WILL DUPLICATE GREAT FEAT OF BUILDING MORE NEW BLEACHERS

Six Additional Sections of Stands to Be Erected by All Undergraduates Today and Tomorrow With Same Working Schedule as in Force Before.

Six new sections of bleachers are to be erected on the football field in juxtaposition to the six sections that were constructed by the student body two weeks ago.

Through the efforts of Bruno Diekmann, graduate football manager and earnest supporter of the University, and the generosity of the business men of Albuquerque, the materials for these bleachers have been procured.

When the six sections of bleachers were provided for and erected two weeks ago, it was thought almost a miracle; but that this feat is about to be duplicated is almost beyond conception. Nevertheless, it is a reality, as any member of the University will testify.

The construction of the bleachers will be in the same manner as before. The student body will turn out in force and the bleachers will be built while the football team is in El Paso, where they will play the Texas Miners. Dean T. T. Eyre will have charge of the work and he is confident that the work will go on as rapidly as before.

Albuquerque people have marvelled at the preciseness of the construction of the new bleachers, and a number of the alumni of the University have signified their willingness to lend a hand to the students in their efforts. Today at one o'clock squads will again be formed, and every able-bodied male undergraduate is expected to be on hand.

TWENTY NET-MEN HOLD FIRST CLUB MEETING

Reeve Chosen to Lead Organization Through Coming Year.

Over twenty racket wielders among the male undergraduates of the University, in their organization meeting held last Tuesday, formulated plans for the season of 1921-1922, and elected officers for this year's term. Frank Reeve was chosen as president, Vernon Wilfley as vice-president, and Walter Bowman as secretary-treasurer. The tournament committee and executive body of the organization consists of Frank Reeve, chairman, ex-officio, Fred Wagner and Kenneth Wilkinson.

The purpose of the tennis club, as outlined in the first meeting, will be to promote the interests of the sport and to keep alive competition for places on the club team. Small initiation fees and dues are to be levied in order that tournament supplies may be furnished, and to assist in any way possible the improvement of the University courts. Every tennis player in the student body is eligible for membership to the club, and a vigorous drive for members will be conducted until the maximum number have been secured.

At the next student body meeting, the constitution of the body will be brought up for ratification, and it is now under construction by the officers of the club. It was decided that an annual dance and a banquet will be given under the auspices of the organization to further a social spirit among the members.

DINNER OPENS LIFE OF UNIVERSITY Y. M. C. A.

Over Sixty Members Hear Plans Outlined for Activities.

The first of a series of banquets and get-together meetings was held at the city "Y" on Friday evening of last week. About sixty men, including several prominent local business men, Coach Johnson and the football team, were present to evidence their interest in the University Y. M. C. A. Plans for the present year were broached and discussed, and the various advantages to be derived, both material and moral, were clearly set forth by the different speakers.

Marshall Wilson, President of the University "Y," made a plea for the whole-hearted support and encouragement of every man in the University. He announced that the Y. M. C. A. would secure and take charge of a new scoreboard for the football field, transport the baggage of the football team to and from the depot, and in many other ways assist in making a better, finer fellowship at the University. Speakers, with capable speakers in charge, will be held at Rodey Hall on Sunday afternoons, and Bible classes will be formed in the various organizations on the Hill. An advisory board of two members of the faculty and two or three influential business men will be selected to aid the University organization in its work.

Mr. Faw, President of the City Y. M. C. A., expressed his pleasure at the initiation of the new association, and promised the full co-operation of city and University so far as possible. Special rates will be given to students who may care to join, and certain privileges at the local "Y" will accrue to those who become members of the University association.

Other speakers were: Mr. Brazier, of the city Y. M. C. A. membership board; Frank Nehrer, president of the student body, and Tom Calkins.

YANNIGANS DO NOT MEET HOOLIGANS IN YEAR GAME

By Joe Bursey.

That which was, is not; that which was not, is; and thus the catastrophe is announced. Ladies, grab your smelling salts, and prepare for the news. There will be no bloodshed and agony, there will be no shrill shrieks and wailing; the annual Yannagin-Hooligan effete ball meet has been called off. Only the monotonous tattoo of hammers, and not the cry of the victorious, will pervade the field next Saturday.

The slickers are taking this announcement calmly. No threatening outbursts of protest have been heard, no red flags have been raised. The two teams have silently and mutually agreed to don the dull garb of a martyr instead of the gay colors of the gladiator. Ladies, is not this a noble sacrifice? Only bear with them in this crisis and feed them sandwiches while they toil Saturday, and all will be well.

