FIRST DRAFT OF NEW CONSTITUTION

Student Council, After Much Delay
Now Has Instrument Ready For Approval or Rejection by Student Body.

After much delay and discussion over clauses, the Student Council has completed the first draft of the proposed constitution for the student body. It is published in full below.

An election will be called some time next week for the purpose of adopting or rejecting the constitution.

The constitution follows:

CONSTITUTION OF 1919.

Student Body of

University of New Mexico.

Whereas, the Student Body of the University of New Mexico desires to perpetuate and maintain the high standard of conduct for which this student body has ever been justly respected and to protect the good name of the individual student in attendance upon this college, now, we, the students of the University of New Mexico, do hereby adopt this constitution.

ARTICLE I.

Section 1. There shall be elected as hereinafter provided the following officers of the Student Body, a President, who shall be a Junior in standing, at the time of election; a Vice President and a Secretary-Treasurer.

Sec. 2. There shall be a Student Council, which shall be composed of eight members during the first quarter and nine members thereafter in each year, who shall be elected as follows: The President of the Student Body, who shall be elected by the Student Body; a Vice President of the Student Body who shall be elected by the Student Body, a Secretary-Treasurer, who shall be elected by the Student Body; The President of the Senior class, and one Councilman from the Senior class to be elected by the Senior class, the President and one Councilman from the Junior class, to be elected by the Junior class, one Councilman from the Sophomore class to be elected by the Sophomore class, one Councilman from the Freshman class to be elected by the Freshman class not earlier than the Winter Quarter.

Sec. 3. All officers of the Student Body shall be elected not later than March Fifteenth, for a term of one Collegiate Year, to take office one month before the end of the Spring Quarter.

Sec. 4. This clause not to take effect until after the election of this year which will be held immediately after the adoption of the constitution.

Sec. 5. The officers of the Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes shall not be elected later than two weeks after the opening of the Fall Quarter.

Sec. 6. Six members of the Student Council shall be necessary to constitute a Quorum for the transaction of any business.

Sec. 7. There shall be a meeting of the Student Council the second Wednesday of every month, unless otherwise designated by the President.

Sec. 8. The election of the above officers shall be by ballot. Nominations for Student Body officers shall be posted on the bulletin board one week before election in the form of a petition signed by ten students of the university.

Sec. 9. In case of any vacancy in any of the offices above referred to the vacancies shall be filled by a special election called by the President of the Student Body, in the method heretofore set forth.

Section 10. The President of the Student Body shall be Ex-Officio Chairman of the Student Council. In his absence, the Vice President of the Student Body shall preside. In the absence of both of these the President of the Senior class shall preside, and in the absence of the three the President of the Junior class. The Secretary of the Student Body shall be Ex-Officio Secretary of the Student Council.

duties of these offices, the officers of the Student Body shall take the following Oath, to be administered by the retiring President; "I do solemnly swear that I will, to the best of my ability, perform the duties of the office to which I have been elected."

Sec. 11. It shall be the duty of the Student Council to supervise those matters of general interest to the Students of the University of New Mexico.

Sec. 12. Fifty per cent of the Students enrolled shall constitute a quorum of the Student Body.

Sec. 13. Any action of the Student Council shall be subject to recall by the Student Body. A three-fourth majority shall be required to recall any action taken by the Student Council.

Sec. 14. A meeting of the Student Body shall be called by the President to consider any action of the Student Council upon a petition signed by ten students, said meeting to be called within one week after the submission of the petition.

ARTICLE II.

Section 1. No amendments shall be allowed to this constitution, except at a meeting regularly called for that purpose by the President after ten days notice, and the notice shall not only be of the meeting, but of the proposed amendment.

Sec. 2. A two-thirds majority of all present and entitled to vote shall be required to pass an amendment.

INDIANS WIN IN HARD FOUGHT GAME

Game Saturday on Indian School
Diamond Goes to Redskins by a Score of 9-7.

With the score seeing from one team to the other and after a tie from the third to the seventh inning, the Indian School broke loose and trimmed the university to the tune of 9 to 7 in the best game of base ball played this year on last Saturday afternoon.

