GLEE CLUB SCORES MUSICAL TRIUMPH

Three Hundred Persons Delighted By Varsity Singers and Soloists at Masonic Cathedral.

(From Santa Fe New Mexican.)

The New Mexico University Glee club made a musical conquest of the Ancient City last night, with a program which appealed to every one of the three hundred persons who gathered at the Masonic Cathedral.

It was a real up-to-date varsity affair, the sweet co-eds looking very attractive in their white gowns with red roses at their waists, while the men in black suits, formed a suitable background.

The concert was a personal triumph for Miss Mary McFie, a Santa Fe girl, who is head of the music department at the university, and who has scored a success as both teacher and singer.

The program opened with a song by the glee club entitled "Over the Fields at Early Morn," and the warblers at once showed the careful training they had received. There was warm applause. Then Prof. I. L. Tello, the Brazilian violinist, aroused the audience to a high pitch of enthusiasm with the Grieg Sonata No. 2 Opus 13, in G, which he played with much feeling. He was given an ovation.

The girls' glee club sang the third number, "On the Sea," and their sweet voices stirred up a tempest of applause. Miss Mary McFie then sang "Le Mort de Jeanne d'Arc" in English and in it proved her mezzo-soprano voice is of even finer quality and under better control than when she was last heard here in recital. She was applauded vociferously, and gave an encore which was well received.

As a closing number of Part I, of the program, the glee club sang Mascagni's immortal "Intermezzo" from Cavalleria Rusticana, to the accompaniment of Prof. Tello on the violin and Prof. E. Stanley Seder on the great pipe organ of the Cathedral. This selection really transported everyone to sunny Italy, land of "bel-

Gallegos, Frank McCullough, Harry Creswick, Ed Meloney and T. Sundt.

Belen — Harry Kronig, Herman Baca and Paul Simmons.

Artesia—Odie Hogen, Landis Feather and Lowden Carle.

Santa Fe—Elmer Friday, Edward Cartwright, H. Pfeuger, Antonio Lucero, Rowland Pollard, George Cartwright, Albert Wheeler, Virgil Likins, Whipple McCormick, Alfred Rolls, Mariano Sena and Ferdinand Koch.

Albuquerque — L. Thackery, P. Camp, H. Perry, A. Kempenich (captain), D. Wilson, L. Boldt, E. Clifford, G. White, T. Calkins, Z. Chavez, P. Mosley, C. Armijo, E. Hammond and G. Mann.

canto," and it was perhaps the great hit of the evening.

The glee club sang "Sanctus" and Prof. Seder played Rossini's "Overture to William Tell" on the organ in a manner that thrilled his auditors. The men's glee club amused the audience with "The Jolly Blacksmith's Lay," which was a most rollicking number. Charles J. Andrews followed with two tenor solos, "I Hear You Calling Me," and "At Dawning," which were well received. The girls' glee club sang two selections, the second one being "Ashes of Roses," which was pleasing. Miss McFie and Mr. Andrews followed with a duet, "Passage-bird's Farewell," and it was received with enthusiasm. The program closed with the famous "Sextette," sung by Mr. Andrews, Mr. Brashear and the glee club, to please lovers of classic music.

Prof. Seder accompanied on the piano in many of the numbers and Mrs. Charles E. Doll accompanied Prof. Tello. Both accompanists provided themselves skilled musicians.

The concert was given under the auspices of the Santa Fe Woman's club and will be long remembered as an artistic and financial success.

WEEKLY STAFF FOR NEXT YEAR CHOSEN

L. C. Murphy, Editor; George Butler
Manager. Both Men of Experience and "Hustle."

At the annual election on Tuesday, the 14th, Messrs. Le Claire Murphy, and George L. Butler, were elected editor and manager, respectively, of The U. N. M. Weekly, for the school year of 1914-15.

