HIGH SCHOOL MEN FROM ALL PARTS OF STATE GATHER FOR ATHLETIC MEET

Forty-four Entries In Various Field and Track Events. Preliminaries To Be Held Friday and Finals Saturday. Oratorical and Debating Contests Will Be Held Also.

With a total of forty-four entries from nine high schools in the state for the Seventh Interscholastic Field and Track Meet to be held at the University athletic field Friday and Saturday of this week, the university is looking forward to the most representative and the hottest contested athletic event ever staged by the high schools of this state.

Friday is the day of preliminaries and all who make good on this day will be eligible for the finals to be held on Saturday.

The team winning the greatest number of points in the meet will become the possessor of the beautiful Schmelzer trophy presented by the Schmelzer Arms Co. dealers in athletic goods, for the period of one year when it will again be turned over to the winning team until the trophy has been won the third time by some team. It then becomes the permanent possession of that team. Besides the trophy, medals of gold, silver, and bronze will be given the individual winners for first, second, and third places respectively. Only the gold medal will be awarded for first place in the oratorical and declamatory contests. The trophy and medals are on exhibition at the local high school today and will be on exhibition at the university tomorrow.

The schools and the number of men representing each are as follows: Albuquerque, 16; Roswell, 10; Santa Fe, 6; Belen, 4; Clovis, 3; Raton, 2; Las Vegas, 1; Santa Rosa, 1; and Cimarron, 1.

WELCOME, HIGH SCHOOLS.

The student body of the University extends its heartiest welcome to you, its visitors, attending the annual Interscholastic Track and Field Meet.

We are glad to have you here. We are glad to meet people having as much interest and enthusiasm as we know you will show in doing your level best for the honor of your high school.

If there is any way we can serve you, do not hesitate to call upon us. Take a good look around while you are here, and ask about anything that you don't know. That's what we are for. Learn all about the town, the school, and the general run of things. Don't be satisfied until you really know and understand just what your state University is. Your school pals will ask all about things up here, and be sure that you don't leave without being able to give a full report.

We wish you all the best of success in your efforts to carry home the cup.

Y. W. C. A. MAY FETE

DECIDED SUCCESS

First Affair Of Its Kind Given At U. Is Well Attended and Enjoyed. Excellent Program Provided.

One of the most entertaining and successful affairs of the season was the May Fete given at Rodey hall, Friday, May 2, by the local chapter of the Y. W. C. A.

The program for the evening was begun by the crowning of the May Queen. Martha Greenlee was the one to be so honored, her name having been chosen by the student body from the members of the Senior class and kept secret until the time of the crowning. The procession was led by two little girls dressed in white one bearing the queen's crown and the other her sceptre. The queen herself followed, accompanied by her maidens. Loyd Kelam played an appropriate march and the queen received her sceptre and crown at the foot of the throne. This was followed by a Maypole dance by the queen's attendants.

Dancing continued throughout the evening with a number of special features. Three jaunty sailors, Elizabeth O'Hara, Annette Jacobson and Flora Marshall did a very fetching hornpipe, Pearl Hayerford and Loyd Kelam performed a very graceful number and as a Spanish señorita, Elizabeth O'Hara did a charming solo dance. Homemade candy and soda pop were sold by pretty girls and two "professional fortune tellers" opened the gates of mystery for the small sum of 15 cents. Another interesting feature was a prize waltz, Frances Bear and William Sganzi received a box of candy as first prize.

VOTE INTELLIGENTLY.

Next Tuesday the student body will elect officers for next year. It is of the utmost importance that capable candidates should be elected to hold these offices, for next year is going to be a most important one for the school. The persons that are elected Tuesday will largely determine the policies and undertakings of the body politic.

We would emphasize the need of a good President, Editor of Weekly, and Editor of Mirage, especially. The president will be at the head, and anyone can see that he must be a good man to fill the place. The Weekly editor should be chosen, not in a blind manner simply to appease any political faction, but with a view to getting a person who is capable and willing to see out a first-class paper. The editor for the Mirage, as well as manager, should be carefully chosen. There is no reason why this school can't get out a decent annual, and if the proper people are put in charge it will be done.

