LUKKEN DECLARES GLEE CLUB PROSPECTS GOOD

Few Vacancies Left With Plenty of Material at Practice.

In preparation for a season which is expected to be the most notable in its history, the women's glee club is gaining an early start by holding frequent rehearsals. Prof. John Lukken says that the prospects for a large and active chorus are better than in any former year.

Twenty women have already agreed to take part in the chorus, and the general quality of the voices is above the average. Most of the women who were members of last year's chorus have returned, and in addition there are a number of new students who are expected to help greatly in building up a strong musical organization.

Prof. Lukken is now engaged in organizing a men's glee club and has found an abundance of good material. All the men who were in last year's chorus will be back this year, with the exception of Guy Heslet. Prof. Lukken is looking for a tenor who can fill that vacancy.

The women who constitute the glee club at present are the following: Misses Gerhardt, Sands, Wicklund, Johnson, Murphey, Fairley, Hardon, Carol Wilson, Easterday, Dorothy Cameron, Mearns, Heflin, Shepard, Stephenson, B. Wilson, Dougherty, Morgan, Parsons, Clyda Wilson and Williamson.

SOPHS MAKE PLANS FOR COMING YEAR

In the first meeting of the present school year, the Sophomore class, presided over by its retiring president, Dale Snyder, made plans for the election of officers and for a number of other functions to take place this semester. Balloting, according to the student body constitution, will be held at twelve-thirty o'clock tomorrow.

Dean Waite was appointed chairman of a committee with James Swinney and Isabelle Connor to secure a date and to make other arrangements for the first Sophomore hop. According to Waite, the affair will probably take place about the middle of next month.

A great deal of other business will be brought before the class when it meets tomorrow, and President Snyder is anxious that every member be present.

GOVERNOR'S SPEECH INSPIRES STUDENTS

Other Prominent Officials Present on Platform.

Governor Merritt C. Mechem appeared before the Assembly in Rodey Hall last Friday, as guest of the University, and delivered a brief address to the students, in which he characterized the University as the intellectual foundation upon which New Mexico builds her hopes for the future.

On the stage with the governor were Congressman Nestor Montoya and State Superintendent of Education John V. Conway, both of whom gave short talks. The Governor's speech was principally concerned with the phenomenal rise of the University in the last few years, under the direction of President Hill. In a lighter vein he contrasted the highly developed institution of the present with the rather hazy defined college of the past, whose concern was principally with the Classics. "One-half of all the money raised in the state by taxation goes into its educational equipment," declared the Governor. "You are the select of the state youth and the state lavishes its money upon you because it expects you to become its leaders and influential citizens."

NEW MEXICO U WINS MEN OF PROMINENCE

Representatives from more than half of the states answer the roll-call of New Mexico's registrar this term. Authors and athletes, teachers and men of profession, from the black-jack shrubs of Oklahoma, from the cedar district of Arkansas, from the long-horn range of Texas and from the University's own romantic state they flock, eager for the superior training offered at New Mexico.

They come! And with them are embodied the smiles and metaphors of our institution. Jelfs, the telescopic New Mexican, personifies the lofty aim of the U, while his running mate, Civirolla, youthful prodigy, is emblem of the University's attitude towards superior knowledge.

From Vermont comes Bowman, author of several short stories published in Munsey's and other prominent magazines. There are many other interesting young writers in the college, some famous for their unpublished manuscripts and unconventional ways.

But corpulent or slim, masculine or feminine, prominent or negligible, New Mexico welcomes them all.

CATTLE RANGE CAMPUS; CAUSE SEVERE DAMAGE

President Hill Threatens Drastic Action Against Owners.

Incursions upon the campus by cattle which have been left to range on the east mesa have caused considerable property damage recently. If there are further recurrences of such intrusions drastic steps will be taken to end the nuisance.

President Hill declares that too much care and effort, have gone into the beautifying of the campus for the authorities to tolerate the free ranging of cattle on the lawns and walks.

Mrs. George P. Sampson, Jr., ex-student of the U, has been visiting friends on the campus. Mrs. Sampson lives in Winslow, Arizona.

DAILY SCRIMMAGE ROUNDS LUSTY LOBOES INTO SHAPE

New Men Report to Coach Johnson as Team Develops into Speedy and Heavy Combination With Smoothly Working Plays; Denver U a Probable Opponent.

FOUR GREEKS MIGRATE TO DOMICILES ON HILL

Remaining Three Fraternities Open Houses Occupied During Past Year.

The third week of the school year finds all of the Greeks well housed and located near the campus. Phi Mu, P. Kappa Alpha and Sigma Chi are of course again residents of the houses which they have occupied in previous years.

Kappa Kappa Gamma may be found at home in their new house at 1224 East Central. No description of this residence is necessary, as it is well known to most of us as the former habitat of Jack Hill, Pi Beta Phi.

The Alpha Delta Pi's are admirably situated in an attractive house at 111 South Columbia Avenue, on University heights.

