NEW STANDS GRACE
UNIVERSITY FIELD

Lobos Greeted by Bleachers as They Return From Battle; Coach Says "Great"

Stacato reports of hammers driving nails, the scrape of picks and shovels, cries of "Gimme a brace!" and "Bring up a footboard!" filled the air on University Field Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, as the entire male contingent of the student body ran up the new bleachers. Dean Eyre and Professor Carey, in their old army duds, bossed the job, and they were assisted by designated members of the Engineering College.

Enthusiasm ran high as the undergraduates reported to their respective squad leaders, and from the beginning of several seemingly inexhaustible piles of lumber the framework of the structure took shape. Dean Mitchell, Dr. Haught, Dr. Hessler, Dr. Coan and Professor Feasel represented the Arts and Science faculty on the field, and were among the ranks of the toilers at all times.

Six sections long and twelve tiers high, the new bleachers will accommodate over seven hundred spectators, while the old stands are still in place, and will bring the comfortable seating capacity well over the thousand mark. The bleachers are sway braced and reinforced with foot-rests and wide seats, and command an excellent view of every part of the gridiron.

When the Lobos returned Sunday night, after having dinner, they were brought to the field and shown the evidence of student body support. The squad was unanimous in asserting that not even the Colorado College stands could equal those of the University, and the warriors spent considerable time inspecting every detail of the project, praising it highly. Coach Johnson, after walking around, beneath and over the stands, exclaimed, "Great!" with his customary emphasis, and Frank Neher, who nearly missed the Colorado trip because of his desire to see the bleachers through, delayed his evening meal until nine-thirty in order to admire the structure.

It is now planned to reserve the two middle sections of the stand for the student cheering section, and ropes will be placed about the division to enable all undergraduates to be together. President Hill mentioned the possibility of having the rear of the bleachers boarded up to keep the winds out and he is now directing his efforts towards that end.

PRAGER SECURES CITY
GAS FOR UNIVERSITY

Mr. Arthur Prager, manager of the Albuquerque Gas, Electric Light and Power Company, reported to President Hill of the State University a few days ago that the request of the board of regents of the University had been granted with regard to the extension of gas mains to the University.

The Sara Reynolds Hall for Home Economics, now probably the best equipped plant of its kind in the whole Southwest, and than for its size there is none better in the United States, has been delayed in full operation by the lack of city gas. The State University owns and operates a miniature gas plant but it is now inadequate to supply the Home Economics department, the Chemistry department, the Geology department and the dining hall. The extension of the regular gas main from the city through the efforts of Mr. Prager will increase the efficiency of several departments of the University, including that of the Home Economics department in the Sara Reynolds Hall.

WEEKLY OCCUPIES
PUBLICATION'S OFFICE

A long felt University want is to be filled. By the time this edition of the Weekly goes to press the staff of the paper will be occupying new quarters in one of the men's dormitory cottages. The office is the southwest room of the cottage immediately behind the Varsity Shop. The Weekly office is one of the concrete evidences of the splendid unity of spirit existing between the administration and student body. When the need of the Weekly office was brought before the administration by the editor the response was immediate in that the assurance was given that a cottage would be redecorated and furnished by the University.

Contrary to the opinion which some members of the student body seem to hold, this office is not to be a center of disturbance and convenient loafing place. Certain rules are to be conformed to and quiet is to be maintained so that those working on Weekly copy may be able to write most efficiently and turn out the best material possible. No unnecessary nitrogeneous compounds are to be connected at the office and all unnecessary hangers-out and other litter are requested to make themselves as infrequent as possible.

If any student or faculty member has a campus story or interesting information to impart he will be cordially welcomed at the Weekly quarters. It is a student institution for the benefit of the students. The complete idea of the office is to produce the best publication possible. The office does not belong to the staff only, but is the instrument of the student body. The staff requests undergraduate aid to maintain the most orderly and efficient office possible.

SCRUBS TO TACKLE
ALBUQUERQUE HIGHS

Saturday, Oct. 22, is the date set for the first football game to be played on the University field this year, when Coach Moore's hard hitting eleven will try to mob up on the scrubs. The Higs have been training hard since their defeat at the hands of the Indian school, and their team is reported much strengthened by changes in the lineup.

