SIXTEEN HOURS IS TO BE MAXIMUM

Faculty Lowers Number of Hours
Work Which a Student May Carry, and Raises Entrance Requirements.

At a meeting of the faculty held Wednesday, it was decided that hereafter a student must offer at least fourteen units of work instead of thirteen in order to have the classification of a freshman and a student must offer at least fifteen units to be entered without a condition, which is the same as before. In case fourteen units are offered, the student can easily take the additional work to make up the one unit of condition before the end of the first year and at the same time carry the regular freshman work.

It was also agreed that 186 credit hours shall be required for graduation, based on M quality of work. As in the past, rewards will be given for work above the quality of M, by requiring less number of hours for graduation. Also a penalty will be exacted from those who do a quality of work less than M. It is understood that M is given for work of medium grade. These rewards and penalties are as follows:

One credit hour reward for 15 credit hours on S quality.

One credit hour reward for 30 credit hours of G quality.

One credit hour penalty for 15 credit hours of W quality.

This plan will work out so that a M student carrying the a full amount of work allowed will be able to finish in 12 quarters. A student doing S work will be able to finish in a quarter less time.

The rule was also made that all regular students will be required to take at least twelve hours of work and that the maximum amount shall be sixteen hours. On petition this maximum of sixteen hours may be increased to eighteen hours, if the committee and the faculty think that the past work of the student and the circumstances justify the increase in work.

One other important rule was adopted to encourage the feeling that graduate work in the university shall stand for the earnest pursuit of some line of study, in a scholarly and creditable manner. This is the rule that states that admission to the graduate school does not imply admission to the candidacy for an advanced degree and gives no right or claim to such admission. The rights to take the final or degree examinations shall rest with the faculty and the committees of the faculty.

It is necessary that these changes come with the higher standards of other universities, in order that the University of New Mexico shall maintain the high standards set in the

STUDENT ASSEMBLY FRIDAY, MAY 31

President Richardson Posts Notice of Meeting to Elect Athletic Association
Officers, and to Remedy Error in Last Election.

Election of officers for the athletic association will be the chief business of the student body meeting called for Friday, May 31, at 12:30 o'clock in Rodey hall. Don Richardson, president of the student body issued the call.

It is necessary, according to the constitution of the athletic association, that nominations for officers, signed by five University students be posted on the bulletin board seven days in advance of the election. This makes it necessary that all nominations be posted by noon Friday, May 24.

One nomination, that of Chester Boldt, for president of the association has been posted. The offices to be filled are those of president, vice-president and secretary.

Due to an error in balloting the assistant editor of the Weekly and three associates must be re-elected or others elected in their places. The error was not discovered until after the election was over.

BENEFIT CONCERT FOR RED CROSS.

Prof. Stanley Seder has recently announced a benefit concert for the local Red Cross which will be given at the high school, Monday evening, June 3. An all-University program will be given, and will undoubtedly serve to acquaint the Albuquerque public still further with the quality of work done on the hill.

Prof. Seder will play a program of piano numbers by Chopin and Liszt, including the great B flat minor sonata of Chopin, containing the Funeral march. Misses Hortense Switzer, Grace Stortz and Estelle Harris will appear on the program in vocal numbers. The Women's Panhellenic is taking charge of arrangements and their success in putting on the cabaret several months ago augurs well for the success of this venture.

On Thursday night, June 13th will be the annual commencement concert, for which a splendid program is being arranged, which will be announced soon.

Miss Lillian Spickard will leave in a few days for her home in Nashville, Tenn.

past few years. The work of the university is now recognized throughout the country and this is one of the most satisfactory features to those who want to do graduate or undergraduate work in other schools after leaving New Mexico.

LONDON BRANCH OF UNION DEVELOPED

American University Union Lays Particular Stress Upon Its London Branches. Calls Attention of All College Men.

The American University Union in Europe asks the attention of all American college men, especially of those in active war service, to the plans for the development of its London branch.

Membership and Purpose of Union.

