FIGHTING LOBOS ARE OVERWHELMED BY D. U. PARSONS

Denver University Aggregation
Proves Too Strong; Jones
Stars for U. N. M.

Fighting, always fighting, with that indomitable spirit that has always been theirs, the Lobo pack went down to defeat last Saturday before the terrific onslaught of the Denver University Parsons, heralded as the strongest team in the Rocky Mountain Conference, by the score of 41 to 0.

Receiving the ball on the kick off, the Lobos went through the Parson line and around end for forty-five yards on seven plays; then lost the ball on a fumbled punt. The first quarter was pretty evenly matched, and ended with the ball in D. U.'s possession in the middle of the field. In the second quarter, the Ministers opened up one of the most brilliant offenses ever seen on the Varsity field, and scored three touchdowns before the quarter ended.

In the third quarter the Lobo line stiffened noticeably and the Varsity marched the ball down the field for seventy yards without relinquishing it, following an intercepted pass and a twenty-five yard run by Jones, only to lose the ball again on a fumble. No scores were made in this quarter.

The celebrated Parson offense, centered around Williams, last year's All Rocky Mountain half in the last quarter, showed the power that presages Conference championships by scoring three more touchdowns.

The Lobos fought a good fight. Not a man on the team but fought desperately from the opening whistle but handicapped by the loss of their captain and star tackle, John Popejoy, who sat on the bench with a badly sprained knee and suffered the keenest mental agony every time the Parsons registered a gain, and by the absence from the lineup of Dutton, big center, and Hopkins, 200 pound tackle, who could not play because of the migratory rule in force in the Rocky Mountain Conference, they could not stem the tide of the furious attack launched against them.

Jones, last year's All-Southwestern half, was easily the star of the game for the Lobos, while Williams, All-Rocky Mountain half, Boyd and Keaton were the stars of the Parsons backfield, with Hutchinson, captain and tackle, a tremendous factor in the strength of the Minister line. The kicking of O'Donnell, Parson tackle, who last year held the record for goals kicked after touchdowns, was a feature of the game.

Following is a resume of the game:
First Quarter
O'Donnell kicked off for the Parsons to the Lobo five yard line, and Harrington ran the ball back for

U. N. M. DRAMATIC CLUB PLANS FIRST PERFORMANCE

Membership Drive Will Be Held
During the Coming Week.

Plans are being made for the U. N. M. Dramatic Club play which will be given about the twenty-fifth of November. The committee consisting of Fred Wagner, Dale Snyder and Margaret Gusdorf, which was appointed to interview Mr. John D. Burton of the Albuquerque High School in regard to selecting a suitable play for performance, now have about a dozen prospective plays from which they will select the most suitable as soon as possible. It is planned to give a three-act play, very probably of a more or less humorous type. Some difficulty and delay are being experienced at the present time in regard to finding a coach for the club, but as soon as that matter is arranged, the first try-outs and rehearsals will be called.

Sometime during the next week a membership drive will be initiated. While all regularly enrolled students of the University are eligible for membership, only those who really desire to work along dramatic lines will be used in the casts of the plays. At present there is a strong organization remaining from last year and there is enough money available in the treasury to enable the club to put on several really creditable dramatic performances. An abundance of material both new and old in the University assures a number of applicants for places on the casts.

GLIMPSES OF THE U. OF C. FOOTBALL TEAM

These are some of the things on which the University of Colorado is basing its gridiron hopes this year and show something of the machine that the Lobos will face when they play at Boulder, Saturday, Oct. 14. Upper left: Smith, Vidal, McLean, Loser, Jack, captain, Toughy and Alexander. Upper right, Captain Jack, full-back. Upper left: Veteran All-Conference center, forced to quit by doctor's orders. Lower right: Practice line-up.

UNIVERSITY BAND MAKES ITS DEBUT AT D. U. GAME

Organization Shows Considerable Promise; Choruses Are Also Being Developed.

