UNIVERSITY OPENS FOR BIGGEST YEAR IN HISTORY

Enrollment Largest In Annals of School; New Professors In Every Department; Enthusiasm Expressed At New Outlook.

Not for years, has the University opened with the outlook so bright for a successful year, as it was upon the opening day of the school year 1919-20. With the largest initial registration in the history of the school, with a faculty greatly strengthened during the summer vacation, and with new equipment, and other improvements, the school bids well to have the most prosperous year in its history.

Total registration figures are not available yet, owing to the rush of work in the registrar's office. However it is definitely known that the enrollment exceeds that of any former year. Men are in the majority, there being about half as many again as girls.

One of the most encouraging facts connected with the opening of school, is that so many former students of the institution are back again after one or two years spent in war service.

Both dormitories are filled to capacity now and some of the girls are housed in Rose cottage and private homes. There is little spare room in the dining room in spite of the fact that recent enlargements have been made.

The Senior class is the largest that the school has ever known, numbering some fifteen or more members. A significant fact in connection with this is that more than half of the class are men, while in the two previous years, there were only two or three male graduates.

The Pecos valley is well represented, especially the towns of Roswell, Carlsbad, Portales, Artesia and Clovis.

Albuquerque and Bernalillo county lead in number of students, as in former years. The northern part of the state is not as well represented as might be wished, but Vegas and Raton have good representation here.

THE FIRST ASSEMBLY.

The first assembly for this year was held Friday morning at 11 o'clock in Rodey hall. It was the occasion of the students' first public meeting with the new president, Dr. David Spence Hill, and as Dr. Hill expressed it, gave them an opportunity to "look him over."

The faculty was neatly arranged on the platform and the crowd of students and townspeople filled the auditorium. Vice President Hodgkin presided, and opened the meeting with a few happy words of welcome. President Hill's entrance was greeted by a regular old pre-war yell.

Following an instrumental solo by Mrs. Faw, Professor Lukken, the new head of the music department of the University, sang "Come Beloved," and "The Little Banjo." It was Professor Lukken's first appearance in Albuquerque, and his hearers were delighted with his voice, the second selection being received with special favor.

In introducing President Hill, Dr. Hodgkin stated that during his more than twenty years connection with the University he had never seen a year which began with as much promise as the present one. Dr. Hodgkin introduced Dr. Hill as the new head of the University, to whom he had formally turned over the reins of government temporarily held by him during the summer. After greeting the students, Dr. Hill requested that out of respect for the fellow-students who served in the war, the audience stand a moment in silence, followed by the singing of two verses of "America."

The president took as the subject of his address, "A State University." Developing the subject in an informal manner, Dr. Hill spoke first of the purpose of education, declaring that the aim of education cannot be properly defined in one word, nor its purpose limited to any certain system. He stated that education should produce individuals who embodied efficiency, morality, and altruism, the ability to "carry their own weight" in the world and to contribute something to the common welfare of society.

Speaking of the machinery of education, Dr. Hill outlined the great educational system of American democracy, saying that no one portion could be called the most important, but that each part was essential to the proper functioning of this whole machine. He called attention particularly to the opportunity and responsibility that is given to the college man or woman as a member of the small group which is expected to produce the leaders of the next generation, emphasizing the fact that college students form only one-third of one per cent of the population of the country.

Taking up the University of New Mexico, the speaker pointed out the great material investment represented in the University, amounting to about $250,000.00, and an annual expenditure for each student of approximately $500.00. Other points mentioned were the opportunities offered by the University in the different

FOOTBALL PRACTICE WELL UNDER WAY

Squad of Forty Men Reports to Coach McGough; Some Old Material Back.

Football practice began as quickly as possible after registration. Prospects for the best teams that ever trotted out on New Mexico Varsity's gridiron will be seen this year. The squad will average about forty men. Most of them have had experience with the pig skin. Coach MacGough, a former Colgate star tackle and all-American, surveys the prospects with much enthusiasm and feels confident of downing the Varsity's old rivals. Stiff practice is rapidly getting the men in shape. The most prominent men in all probability around which the nucleus of the team will be Grant Mann, a former high school star, and mainstay of N. M. M. I. at Roswell for two years, also an all southwestern half. He is one of the fastest and best know football men in this section. Claude Mann can be seen hanging around quarter, he helped lead the well known Mari Island naval team to victory of the Pacific coast in '18. Some of the other men trying out for back field positions are Shipley, Brenamen, Skanzani, and McClure.