More than one hundred universities and colleges in the United States including West Point and Annapolis, have now officially joined the American University Union in Europe and contribute to its financial support. The honorary patrons are, in the United States, the secretary of war and the Secretary of Navy, and, in Europe, the American ambassadors to Great Britain, France and Italy, and General Pershing. Its work has been developed in entire accord with that of the American Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. Its general object is "to meet the needs of American university and college men and their friends who are in Europe for military or other service in the cause of the allies." Its central headquarters are the Royal Palace Hotel, 8 rue de Richelieu, Paris, of which it has exclusive use, and at which upwards of 5,000 American college men have already been registered. The union offers its privileges freely to men of all colleges in the United States, whether graduates or not.

London American University Dinner.

On March 14, 1918, an American University dinner was held at the Criterion restaurant, London, at which Lord Bryce was the guest of honor. There were present 167 men, representing 51 different American universities and colleges. At that time the dinner committee, Mr. Lewis P. Sheldon (Yale), Mr. Robert Grant, Jr. (Harvard), and Mr. Lawrence L. Tweedy (Princeton), were elected as the London advisory council of the American University Union, with power to add to their number. In consultation with them the officers of the Union have made the following arrangements to develop the work of the Union in England.

London Office.

In September, 1917, through the efforts of Messrs. Sheldon, Grant and Tweedy, and with the generous co-operation of Mr. Henry King Smith of the Farmers' Loan & Trust Company, a London branch office of the Union was opened at 16, Pall Mall East, London, S. W. 1. About 200 American college men have already registered there. Through the courtesy of the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co., the entire first floor has now been given over to the Union. A large writing and reading room, plentifully supplied with American newspapers and periodicals, together with a bureau of information and registration, will be open from 9:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. (Saturday till 1 p. m.). A duplicate file of all registrations in the Paris office will be kept here. The office will be in charge of Professor J. W. Cunliffe, of Columbus University, who has been appointed Director of the London branch of the Union.

Hotel Headquarters.

Excellent hotel arrangements have been secured, at reduced rates, for all American college men, at the St. James's Palace Hotel, Bury street. This hotel is admirably situated near Piccadilly Circus and not far from the Union office at 16 Pall Mall East. A large writing and reading room and lounge on the ground floor is reserved for the exclusive use of members of the Union. Rooms may also be had at hotels near by under the same management. The restaurant of the St. James's Palace Hotel is open at special rates to members of the Union, whether or not they occupy rooms. The St. James's Palace Hotel will thus become a convenient and attractive center for all American college men in London.

Oxford and Cambridge.

Oxford and Cambridge Universities have appointed representative committees of hospitality to encourage visits to them by American college men. An unusual opportunity is thus given to see the English universities under the most favorable conditions. Members of the American University Union who wish to avail themselves of the privilege may do so by arrangement with the director of the London branch of the Union.

Registration.

All American college men in Great Britain are urged to register, either in person or by mail, their name, college and class, degree, (if any), and European mail address. Registration blanks may be had on application to the London office.

Hotel Reservations and Inquiries.

Applications for rooms should be addressed direct to the St. James's Palace Hotel, Bury street (Telegrams "Suppings, London").

Inquiries, except as to hotel reservations, should be addressed to the Director of the London branch of the American University Union, 16 Pall Mall East, London, S. W. 1.

The purpose of the American University Union in Europe is to serve in every way the interests of men from any College in the United States, who, whether graduates or not, are regarded as members of the Union. All American college men are requested to co-operate promptly with the director of the London branch of the Union in order to render its work effective.

GEORGE HENRY NETTLETON,

Director of the American University Union in Europe.

Miss Thelma Reagan and Miss Keene have moved from the annex to the dormitory.

GIVE TO THE RED CROSS

If hell is a condition in which all that we hold as ideal is not, then Sherman's definition of war is, for the most of us correct. We believe sympathy to be a virtue, but now we must seek to injure and to wound; we have been taught that it is wrong to kill and, for the present, we are in the business of killing; we have cherished the ideal of universal brotherhood, yet are forced for a time, to think of our enemies as beasts and demons. Individually, we have stood for life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, but now we realize that we have a pre-eminent right to none of these. It is no wonder that, in the midst of these broken ideals, we echo the words of the famous general.