This year promises to be a particularly successful one for the Music Department at the University. There is the largest and most promising enrollment in all the choruses, band and other groups that there has been at any time in the last four years. The band in particular under the leadership of Prof. Lukken has been working hard and appeared for the first time at the Denver University game. Although conflicts did not allow a full rehearsal and some members of the band were unable to participate for various reasons, Messrs. Johnny Meyers, L. Selva, former U. N. M. men, and Mr. Fred Ellis of the City Band assisted in filling the gap. The band was a distinct innovation and added considerably to the enthusiasm of the game.

Most of the members of the band are capable of doing solo work and they have all had considerable experience in band and orchestra work. Gerhardt has played through High School, at U. N. M., and in a U. S. Navy band during the war; Harrington has been in the Indian School and Colorado School of Mines band, and Wilkinson and Bryan have each played in several bands and orchestras. Kelly has played in the Corsicana band, Miss Loudon in the City and Varsity bands, and XXX Klech has also played in the High School orchestra, the U. N. M. and City bands. Cunningham was a member of the Chicago High School band and Duke has played the clarinet in the Roswell City and High School and the U. N. M. I. bands. Johnnie Wilkinson and Deering have both played in the local High School and City bands while Price has had previous experience in the Louisiana Normal orchestra and the U. S. Army band, and Clowers has taken part in the Oklahoma A. and M. band. Collins and Morgan have both played in the U. N. M. band before, as well as in city bands, and Cantelou has had considerable experience in various orchestras and bands. The latest addition to the organization is Dean Mitchell, who has played the bassoon in several other U. N. M. bands and orchestras. So it may be seen that there is no little talent available.

A number of concerts of members of all these organizations combined will be held in the near future as soon as all the members are free to participate.

Probably no Lobo eleven ever boasted two faster guards than Pearce and Ferguson, either of them fast enough to play in the backfield.

TENNIS ENTHUSIASTS MEET TO DISCUSS PLANS FOR YEAR

Women's Tennis Tournament to Be Held Soon; Courts in Good Shape.

Tuesday noon a meeting of all men in the University who are interested in tennis was held in the Administration building. Owing to the unseasonableness of the hour, there were only a few members present, and on account of this fact it was decided to postpone all activities in tennis, at least until after football season is over. If there are enough men at that time who signify their intention of becoming active members of the club, a regular organization may be made. If not, there will be no regular University organization of men's tennis club, but the game will be carried on by the small group that signified their interest at the Tuesday meeting.

There will, of course, be tournaments throughout the year, for which any male student of the University will be eligible upon the payment of a stated fee sufficient to pay the expenses of securing balls, etc. Probably there will be, in addition to the regular tournaments, a handicap tournament in which the various players will be handicapped corresponding to their respective ability.

Miss McCormick, women's physical director, has also given notice of a girls' tournament which will begin soon. Entries are open at the present time and drawing for places will be held next Friday afternoon. Tennis is very nearly a year-round sport here at the University and should be fostered. The courts, both men's and women's, have been recently surfaced and placed in good condition for the students of the University and players use them nearly every day. They will probably be able to continue this until well into the winter months. Possibly later in the year, during the spring, matches may be arranged with other schools.

MRS. HARRY FRANK

The Angel of Death visited the University campus last Wednesday morning and took from us Mrs. Harry Frank. Mrs. Frank had been critically ill with typhoid fever for several weeks, and at last succumbed to the dread malady after a gallant fight.

Funeral services were held at French's Chapel at 2:30 Friday afternoon, and that night the body was taken to the old home at Rose, Kansas for burial. The students of the University sincerely grieve with Mr. Frank and his family at their loss.

A. H. S. FOOTBALL TO PLAY WINSLOW TOMORROW

Local High School Has Fine
Prospects for Successful Year.