Coach Johnson has not yet announced the lineup of the second team, but since all members of the squad not on the Varsity are eligible, no difficulty should be encountered in lining up a willing organization. The scrubs will probably have a little edge in the weight, but since the Albuquerque eleven has already appeared in two contests and has had opportunity to remedy its weaknesses, the dope will probably be a little in their favor.

CAREY IS WALLOPED
UPON HIS BIRTHDAY

By Joe Bursey

The bleachers were finished. The perspiring nail drivers had satisfied their school spirit for the moment. They craved diversion. Down towards the south end of the bleachers an engineering student whispered some startling information. "Professor Carey's birthday! Grab him!"

Hot Dog! Where was St. Patrick? Probably off chasing snakes. His disciple was taken and unceremoniously wrapped around a barrel. One brown boot was peeled from his foot and willing hands, with motherly affection, applied it to the proper place. The victim squirmed for a minute, then arose with a bewildered look and good-naturedly admitted that it was the first time in many years that he had been paddled on his birthday.

VARSITY NOSED OUT IN FIRST
GAME BY COLORADO TIGERS, 7-0GREENLEAF TO LEAD
VARSITY THIS YEAR

Frank Greenleaf, affectionately and universally known as "Fat," was elected to captain the Lobos for the remainder of the current season. Greenleaf was chosen on the all-southwestern eleven last year and was a large factor in wrecking the Colorado offense in Saturday's sensational contest. He will graduate next year and will take part in track activities in the spring.

Ed. Note.—"Fat" will be found in back of the counter in the Varsity Shop to receive congratulations.)

KASEMAN MAKES HIS THIRD CONTRIBUTION

Will Help Furnish New Addition to Women's Dormitory

At the weekly assembly of the State University in Rodey Hall on Friday morning, President David S. Hill announced that he had just received a check for five hundred dollars, a gift from Mr. George A. Kazeman. This money is to be applied towards the furnishing of the new addition to the Women's Residential Hall which is now nearing completion and relieves the University of considerable embarrassment in an emergency. President Hill reported that the gift came readily from Mr. Kazeman when approached and was without premeditation upon Mr. Kazeman's part. This is the third gift which Mr. Kazeman has made to the University upon similar emergencies, the first being a gift of two thousand dollars which started the fund for the erection of the new Home Economics building, and another of four hundred dollars made for the publication of a research upon a geological subject as related to oil production made by Professor Ellis of the University.

When the announcement of this third gift of Mr. Kazeman was made to the students they evinced great appreciation by loud and prolonged applause. President Hill endeavored to obtain Mr. Kazeman's presence at the assembly upon this occasion, but he was too modest to appear.

WELCOME VARSITY WITH SHORT RALLY IN RODEY

Rodey Hall was the scene of a snappy meeting last Tuesday at twelve thirty. The assembly was held in honor of the Lobos, just returned from pinching the Tigers' tail. Eddie MacGoogin, official pep injector, was in charge of the ceremonies, and introduced the all-star squad to the tune of "He's a Lobo! Who's a Lobo?" Speeches and apologies were made by the various members of the Varsity, which were preceded and followed by the entire repertoire of New Mexico war whoops.

Coach Johnson made a short talk complimenting the fighting spirit of the eleven, particularly emphasizing the conduct of the team on the trip. Frank Neher, president of the student body also made a few snappy remarks on the pep and vinegar demonstrated by the undergraduates. Manager Fernstrom was the last speaker. In his talk he emphasized the fact that credit must be given to the men who have devoted their time on the field, but who were unable to make a place on the Varsity. School spirit was still running high when MacGoogin ended the meeting by leading a final "Noo Mex-1-co!"

Telegram received by Doctor Hill from Coach Johnson after the game:

"New Mexico outplayed Colorado College in all departments of the game. Lobos lost on penalties. Jones, J. Popejoy, White, Greenleaf starred. In fact, all men starred. No one hurt."

R. W. JOHNSON.

Fighting doggedly, outweighed man for man, with the breaks of the game against them, the New Mexico Lobos lost to Colorado College on the latter's field last Saturday by the score of 7-0. This result, however, is considered by all Cherry and Silver supporters to be a virtual victory. Last season's contest with the Tigers ended in a 41-3 count in their favor, and the stand made by Coach Johnson's eleven this year was a distinct and disconcerting surprise to the Colorado Springs combination.