The choice of these two men is a very fortunate one, indeed. Mr. Murphy since coming to the university, has made a record for himself in literary lines, standing at the top of all his English classes. In addition to this, he has had extensive newspaper experience, in the east, having been reporter, and editor for a time, on a daily paper in Rushville, Illinois. Under his guidance, it is confidently expected The Weekly will enjoy a prosperous and pleasant year.

Mr. Butler is the son of a prominent newspaper editor and publisher of New Mexico, and has literally "grew up" in the newspaper business. There is no doubt of his capability and energy in the managerial line, and under him The Weekly will continue the smooth running it has had for the last few years, and be in no danger of wrecking upon the shoals of financial disaster.

Both the candidates, upon their election, made neat speeches, in which they pledged their earnest endeavors for a good Weekly next year, and with the continued support and enthusiasm which the student body has so far shown in the paper, all looks well for 1914-15.

There were 14 less medical schools in the United States in 1913 than in 1912, about 1,200 fewer students, and about 500 fewer graduates.

CHAS. G. HOUNSHELL AT SUNDAY VESPERS

Famous Missionary Speaks on Importance of the Student Volunteer Movement.

All who attended the regular Sunday Vesper services, last Sunday afternoon, were greatly impressed by the forcible and earnest address, delivered by Mr. Charles G. Hounshell, National Traveling Secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement.

Mr. Hounshell is a man of international reputation, as a leader of this great world-wide movement. He has been around the world several times and has done missionary work in Korea and other foreign countries. At present he occupies the important position of National Traveling Secretary of the World's Student Volunteer Movement, visiting the chief educational centers of every state in the union.

Mr. Hounshell arrived Saturday morning and was shown around the city by Albert Hunt. Mr. Hunt also arranged to have Mr. Hounshell speak at Vespers Sunday. As the programs are arranged several weeks ahead and the speakers, provided for, Mr. Hunt had no notice of Mr. Hounshell's arrival until last Friday evening and we are indebted to Mr. Hunt for the privilege of hearing Mr. Hounshell.

Mr. Hounshell's address was the first address the university has heard on the volunteer work. He gave the history of the founding of the Student Volunteer Movement and how the number of volunteers have increased from 251 to 5,000. He cited instances of the importance of this world-wide movement. How, one evening at the White House, over one million dollars were subscribed to its cause, by men whom William H. Taft had invited there, expressly for that purpose.

Mr. Hounshell stated that it is a significant fact that the leading statesmen and rulers of the world are now recognizing this Volunteer Movement, this great body of Christian men and women who have for their watch word "The Evangelization of the World."

Mr. Hounshell is a man who typifies the great leaders of this Christian movement. He is a graduate of Vanderbilt University, and a former football star of that university, having played right guard on the Varsity for several years.

After his address, Mr. Hounshell held a meeting with the cabinet officers of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., for the purpose of aiding, if possible, in the government and working efficiency of these two bodies. After this meeting Mr. Hounshell was the guest of Mr. W. R. Brashear, president of the Y. M. C. A. and Mr. Albert Hunt, vice president of the same body, at a dinner at the Alvarado hotel. Mr. Hounshell departed on the 8:45 Santa Fe for Colorado College, which is his next stop.

OUR TRACK TEAM.

Following the Second Annual Inter-scholastic Track Meet the coming Saturday, the chief topic of interest to the University should be the Inter-City Track Meet, on May 2nd, and the combined track meet and baseball game with the A. & M. College, at Las Cruces, on May 23rd, or around that date.

Track athletics do and should constitute one of the strongest and most attractive features of college athletics; running, jumping, and kindred sports, have been indulged in since the beginning of the world, and the nation with the best athletes in these lines have been the leaders in thought and progress at all times, as witness the success of the Greeks during the period while the Olympic Games were at the full height of their glory and greatness.