While football at the University is the main topic at the present time, there is another aggregation in the city of Albuquerque which promises a great deal for the coming season. The local High School team, with a good proportion of their last year's men back, and with an increased measure of competition among the players, has excellent prospects for a very successful year. Their candidates for the backfield, among whom are Glomi (Capt.), Long, Roybal, Glassman, Tomei and Renfro, have all had previous experience and are stacking up as a very fast and aggressive bunch, while the line gives them excellent support and defense. Although the season is still young, the team has already surpassed last year's performances in the aerial branch of the game, as well as in backfield play.

The main attraction of the season is, of course, the game between A. H. S. and the team from El Paso, which will be played as usual at Thanksgiving time here in Albuquerque. The game this Saturday with Winslow, Arizona, last year champions of northern Arizona, will run it a close second for interest and should be a speedy contest.

The High School schedule follows:
October 7—Belen, at Belen. (This terminated in a score of 61 to 0 in favor of Albuquerque.)

October 14—Winslow, at home.
October 24—Santa Fe, at home.
October 28—Manual, at home.
November 4—Roswell, at Roswell.
November 11—Las Vegas Normal, at Las Vegas.
November 18—U. S. Indian School, at home.
November 30—El Paso, at home.

In consideration of the fact that the High School has at all times supported the University in every way, from scrimmage with the Lobos to attendance at the games, it would not be amiss if the University students would reciprocate by attending the game next Saturday, October 14, when they play Winslow. The Lobo squad will be in Boulder, playing the University of Colorado team, and we had as well take our minds off of agony of waiting by watching the game and at the same time showing the High School that we are ready to meet them half way.

Ed Horgan is the proud possessor of a silver tea set, a trophy which he won by virtue of his victory over Dr. G. C. McLandress last Sunday in the final match of the Country Club Golf Tournament.

U. N. M. AUTHORITIES SECURE INJUNCTION AGAINST THE CITY

Seek to Prevent Removal of Large Water Mains Through University Campus.

Upon petition of the Board of Regents of the University of New Mexico, represented by President David S. Hill and Thomas F. Keleher, Jr., a member of the board, a temporary injunction was issued by Judge M. F. Hickey last Tuesday morning, restraining the City of Albuquerque from further operations on removal of the water main now connecting the University water service with the city reservoir. The court set the restraining order for hearing on October 19, on petition of Attorney W. A. Keleher, appearing for the University, that the order be made permanent.

In the absence of President Hill and Attorney A. A. Sedillo and Dr. J. A. Reidy of the Board of Regents, and in the absence of Mr. Frank, superintendent of the University grounds, the city authorities went into the grounds last Wednesday morning and began trenching to remove the main, thus threatening to leave the University without fire protection, and at the same time greatly mutilating the campus which it has taken many years to bring to its present beauty.

The complaint recites that public property to the value of $350,000 is thus proposed to be left without fire protection and states the circumstances surrounding the use of the present main, as follows:

"That in the year 1898, or thereabouts, there was laid under the ground on the University of New Mexico campus, and through the center thereof more or less, a ten-inch water main, which water main was connected on the east, a distance of some 300 yards, with a reservoir owned by the city of Albuquerque for municipal purposes, and connected in the center of the University campus with a fire hydrant. That ever since the said water main and said fire hydrant have been used by the University of New Mexico, in order to obtain water for fire protection purposes and that all of the fire prevention arrangements of the institution have been planned and designed with said fire hydrant, connected with said water line and reservoir as the most essential part thereof. That the plaintiff herein has, at all times material hereto, paid to the defendant city of Albuquerque the rental demanded for such fire protection service and is not now delinquent in payment thereof and therefor.

"That the defendant, Harry D. Shoup, acting under and pursuant to the instructions of the defendant, W. R. Walton, and so the plaintiff is informed and believes, with the advice and consent of some or all of the other defendants, has gone upon the grounds of the University of New Mexico with a gang of laborers numbering from 20 to 50, against the wish and consent of the plaintiff, and has excavated some 50 feet of ground east of said fire hydrant and

HALE AND WAGNER ARE CHOSEN BY LOCAL COMMITTEE

Will Appear Before State Board for Final Choice in November.