Alpha Chi Omega now holds forth at the sign of the Lyre on East Silver, conveniently near the P. K. A. and Alpha Delta houses. It is remarked that this proximity of location should tend to foster amicable relations in the vicinity.

The men of Alpha Delta have recently purchased, and now occupy a spacious brick residence at 1723 East Silver. The house contains thirteen rooms and has attached unto it two large sleeping porches which should insure adequate quarters for the large resident membership of the fraternity.

ORGANIZED TENNIS IN FUTURE IS PROMISED

Courts in Good Condition and Thronged with Enthusiasts of Game.

Tennis, under the direction of a student organization, promises soon to become an institution on the campus. In the opinion of many followers of the game, such a club would do much to further a sustained interest in this beneficial sport. It has been pointed out that such an organization would offer memberships to all students of the University having an interest in the game, and subject to the supervision of the Coach, would conduct tournaments and aid in the selection of teams to compete with other schools of collegiate grade.

Mr. Johnson has expressed his approval of the project and it is to be hoped that in the near future organization will be made, and an early start gained in the development of a strong team of racquet-wielders to represent the University. Quick action on this matter would make possible a fall tournament. The courts are now in splendid condition and have been in constant use by tennis enthusiasts.

The Misses Mary and Nell Hamilton from Oklahoma have registered at the University and are residing at Hokona.

Miss Eva Wack has been confined to the dormitory with a slight attack of appendicitis.

Gridiron prospects continue to appear bright as the Cherry and Silver squad is entering the third week of its intensive practice work. Additional candidates for the team have been reporting to the Coach, until at the present time, the largest squad that has ever competed for places on the Varsity eleven is romping about the University field.

Scrimmage was held for the first time on Monday, and will continue to be a regular feature of practice from now on. Coach Johnson refuses to name any probable members of the first team at the present time, having adopted for his plan of action the policy of awarding only tentative places on the eleven until the season is further advanced.

At Monday's drill, "Doc" Goodell made his first appearance. He is a speedy 165-pounder, who played last year on the yearling team at Kansas University, and who will try for either an end or a backfield position. Goodell was impressed with the material on hand for the Varsity line, and said that the squad "looked good" to him.

Coach Roy Johnson has been in continual correspondence with the colleges and universities who are to oppose the U. N. M. "Loboes" this fall, but he is not at the present time willing to publish the complete schedule. He mentioned, however, that the game which was to have been played here on November 30th with the Colorado Miners will probably be replaced by a contest with Denver University. The latter institution was represented by a stronger combination than the Miners last year, and they expect another successful season this year. Coach Johnson explained the pending action as being caused by the School of Mines team canceling their Arizona trip.

Rumors have been afloat about the campus that the peerless half-back, "Louie" Hesselden, all-Southwestern in 1916 and last year, will shortly don a uniform and report for practice. Hesselden, however, regretfully denies the truth of the report, and says that he is forced to devote every minute of his time apart from studies to the management of the Superior Lumber and Mill Company, of which he is an officer.

P. Gillette Cornish, Jr., who was one of the most formidable Yale quarterbacks known to Harvard, and who assisted Coach Johnson last year, will be on hand again this fall to instruct the backfield men, as soon as the early season work is mastered. "Scotty" MacArthur has been coaching the ends, and this week, during his visit to the University, Rex Craig, stellar linesman of last year, has given the Varsity guards and tackles a real workout.

Undergraduates are encouraged by the Coach to attend the scrimmages of the squad and to support the team with their presence. Four o'clock every afternoon is the hour named for practice, which usually continues until dark.

Miss Phoebe Brundage, who entered the University a few days ago, will be unable to continue her studies. She will leave for her home in Chicago in a few days.

Seniors, Cullen Pearce, Vernon Wiley, Ed Horgan, and George Bryan, who constitute the total active membership of the Khatahle Senior Honor Society, met for a short get-together and business meeting. While the organization is still a comparatively

LOOKING AHEAD.

It is with the desire to be of aid in the University's steady advance that we submit the following suggestions to the student body. A change in methods which have become custom is invariably difficult to effect, but in order to progress, inefficiency must be eliminated. We ask, then, your careful consideration.

The first point is the method of selecting undergraduate officers, excluding class and student body officials. "Weekly" staff members are elected by the associated students, with merely casual weight given to the merits of candidates, and with a woeful amount of electioneering and trading of honors. We, the present staff of the publication, suggest that the system be changed. At the option of the editor in chief let a call be issued for candidates for the Weekly. Organizations will choose their men to compete; any other student, not ineligible on account of scholastic work, may enter the competition, and at the close of the period designated, let the next staff be elected by the retiring board, purely on the grounds of the work they have done, the interest they have shown, and what is more important, of their ability to edit and produce a sheet which is worthy of the institution. This, we believe, will do away with the confusion attendant on an untrained board's attempting to publish a newspaper; it will eliminate politics from an activity which should be independent of outside control; and it will stimulate the most valuable phase of University life—that of helpful competition.