One advantage, also, of track athletics, is that they do not require any stated time for training; one can do his work early in the morning, afternoon, or evening, as well, almost, by himself, as in a company. Thus, many, who otherwise are precluded from indulging in football, baseball, etc., games which require a stated period in which to practice, can, with great profit to themselves and their institution, participate in track athletics. However, training for track is doubtless the most tedious and uninteresting thing one could imagine; but, then, the pleasure of being the best sprinter in your section of the country, or the best broad-jumper, pole-vaulter, etc., more than compensates for all the trouble and abstinence of training.

It is to be hoped, therefore, that every track man in the University will put his shoulder to the wheel from now on, and do his part to bring home the championship in this line to the U. N. M. We have the material, and all this is required is practice and self-denial. Will you do your duty to your school? It is up to you to decide.

Princeton University authorities, through the department of physical education and hygiene, have announced the requirements in swimming for freshmen which the first-year men must pass before being excused to take any other form of exercise. The test requires a man to swim 20 yards and demonstrate an ability to use the back stroke.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE ON TEMPERANCE LAST THURSDAY

Mrs. Maude Green, National Lecturer For the W. C. T. U. Gives Interesting Discussion.

Last Thursday morning, the students fortunate enough to attend assembly, were treated to an interesting and novel, as well as instructive, innovation in the lecture line.

Mrs. Maude Green, National lecturer of the W. C. T. U. gave a chalk talk on "Temperance," illustrating her different points as she talked, on a black-board.

Mrs. Green showed herself to be remarkably adept at this business, drawing and lecturing at the same time. The first thing she drew was a picture of a lighthouse, throwing its rays over the ocean, lighting up the way for the ships sailing through the waters. This, said she, was the light of temperance and truth, casting its rays over humanity, and showing the right way of life to the person embarking upon the sea of life.

Next she drew a picture of a huge, blind tiger, up to which an innocent child was walking, unaware of its hidden wickedness, which soon became apparent, as under Mrs. Green's capable hands, huge, sharp claws, and bright, glittering eyes began to be noticed upon the beast, which, just as it was ready to spring upon the child and crush it in its ferocious embrace was slain by an arrow, the arrow of "temperance," which came sailing through the air, killing the beast as he was about to leap.

Mrs. Green concluded her lecture by an illustration of the sad wheel upon which so many young men are riding the present day, i. e., the whiskey jug. It depicted a young man mounted upon this jug, which was just about to tumble down hill. The young man was puffing on a cigarette, which Mrs. Green stated, was another cause of the ruin of so many young fellows of the present day.

She then exhorted her hearers always to keep the idea of temperance before them, and to try to live up to its ideals.

Mrs. Green then requested permission to feel the pulse of the students of the University upon the question of national prohibition, as introduced into the U. S. House by Honorable Richard Hobson; she requested all who were in favor of the passage of this bill to stand; practically every student and faculty member, stood, only two male members of the University remaining seated.

W. COBURN COOK, VARSITY'S RHODES SCHOLAR, ACCEPTED

Will Make His Stay in England at Hertford College, Chief Institution For U. N. M.'s.

Word has just been received that W. Coburn Cook, Rhodes Scholar from New Mexico, has been formally accepted by the authorities at Oxford, and everything is now cleared for him to go to England next Fall. He has elected Hertford College for his future institution of study, thus following the tradition of New Mexico students, all of whom, but one, have made Hertford College their school during the tenure of their scholarship.

Mr. Cook will take Law as his study while there, reading for the Honour School of Jurisprudence, and a Diploma in Political Science.

Mr. Cook's friends, both here and elsewhere, are all very much pleased to learn of his success, and predict a brilliant future for him, both during his stay at Oxford and after his active life in the world. Mr. Cook made a splendid record for himself while a student in the University here, and judging from past performances, his friends' predictions are justified and assured.

VARSITY TEAM TAKES TWO SCALPS WHILE IN SANTA FE

Beat St. Michael's College Friday and Repeat the Trick With the Elks the Next Day.