William Hale and Fred T. Wagner have been chosen by the local committee on the Rhodes Scholarship, to represent the University of New Mexico when the State Committee meets to choose this year's representatives to go to England for three years in Oxford. The field of candidates opposed to these two men will probably be much larger than in former years, as there are said to be applicants for the honor from the State College at Las Cruces, the New Mexico Military Institute, and Harvard, and possibly others. However, with our knowledge of the records, ability, and capacity for work, of the two U. N. M. men, it is at least reasonable to hope that one of them will be the fortunate individual.

Undoubtedly, the Rhodes Scholarship is a most splendid opportunity given to college students and it is earnestly hoped that one of these two men will follow the other U. N. M. students who have been in England, to the ancient halls of Oxford.

THINK THIS OVER

When the Almighty had finished the work of creation, he had left on his hands some material too rotten to go into the makeup of the human skunk, or the guajalote. Casting about for some means of disposing of this scum of creation, he hit upon the idea of fashioning from it a creature more despicable and loathsome than snake, skunk, or guajalote. He set to work and made the Knocker.

Of knockers there are many varieties, but the one lowest down in the mire which forms a fitting environment for such creatures is the knocker who, the minute his football team loses a game, starts panicking the team, the coach, the school, and the town.

No football team can win every game it plays. It isn't expected to. The most that can be expected of any team is to go in and fight from the opening whistle until the bell is dead on the final play. Angels in Heaven can do no better than their best. Neither can a football team.

Last Saturday the Lobos played a team, considered by dopesters to be the strongest team in the Rocky Mountain Conference, a team picked from a student body many times the size of the student body of the University of New Mexico, thirteen times as large, to be exact, and a team tutored by a whole corps of football coaches. Under the circumstances, a victory over the Parsons was something like a ten to one shot. A Lobo victory was something devoutly to be wished, but not to be expected with a great deal of confidence. Yet there are people, and their number is not as insignificant as are their utterances, both among the students of the University and residents of Albuquerque, who, since Saturday have been vehemently and assiduously playing their names knocking first the coach, then the team, then branching out to include within the scope of their gibbering denunciation the University as a whole and the city of Albuquerque at large, all because the Lobos did not beat the Parsons, or did not hold them to as low a score as these self-appointed critics of the Lobo squad and its mentor think they should have held them.

Constructive criticism, directed in the proper channels, is a wholesome thing. A person with a worth while idea for the improvement of the Lobo team will always receive consideration if he addresses his criticism to someone competent to act upon it, and profit by it, but indiscriminate criticism, directed to no one in particular, and only voiced for the purpose of getting a load off someone's burdened chest, will never accomplish anything of merit. There should be no closed season for knockers, and furthermore, there should be a bounty on their scalps.

IF THIS GARMENT FITS YOU, WEAR IT

School spirit is a thing which may lie dormant, or nearly so, for a brief period in the ordinary run of events, without its absence becoming strikingly apparent, but let an event of the nature of last Saturday's football game come along, and that lack of school spirit, or "U. N. M. spirit," as we are wont to call it, becomes all too glaringly and pitifully apparent. University of New Mexico students, for the most part, think they are chuck full of school spirit. Most of them will become highly indignant at mere intimation that their spirit toward their school isn't all that it should be. Their intentions are good, no doubt, but a certain paying job of no mean proportions was completed through the use of good intentions.

The point is this: No matter how solidly behind the team the student body might have been last Saturday afternoon, their backing was not translated into a tangible form that could be felt and appreciated by the Lobo eleven as it fought with its back to the wall. When the ball was progressing toward the Denver goal, the cheering from the grandstand was very good indeed. When the tide turned and the Lobos were on the defensive, a silence as of the tomb settled over the erstwhile clamorous roars.

A team can get along very well without cheering when things are going its way, but when it stands in the shadow of its own goal, with a powerful enemy battering viciously through its defense, it is then that cheers are needed, and then it was that we failed in our duty to our team last Saturday.