WIRELESS APPARATUS COMPLETED FOR USE

Engineers Add Another Feather to Many Feathered Cap.

The University is now the proud possessor of a wireless station. The towers are erected and the aerials are in place and most of the other apparatus has arrived and will be installed in the near future. The work of erection and installation is handled by the students of the Department of Electrical Engineering and the campus grounds crew, under the direction of Professor Carey and Mr. Frank.

The equipment, complete and of the best quality, cost about six hundred dollars. Vernon Wilfley will be the operator. His application for a license to operate a Technical School Wireless Station has been forwarded and is expected to be granted by the time the station is ready for use. The wireless will have a radius of over two thousand miles. Athletic events, weather and stock reports, and other affairs of importance will be regularly transmitted.

FACULTY WOMEN FORM BASKET TOSSING TEAM

Several Contests Scheduled to Be Played This Winter.

So noisy in practice that they are forced to use the men's gymnasium to allow the Hokonites to study undisturbed, the basket ball team composed of the women faculty members is rapidly assuming the aspect of an orthodox sextette. The squad was formed about two weeks ago, but was kept a secret until the present time.

Several games are scheduled to be played this winter. In the near future, the team is to meet the High School's women faculty combination in a practice game. Shortly after this contest, the University aggregation will match up with several teams composed of "down-town" girls, such as the Good Times Club, the Tuesday Ladies' Sewing Club, etc. Later in the season the big game will be played with the High School's women faculty, and it is expected that the winning sextette in the inter-mural contests on the Hill will be challenged.

Miss McCormick is coaching the squad and playing one forward, while her teammates are Miss Shelton, Miss Keleher, Mrs. Carey, Mrs. Hessler and Miss Chess. The team announces that it will present a Whitman's Sampler to the undergraduate who suggests the most fitting title for the combination. Responses to this offer will be published in Pitfall and Gin.

teams. They were both confident of victory. Stahl's smooth-faced Yannagins were sure that they could make touchdowns at will through sheer force of "local color," and the Hooligans were no less sure of victory. We are all sorry the game can not be displayed; but in the wise words of Solomon, "It is all for the best."

Stinging with their 74-0 defeat at the hands of Arizona last week, the Texas Miners will oppose the Lobos tomorrow in a determined state of mind, according to reports which come from El Paso. The Cherry and Silver eleven leaves tonight for the Pass City, where they play the first game in the full month of November.

Coach Johnson said when interviewed that sixteen men will make the trip, and that there would be no departure from the line-up as used against Colorado, except that Fergusson and Pearce, two of the most reliable linemen, will not be able to play, since civic duties compel their presence here. However, Grenter and Stinnett have been groomed to fill their places, and no weakness on the line is feared.

The revelation of recent scrimmages has been the work of Captain "Pat" Greenleaf in running with the ball. Gathering momentum with every stride, the big all-Southwestern tackle crushes every tackler in his path. In Tuesday's scrimmage against the Indians, two of the Varsity touchdowns were made by Greenleaf after twenty yard runs with two or three tacklers clinging to him.

Five touchdowns to one in favor of the Lobos were made in the Indian School scrimmage. The Varsity took a long time in getting started, while the light and speedy braves ran circles around them, but after ten minutes of play, Johnson's shifts were used to better advantage, and the team tightened up. Tom Popejoy's game at righthalf and later at quarter, showed a great improvement over his last contest, and the Raton lad is sure to cause trouble for opposing combinations.

Jones, who was Colorado's nightmare, was not in the scrimmage Tuesday, and has not been in uniform for several days, as he has been suffering with a carbuncle on his neck. The stellar quarter will accompany the team, however, and if necessary, will be able to play.

On the same day that the Lobos face the Miners, the Arizona Wild Cats will be clawing at their old opponents, the Aggies, in Mesilla Park. Coach Johnson expects to leave Bruno Diekmann at the helm of the Varsity in El Paso, and go to Las Cruces to get a line on the two teams which the Lobos meet later this month.

Officers Next Week.

Negotiations have been completed for the struggle with the team composed of officers stationed at Fort Bliss. The game will be played on University field on the twelfth of this month, next Saturday, and will serve to keep the Lobos on edge for the important Arizona game on the nineteenth.

No accurate information on the officers' team is procurable, but it is rumored that there are two all-American players on the eleven. Graduate manager Diekmann is now making final arrangements for the game, and announces that a large banner will be strung from the Barnett Building to the State National Bank Building, advertising the contest.