Leave politics alone and vote for the candidate who is capable. You will have a week to make your choice, and under the new constitution there is no danger of a dark horse coming in at the last minute. Exercise the contents of the dome underneath your hat for once and elect the right people to the right offices.

A LESSON FROM EXPERIENCE.

From our experience in editing the Weekly, we have come to believe that the method which has been used in choosing assistant and associate editors is not as successful as it should be.

When it was proposed to have these assistants elected directly by the student body, we were in favor of the plan, for we thought that being so elected would give them more of a sense of responsibility than if they were appointed merely by the editor. However, such advantages as this might give are more than offset by disadvantages. It often happens in such cases that little thought is given to the fitness or capability of the candidates, they to a great extent being chosen through political or social connections. While the staff was very well balanced this year, it might not be so fortunate in the future if this plan is adhered to.

The Weekly must be kept out of politics, and its editors must be chosen for their capability, and for no other reasons. Its staff should be made up of people willing and able to work together in perfect harmony for only one interest—the advancement of the interests of the institution. This is not possible, to the fullest extent, under the present system. Therefore, we believe that the following system would be much better from every point of view:

The student body to elect an editor-in-chief and business manager. This editor should have the privilege of selecting his own assistants, provided that this selection should be placed before and ratified by the student body, the manager to have the same privilege.

The editor will know a great deal more about the fitness of persons for assistants than will the whole student body. He will be able to choose people that he is sure can and will do their work properly, and no one need doubt that he or she will do their level best to pick such persons. Anyone who has had any experience along this line knows that the more work that can be gotten from the assistants, the less the editor will have to do. And no outside connections will prompt this editor to fill up the staff with dead timber—what he or she wants is a staff which will do the work. That is the important thing.

Furthermore, under such a system there would be no danger of the editor "putting anything over" the student body, for his or her appointments would be subject to its recall. And the persons chosen will feel just as much a sense of responsibility after being passed on by the student body as if they had been directly chosen by it in the first place.

Think this over carefully. Nothing matters except providing a staff that will get out the best paper in the history of the school. Put every other interest aside and use your best judgment as to how this can be accomplished.

HIGHER EDUCATION.

An article appearing in a recent issue of the Albuquerque Morning Journal deals with the support given higher education institutions in various states. It brings to light some interesting facts regarding the lack of support which such institutions receive in New Mexico. Of course we can not expect to compete with states far richer and more populous than ours, but we ought to receive more support.

The article is also in an indirect manner an argument in favor of consolidating the higher education institution of this state. Especially interesting are the comparisons between New Mexico and Arizona, where the University, Agricultural School, and School of Mines are combined in one.

Extracts from the article follow: "The University of New Mexico is credited with a faculty of 24, State College 40 and School of Mines 8, The University of Arizona has a faculty of 64, University of California 727, Illinois 794, Cornell 833, Texas 201. This lagging behind of New Mexico is also reflected, naturally, in the enrollment. The University of New Mexico is credited with an enrollment of 245, State College 230, School of Mines 19, while the University of Arizona has 477, California 7,249, Colorado 1293, Illinois (Continued on page 3.)

SOCIETY

KAPPA DELTA NU.

Kappa Delta Nu entertained Sunday afternoon from four to six, with a tea given in honor of the faculty wives and women members of the faculty.

The sorority rooms at Hokona were tastefully decorated with white marguerites and the guests were entertained with Victrola music throughout the afternoon. Mary Sands and Dorothy McAllister gave readings. Tea and cakes were served to the guests, with Mrs. Clark pouring.

Do you know what the new organization, T. H. T., is?

Do you know what classes were cut because two faculty members stayed too long in the Romance office?

NOMINATIONS POSTED FOR ELECTION MAY 13TH.

Nominations of candidates for student body offices were placed on the bulletin board Tuesday, the last day of grace, as provided for by the constitution. Only one candidate for each office appears. The names posted are: Don Richardson for president, Frances Bear for vice president, and George Gentry for secretary. Rebecca Skipwith has been nominated for editor of the Mirage.

The constitution as drawn does not provide for the posting of nominations for other than president, vice-president, and secretary of the student body.

Tuesday, May 13th, is the day set for the elections, at which time Weekly and Mirage officers will be chosen, in addition to student body officers.