This same method, competition, should be followed in selecting a "Mirage" board, and in choosing the student manager of athletics. During the competitive period, the caliber of those aspiring to the positions may be accurately gauged, and the men most fitted for the work may be determined.

Undergraduate officers are not to be taken lightly. Rather, they should be highly regarded, and they will be if they are attained only after definite proof of ability and sincerity is shown.

The Second Point.

We believe that an honor society should exist at the University of New Mexico. By the time that a class has reached its Junior year there will be a number of outstanding characters in that class. Men who have played on athletic teams, men who have been supporting the University's name in other activities, as forerunners, managerships, and publications, have had to work for their places in their respective lines of activity. They are entitled to possess some evidence of their efforts and sacrifices. An Honor Society composed of members of the Junior and Senior classes who have been, and are prominent in the University, will always be a strong inducement to "go out for things." It will cause the competitive spirit to grow among undergraduates, and as a result, every student activity will be bettered by an increase in earnest work applied.

We feel that the present system of distributing "Campus Jobs" has nothing to be said in its favor, with the possible exception of things said out of respect to its age. As mentioned above, inefficiency must be eliminated before unrelenting progress is possible.

It is a question which vitally affects every undergraduate. We invite you to make use of our columns for communications on your views. The topic will be raised for discussion at a meeting of the student body in the near future. In the meantime, talk and think it over—shall we cling to the obsolete and worthless methods?

"CURRICULUM FIRST."

To you of the Class of 1925, particularly to the men of the class, are these few words addressed.

You have been swept into the life of a vigorous University, into a different routine and environment from any you have hitherto known. You are becoming acquainted with some of the fascinating details of college—being rushed by Greek letter organizations, going in for athletics, discovering the wild rites of the Coyotes, and perhaps learning the intricacies of the science of "Campus."

All these things go to make up the life of the undergraduate, but only by experience does one realize the extent of the outside activity in which he may safely engage. Don't be swept off your feet—remember that a good start is half the battle, and put into your studies every bit of application that they deserve. Make sure of your ability to stay in college, and then get into activities that are worth while.

Curriculum first!

COYOTES REORGANIZED;
PLEDGE TWENTY WHELPS

Notorious Outlaw Elected Head of Dormitory Club.

Reorganization of the Kiote Club, the official organization of the men's dormitory, was carried out in secret sometime during the past week. It is understood that many new features have been added under the new Packleader, Lawrence Dixon.

Dixon, along with two other radicals, attracted considerable attention last year by standing out against the entire Kiote organization in protest to certain practices which they said were in need of reform. There are about twenty whelps wearing the Kiote pin and pledge ribbon. The initiation will be carried out some time around Thanksgiving.

The officers for the year are: Packleader, Lawrence Dixon; Councilors, Hightail Stinnett, Longears Stahl.

The Shifters have been holding forth daily, and early reports indicate that the "order" continues to flourish. All members are well lined up with the gray train.

WILLIE Ohma from Oscura.

He looked into the mirror at a face with a silly cap and two black eyes. Just then three passing upperclassmen jumped on him in order to cure him of the vanity that kept him too jope before his mirror.

Dr. Edna Mosher held a meeting Monday night of all the women residing in Hokona. Affairs pertaining to the general welfare of the group were discussed.

UNIVERSITY ORCHESTRA TO BE LARGEST EVER

Sixteen Musicians Are Present at First Rehearsal Tuesday.

With two musical organizations already formed and two others planned, it seems apparent that there will be no lack of music on the campus this winter. The University orchestra and the Women's glee club are already well under way, and Prof. John Lukken is now actively engaged in the formation of a University band and a men's glee club.

The orchestra held its first practice Tuesday afternoon, and an exceptionally large attendance indicates the organization will be much more complete than last year. Prof. Lukken hopes that it will be possible to form a small University band this fall in time to supply some music at football games, and he is now engaged in forming the nucleus of such an organization.

The membership of the orchestra at present is as follows:

Violins—Miss Dorothy Cameron, Miss Elizabeth Shepard, David W. Bryan; cornets—J. Wilkinson, John Wilkinson, Thomas Calkins; clarinets—J. Sharp, W. Morgan, C. Huff; flute—B. Harrington; trombone—Miss Thelma L. Lyckman; drums—K. Wilkinson; saxophones—

THE PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION.

The President's reception in Rodey Hall, last Friday night, proved a most brilliant affair. In the receiving lines were many of New Mexico's most prominent men, and the students were fortunate in being able to meet the Honorable Governor Merritt C. Mechem, and United States Senator H. O. Bursum, as well as the members of the Board of Regents, and other men and women well known in State and University affairs. The reception formalities were followed by a period of dancing which continued until ten-thirty.

Later, one of his friends took him to task for so loudly singing his own praises.

"I know," replied the actor, "it must have sounded somewhat conceited, but I was under oath, so what could I do?"