These men are all former football men of experience and should make one of the fastest back fields in the southwest.

The ends are rapidly getting in trim with such men as W. Hopewell, Gerphide, Foraker, Gray, McArthur and Booker, the last mentioned is a former Varsity player. Gray has also been seen on this field. W. Hopewell seems to be showing college form, a man of experience having played end on one of the most famous prep school teams in the East. Gerphide has lots of speed and pep and at the present is leading the ends at a lively gait.

The line will not be so heavy but will make up the weight in speed. Douglas Howden, who played as sub on the 1916 championship team is out, and will push some one for a place on the line; others such as Greenleaf, Craig, Romero are making a good impression and should by the opening game be able to start something.

A Freshman team will be formed after picking the Varsity eleven, they will play the high school, Menaul and other teams if possible. Negotiations are under way to arrange games with University of Arizona and Texas, School of Mines, the 8th and 15th. These are good schools and will put out a bunch of real football players.

With such bright prospects the school should get behind the boys and pass a good word for the squad. The student body is always needed

DOINGS IN GREEK LETTER WORLD

Being neither handicapped nor protected by rushing and pledging rules, the men's fraternities on the hill have already pledged several men. The girls' organizations however have not even done any rushing, since they are governed by the rulings of the pan-hellenic association of the University.

The pledges to the men's organizations are: Pi Kappa Alpha—George Hite, Las Vegas, N. M.; Hiram Cudabac, Albuquerque, N. M.; Everett Grantham, Carlsbad, N. M.; George Arnot, Albuquerque, N. M.; J. Sterling Ward, Artesia, N. M.; Elmore Reynolds, Albuquerque, N. M.; Merle Williams, Las Vegas, N. M.; Oscar Ussery, Carlsbad, N. M.

Sigma Chi—Ralph Payton, Albuquerque, N. M.; Walter Berger, Albuquerque, N. M.; Glenn Rogers, Portales, N. M.; Mel Rogers, Portales, N. M.; Sam Wells, Ventura, Cal.; Al Wells, Ventura, Cal.; Bob Alwert, Atchison, Kan.; Ed. Albers, Atchinson, Kan.; John Fernstone, Topeka, Kan.; Hugh Graham, Albuquerque, N. M.; Tom Calkins, Albuquerque, N. M.

Alpha Delta—W. S. Peters, Capitán, N. M.; Jack Kiss, U. of Southern Cal.; Allen Papen, Las Vegas; Robert Cartwright, Dawson, N. M.; Thomas Bramlet, Portales, N. M.

KIYOTES HOWLING.

Following their annual custom, the Kiyotes began to howl, immediately after the opening of school. Tuesday night was the time for the first gathering. At that time leaders were chosen for the coming year. Earl Gerhardt was chosen as pack leader, Swede Olds, lieutenant leader, and Chalmers Bowers, provider for the pack.

For the benefit of those new to the school we will say that the Kiyote Klub is an organization of students at the men's dormitory for purposes of mutual aid and encouragement may also be added that the initiations are wierd enough, to make the initiate's hair stand on end. When the Kiyotes yell, it is time for all male students to seek cover, or take the consequences. Town students are the especial meat for these carnivorous animals. Enough said.

and has been ever ready to give the Varsity fighters in the past a good backing, so get behind 'em and make this a banner year for football.

The games scheduled so far are as follows:

October 18th, Socorro School of Mines, here.

October 25th, Colorado School of Mines, here.

November 1st, N. M. M. I. at Roswell.

Thanksgiving, Cruces Aggies, here.

PROLOGUE.

The U. N. M. Weekly makes its first appearance this week, without an editor. The man who was elected last year failed to return to the Varsity this year. This issue is purely the result of voluntary work on the part of several of last year's students.

In a few days the students will have an opportunity to elect an editor. The person elected should be one who not only has ability, but who has the best interests of the school at heart, one who knows the history and traditions of the school, and one who will not be affected by any outside influences.

Think over the matter, so that you will be able to express your preference when the election takes place.