Wearied from the five hundred mile trip, the Varsity had a slight work-out Friday afternoon, and Saturday trotted out on the Tigers' field with the first game of the season before them. The Colorado aggregation, however, had played three games, winning all of them by large margins and were chuck full of confidence. New Mexico kicked off, and with the first play that the Tigers attempted the power of the Lobos' line became apparent. Time after time the Colorado offense was wrecked by Greenleaf and John Popejoy, while Fergusson, Hernandez and Pearce tore holes through the opposing line for the Varsity backs to dash through.

It was only the fact that the unseasoned New Mexico eleven incurred heavy penalties that prevented the ball from being constantly in the Colorado half of the gridiron. The Tigers greatly surpassed the Varsity in the use of the forward pass and completed a number of long heaves that ate up the ground battled over by the Lobos.

Jones, at quarter for the U. N. M. combination, proved to be the sensation of the struggle, skirting the wings for long gains and eluding the Tiger tacklers at will. Walter Hernandez, although badly battered, was the mainstay of the Cherry and Silver defense, analyzing plays and breaking them up with his customary effectiveness. The Colorado coach, at the end of the contest, remarked that Hernandez was unequalled by any player he had ever seen for the force with which he hit. Calkins and Wilfey played a slashing game until the end of the second quarter, when they were forced to retire from the game through injuries. Dow and Tom Popejoy replaced them, and after Bernhardt sustained a hurt rib, Mapes took his place. The character of the game that the patched eleven played is shown by the fact that Colorado was only once within scoring distance during the last two frames, while the Lobos were at all times dangerous.

The third quarter of the struggle was the most hopeful for the visitors. Jones got away for a number of long gallops, while Blanco nabbed several passes from the air, and if the Lobos had not been repeatedly penalized the score might have read differently. However, fifteen and twenty yard handicaps were continually imposed on the Varsity for holding and offside, and the final whistle sounded

"NOW THAT WE HAVE IT—"

Rarely does the student body of a University display the same united spirit of co-operation and loyalty to their Alma Mater as have the undergraduates of New Mexico since the beginning of the current semester. We are proud of every man and woman in the institution, and we are proud to be numbered among them.

We point to the splendid showing made by our Lobos against a team which outweighed them, which had played in three games before meeting them, which was picked from a student body over three times as large, and which, by all precedents, should have defeated them by a large score; we point to the student rallies held, in which staunch support has been evidenced by hearty cheering and enthusiastic singing; and we point to the new bleachers which adorn University Field, a symbol of the willingness of our men to do manual labor for their Alma Mater.

Keep this spirit in evidence. It is one of the most wonderful things in your whole college life. Apply it to every activity in which you engage; your daily routine should be governed by your constant pride in the University of New Mexico, the teams which represent her, and the activities which comprise her life.

Keep the spirit living!

LOCAL SUPPORT.

Following we reprint an editorial of the "Evening Herald" for October 17. It is an evidence that there are forces working for the University in Albuquerque, and proof that the support we receive will steadily increase. We thank the "Herald".

BACK THE LOBOS.

The University of New Mexico football team, in its first game, on a strange field, held the strong Colorado College team to a single score in Saturday's game. The careful report of the game telegraphed to The Sunday Herald shows that the Lobos played a courageous, handy game throughout, that the team has responded quickly to good coaching and that it is a credit to the University.

Football at the University of New Mexico has not attracted much local interest in past seasons. The game, like the institution, has been entitled to much more cordial support and much more enthusiastic local backing than it has received.

Now we have a team at the University with genuine possibilities. It should be given the most hearty backing. We can have just as good football in New Mexico as in any other state if we want it. The sure way to prove that we want it is to recognize a real effort to furnish good football. That kind of effort is being put forth now. When the University plays on its home field, turn out.

The University Chapter, American Association of Engineers, held a meeting on Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the P. M. building.

RULES ANNOUNCED FOR PUBLICATION'S OFFICE

Following is the copy of the agreement entered into by the staffs and the administration:

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Board of Regents on September 27, 1921, the request of Mr. George White was carefully considered, and the use of a building desired for students' publications office was granted, subject to the following regulations:

1. The Students' Publications Office shall not be open before eight o'clock on any morning and shall be closed and vacant after 10 o'clock every night.