The game started at exactly 2:55 on the Indian School athletic field with the university at the bat.

During the first half of the first inning the university scored one point and the Indian School three. In the second inning the university added three to their score while the Indian School got two more making the score 4-5 in their favor. In the first half of the third inning the university tied the score 5-5, thru the rest of this inning, thru the fourth inning thru the fifth inning, and thru the sixth inning both teams put forth their best efforts to break the tie in score but of no avail until the seventh inning.

and made a three bagger and Gentry brought him home. Immediately following this break in the tie, the Indian School came to bat and made the score keeper change the score to 6-7 in their favor then 6-8 in their favor and at this point gaining a lead that the University was not able to overcome. In the eighth inning they made one point raising the score from 6-8 to 6-9 in their favor. In the ninth inning the scoring was vice versa to that in the eighth inning making a final score of 7-9 in favor of the Indians.

THE NEW CONSTITUTION.

The new constitution for the Student Body of the university, which the Student Council set out to draft, has been completed, and its full text is printed elsewhere in this issue. Under present conditions, it was thought best not to make the constitution too detailed, but to leave more or less elasticity. Later amendments will no doubt be necessary. They can be added if the need for them becomes apparent.

There were several suggestions offered to the Council which they thought were good, but which they did not believe should be incorporated in this instrument at this time. One of these was the student manager plan, whereby the student is elected who is to manage for all the student activities. This plan was received, whether from athletics, debating, Mirage, Weekly, etc., are paid into his hands, and all disbursements made by him. It is customary to pay this manager for his services. This plan would not do away with the present manager system. It would only make possible a centralization of all records, and insure a business like administration of all student activities.

Every student should read over the constitution carefully, and be prepared to vote for or against it when it is brought up before them next week.

THE TRACK MEET.

In just two weeks the annual track meet for the high schools of the state will be held here at the university. Indications are that we will entertain a larger number of high school people than ever before. The athletic director is working hard to make the meet a success and the students must be ready to do all they can to make their visitors' stay a pleasant one.

Next year's Freshman class will be drawn in a great measure from these high schools which are to be represented here. The kind of report these men take back home with them will have a great influence in determining their or their classmates' choice of a school. We want them all up here, and if we get them we'll have to show them that it is a good place to come to.

Give one or as many social affairs in their honor as possible. But above all, make them feel at home every minute they are here. Show them that we are really glad to have them here. Speak to them every time you see them, whether you have met them or not. Tell them that this is a good place to come. Get them interested. Do all this, and we'll have them back next fall.

This is an important opportunity and one that should be made the most of. Begin planning now.

Campus life is the most popular course on the hill now. It seems to be more enjoyable when taken two or three hours at a time, and when given preference over all other classes.

THOSE OVERTIME PROFS.

Just so long as this world exists there will be college professors who find their chief delight in holding their classes overtime. So we will not try to reform anybody, but merely call attention to them in hopes that they may at least see themselves as they are seen.

Occasionally it is necessary for a class to be held a few minutes longer than the hour. But it is entirely unnecessary and inexcusable to make a practice of holding them several minutes too long, as some instructors in this institution are eternally doing. The signals are given in order that the prof shall know that time is up NOW, not five minutes from now. They are not placed in the halls for ornaments. In case the prof isn't able to hear the signals, we suggest an Ingersoll Dollar for him. Or, better still, a Big Ben.

Students are expected to be at classes on time. They cannot be late. And the prof who makes this his habit will find his influence for good to be materially lessened. He loses the good will of his students to some degree and is considered as something of a sponge or hog, which ever way you want to look at it. And he is, for he is taking something that doesn't belong to him in the least.

In our opinion the professors will find it well worth while to watch themselves a little more closely in this respect, and to be more particular in observing these rights that the students should have.