But moving in the depths of this hell is a bit of heaven, the which is all the more heavenly for its black contrast. Alleviating sorrow, sheltering the homeless, mothering the orphan, healing the wounded, caring for the dying, with eye alike to friend or foe, the RED CROSS and the RED CROSS alone, upholds and preserves in war those high aims which we hope through war may become permanent. That the Red Cross nurses will care tenderly for the enemy aviator, who a few minutes before, attempted to destroy their hospital is especially inspiring to those of us who fear that, under similar circumstances, we could not show the same spirit of love and restraint.

Surely, amid the destruction and devastation of war, we will not let this one remaining exponent of neutrality and humanity fall. Believing in the necessity of the hell or war as the only means by which our ideals may be saved, certainly, we will support the agency which maintains them during war.

Those of us who subscribed to the Patriots War Work Fund will not be CALLED UPON to contribute to the second $100,000,000 Red Cross Relief Fund, but as others give we shall want to give again. We have sacrificed to make possible our share in the awfulness of war. Let us make greater sacrifices for its merciful side.

PROF. WORCESTER.

Little Dorothy's uncles are both at the war and she has a great admiration for soldiers. The other day in a crowded street car she was sitting on her mother's lap when a wounded soldier entered. Dorothy slipped immediately to the floor.

"Here, Soldy," she offered, "you can sit on mamma's lap."

COMMENCEMENT TO BE INFORMAL THIS YEAR.

University Abandons Formal Commencement Exercises. Many of Seniors Have Already Left.

In accordance with the policy which the war has brought forward—that of simplifying wherever possible—the University commencement this year will be very informal. The commencement committee, composed of Dr. John D. Clark and Dr. D. B. Mitchell, announced this plan last week. The plan is the result of much investigation and consultation by the committee.

There will be no baccalaureate or class day exercises as in former years and the commencement exercises proper will be as simple as it is possible to make them. There will be no outside speaker, but only the presentation of diplomas and the awarding of degrees by President David R. Boyd. This will be held on the afternoon of June 14. Final examinations for seniors will be held June 12 and 13.

The committee has taken into consideration the plan to discontinue altogether the usual commencement exercises, and to issue diplomas at the end of each quarter.

Many of the members of the senior class have already finished their course and either gone home or have entered into some sort of war work.

Plans, however, are being made to hold the initiation of elected seniors into the honor fraternity of Phi Kappa Phi, the date of which will be announced later. Seniors who will be eligible for the fraternity will be announced soon.

"Not Our Business."

A story is told of a little girl who, in her evening prayer, told of a child she had seen in the street that day. "He was ragged and I guess he was cold," prayed the little worshiper, "but that isn't any of our business, is it?" That is the attitude of some people at Christmas time. They do not seem to realize that it is their business to look out for any outside their own happy little circle, and such miss the best of the day of days.—Girl's Companion.

CHANGE OF GROTTOS
POLICY EVOKES COMMENT.

"All wholesalers have raised their prices and are demanding cash for goods. In order to buy the things our patrons want, we must pay cash for them. If we in turn do not demand cash when they are sold, we are left in the hole. Therefore we are forced to put our business on a strictly cash basis."

The above authorized statement by Mr. Bryon E. Morris, manager of the University Grotto, explains the cause for the recent notice given by Mr. Overstreet, owner of the store, that no accounts would be run after May 15th, but all goods would be sold for cash only.

"We do not doubt that our patrons will pay their bills," said Mr. Morris. "They have done so in the past, and we do not fear that they will refuse to do so in the future. But this is a strictly business proposition, which must be met in a businesslike way. We believe that we can give our customers better service if we sell for cash only, and that the plan will be of mutual benefit."

University students are divided in their opinions as to whether the Grotto will continue to enjoy its former liberal patronage. Some think that as before, while others contend as much will be spent over the counter, without the ease of being able to "charge it," one will be more careful of his expenditures. They say that a person does not always have small change with him, and that if he cannot buy a thing and let it be put on his account, it will not be bought.

