A. H. S. WINS TRACK MEET

Two State Records Broken—Records in Discus and Javelin Throws Established—Aldeertte, Dow and E. L. Harrington Stars.

The State Interscholastic Track Meet, held May 7 and 8, was probably the most successful yet held under the auspices of the State University. Coach McGough may be congratulated on the efficient manner with which the meet was put across. Nature might also be congratulated for furnishing such ideal weather. Albuquerque took first place, scoring 41 points; Roswell, second, with 28; Clovis, third, with 18; Taos, fourth, with 14; Las Vegas, fifth, with 13, and Santa Fe, last, with 8 points. E. L. Harrington of Albuquerque scored the highest number of points, namely, 18. Alderette of Taos was second with 14 points, and Dow of Las Vegas was third with 13 points. Alderette, in the preliminaries, broke the state record for the broad jump. His jump of 21 feet 2½ inches was counted in the finals because of an official ruling. Jones of Clovis bettered the state record of 56 seconds for the 440-yard dash by one second. The discus and javelin throws were held for the first time this year and will stand as state records.

Tennis.

Albuquerque, Santa Fe and Clovis entered tennis teams. On Friday Santa Fe won over Clovis, in the singles, by a score of 3-1, and in the doubles Clovis defeated Albuquerque. Saturday, Wagner and Miller of Santa Fe won in the doubles but in the singles Santa Fe forfeited the game to Albuquerque.

Oratorical and Declamatory.

DEAN HODGIN QUOTED IN SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN

Example of Ignorance of Cub Reporter for Local Paper.

The following was taken from the Scientific American of May, 1920:

The Universe As It Might Be.

To the Editor of the Scientific American:

I have sometimes noted in the scientific press remarks about scientific misinformation in the daily papers. The enclosed clipping is taken from one of the dailies here, and is altogether too rich to remain a secret.

KENNETH BRYDEN.
"Albuquerque, N. M.

"Vice-President Hodgkin gave a very instructive talk at the Hi-Y Club yesterday at the Y. M. C. A. He told the story of the stars, the vastness of the universe. There are eight planets in our solar system, but they are not lighted bodies like the earth. Some stars are so far away it takes one hundred years for their light to enter the earth at the rate of 18,600 miles a second. The size of the sun is equal to a million of our earths. If the sun were hollow and the earth placed in its center and the moon where it is now, the earth could revolve 240,000 miles from the sun and there would still be 200,000 miles to spare. The sun is the smallest of the heavenly bodies. Some stars are 1,000 times bigger than the sun.

"The earth rotates around the sun every 24 hours, making a circle of 240,000 miles, 1,000 miles an hour. The sun revolves around the earth once a year at the rate of 1,000 miles a minute. The whole planetary system revolves in a space 150,000 miles a year.

"Pealides reveals six stars to the human eye, the telescope shows 2,500 stars, photographic plates 7,000 stars. Our great telescopes and spectroscopes and celestial photographs

Varsity Jazz Orchestra Success

The first appearance of the Varsity Jazz Orchestra was such a tremendous success that words are inadequate to describe it. Sufficient to say that no such dance music has ever been heard as was heard at the N. M. Club dance. Lloyd Kellam at the piano needs no comment. Kiss and Hunt ragged the violins in truly cabaret fashion. John Sedillo is a bear on the trombone. Simms Holderness and Earl Gerhardt played the clarinets. Collins makes things hum with his cornet, and last, but not least, Ralph Meyers and his drums. Music! Oh, Boy! Here's to our orchestra; may they play often!

Varsity Debators Overwhelm Aggies

Booker, Morriss, Gentry Cover
Themselves with Glory

The University won one more score from the Aggies Thursday night at the annual debate between the Aggie and U. N. M. The affirmative side of the question was taken by the University and a unanimous decision was given in favor of the fairminded. The subject was: "Resolved, That on the basis of present conditions the United States should intervene in Mexico with an armed force." Harold Booker, George Gentry and Clyde Morriss represented the University and the Aggies were represented by Miss Lucill Day, Robert McGrue and Frank Wimberly. The judges were Dr. H. M. Bowers, P. F. McCanna and R. E. Putney. Both sides showed thorough preparation and the debate was spirited and interesting throughout. The contestants were all good speakers, although the University men proved their superiority. The debate was well attended both by University students and outsiders. Judge Hickey presided and Professor Landers acted as timekeeper. Any report on subject matter in the debate is omitted for obvious reasons.

N. M. Club Now Well Organized

The N. M. Club of the University of New Mexico, composed of all men who have or will in the future win their letter in any athletic contest, is now well under way. This organization is for the express purpose of backing athletic activity. Its first public appearance was in the dance given in honor of the visiting High School athletes last Saturday.

