HEALTH LABORATORY AT STATE UNIVERSITY IS DOING BIG WORK

143 Cases Handled by Laboratory in August, and 200 in September.

The free laboratory for the bacteriological examination of disease specimens, for all citizens of the state, is being rushed these days at the University in Albuquerque.

This laboratory was established and is maintained by the co-operation of the State Department of Health and the State University of New Mexico. Although operating in painfully limited quarters, Miss Myrtle Greenfield in charge, is able to make scientific examinations of specimens coming to the laboratory from anxious parents, men and women and children, from every part of the State of New Mexico. Such a bacteriological and microscopic examination removes all doubt in the matter of diagnosis of disease and makes subsequent treatment more certain and curative. For example:

Since the public schools have opened there has been quite a bit of diphtheria over the state. As an aid in controlling the several outbreaks the State Public Health Laboratory has been called upon to make culture both of patients and contacts to determine the termination of quarantine. One day the laboratory had fifty-five such cultures. Most of these came from the southern part of the state.

The examinations made without cost to citizens include those to determine the presence of various diseases, such as: Diphtheria, typhoid, tuberculosis, syphilis, gonorrhea, hook-worm, and also the condition of water and milk.

The detailed report of examinations made at the State University during August and September is as follows: Report from the State Public Health Laboratory at the State University of New Mexico for the months of August and September:

WEEKLY APPEARS IN LARGER AND BETTER FORM THIS WEEK

Will Continue to Publish in the Present Size As Long As Given Proper Support.

That the U. N. M. Weekly will be published in larger and better form is evidenced by this number. The credit for the increase in size is due to the energy of Mr. Howell Faw, whose work has made possible the Weekly this year and who is running for the office of manager at the student body elections Friday. The editorial staff will try to make this larger size just as interesting to the readers and only asks for more co-operation on the part of the students in turning in news items before Thursday morning to any member of the staff.

TO ASK FOR OFFICE.

The staff of the Weekly squeak are in need of a place to hang their hats; a place to call their own, where in the peace of their own typewriters they can grind out the news. The University authorities when approached on this subject were very nice and promised their support in getting the staff an office.

REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE STUDENTS' VARSITY SHOP AND AGREEMENT WITH MANAGERS.

1. The purpose of the "Shop" is to contribute efficiently in meeting certain needs of the students of the State University, and in the maintenance of the morals of the institution.

2. The two student-managers will occupy the living rooms in the Shop, and will pay the usual full rates for board and lodging to the clerk of the University Commons.

3. A charge of ten dollars per month is to be paid monthly in advance to the University by the managers to help in meeting the costs of (Continued on page 4)

VARSIITY GOES DOWN TO DEFEAT IN BITTERLY FOUGHT GAME

Mann and Greenleaf Stars Battle-scarred Veterans Anxious To Meet Next Foes

Although the New Mexico Lobos were defeated by the Colorado College Tigers last Saturday, the Varsity squad came home unconquered. Never did a team play against such hard luck and never did the Tigers have a harder time gaining ground by consistent football than in the game at Colorado Springs Saturday. At times during the game the Lobos played the Tigers off their feet, but some lucky break would put the ball in Colorado College territory and they would go over for a touchdown. The contest was featured by long runs and a gritty defense on the part of New Mexico.

New Mexico threatened to score in the third quarter by rushing the ball down the field by a splendid series of line bucks, and a long forward pass Mann to B. Gerpheide. With the ball in the Tigers five-yard line, the New Mexico aggression was penalized losing their only chance for a touchdown. Grant Mann, who had received a sprained ankle, demonstrated what real nerve was and kicked a drop goal for the Lobos score.

The Lobos lost the toss and kicked off to the Tigers, who held for downs. MacTavish punted to Bevans who fumbled, allowing the Tigers to recover the ball on New Mexico's five-yard line. Shoemaker, McTavish and Honnen bucked the ball over for a touchdown. Honnen kicked goal. During the remainder of the period the ball was in the center of the field Mann having the better of the punting duel. Score, Colorado College 7; New Mexico, 0.

In the second period Coach Parsons put the so-called pony backfield in for the Tigers. These light, fast men carried the ball down the field by a series of brilliant end runs and Honnen, the giant tackle, carried the ball over for a touchdown. Then by a streak of luck, the Tigers recovered several blocked forward passes and were able to score again. Honnen kicked one of the two goals. Score: Colorado College, 21; New Mexico, 0.

Honnen kicked to Gerpheide at the beginning of the third quarter and New Mexico outfought the Tigers during the entire period. By a slashing attack on the College line, the Lobos carried the ball into Tiger territory. A forward pass, Mann to Gerpheide, placed the ball on the opponent's five-yard line. New Mexico was penalized and Mann made a drop kick for three points. Score: Colorado College, 21; New Mexico, 3.