"It is poor business for Overstreet," said Mr. Allen Papen when asked if he thought the new policy was good for the trade, "for the fellows won't eat so much if they can't run accounts. But it's good for the fellows, in that it helps them to save money. If they are permitted to run accounts, they have bills at the end of each month for from ten to twenty dollars; but if they have to pay cash, they won't have the money, and consequently can't spend it."

Mr. Cristy and Mr. Sharp believe that Mr. Overstreet adopted a good policy, by which he will be benefitted in the long run. Mr. Buchly said, "It will be mighty hard on me, but I think Overstreet is showing a gleam of intelligence in adopting the plan." "I think he has shown a little sense," was Mr. Chester Boldt's comment. Perkins Patton was very enthusiastic about it; for, as he said, "When I'm broke I'm not spending my money."

Mr. Ralf Gould, on the other hand, stated that he was heartily opposed to such methods. "I think he is just trying to make himself a man of affluence," he said, "simply taking advantage of his position to stick it to such high-handed methods." And Donovan Richardson comments thus: "It is a 'damn poor idea, for most of the time I don't have any money. It is a well-known fact that college fellows have money only once a month."

The ladies of Hokona seem to be little disturbed by the change. Miss Frances Bear characterized it as a "very good plan, for probably he wouldn't get it in any other way," and Miss Edith Boellner said it began to look as if Overstreet "had an eye for business." Miss Clara Bursum took the matter a little more seriously. "I don't think he ought to worry about collecting it," she said. "We are all honest."

STRETCHING PARIS TO MEET THE NEEDS OF FRANCE

THE RED CROSS HAS HELPED WHERE GOVERNMENTS WERE HELPLESS.

The avalanche of refugees that swept into Paris from the north of France had been the despair of the civil authorities. These homeless, stunned people were a new responsibility to be added to the thousands of wounded men that came steadily from the shambles of the west front.

Paris is an old city. It was not ready to take in its neighbors' children. Its population was already a tight fit. So it made the best of its poor hospitality by offering up its garrets. New building construction seemed impossible. Men were scarce. The mechanic was either manning the trenches or fighting the fight in the war factories. Paris was distracted.

It is wonderful indeed how nobly Paris tried to meet this condition. And it is remarkable how Paris met it with the aid of our own Red Cross. Unhindered by red tape or precedent, our Red Cross put on overalls and jumper, carried the hod, became architect, engineer and contractor and went into the building of homes. Here was a church lot that lay vacant; here an unfinished hospital; there a worn out building, all of which in a fortnight were started on their way toward new apartments, rooms and sleeping wards.

We here at home who associate the great Red Cross movement with bandages and white gowned nurses must lose this old illusion in the light of a thousand other works for humanity.

In this case we see the Red Cross first as diplomats convincing the civil authorities of Paris as to their ability to remedy the situation, then as architects remodeling buildings, changing building plans, hiring labor gathered by themselves from the ex-soldiery and the older man, all the while working under every imaginable handicap, while Father Time cried, "Get it done, get it done."

So out of the garrets came these despairing people to find new hope in clean homes, to get new cheer out of sheer bodily comfort and fresh courage to again take up the great trust that France has kept so well—"to carry on." It is not strange that our French brothers believe in your own Red Cross just a little more than you do. But should this be?

SIGMA CHI DANCE.

The Sigma Chi gave another one of their delightfully informal dances at the fraternity house on last Saturday night. Besides the members a large number of invited guests were present. Delicious punch prepared by one of the "fair" guests was served throughout the evening, and a most enjoyable evening was reported by all of the guests. The committee in charge of arrangements was Ray Walker and Dwight McClure. The invited guests were. Misses Ruth Tompkins, Estelle Harris, Jennie Standley, Maurine Reagan, Grace Stortz, Frances Bear, Edith Boellner, Louise Bell, Dorothy Ohmolt, Ann Harris, Le Clair Cavanaugh, Thelma Reagan, Louise Dadey, Margaret Turner, Irene Seward, Viola Herkenhoff, Bettie Kliesdorf, Bell Barton, Dorothy Bowman and Velma Prichard. Messrs. Fred White, George Doolittle, Frank Nehr, Dick Bruce, William Horner, Parker, Payton and Brooks. Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Ross chaperoned.

