to see
There'll be a hot time in the old gym tonight.

So hear us
Yell! yell! yell! whatever becomes of us.
When we yell, some unsuspecting cuss
Will be a wiser man, and a quaint artistic muss;
There'll be a hot time in the old gym that night.

"ST. PATRICK" THEME AT VESPERS SUNDAY

For his address at vespers Sunday afternoon Prof. Hodgkin chose a very appropriate topic, "St. Patrick." Coming so near to the 17th of March it was indeed fitting that last Sunday should have been devoted to a discussion of the life of this man whose birthday is universally celebrated, but about whom so little is known by the majority of people.

He was a Gaul, Succath by name, captured when about 16 years of age, and taken to Ireland, where he became a slave of a prominent chief. He took with him his Christian faith, and was so humble and upright that he won favor with his master. Find-way back to his home at the age of twenty-one. But he felt there was a mission for him to perform in Ireland, and after years of preparation he went back to the country from which he had escaped, and spent the remainder of his life in founding churches and laboring for the people. He built 365 churches, and baptized 12,000 people with his own hands. His was a life of sacrifice and love; and he, like nearly all great men, has lived through the centuries because of his sacrifice, and his devotion to an ideal—that of bettering his fellow men. This man lived 1500 years ago, and is really one of the great men of the history of the British Isles.

You miss something each time you do not go to vespers. Let's have a bigger crowd next Sunday.

ANNUAL CONCERT BY MUSIC DEPARTMENT COMING SOON

Elaborate plans are being made for the annual concert by the department of music at the University, which has been announced for April 4, at the high school auditorium. The program, which will be in charge of Prof. E. Stanley Seder, will be announced in the near future, and is expected to be of wide interest.

The proceeds of this concert are to go toward paying for the band uniforms, and the band will have a prominent place on the program with several high grade numbers. The popular brass quartet will present several numbers especially arranged for them by Prof. Seder. The University Glee Club of thirty-five voices will be on the program, as also the University male quartet.

The soloists will include several artists who are prime favorites with the local public, including Mrs. Ralph Henderson, of Santa Fe, violinist; Mrs. Mabel Stevens Himoe, pianist; Miss Louise Thorn, mezzo-soprano; and Robert T. Sewell, baritone.

One of the features of the program will be the Cadman song-cycle, "The Morning of the Year," to be sung by Mrs. Henderson, Miss Thorn, E. S. Seder and R. T. Sewell. This beautiful cycle was first publicly performed in this city during Cadman's stay here some years ago, and has not been heard since, and its repetition will undoubtedly be popular.

Y. W. C. A. Auto Trip.

The girls of the Y. W. C. A. enjoyed a treat last Thursday afternoon when they motored out to the country home of the president, Lillian Gustafson, for their weekly meeting. In addition to the regular program there was a delightful reading by Beatrice Selsor and a piano solo by Helen Thacker, after which quantities of milk and home made doughnuts were served.

Miss Alice Boyd and Dr. J. D. Clark kindly gave the use of their cars for the afternoon.

Chinatown Afternoon.

At Hokona hall Thursday afternoon at four o'clock the members of the Y. W. C. A. will have the pleasure of hearing Miss Faith Longfellow talk on "Missionary work in Chinatown." Miss Longfellow has had actual experience in such work in Chinatown and is qualified to speak. She will probably appear in costume.

Indian School Y. W. C. A.

Miss Beatrice Selsor, chairman of the missionary committee of the University Y. W. C. A., has taken charge of the association for the Indian school.