Cheering alone will not win victories, but it exerts a powerful supplementary influence. When the Lobos engage in battle with the foes of the gridiron, they do not seek individual glory. They fight for their university. It's a pitifully weak member of any student body who cannot lend the use of his vocal cords for a few minutes to a cause for which the members of the football team are risking life and limb.

SOCIETY

Sunday afternoon, October 8th, the Phi Mu were at home to the members of the Faculty at the chapter house on East Gold from four-thirty to six. The guests were received by the actives in the rooms, which were appropriately decorated in the Phi Mu colors. Mrs. Peters and Mrs. Matson presided at the tea tables while the pledges served the guests.

The local chapter of Alpha Chi Omega has taken a bungalow at 113 North Maple for their chapter house. Miss Lucy Jane Clark of Psi chapter will act as chaperone. About seven girls will live at the house, according to present plans.

On Founders' Day, October 15, Alpha Gamma of Alpha Chi Omega will hold its annual banquet at the Alvarado Hotel at six o'clock.

Saturday night, the Student Body of the University of New Mexico was host to the members of the D. U. football team following the banquet given to the members of the two teams at the Country Club. At least, that was the original intention of the dance but it turned out rather the D. U. fellows were hosts to the students at U. N. M. The orchestra was very slow in arriving and accordingly, Lang of D. U. played until they came. By the time that the orchestra did put up an appearance it was time for the Denver University bunch to leave. Thereafter, the dance assumed the appearance of an ordinary Varsity dance in Roddy Hall. Nutt said. But seriously, the dance was at least a diversion, and if it lacked pep, the football game in the afternoon explained that.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA RUSH DANCE

Rush season for this semester was closed by the dance which Mrs. McLandress gave in honor of Alpha Gamma Gamma of Alpha Chi Omega Saturday, September 30, from 4 to 6. The affair was held at the Country Club which was fittingly decorated with autumn flowers. The floor in the main room was cleared for dancing, while those who wished played cards in the adjoining room. Punch was served on the porch throughout the afternoon and later in the evening delicious refreshments of ice cream, cakes and candies were served. The rushes were each presented with artistic round plaques, of perfume as favors.

The guests were: Mrs. G. S. McLandress, Mrs. L. B. Bice, Mrs. L. B. Bice, Mrs. Rockwood, Mrs. John Milne, Miss Josephine Parsons, Mrs. John D. Clark, Miss Edna Mosher, Mrs. Roy W. Johnson, Miss Louise Wilkinson, Vera Kieck, Flora Chess, Daphne Cobb, Norine Switzer, Lucy Jane Clark, Helen Wylie, Leona Beyle, Gertrude Soash, Helen Kim, Dorothy Goslitz, Helen Hemlin, Barbara Nell Thomas, Miriam Harold, Constance Walters, Helene Jackson, Juliet Fiescher, Helen Melvane, Carol Wilson, and Messrs. ### DEDICATION OF 1923 MIRAGE DECIDED

The first meeting of the new Mirage staff was held on Thursday, October 5th. It was unanimously decided to dedicate this year's "Bigger and Better Mirage" to Bruno Diekmann, an alumnus of the University and for several years treasurer of University athletics. Mr. Diekmann has given unshakingly of his time and, on certain occasions, of his money, for the support of Varsity athletics, and the proposed dedication was considered by the Mirage staff as a fitting first tribute of appreciation for Mr. Diekmann's work. The staff also discussed plans for amendment to the constitution of the Associated Students was read and enthusiastically endorsed.

Mary: "What are you looking at?"
Barbara Nell: "Nothing."
Mary: "Well, quit looking at me."
Sam: "I'd like to brain that fellow."
Wilkie: "It can't be done."

Maybe that cocky youngster who says that "he's as good as any Soph and he'd like to see them duck him" will get his wish gratified.