LET'S GO, VARSITY!

The University of New Mexico opened Wednesday, October 1st, for the greatest year in its history. If you don't believe it, just "stick around" a while and be shown. One of the best indications that this is going to be a great year is the fact that more than two hundred students have already signed up to "stick around" for one quarter at least.

Hokona is literally overflowing with "butterfly-maidens," and our famous Rose cottage is being used as a temporary annex to provide quarters for a number of girls. Several more have rooms in homes near the campus. Kwataka, with his cottage wings, is able to cover all the "man-eagles" that have so far come on the hill, but the old dorm is packed with Freshmen, and the Kiyote Klub is rejoicing over the prospect of several large installments of would-be vocalists to try out. In addition to the dormitories, the fraternity and sorority houses are full and still filling.

More important than numerical strength, perhaps, is the new strength we have gained thru the reorganization of the University under a new president and with new members of the faculty. The new administration has already accomplished much, and gives promise of much more to come. The faculty, both new and old, from President Hill down, have shown spirit and energy, and will have the active cooperation of the students. The people of Albuquerque are backing the University with more enthusiasm than they have ever evidenced before, and a new spirit seems to be abroad on the campus—a spirit recognized by the older students as the same old spirit of U. N. M., come back to make its home on the campus again.

That spirit has always said, "Go New Mexico," and this year New Mexico is ready to go. Are we going? Go out and take a look at the football field. Thirty-five huskies answered the first call for football men. That's the answer. We're started Varsity! LET'S GO!

Boy scouts are good scouts.

This year's boy scouts are next year's good citizens.

Seeing stars in the daytime is something to worry about.

Being an "ism" the end of bolshevism always has been in sight.

Some of the names for this season's straw hats are almost as funny as the hats.

This war-weary world longs to settle down to peace and settle up for the war.

An anarchist is always impractical, even when undertaking to plant a bomb.

There are some foreigners who won't have to ask for permits to leave the country.

Some men are as untiring in their chosen callings as is a German propagandist.

On the other hand, the summer will be just as short for the fellow who rocks the boat.

Perhaps the League of Nations ought to organize a sort of juvenile court for those little new nations.

Boy scout ethics embody all the primitive virtues and nurture good citizenship. Lend a hand!

Suffrage for women is the happiest solution possible of the problem of silencing militant suffragists.

Mars can't see the things we do here on earth, and we ought to be thankful in many instances.

Motorists are now compelled to admit that there are worse explosions than those of collapsing tires.

Bolshevism does not need to be taught. It is simply the ignorant expression of inherent perversity.

Returning Yanks seem likely to testify that Russia is the best place to be out of that they were ever in.

The farmer boy's new goal may not lead to the city, but his father's automobile certainly knows the way.

The only time an anarchist's bomb ever helps improve existing conditions is when it kills the person planting it.

The government never succeeds in imposing a luxury tax that keeps up with the direct gains of the profiteer.

Thrill may be a cure for bolshevism but it won't cure the bolshevik who never works and never has money to save.

The condition of the peas and tomato plants in city gardens bears further witness that this is good corn weather.

Having left the piano, to become a statesman, Paderewski will find it much the same—they want something popular.

The Alpha Delta Fraternity gave an enjoyable open house and smoker Sunday afternoon at their home, on Central Avenue to which about thirty-four guests came and wiled away a few hours.

An optometrist is one who refracts or "tests" the eyes without the use of drugs or drops. He never treats diseases of the eye, specializing in the fitting of glasses.

ent lines of study, the equipment provided, etc., and the effort that is to be made this year thru the new department of hygiene to conserve the health of students and the people of the state. The president also mentioned the fact that the personnel of administration had been reorganized on a business basis. Speaking of the needs of the University, Dr. Hill gave as the most urgent, more students, stronger and more active alumni organization, larger appropriations, particularly for use in the building of dormitories, and unselfish cooperation of the students and student organizations. He emphatically declared that no society or group within the University is as big as the University itself, and this statement was received with hearty applause. Indeed the president's entire speech met with enthusiastic response from the students.

At the conclusion Cheer-Leader Patton very appropriately called for "Go New Mexico," and it was evident from the spirit of the yell that everyone was ready to help New Mexico go this year.