The last frame of the game was featured by a 65-yard run for a touchdown by Shoemaker, Colorado College half-back. Mann had the best of McTavish in the punts, but a fumble on the part of Mann gave the ball to the Tigers on New Mexico's ten-yard line. The heavy Colorado backfield placed the pony backs and a series of strong line plays scored again for the college. A long forward pass again placed the ball over the New Mexico line for a touchdown at the end of the game.

Final score: Colorado College, 41; New Mexico, 3.

STUDENTS TURN OUT TO MEET HOME- COMING LOBO BUNCH

Show They Have the Right Spirit and Are For the Team, Win Lose or Draw.

The students of the University have come out of their slump and showed real spirit Monday night in welcoming the team back. They have shown that they are for the team 100 per cent, win, lose or draw. And it is well they should, for regardless of the score, the Lobos were a credit to the school in their engagement with the Colorado college. This fact is evidenced by the reports from Colorado papers. They said our men were scrappers, and one paper called the team the New Mexico Terrors—Bueno—no?

By seven o'clock the Santa Fe platform was crowded with students waiting for No. 1 and the team. The fairer sex were much in evidence and responded to the call of the cheer leaders to get together, as well as the men. As the train pulled in and stopped, a mighty cheer went up for the team. As each man stepped off he was cheered and engulfed by the waiting crowd. Coach Johnson, Blondy Booker (who came back on crutches), and Capt. Mann got an extra share of cheers. The team was then taken in waiting cars to eat or sleep, or to eat and then to sleep, as was the desire.

UNIVERSITY TEAM WORKING HARD TO CURE ITS DEFECTS

Colorado Game Shows Up Weak Places in the Lobo Bunch. Being Strengthened.

Coach Johnson is straining every effort in getting his team into shape after the hard struggle in Colorado which put so many of his players out of the game. Booker, who played right tackle, will be out of the game for the rest of the season. Hyder and Calkins are temporarily out.

The vacancies will be easily filled, as more men turned out for practice since the defeat in Colorado than before. The team will be very much strengthened by McClure at right tackle. McClure was all-Southwestern tackle last year. Hasselton will be one of the strongest men in the back field when he gets into shape, after being out of the game for a number of years. With these two strong men on the team and the others who are making a strong second team possible, prospects look better than ever before.

The game with the University of Colorado still hangs in the balance because of the expense of the trip. The management will know in a few days definitely if the decision of the Colorado University is to play us in Pueblo on the 23rd, or the University of Wyoming there the same date. Expenses for bringing Wyoming to Pueblo are much lighter than those which would be incurred by bringing New Mexico to Pueblo.

CONCERNING USE OF WEEKLY PROGRAM

The vigorous and co-operative use of the Weekly Program of the State University is earnestly solicited upon the part of members of the faculty and the student body.

This little sheet is issued weekly at the cost of considerable labor and money. It is in line with the practice of large universities of America. Local citizens, parents of students and our own college community are commending this weekly device for legitimate publicity of all events in which the University is concerned. The value of regular, authorized announcements is generally conceded.

Any authorized event, athletic, social, or business in nature, in which the State University is concerned, should be thus announced. Faculty and University committee meetings, student assemblies, class meetings, athletic and literary contests are of general interests and those in charge should always take the initiative in properly announcing the same through this medium.

Fraternities and sororities should invariably utilize this necessary channel of publicity and of authorization. Even so private an occasion as an initiation is not without general interest, for announcement invites courtesy upon the part of all to refrain from calls at fraternity houses and often discloses the presence of old graduates whom all would be glad to see.

PROF. LANDERS EXHIBITS HIS SCHOOL SPIRIT

Takes Place of Tom Calkins in Church Work at Belen, Last Sunday.

Thursday afternoon, a few hours before the Lobos were scheduled to leave for Colorado Springs, it looked as if Deacon Calkins would not be able to go with them to hold down right end in the game. Calkins had made ineffectual attempts to obtain someone to take charge of his church at Belen on Sunday, and if no one could go to Belen it would be impossible for Calkins to go with the team. At almost the last minute Professor Landers volunteered to take charge of the Belen church and release Calkins for the Colorado game.

Professor Landers has a very heavy schedule of classes and consequently is always over-crowded with work. His volunteering to take Calkins' work over Sunday was a real sacrifice on his part and University students certainly should appreciate this demonstration of Varsity spirit and co-operation on the part of Prof. Landers.

Similar proof of co-operation between students and faculty, faculty and students, and students and students, will put this school very definitely on the map this year.

U. N. M. SOCIETY OF ENGINEERS MEETS

Plans Are Now Being Drawn Up to Spend the Timely Donation.

The Engineering Society of the State University held its first regular meeting on Tuesday night and elected the following officers: Samuel Rosenbach, president; Edward Lighton, vice president; Harold Booker, secretary; Victor Miller, treasurer. It was decided to petition the American Association of Engineers for a student chapter here.