The N. M. Club will undoubtedly establish itself as a potent factor in Varsity life, stimulating athletic endeavor in every line. The officers of the club are such representative men from our alumni as insure the success of the venture. Mr. Charles Lempke, president, served four years on the gridiron. Leo Murphy, vice-president, won his letter in baseball. Allen Bruce, secretary-treasurer, managed Varsity football for two years.

Professor Hill Leaving Here

Mr. Roscoe Hill, late professor of history in the University of New Mexico has accepted a position in the Foreign Advisor's Office at Washington, D. C. It is in connection with the State Department and involves a salary of $3,000.

The nature of Mr. Hill's work will be research, in connection with the Latin-American countries. As a professor of history and in that he has made a special study of those countries, Professor Hill is well fitted for the position.

The nature of the work is very similar to that of the United States Ministers. Also those holding these

State College President Speaks

Dr. R. W. Clothier, the new president of the New Mexico State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, spoke at the Assembly of May 7th. President Hill, of our own institution, introduced the honored guest with a welcome to New Mexico and a plea for co-operation between the two schools so that the work of each would not conflict.

Dr. Clothier, a fine appearing man, included in his address very broad views on the relation between the State University and the State College.

The trend of his formal speech was the awful consequences that arise from destructive effort as was contrasted with the limitless possibilities of things that might be by organization along lines of constructive effort.

CABARABIAN NIGHTS.

The seat sale for the third annual musical show of the U. N. M. Dramatic Club starts bright and early Friday morning. There is every indication that there will be a bigger rush for seats than ever before. There are more funny stunts in this show than any of the previous ones, as well as some of the most picturesque features. Betty O'Hara's dance alone is worth going miles to see, and the specialties of Howden, Patton and Graham would alone make a good show.

OBEY THAT IMPULSE.

With this issue the new editor and his staff take charge of YOUR PAPER. I hope, and the staff hopes, to put out a satisfactory and snappy publication. To insure our success in this venture your co-operation is necessary. Give it.

If you hear a joke or know of some news or gossip "obey the impulse" and hand it to some Weekly reporter. Only by the liveliest interest of the student body can our paper do justice to this institution and compare favorably with the student papers of other state universities.

With this edition the Weekly sets down the following policies:

First, that we are boosting the U. N. M. Second, this is a student publication, for and by every student on the hill.

The editor and staff are very human; indeed, too human. So if our readers expect too much we fear they will be sadly disappointed; and if they expect the Weekly to go to rack and ruin they will be pleasantly surprised to find it still pegging along. Enough has been said. Now is the time for action.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Individuality is the answer. The difference between Casey, Schmitt and Markowitz can be told without consulting the faces of these individuals. What applies to names of persons also applies to a University and its paper. The Varsity needs a nickname and our paper a peppier name. Yes, you have guessed it. Let's change the name of this paper. Suggestions and objections are in order.

THE HIGH COST OF LANGUAGE.

"Hey, Bill!"
"What is it?"
"Your doctor's out here with a flat tire."

are going out as if by magic into the great abyss of space and are bringing back the long hidden secrets held by the stars."

(The above is a faithful transcription of the clipping sent us by Mr. Bryden—verbatim, literatim et punctatim. We trust that Vice-President Hodgkin is not a violent man.—The Editor.)

A Matter of Common Sense.

Our correspondence page this week carries an example of ignorance on the part of one who should be reasonably well informed on topics of general information—an example which, as the man points out who brings it to our attention, is by all means one of the most horrible things of the sort that could well be imagined. When we first read the clipping in question, we could not believe it genuine—we suspected that some bright little practical joker was having his fling at the speaker for presenting such a subject on such an occasion. But on second thought, when we realized how easy it was, by changing a word here and inverting a phrase there, to reconstruct from this puddle of balderdash the actual speech of the gentleman who was thus misrepresented, we decided that the gem was what it purported to be, an honest effort of some over-ambitious and under-informed cub reporter to reproduce what he thought he had heard on a subject that meant absolutely nothing to him.

It is perhaps not surprising that a person who can read and write should, in this era of enlightenment, have escaped contact with the fundamental facts of the universe.

But it is neither credible nor respectable to discover that such an outrageous perversion of facts and common sense can be written by a reporter, get past his superiors, and run the gamut of the linotype and the proofreader and the makeup man without meeting a single soul who is competent to expose it. The thing happened in a rather small and out-of-the-way town—we wonder whether it might not just as easily have happened in a bigger and more prominent place?

positions are possible candidates for appointment as ministers by the President. With his command of Spanish and his knowledge of those countries, Professor Hill stands a very good chance of promotion.

WORSE EVEN THAN THIS.

I could sing of a damsel named Tilley Who goes with a young man named Billy;
How they think it a lark To hold hands in the dark,
But I won't, 'cause the song would be silly.

"Do you believe that heat produces anger?" asked Smith.
"Did you ever put the lighted end of a cigar in your mouth by mistake?" replied Jones.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

N. M. CLUB DANCE.

The N. M. Club gave a dance Saturday evening at Rodey Hall in honor of the high school students who participated in the State Track Meet.