The Varsity baseball team came back from Santa Fe with an average of a thousand after winning from St. Michael's and the Santa Fe Elks. The game Friday with St. Michael's College was played in a wind and snow storm, making it very hard for the pitchers to throw anything but a straight ball and also preventing any exhibition of fast playing, the weather being so cold. The weather during the game with the Elks, Saturday, however, was fine for baseball and although the score was about as high as Friday's game yet some fast ball was played.

Lackey and Calkins were the battery in the first game for the University, while Gutierrez and Lopez were the St. Michael's battery. Lackey pitched his usual strong game throughout, while Gutierrez was hit hard at times by the Varsity. Three home runs were made by the U. N. M. players while St. Michael's made one. The Varsity took a four-run lead in the first inning and were never in danger of being overtaken, the final score being 13-6. In the game the spectators were conspicuous by their absence.

Saturday's Game.

In Saturday's game with the Elks young Jack Lapraik took charge of the mound for the Varsity, Calkins taking the receiving end as usual. For the Elks the battery consisted of Fry and Bardenelli. Both pitchers were rather loose at first but gradually tightened up. In this game also the Varsity took the lead from the first inning and kept it throughout the game. The feature of the afternoon was a home run by Leopold with two men on bases. Tyrus Cobb will have to look after his laurels this season. The score ended 11-7 in favor of the Varsity.

It looks as if a ball game in Santa Fe, where they don't often see big league games, would draw quite a crowd and that under the gate percentages that the University was offered the Athletic Association could make some cash, but all signs fall at Santa Fe and as usual the Athletic Association went in the hole. Probably you could have found the audience asleep in the plaza.

At Santa Fe.

In a speech to the fourth grade, the superintendent of a neighboring town declared that the boys and girls of this generation should make better men and women than their parents. At the close of his speech he asked how many would like to attain such an ideal. All held up their hands except one little boy. "What is the matter with you, John?" queried the superintendent. "Oh, papa is good enough for me," said John.—Ex.

SIGMA TAU DANCE ON THE EVENING OF THE 24TH

Fifth Annual Spring Party of Local Fraternity Being Looked Forward to With Interest.

Invitations are now out for the fifth annual dance, or "Spring Party" of the Sigma Tau Fraternity.

The affair will take place at Masonic Temple on the evening of Friday, April 24th, and is being looked forward to with keen interest by all who will attend.

The Sigma Taus have always had a reputation, both at the University, and in the town, for doing things right, and judging from past events, this party will be up to the high standard they have always tried to maintain.

The members of the Fraternity at present in the University, are, William Arnot, W. Rex, Brashear, Thornton P. Bright, Howard S. Bateman, Kenneth C. Balcombe, Fred M. Calkins, Jack Lapraik, Walter Frank Gouin, Matt Higgins, Frank Shuffelbarger, and E. Stanley Seder.

HONORABLE H. W. CLARK FOR COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

Honorable Herbert W. Clark, of East Las Vegas, a prominent attorney of New Mexico, has accepted the invitation of Dr. Boyd to deliver the Commencement Address to the graduating class of the University this year, on Wednesday, May 27th.

The choice of Mr. Clark for this address is a very fortunate one indeed, Mr. Clark being a graduate of the University of Michigan, and a resident for some years of New Mexico, understands thoroughly the conditions in this State, and what is best for its improvement.

With Bishop Howden for the Baccalaureate Sermon, and Mr. Clark for the Commencement Address, the University this year will have a notable and effective programme for Commencement Week.

Week Ends.

We believe that there are few institutions in college more desirable than the "week-end". A man who has failed to buck all through the week can make up work on Saturday and Sunday; those of us who have been grinding from Monday to Friday can relax for a few days.

For many of us the week-end means merely a concentrated change from the rest of the week; if we have been studying hard we suddenly drop all our work; if we have been a bit lazy we throw ourselves violently into our studies.

Our suggestion is this: that we do not indulge in any acrobatic stunts, mental or otherwise, but take ourselves naturally. Suppose we did relax a bit; we could profit by going off on a walk to meditate on the things of the past week, or seek relief in different work.—Wisconsin Cardinal.