SOCIETY

One of the prettiest luncheons of the spring was given Tuesday afternoon in Taft hall, at the Alvarado, in honor of Miss Molly Kelly, who leaves soon for her home in New York. The guests were seated about a beautifully decorated large round table in the center of which was a large Dresden basket of white and pink carnations, tied with a bow of pink tulle, and surrounded by smaller baskets of pink sweet peas and candles shaded by soft pink shades. The guests and hostesses were Misses Molly Kelly, Anita Hubbell, Joyce Spruce, Katherine Conway, Estelle Harris, Katherine Little, Anne Harris, Margaret Lee, Irene Boldt, Clair Bursum, Louise Bell, Maratha Horgeding, Martha Greenlee and Miss Oakley.

Last Friday afternoon the Kappas held a delightful swimming party at the Indian School swimming pool. The quantities of sandwiches, pickles, etc., helped materially the good time. Miss Joy Spruce was guest at the party.

The Kappas announce a new pledge—Miss Joy Spruce.

Mrs. Estelle Kyle Kemp, the grand secretary of the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority is here visiting the local chapter. Several affairs have been planned in her honor.

EUQUREUQUELA.

Beware! An entirely new and unsolvable mystery lurks on the campus and the lives of all are in imminent danger. Reports of white sheeted and masked figures having been seen during the night, and of terrible moans and shrieks issuing from the girls' dorm at an uncanny hour, are floating around. Also girls have been seen with a weird sign branded upon their foreheads, wearing yellow and red colors and doing such things as carrying suit cases full of bottles, running with umbrellas, etc. Some are inclined to connect the latter with the groans and white masks, but no one knows. The inmates of Hokana live in terror and fear, in dread of receiving a blackhand note with a skull and cross bones attached. Something should be done about this as innocent young lives should not be risked in this manner. Any efforts especially on the part of the coyotes will be well received. Lock your doors at night!!

The way in which the government 60's are disappearing resembles a magician's slight of hand performance.

NOTICE FOR U. N. M. WEEKLY.

In view of the fact that absences from class will be increasingly important, as they mount up during the quarter the following statement is given by the Registrar's Office in order that all students may be duly warned as to the penalties they may expect for any absences:

1. Three tardinesses may be counted by the instructor as one absence.
2. Absences due to late registration are counted on the same basis as absences incurred after registration.

3. Absences on the last day before and the first day after a holiday or recess are counted double.

4. When the number of absences exceeds the maximum number of credit hours that may be earned in a course, credit is deducted at the rate of one-tenth of a credit hour for each unexcused absence and for each excused absence where the lost work is not made up.

5. When deductions under the foregoing clause exceed one-fifth of the maximum of credit hours which may be earned in a course, the student is dismissed from the course involved and given a grade of F. For example: In a five hour course, no deduction will be made until after a student has five absences; then the sixth absence would give a credit of 4.9 hours; the seventh 4.8 hours, etc., until the credit would be reduced to four hours, and the student would then automatically fail in that course.

A very easy way to quickly find the number of absences allowed before the student fails is to multiply by three the number of credit hours that may be earned in the course and add one, which will give the number of absences allowed before failure is recorded. For example: In a five hour course multiply by three and add one, giving sixteen absences allowed.

Excused Absences.

A student may, within two weeks after absences are incurred, offer reasons for absence to the Dean and if these reasons are accepted he is given a permit, in the discretion of the instructor involved, to make up lost work. If the permit is filed with the Registrar before the end of the quarter and bears a statement that the lost work is made up, deduction for such absence will not be made in the record of credit hours.

PETITENTE RITES DESCRIBED.

This is the season of the year when U. N. M. students and faculty go Penitente hunting. Time was when Penitent processions could be seen close at home in the streets of Old Town, of Los Griegos, and San Jose, but now one must go far afield to find them. The nearest group is to be found in Tijeras canyon, but for several years, so numerous have been curious visitors from town, the Penitentes there have done little of a spectacular nature. This year, however, the lid seems to have been lifted, and several U. N. M. students saw not only the "stations of the cross," the flagellation, but also a strange rite of cutting the women's hair during one of the Morada services—a ceremony reported in none of the articles or monographs on this fanatic people.