5,087, Michigan 5,932, Minnesota 6,140, Wisconsin 4,286, and that despite the fact that other states have universities and colleges in large numbers while New Mexico has none outside of the state institutions.

The University of New Mexico is credited with an annual income of $122,269 from all sources but only $88,192 comes from direct state appropriation. State College has an annual income of $280,525 of which $142,601 is by direct state appropriation. The School of Mines has an annual income of $45,653. The University of Arizona has an annual income of $511,072, California $3,732,986, Illinois $3,075,409. The value of buildings and grounds of the University of New Mexico are given as $235,035, of the School of Mines $83,000 and State College $130,000. The value of libraries and equipment is placed at $57,295 or the University, $22,731 for the School of Mines, $200,000 for State College.

"The last named has 15,323 volumes in its library, the School of Mines 2,200, University of New Mexico 13,000. On the other hand the University of California has buildings valued at $1,100,891 and 376,353 volumes in its library. The University of Arizona buildings, grounds, library and equipment are valued at more than a million dollars.

"Twenty-five of the state universities and colleges listed have each buildings valued from a million to more than eleven million dollars. Sixteen of the state libraries have each from 100,000 to almost 600,000 volumes. New Mexico, therefore, has a long way to go yet, before its state institutions can claim to be as well provided for by legislative liberality as are those of any of the other states."

"BATTLE BALL," NEW GAME, MAKES HIT

Two Hundred and Fifty Men on a Side—Invented by Army "Y" Man.

Military officials at the head of the Camp Travis athletic council, Camp Travis, Tex., are much interested in a new game of mass athletics which is the invention of Lu Ringsmuth, an Army Y. M. C. A. secretary. The game combines much of the science of rugby football, soccer ball, volley ball and basket ball, and games have been played at Camp Travis with as many as 300 men on a side.

Using five ordinary footballs and an ordinary football field, with goal posts at the ends, the game brings into play a "skirmish" line and a "defense" line of players. The balls are placed on a line at the center of the field, and at a given signal the "skirmishers" race up to be the first to kick the ball. It is then kept in play by kicking, throwing as in forward pass in football or passing in basket ball—the aim of each side being to get all five balls through the opponent's goal posts or over the goal line. To get the ball through the goal posts means a score of four, but to get it over the goal line means a score of two.

Maj. J. S. Leonard, head of the military athletic council of the camp, has become an enthusiastic booster for the game, and it is likely that the game will be carried to other places as the men leave Camp Travis. Organized teamwork in this, as in other games, which the Y. M. C. A. steadily encourages, wins out, and this has been proved by the progress made by the Thirty-fifth Infantry team, which has won the championship of Camp Travis. "Team" is hardly the word, for with 250 men on a side, the "battle" of "battle ball" becomes very realistic when the game is on.

VARSITY NINE WINS TWICE IN PAST WEEK

College All-Stars and Happy-Go-Luckies Unable To Stop Hill Men In Games of Wednesday and Saturday.

With scores of 11-6 against the College All-Stars, in the hottest contested game of base ball this season, at 10 a. m. Saturday, and 5-3 against the Happy Go Luckies in a hard fought game on Wednesday of last week, the university base ball team is rapidly coming to the front.

Saturday's game was a "go-getter." The best played game we have had this year. Everyone seemed to be in the affair. The rooters kept up a continuous matching of wits as the game progressed. The spectators never looked on with such interest. And the players, not unaware of the outsiders' interest, put forth their best efforts.

The score was tied at 4-4 during the last half of the third inning and the first half of the fourth inning. It remained at 11-4 in favor of the University from the last half of the fourth inning to the first half of the eighth inning, when the College All-Stars made two runs over the Varsity, giving the All Stars a score of six to their opponents eleven, which neither team was able to change during the remainder of the game.

The sudden break in the score from 4-4 to 11-4 in favor of the University was due to batting off of the All Stars' pitcher, who was substituted in an effort to quiet the onward waves of the U. N. M.

Wednesday evening's game was not much of a scoring game, the score standing at 1-2 in favor of the Happy Go Luckies from the first half of the second inning to the second half of the fifth inning. In the sixth and seventh innings, the Varsity got four runs and the Go Luckies got one in the seventh, making a final score of 5-3 in favor of the University.

May first a jolly crowd journeyed to the San Felipe pueblo, to witness the dances.