LOBOS LEAVE FOR U. OF C. GAME SATURDAY

Thursday evening, the Lobos, seventeen strong—sixteen men and Coach Johnson—left for Boulder on Number Eight with all the hopes of U. N. M. behind them. Ever since last Saturday when the fighting Parsons from Denver tore through the Varsity line to victory, Coach Johnson has been working the men to the limit and they have shown a decided improvement, and hopes are again rising, although neither Hopkins nor Dutton will be allowed to play, and Harrington has been unable to appear for practice at all during the week on account of a lame back from the D. U. game. Boulder's opening game was Saturday against Regis College affords little working hope to predict on the coming contest. Although the U. of C. team beat Regis twice as bad as D. U. did, both are open that Boulder can't do that to U. N. M.

The sixteen men who made the trip were: Jones, Popejoy, Bryan, Kelley, Greenleaf, Cartwright, Hammond, Grenko, L. Hernandez, Hernandez, Pearce, Ferguson, Stinnett, Greuter, and Harrington. There was some doubt at the time that this article was written whether Harrington would be able to make the trip, and the sixteenth man was still a man of mystery. There was some rumor that Captain Popejoy might go but that was still unverified.

twenty yards. Hernandez hit the line, but failed to gain. Jones went around left end for twenty yards, and Hernandez went around right end for five more. Popejoy hit the same spot for five yards, then Jones went through the same hole for seven yards and again for a single yard. A Lobo pass failed, and Hernandez hit left guard for four yards. Jones went through left tackle for three more, then attempted a punt which struck the Lobo line and bounded back, to be recovered by the Parsons.

The Ministers gained pretty consistently on line bucks and end runs, and completed one forward pass for fifteen yards out of several attempts. Real ran around the left end for twenty five yards to a touchdown which did not count because both teams were off side.

O'Donnell attempted a drop kick from the twenty-five yard line, but missed. An attempted forward pass was broken up by Popejoy, and Denver took time out for Williams. Williams was thrown for a five yard loss on an attempt around right end. O'Donnell attempted drop kick which failed. Harrington kicked to Bowman in the middle of the field, and he ran the ball back five yards. Keaton went around left end for five yards, Williams made five yards through right tackle, and Keaton lost five yards on a fumble on the third down. McLoughlin punted behind the Lobo goal.

Hernandez hit right tackle for four yards, and Varsity took time out for Harrington. Jones gained a few inches through right tackle and Harrington made two yards and a half. Harrington punted to Bowman who ran back ten yards from his forty-five yard line.

Williams skirted right end for ten yards. Cooper went in for Punt at center for the Parsons, and the quarter ended with the ball in the Minister's possession on the Lobo 45 yard line.

Second Quarter
Gadbois and Keaton hit the Lobo line for gains of two yards each, a forward pass failed, and O'Donnell attempted another drop kick which he failed to make good. Jones failed to gain through left tackle, Popejoy went through there for seven yards. Jones hit right tackle for no gain. Harrington punted to McLoughlin who ran the ball back fifteen yards. Keaton failed to gain through the line, Williams made two yards, then Keaton was stopped again for no gain. A forward pass to Bowman, fifteen yards, and a seven yard run, gave the Parsons twenty-two more yards. Keaton skirted right end for twelve yards and placed the ball almost on the goal line. Williams hit left tackle for no gain, then hit the same spot for two yards and a touchdown when the second quarter was six minutes old.

Greenleaf kicked to Lane on the Parsons forty yard line. Williams made five yards through left tackle, then hit the same spot for no gain. Gadbois went through center for thirteen yards on a fake play, and Keaton made four yards around right end. Williams hit left tackle for three yards, but Keaton failed to gain on an attempt at right tackle. McCauley went in for Bowman at quarter for the Parsons. O'Donnell attempted a drop kick which failed.

Jones hit right tackle for three yards but lost the ball which was recovered by Hutchinson for the Parsons. Williams went around right end for nine yards, and McCauley hit right guard for a yard. A forward pass, Williams to McCauley, 10 yards, gave the Ministers their second touchdown, with two and a half minutes still left of the first half. Gadbois kicked goal, making fourteen points all told.