WHAT IS A UNIVERSITY?

"A university is an organ for the development and training of mind. In its higher functions it presupposes a delight in ideas, a spontaneous thirst for knowledge and beauty, a disinterested love of truth for its own sake. It provides for free converse of the mind with the objects on which it feeds and by which it is nourished. It takes the whole life of mankind for its province—what man has done and suffered and embodied in language, thought, literature, and institutions. And the mind of the individual grows and expands by feeding on the products which the great intelligence of the race has created. His sympathies are broadened, his emotions are stirred, his imagination is kindled, his conscience is quickened and purified, his power of expression is multiplied, and the once passive intelligence of the man develops into an independent, active, and self-creative reason."—Jacob Gould Schurman, president of Cornell University, in his Foundation Jan. 20, 1920.

BOARD OF REGENTS OF STATE UNIVERSITY COMMENDS RAYNOLDS

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the Board of Regents of the State University of New Mexico, a resolution was passed commending Mr. Joshua Reynolds, a New Mexico philanthropist, for his recent gift of five thousand dollars in order to equip the beautiful new Home Economics building, now practically completed, on the campus at the State University of New Mexico.

This building, which is attracting great attention throughout the state and already is an inspiration to both students and faculty of the State University, was erected by gifts of citizens and friends of Albuquerque. Until recently, however, money has been lacking entirely for the scientific equipment of this building. Mr. Joshua Reynolds, without much persuasion upon the part of President David S. Hill, last week subscribed five thousand dollars with which to purchase the equipment. Mrs. Walter Simpson and Miss Edna Roy of the Department of Home Economics, Mr. R. K. Kirk, executive assistant, and President Hill are now engaged in drawing up carefully the orders for the much-needed materials which, when received, will place the Home Economics building in actual operation. This Home Economics building and equipment will be the best in the whole southwest and probably will not be excelled in quality by any building and equipment in the whole country.

DRAMATIC CLUB MEETS.

At the first dramatic club meeting of the year, with Hugh Graham presiding, it was decided that the most important matter at hand was the drive for membership. Accordingly, a committee was appointed to plan for a drive for a large membership. Plans were also discussed for the oratorical contest, a play to be given during the teachers' institute, and the musical comedy. The dramatic season promises to be a most successful one, as a great deal of material is in the University this year.

Another meeting will be held soon at which time definite arrangements for the year will be decided and also as to whether the U. N. M. Dramatic Club will affiliate with the Little Theater organization this year or not.

SORORITIES ANNOUNCE PLEDGES

At last rushing season with all its excitement and anxiety is over. The bids were sent out early Sunday morning and were returned in the afternoon. At four each young lady went to the house, or rooms, of the sorority whose invitation she had accepted, and great was the rejoicing.

The official list of pledges has been announced as follows:
Kappa Kappa Gamma: Loraine Cleveland, Helen Stowell, Gail Beckman.

Alpha Chi Omega: Juliet Fleischer, Mary Mize, Miriam Schilbe, Jessie Harrington, Edna Hillyer, Helen Lindsay.

Alpha Delta Pi: Hazel Morris, Dorothy Allard, Mary Wood.
Phi Mu: Betty Morrisette, Madge Gibbs, Ruth Hefflin, Laura Crawford, Clarissa Parsons, Susan Tully.

MUSIC LOVERS AT U. N. M. TO BE GIVEN REAL TREAT

Fortnight Club and American Legion Are After the Artists' Course.

Prof. Lukkens has in charge the selling of student tickets to the program of fine music to be offered by the Fortnightly Club and the American Legion. The course is one which every student should attend and can be attended at a ridiculously low figure.

Read the announcement:

May I call the attention of the University music lovers to the musical treat which lies in store for us in the Artists' Course sponsored by the Fortnightly Club and American Legion of this city. The handling of an Artists' Course is generally the difficult task of the colleges and universities of the country. Fortunately, however, these two public spirited bodies have relieved us of the ungrateful responsibility, and are giving us an exceptional artist's course beginning the evening of October 19. The course includes four numbers, comprised of a light opera company, a double number by Reed Miller and Van der Veer, tenor and contralto. Mr. Miller is one of our finest oratorical tenors, and his wife is a decided concert artist. The famed soprano, Marie Rappold, and Arthur Middleton, without question the greatest oratorio bass-baritone of the day.

Season tickets at the exceptionally low rate of three dollars and fifty cents, for students, will be placed on sale at the University at once.

(Signed) JOHN LUKKEN.

MEETING OF WOMEN STUDENTS HELD

Miss Mosher is New Dean of Women at U. N. M.