The music was rendered by a jazz orchestra composed of University fellows. All admit it the best music of the season. The orchestra gave a selection from the musical comedy, "Cabaret Nights." It certainly was well received and was an excellent advertisement for the Dramatic Club production which is to be given on the 18th and 19th of this month.

The hall was decorated with pennants from the representative high school as well as with U. N. M. banners. Rodey Hall served as a splendid setting for the pep which was in evidence throughout the whole evening.

As the midnight hour approached Varsity rules necessitated its being brought to a close. As the strains of "Home Sweet Home" died out the young athletes made a dash for the train and the N. M. Club rejoiced in that their entertainment had proved a marked success.

MYSTERY DINNER.

What could be more original than the unique dinner party given by Phi Mu house girls in honor of their protectors during the famous mystery of the past two months. Covers were laid for sixteen and Detectives Powers and Chamberlin. Mrs. Meish chaperoned. The table was decorated to represent the chief event of the mystery by the use of "kewpie dolls" dressed as robber and victim. Black footsteps approached the centerpiece from each plate. After dinner the Victrola had started and the crowd enjoyed dancing until a late hour.

AT HOME.

Kappa Kappa Gamma was at home to Sigma Chi on Wednesday, May 5, at the Kappa House. The hour was spent in singing fraternity songs and dancing to a Kappa-Sigma Chi orchestra, which proved to be immensely popular.

HONORING MOTHERS.

Alpha Chi Omega entertained Sunday afternoon with a tea given in honor of the mothers. Mrs. John D. Clark played a number of selections on the violin, and Miss Elizabeth O'Hara gave a vocal solo. Quantities of purple iris and carnations were used attractively. The tea was attended by the mothers and invited guests.

DEBATERS FETED.

A delightful surprise feature of the inter-college debate Thursday evening was a supper for the orators in the U. N. M. dining hall after the affair was over. Dr. C. E. Hodgkin presided. The guests were the speakers of the visiting team from Mesilla Park, the University debaters, the judges, Dr. Hill and President Clothier.

FOR PRESIDENT CLOTHIER.

A courtesy to the new president of the State college, R. W. Clothier, was a happy dinner party at the Alvarado Thursday evening. Dr. David Spence Hill was host. In the company were: President Clothier, of the State College; Dean Clarke, Dean Mitchell, Dean Cochran of the engineering school of U. N. M.

FROGS OUSTED FOR MAIDENS.

Last week there was an important change of tenantry took place on the campus. The frogs, lizards, guajalotes, etc., who have occupied the swimming pool of the last eight months without interruption were ousted from their abode by a very capable pair of men, who not only did away with the sea life, but also were so successful in their attempt to clean the tank that some two or more tons of mud and dirt were removed. The result of all these changes is that now instead of having a pool that resembles the Rio Grande we have an expanse of crystal clear water.

Now most any time of day (classes don't seem to interfere) one may see bathers, both fair and otherwise, swimming and cavorting about the pool. It is indeed worth while for anyone, even if he or she does not swim, to go to the pool and watch the bathers for awhile. Some of the sights are indeed wonderful, but they are well worth seeing. The other day I was watching the bathers and I could not but admire the perseverance of some of our young gallants in trying to teach the young ladies to swim. At first I could find no answer to the sudden appearance of such tenacity, grit and endurance in our youths, but then I remembered what the immortal bard said about young men's fancy and spring and I guess that explains it sufficiently.

For the rest of the quarter, if one wishes to be one of the crowd at the University, he had better acquire a bathing suit and go to the pool during all his spare hours, for hotter days are coming and the pool will continue to be the mecca for the students that it is now. In fact, the Varsity seems destined to become a place of aquatic activities, and we may still obtain fame through the prowess of some new Annette Kellerman out of our own numbers, all due to the fact that the sea life was compelled to vacate the pool in favor of a higher type of civilization.

CARD PARTY.

The sighing lover led a heart The girl for a diamond played;
The father came in with a club,
And the sexton used a spade.

"Oh, yes, of course, a tug of war! I've heard of them!"

His oration was "The Meaning of the Declaration of Independence," by Woodrow Wilson. Walter Bramwell of Roswell won second place. Albuquerque, represented by Joe Whitehouse, won third place.

Clovis High School took first place in the declamation contest, with Miss Ruby Suman as the medal winner. The subject of her declamation was "The Going of the White Swan," by Gilbert Parker. Miss Elizabeth Campbell of Springer was second and Miss Kate Andrews of Santa Fe was third.

We Want Them Back.

Good sportsmanship was shown throughout the meet both by the contestants and onlookers. All of the men entering are good fellows. Some of them are inexperienced, but under the training of the Varsity coach would soon develop. A special effort should be made by each one to get those who graduate this spring to come to the University next fall. We want not only the stars but also those who did not star. We need them; they need us; and the State University of New Mexico needs us all.