O'Donnell kicked off to Harrington who ran the kick back twenty yards. Time out was called for Harrington. Jones punted to Bowman on the Parsons, forty yard line, and he ran the ball back twenty yards. Keaton skirted left end for five yards, and Williams made fifteen yards around right end. Canteleu was sent in for Bryan at the Lobo left wing. Williams lost a yard on an attempt through left tackle, then ran around right end for ten yards and the third touchdown. Fourth Quarter
Williams hit right tackle for sixteen yards, and Boyd went through left tackle for nine yards. Williams hit right tackle again for a yard. O'Donnell kicked off to Grenko who fumbled. Jones recovered the ball and ran it back fifteen yards. Hernandez went through the line for three yards. Stinnett went in for Cartwright at left tackle. ## LOCALS

President Hill returned Saturday night from a trip through the southern part of the state. During the trip he delivered two addresses at Clovis, one at Portales, one at Roswell, one at Artesia, two at Carlsbad, one at Alamogordo, one at Carizozo, and one at El Paso before a crowd which filled the great auditorium of the El Paso high school, and which included every teacher in the city schools of El Paso. President Hill states that in every town he visited the feeling that the State University has become an educational institution of the highest type is strikingly evident.

William Jennings Bryan addressed a throng which packed the high school auditorium and the surrounding halls to overflowing last Wednesday night, and which contained many University students. The "Great Commoner" played the Republican party in a rather jovial manner for what he considered a breach of the trust of the common people in shifting the burden of taxation from excess profits taxes to the shoulders of the poor, and pleaded for the return to power of the Democratic party, which, he said, had always championed the cause of the common people. Mr. Bryan spoke in the interest of Senator A. A. Jones' campaign for reelection to the United States Senate.

The Dearborn Independent of May 6, 1922, devotes two entire pages to an article entitled, "Indian Temples Reproduced to House A College," which gives a detailed description of the buildings of the University of New Mexico, together with an account of the remarkable progress that has been made, particularly in the last two years, toward raising the academic standard of the University to a plane on a level with that of the older state universities of the country, and illustrates the story with a picture of President Hill and with a full page of exterior and interior views of University buildings which are unique for their Pueblo style of architecture.

Dr. P. G. Cornish, former U. N. M. athlete, and later captain of the baseball team and quarterback of the football team at Yale, addressed the student body at last Friday's assembly. Dr. Cornish was introduced by Dean Eyre, and spoke on the subject of "The Ideals of the American Athlete." He deplored the practice prevalent in too many educational institutions of buying athletes and made a plea for clean athletics and for cooperation by the student body in making the University's athletic teams successful ones. Dr. Cornish's address was preceded by a vocal solo by Miss Maude RJordan and by the singing of Alma Mater by the student body.

Clifford Barnhart, affectionally known as "Sarah" has been visiting at the Pi Kappa Alpha House for the past few days. Sarah came up to see the Denver U. game and incidentally to give the campus and University the once over again. He says that he intends to return to school next semester to graduate with the Class of '23, but for the time being will remain at the metropolis of Santa Rosa.

PITFALL AND GIN

To Miss Flapper—
Blessings on thee, little dame—
Bare back girls with knees the same,
With thy rolled down silken hose,
And thy short transparent clothes;
With thy red lips, redder more,
Smeared with lipstick from the store;
And thy bobbed hair's jaunty grace,
From my heart I give thee joy—
Glad that I was born a boy.
(Journal)

This could also be paraphrased:

Blessings on thee little man—
Knicker'd boy, so spick and span,
With thy knee length woolen hose,
And thy diminutive childish clothes;
With thy red face, reddened more
When a Prof. insists you take the floor,
With sad look on thy face,
You take your again—with grace,
With thy heart you give him joy,
He passed it on the other boy.

Seems to me you're a little bit

THIS IS A BEAR OF A STORY....