2. Card playing or other games of chance will not be permitted in the Students' Publications Office.

3. The Students' Publications Office, while intended as a place where the Publications' staffs may work in comfort and free from unreasonable restrictions, shall not be used for a leading place or in any other way than as a place for the transaction of business.

5. Improper language or conduct shall not be tolerated.

6. The use of the office is permitted only to the male members of the Publications' staffs, and no women shall be allowed in the office except that women members of the staffs may attend called meetings, when permission for the meeting has been granted by the Committee on Student Affairs.

7. Rental of five dollars a month to be paid to the financial secretary for light, heat, etc.

8. The students agree to keep premises in a clean, sanitary condition at all times.

9. The students agree to surrender property at any time when so requested by the University authorities.

GARCIA MAKES HIT WITH STUDENT BODY

Mariano Garcia, talented young pianist of Albuquerque, was the feature of last week's assembly. Mr. Garcia is the son of the Mexican consul who now resides in Albuquerque. Wherever he has played he has met with immediate success and has come to be known as the "nineteen year old marvel." He was at his best in the "Hungarian Rhapsody" and was persistently encored.

Miss Elsie Ruth Dykes, a student at the University, opened the program with a delightful piano solo. Miss Hortense Switzer, another of Albuquerque's talented musicians, rendered a vocal solo that was received with great applause.

Following the musical program a pep meeting was held. Cheers were given and members of the faculty and talented members of the student body gave short speeches relative to the creation of the bleachers and the reception of the football team.

Members of the student body who spoke are: William Stahl, who spoke on "local color" as applied to building bleachers; Pugh, orator; Horgan, cheer leader; Mary Sands, president of the Y. W. C. A.; and Frank Reeve, president of the Freshman class. Dean Eyre and Professor Carey, both of the engineering school, gave advice concerning the erection of the bleachers. Miss McCormick, girls' physical director, told the boys that the building of the bleachers was an act of chivalry, and they were soon to make a "hit" with the girls.

Plans were made for the reception of the Lobos upon their return from Colorado.

The N. N. M. I. eleven defeated the fast team of Clarendon College last Saturday at Clarendon, Texas. The score was 19 to 10. The work of Willard, ex-University student and brother of the Varsity half, was praised in the Roswell papers. Bert Boyer of Albuquerque was also a star.

Dr. L. B. Mitchell, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, took Rev. Thomas Calkins' place in the lineup last Sunday at Belen, delivering a sermon at the Methodist church, of which Calkins is pastor.

The Poet Says:
Julia, since I may not gain
Any heaven, anyhow,
Would it be to great a sin
If I write upon your brow?
Would you hold I am too fresh
If with trembling finger tips,
I compose a gay ballade,
Or a sonnet on your lips?
And sweet Julia, you'll allow
If you'll only understand,
I might make a jewel in rhyme,
On each finger of your hand.

Julia Replies:
At first I thought to have you write
These things on me a dainty caper,
But think of my complexion, Sir,
And use a slate or piece of paper.

UNIVERSITY HIGHTS

She passed me walking up the hill,
My heart paused all alert;
When from the trees there sprang a breeze
That tangled in her skirt.
She passed me with a careful smile
With grave untroubled eyes,
She did not know the wind's that blow
Can make men very wise.
Could she have held my place instead
The modest little elf.
She'd rime and sigh the same as I
And love her own sweet self.

SORORITY MAGIC

Said the famous female magician turning back her cuffs, "You see I have in my hands a pledge. I have said 'Alone, alone, alone!' I don't believe you!" cried the lady near the aisle. "Presto, change!" said the performer, "the pledge is not inside the box!" and she pointed to a little receptacle already nearly full of similar pledges. The lady on the aisle sprang to her feet and made three rapid passes in the air. "I'm some little magician myself," she shouted, and behold! there was the little pledge in the palm of her hand. Just then a handsome gentleman with wavy hair on the other side of the aisle said "Ahem!" so loudly that he blew the little pledge off the lady's hand; whereupon she rolled under a chair and refused to come out despite all entreaties. The curtain slowly descended upon the embarrassed performer amid snickers from the audience.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA.

Founder's Day Banquet.—The loving cup was passed around and all the new silverware had its chance at the Alpha Chi Annual Founder's Day Banquet, which was held at their house last Saturday night. Pledges, actives and alumnae were present to enjoy the jolly evening.