The region around Taos, Cimarron, Las Vegas and Raton is known to be the hot-bed of the Penitente faith, though it is by no means quiet around the Mt. Taylor district; and if one wishes to see the entire holy-week performance from the "stations of the cross" to the crucifixion, he should go to some out-of-the-way village in either of these districts and remain there.

The writer has seen the Penitentes at Cubero, San Rafael, San Mateo, Chamita, Alvalde, Ranchitos, and Santa Cruz, and finds but slight variation in the ceremonies.

On Maundy Thursday the "stations of the cross" are made. Men, women and children form the procession which starts at the Morada and goes to the hill top, a quarter or a half of a mile away. Sometimes the images of the virgin and the Christ are borne in this procession. This year, during the Thursday procession, the writer saw the ceremony of the Veronica enacted. Also in one of the processions at Alcalde the "Wagon of Death" was used—a crude home-made cart bearing a skeleton like figure representing Death.

Thursday night, the service of "El Rosario" is given in the Morada chapel. The Hermano Mayor leads the service while the members chant the responses to the wierd accompaniment of the Pito or flute. Frequently on Thursday night, flagellation processions are also formed.

With Good Friday comes the climax of all the Penitente rites—the great flagellant procession, the bearing of the cross, sometimes a crucifixion, and last of all the "Tinie blas."

The flagellant procession is always lead by the Hermano Mayor and the Pitero, who direct the chanting. Then follow the flagellants, naked to the waist, barefooted, and masked in black. Their number may vary from one to fifteen or sixteen. Each

LOCALS.

A number of university students left Thursday night for the mountains to witness the annual rites of the peintentes. They returned Saturday, and reported that the trip was successful. Many of them especially those who witnessed the ceremonies for the first time, had exciting experiences to relate. Among those making the trip were Frank Steed, Perkins Patton, Henry Walker, and Leonard Trenchard.

Pearl Hayerford spent the Easter holidays at her home in Belen.

Claire Bursum went to Socorro for the week end. She was called home by the death of her baby sister, born only a few days before.

Howard S. Bateman, former varsity student, engaged as assistant professor in the mathematics department, arrived Monday morning to take up his work.

Lieutenant Frank Shufflebarger has returned to Albuquerque after flagellant takes three long slow steps forward, raises his heavy amole whip and strikes himself over the shoulder on the small of his back; three more steps, and over the other shoulder. Thus he proceeds to "El Calvario." After the first twelve or fifteen steps his back is running with blood. To add to the gore, sometimes one of the Brothers of Light strikes a cross on the flagellant's back with some sharp instrument.

It may take an hour and a half or two hours to make the journey to the Calvary, and back again to the Morada, every step of it a bloody way. At San Mateo, the writer saw the flagellants prostrate themselves at the foot of the cross while the Hermano Mayor struck each one on his bare and bleeding back twenty-five times with the amole whip.

After the flagellation, the initiates are evidently bathed, and given food. Perhaps no more is seen of them that day, though some of them may re-issue again from the Morada to carry the huge, freshly-cut crosses to the Calvary. Seldom nowadays do crucifixions follow the bearing of the crosses; nevertheless a crucifixion is known to have taken place at Abiquiu last year.

The season's penance ends with the "Tinie blas" on Good Friday night, when in the pitch-black Morada is represented the half hour of darkness into which the earth was plunged when Christ was crucified. Bedlam and pandemonium break loose, with wailing pito, clanking chains, rattles, shrieks, groans, and wails. Women faint and children cry, but there they must remain until the doors are unlocked. Thus end the Penitente observances of the Lenten season.

several months spent overseas in the artillery.

Miss Dovie Reynolds was called to Oklahoma City Sunday by the news of the death of her brother, who was accidentally killed. She will return to school in a week or ten days.

ISN'T HE ABOUT RIGHT.

Found at the end of a Freshman theme: "Now I have come to look upon life with this attitude: Life is just one fool thing after another; love is just two fool things after each other."—Ex.

Judging from appearances, we should say that several of the worst cases on the campus are not running so smoothly as the course of true love is pictured as doing.