Miss Edna Mosher, dean of women, presided at a meeting of all the women students of the University Thursday at eleven-thirty. The predominating feature of the meeting was to emphasize the necessity of co-operation between the University authorities and the women students. A number of rules and regulations as to the places of residence of University women were read and Miss Mosher stated that the University was doing its best to make living conditions as comfortable as possible; thus the move to observe such conditions. Those who had any complaint were urged to report it and everything possible would be done to remove the cause. Social democracy was touched upon and everyone encouraged to promote this feeling. A hearty welcome was extended to the new students and the fact that the University of New Mexico is the best place for those who are in it was stressed. All women students were urged to consult the dean of women upon any matter of doubt.

A SIGN OF THE TIMES.

The greatly increased cost of all good building material is evidenced in the make-up of the political platforms. Neither of the two great parties could have got their platforms past any conscientious building inspector.

LOCALS

The friends of Nora Henderson will be interested in learning that she has been pledged Kappa Kappa Gamma at the University of Texas.

Miss Nola Keen, a former U. N. M. student, after a week's visit at the Alpha Chi Omega house, was married Sunday night to Melvin Prentice of Dallas, Texas. The couple left at once for Dallas, where they will make their home.

Miss Minerva Collins of Artesia was the guest of Dora Russell Thursday of last week.

Landis Feather, an old U. N. M. football star, was a guest at the Alpha Delta house Sunday afternoon. He was passing through on his way to Artesia.

Robert Warren arrived last week from the University of Texas, and has registered at the University.

Would You?

(With Apologies.)

If in this world there were but two,
And all this world were good and true,

And you knew no one knew—

Would you?

If you dreamed of fair skies blue,

And someone sitting by you—

Would you?

If the world were good and bright,

And I had a date one night,

And then! out went the light—

Would you?

If you were in a certain place,

And we were sitting face to face—

Would you—

Kiss me,

Huh?

I say you would.

heat, light, water, insurance, etc., used for the Shop.

4. Upon taking charge of the Shop an inventory is to be made of all property upon the premises belonging to the University, and thereafter the managers will keep the same in good condition and repair and be responsible for all losses or destruction of the same.

5. All occupation taxes, legal assessments, licenses, and other taxes chargeable are to be paid promptly by the managers of the Shop, and a receipt for the same is to be filed with the executive assistant.

6. The managers jointly and severally agree, in consideration of the use and service of the University property known as the "Students' Varsity Shop," to maintain good order and sanitation at all times, and to conduct the Shop compatibly with the good name and usefulness of the State University. Specifically, rules of operation are as follows:

a. The Varsity Shop to be closed between the hours of 7 and 8 a. m., 12 and 1 p. m., and 6 and 7 p. m. The Varsity Shop will be closed every night promptly at 9 o'clock. It will also be closed all day on Sunday except that it will be open from 5 to 8 p. m., at which time a light lunch and hot drinks will be served at reasonable prices.

b. A list of all articles, materials, foods, and drinks sold and on hand is to be reported in writing regularly upon the first of each month to the executive assistant of the University.

c. No cigarettes at any time can be sold in the Varsity Shop.

d. Games of chance, card playing, or gambling of any description is prohibited in the Varsity Shop.

e. Dancing and music are prohibited in the Varsity Shop.

f. The Varsity Shop, while intended for the normal recreation and comfort of students, is not to be conducted as a place of habitual loafing.

g. Improper language will not be tolerated and especial consideration is to be given to the fact that the Shop may be visited at proper hours and under proper conditions by the young ladies enrolled in the University.

7. This contract is not negotiable, and the privileges thus awarded by the University cannot be sold, given, or transferred to any one by the student-managers.

8. This agreement may be cancelled at any time by two weeks notice upon the part either of the University authorities or upon the part of the student-managers. If the University should see fit to exercise its prerogative and cancel this agreement, it may take over upon the basis of a fair appraisal any stock of authorized goods from the managers, the same not to exceed one hundred and fifty dollars in value.

Authorized by the Executive Committee of the Board of Regents, September 20, 1920.

We hereby accept the foregoing:
GEZA J. KISS, JR.
FRANK O. GREENLEAF.

Approved:
DAVID S. HILL,
President of the University.

nounce an occasional lecture of general or popular interest. This does not mean that every meeting of any one class is to be advertised uselessly for weeks or in violation of the rules of registration, nor does it mean that a professor is never to furnish an occasional lecture of general value to the public. Proposed visits of visiting lecturers to class rooms should always be announced.

In order that the printer may finish the job for us promptly by Saturday, it is necessary that accurate data for all events be placed in the hands of Chairman Clark not later than Thursday morning for announcement during the succeeding week.

It is an obligation of officers of all student organizations, of all faculty members—indeed of all persons who desire to help in a healthy, wholesome spirit the building up of this State University, to co-operate heartily and actively in this vital matter.

Your kind attention beginning this week would be personally appreciated by the undersigned.