Miss Jessie Harrington, of Cerrillos, a member of the local chapter, spent the week end at the chapter house.

Miss Mary Ann Cross of Iota Chapter, University of Illinois, was another visitor at the Alpha Chi house last week.

ALPHA DELTA PI.

Miss Maude Nelson and Miss Mabel Dunn, Alpha Delta Pi pledges, have moved into the fraternity house.

A. D. P. announces the addition of an egg beater and a new percolator to the house furnishings.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA.

Mrs. R. H. Kellogg and her mother, Mrs. Q. E. Fall, Kappas from Iowa, visited at the local chapter house for a few days last week.

The Kappas held a ukelele party Monday night, serenading at the other chapter houses.

ALPHA DELTA.

The Alpha Deltas will be holding a house party all next week, when the entire bunch gets together taking out the partitions in their new home. When the dust clears away the result will be a large reception chamber suitable for dances and other entertainments.

PI KAPPA ALPHA.

W. H. McCann, Denver attorney, and District Princeps, spent a couple of days on the campus securing data on the local chapter. During his stay he was a guest at the house.

SIPMA CHI.

Smoker.—A smoker was held Friday evening at the Sigma Chi house, the alumni being the guests at the occasion. Havana perfectos opened up the channels of conversation and a first class time was accomplished, before the smoke cleared away.

The Sigs are preparing for their homecoming week, when they expect to have visiting members from all over the state.

WILL SOON SELECT NEW KYOTE LEADER

With the removal of Pack Leader Dixon to the Alpha Delta house, plans are being laid by the Kyotes towards the selection of a new head. "Dick" served a necessarily short term, but during his reign many improvements in the organization have been effected and the society has achieved great unity and concerted strength. No information can be secured as to his probable successor.

Some time next week the "Pups" will be led through the mystic rites of initiation, and their reception is being carefully prepared. Nearly twenty whelps will take the oath and will help to comprise the largest pack ever existing in Kwataka.

The Y. W. C. A. held a meeting at Hokona last Wednesday at 12:30.

Prof. Hessler Entertains.

Professor Hessler has extended an invitation to the Pipe and Pen Club to visit his home on Columbia avenue next Saturday evening. Entertainment of a suitable nature will be furnished the scribes, and that an evening profitable to all will be had is a foregone conclusion.

Euquereuqubla will stage a large party in the girls' gymnasium some time this month. The affair will be in the nature of a Hallowe'en festival and dance.

VARSIY NOSED OUT BY COLORADO TIGERS

with the ball in Tiger territory.

The Varsity, since the result of the game with Colorado, has a decided edge on the rest of the teams to be met this year, as the Tigers are among the strongest contenders for the Rocky Mountain Conference title. November fifth the Lobos journey to El Paso to oppose the Texas School of Mines; on November nineteenth the Arizona Wildcats will be seen in action on University field; and the Turkey day classic with the Aggies will also be played here. It is thought that the Indian school combination, which successfully defeated the High School warriors, will be brought up on the Hill for a practice game with the Lobos. Negotiations are also pending with Denver University for a game to be played here on some date in the latter part of this month.

The lineup for the game last Saturday was as follows:

White, right end.
Greenleaf, right tackle.
Hernandez, right guard.
Pearce, center.
J. Popejoy, left tackle.
Bernhardt, left end.
Jones, quarter back.
Calkins, left halfback.
W. Hernandez, fullback.
Substitutes: Mapes for Bernhardt; Dow for Wilfey; T. Popejoy for Calkins; Stinnett for Fergusson; Greuter for R. Hernandez.

Miss Lillian Patton takes this means of announcing to the student body in particular and the world in general that she got an A in the last quiz in Biology.

The eleven of the State Agricultural College easily defeated the team representing the Texas Athletic Club of El Paso, scoring thirty-two points while their opponents were unable to tally. The game was played at El Paso.

SELL APPLIANCE TO U. N. M. AT COST PRICE

The University authorities report that Mr. Arthur Prager of the Albuquerque Gas and Electric Company has arranged with the manufacturers to furnish the State University of New Mexico with a new automatic electric dishwasher at a cost of less than half price. The dishwasher is manufactured by the Western Electric Company and will be given a thorough trial at the University by the Home Economics department. The dishwasher, at the low price indicated, is being paid for out of the contribution made by Mr. Joshua Reynolds.