Kappa Kappa Gamma Farewell

The Kappa Kappa Gammas entertained on Friday afternoon with a most enjoyable knitting party at the home of Miss Katherine Keleher, complimentary to Miss Lillian Spickard, who is soon to leave for her southern home in Nashville, Tenn. A delicious luncheon was served and a pleasant afternoon spent by all.

Miss Estelle Harris and Miss Grace Stortz, two of the University's most talented young ladies, sang selections from the University play "Up in the Air" at the Rotary club luncheon at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday.

Miss Maurine Reagan, who has been ill in the hospital for the past ten days, left for her home in Clovis Saturday night. Everyone regrets the loss of "Pepita" and hopes that she will return to the University to resume her studies at some future time.

FAMILY AFFAIR.

The young subaltern, who was a son of a general and never omitted to rub in that fact, was taking a message from the general to the gunners. "If you please," he said to the major, "father says will you move your guns."

The major was in an irate mood. "Oh!" he rejoined, "and what the blazes does your mother say?"—London Opinion.

JUST ANSWERED.

A soldier in the English army wrote home: "They put me in barracks; they took away my clothes and put me in khaki; they took away my name and made me 'No. 575'; they took me to church, where I'd never been before, and they made me listen to a sermon for forty minutes. Then the parson said: 'No. 575. Art thou weary, art thou languid?' and I got seven days in the guardhouse because I answered that I certainly was."

LOCALS

Miss Ivy L. Lay who has had charge of the Annex to the girl's dormitory, left last week for San Antonio, Texas. Illness of her brother called Miss Lay away.

Hugh Cooper, who enlisted in the coast artillery of the regular army, left Monday night for El Paso. From there, he will probably be sent to some coast town for further training.

Joe McCanna of the class of '17, enlisted in the naval reserves last week. After an examination in El Paso, Joe returned to Albuquerque to await a call to service. At the time of his enlistment, Joe was paying teller of the State National bank.

Miss Louise Lowber left Tuesday for Washington, D. C., where she will enter government work. Miss Lowber is the third University girl to enter government work in Washington this year.

There are now on the service flag of the University 149 names of both men and women. The registrar's office is trying to get a more complete and accurate record of those in the service, and asks for any information which may be available. Any help in locating those now on and in placing other names on the list will be appreciated.

A party of University students, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Lester Cooper, took their suppers and ate them on the mesa Saturday evening. Those in the party were: Misses Lois Davis, Lillian Spickard and Pearl Hayerford; Hugh Cooper, Don Richardson, Jimmie Chess and Kenneth Gass.

STREET NUMBERS NEAR THE UNIVERSITY.

Some years ago when the Alpha Delta house (now being used as an annex to the woman's dormitory), the present Sigma Chi house, and Professor Hodgins' residence were the only houses at this end of East Central avenue, an agent for a city directory erroneously told the occupants of the Alpha Delta house that their street number was 1601. As other houses were built the owners placed numbers on their residences to correspond with the wrongly numbered 1601. The result of this original mistake has been that few of the houses near the University are numbered correctly.

Correctly Professor Hodgins' house is in the 2000 block and the Sigma Chi house is the last house on the south side of the 1900 block, while the Sabin house is on the end of the 1800 block.

Streets leading from East Central avenue to the north and to the south, are not continuous. The 1700 block on the north side of the avenue is not a complete block, a portion having been taken by the University campus. The Clark house is at the end of the remnant of the 1700 block and bears the number 1717.

In the ordinary city block of 300 feet frontage each twenty-five feet is entitled to a number. Thus the numbers in the even numbered side of the 100 block are 100, 102, 104, 106, etc. to 112. A house on the first fifty feet of the 100 block might be numbered 100 or 102.