Returning by aeroplane from the Willard fair last Thursday, Ray Thompson saw a real, live bear in the Sandias Mountains about four or five miles south of Box Canyon, all this in spite of the fact that Willard is generally considered to be a prohibition town. So firm is Thompson in the belief that it was a sure enough bear he saw that he has organized a hunting party to effect its capture and will brave the wilds of the Sandias some time in the near future, accompanied by Hugh Graham and Fred Russell with the avowed intention of bringing a bearskin home. Judging from the size of the arsenal that is being collected for the expedition, the rimrods are taking no chances on being caught at a disadvantage when they encounter friend Bruin.

WE ACCEPT THE RAZZBERRY
A Southern collegiate newspaper has favored us with the following:

U. N. M. Weekly,
Albuquerque, N. M.

Gentlemen:—We notice in the New Mexico Weekly for Friday, September 22nd, that you have "Two Hundred-Seventy Collegiate Students With Figures Incomplete."

Kindly accept our condolence on this terrible situation. Recent observations on our campus show that numbers of our students are also suffering from this same malady but are making heroic efforts to overcome same by the use of bupstads and Treo-Elastic Girdles.

Hoping that our suggestion may in some way succeed in alleviating the pains of incompleteness, we remain,
Sympathetically yours,
James Willis Posey,
Allen L. Hume.

Betts—"I saw that fellow over yonder walking with Pearl."

Bruce—"I always thought there was something wrong with him and now I know that there's going to be."

GRID DOPE

Our old rivals, the Aggies, took Simmons College of Abilene into camp, 6 to 0, at Abilene, after Simmons had beaten the New Mexico Military Institute, 19 to 0, which makes it appear that the Lobos will not be disappointed in expecting a wicked battle when they meet the Farmers on Thanksgiving Day.

Judging from comparative scores, the University of Colorado has a stronger team than Denver University, for Colorado trimmed St. Regis, 14 to 0, after D. U. had only succeeded in beating them, 7 to 0. Comparative scores, however, are more often misleading than otherwise.

Captain John Popejoy, star tackle, will be unable to lead his team in tomorrow's game with Colorado, a loss that will be keenly felt not only because his strength is needed in the line, but also because his presence on the field is needed to help keep the Lobo morale at high pitch.

Buster Kelly, halfback on Roswell High School's state championship eleven last year, is doing splendid work in the new berth he has found at right end for the Lobos. His specialty is grabbing passes out of the ozone a yard or so above the reach of enemy gridsters.

Bob Cartwright deserves credit for the game fight he put up against the Parsons, in spite of the fact that he was by far the lightest man on the line of scrimmage.

From the snappy manner in which Tom Popejoy has been handling the team in practice as quarterback, a decided improvement should be noticed in the action of the Lobos at Boulder tomorrow, should Tom start at the quarterback position.

D. U. got away with many an end run Saturday, using screen interference. Should Colorado use the same style of interference, the Lobos will not find it nearly so hard to break up.

Jones, as usual, was the individual star of the D. U. game. Many football critics who saw the game give their opinion that Jones is a better man than Williams of D. U., last year's All Conference half.

The absence of Hopkins and Dutton from the Lobo line Saturday was keenly felt, and contributed greatly to the top heavy score. Both of these men will get into action in the Arizona game.

CO-ED REFLECTIONS

The end of a perfect day was fittingly celebrated Saturday night with a funeral gathering at Rodey Hall. The music was the usual thing and the floor—nuff said.

We've often wondered just how much a boil cramps one's natural style, but after observing the yell leader—we know.

Love is a wonderful thing—it even causes a woman to admire a man's perfectly bald head and think it makes him distinguished looking.

We learned in psychology there are two types of the leisure class—the idle class and plain hobos. At last the campus products have come into their own in the leisure class.

Experience and age are supposed to make one blasé, but in some cases only long pants are needed.

Prepare, ye Frosh, to weep and wail. After next week we expect to have the campus lose some of its verdure when the six weeks grades are out.

Even if our center can't play at Boulder they might take him along and let him accidentally trip and fall on one or two of their players.