With the twelve sections of bleachers completed, a large crowd is expected, and Albuquerque people are united in their desire to see the Lobos perform.

These should join the Society as soon as possible in order to begin work for the coming year. The meeting has been called by George Bryan, who was last year manager of debate.

BACK THE U. Y.

After many years of struggling to achieve a firm foothold on the campus, the Students' Y. M. C. A. has at last taken on the appearance of an enduring organization. The turnout which greeted the get-together affair held last week indicates that the U. Y. will not suffer for lack of enthusiastic supporters.

However, the executive board of the organization has volunteered to perform a number of essential and important services to the University. They will need the cooperation of every undergraduate in the University, and when the drive for new members is inaugurated, be among the first to join. It will cost you practically nothing, and will bring you many things in return.

Back the U. Y.

THE TENNIS CLUB.

Favorable editorial comment is deserved by the spirit evinced by the twenty or so University tennis players who revived the long-dormant tennis association on the Hill in their meeting this week. The aims of the organization are legitimate and commendable and should aid considerably in raising the standard of the activity in U. N. M.

However, there are more than twenty men in the University who indulge in the game. The club was organized by a few for the benefit of all, and by becoming members of the association, its real benefits may be appreciated. We recommend the proposed system of tournament, and challenge play, whereby any highly rated man may be played for his place by the man under him, and progressively. It will be a constant index as to the reliable University players.

You who are not members of the Tennis Club, see the secretary-treasurer at once, and make application. It will help the sport.

LECTURE ON CARBON

In accordance with University policies that class lectures which now and then are so much of general interest to the public as of special interest to the particular class before whom the lecture is delivered, the class lecture on carbon by Dr. J. D. Clark was open to the public on Monday, October 31. The subject matter of the lecture dealt with the usual scientific facts concerning carbon, and in addition emphasized the importance of the great natural resources which this state possesses in its extensive coal deposits which range from lignite to anthracite, even including small but non-commercial quantities of graphite and natural coke.

PAUL A. WALTERS SPEAKS ON INDIAN ARCHAEOLOGY

"Cibola, the site of the seven magic cities of gold, has been discovered west of Albuquerque, by an eminent archaeologist," Paul A. F. Walters, secretary of the School of American Research, declared in a formal address before the Associated Student body last Friday morning, but he failed to give the exact location.

"Pueblo architecture was discovered in Albuquerque, and has since been raised to its height of perfection in Santa Fe. But Albuquerque remains the very center of the great field of archaeological investigation. 'In North America archaeology goes back only fifteen hundred years, but in reality New Mexico archaeology goes back only fifty years; and even until this date some of the pueblo dwellers lived in the stone age. It is believed by some that Pueblo culture reached its apex before the coming of the Spaniards.

"The Pueblo Indians were indefatigable builders. The women and children, it is believed, built most of their houses.

"The Indians were very religious and worshipped daily, even the handles of their drinking dippers were covered with religious symbols. They had developed a very complete, though crude, system of government."

Mr. Walters also gave a very interesting myth of the Zia Indian, explaining the origin of man.

Previous to Mr. Walters' address the assembly listened to two songs by Mr. Burns, a resident of Albuquerque, and a violin solo by Dorothy Cameron.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR BIG YEAR IN MUSIC

The outlook for the musical organizations on the Hill is the best for years. Prof. Lukken is working with the orchestra at the present and all indications point to an excellent body. It is planned to have one of the assemblies under the direction of the department of Music in the very near future. These Music department assemblies have in the past proved to be very enjoyable and are excellent opportunities for the display of University musical talent. At the planned assembly the orchestra is expected to hold the center of attraction.

Work was begun last Tuesday on the Men's Octette, one of the most popular musical clubs in the city last year. With the exception of one first tenor, the personnel will be the same as last year. This organization is expected to give a recital early in the spring.

The ladies' chorus is progressing rapidly. There is much good new material in college this year and with several of last year's organization as a foundation an excellent chorus is being evolved. If you sing and have not become a member of any musical body on the Hill, Professor Lukken requests that you see him.

CAMPUS GHOSTS ON THE JOB.

From the looks of the campus the morning after Halloween, a few husky ghosts must have been oozing around the night before. Their work was in evidence here and there about the grounds, particularly in front of the Administration building, the entrance to which was blocked up with an enormous water wagon, presumably the property of the city.

WITH THE GREEKS

ALPHA CHI OMEGA.

Tea.—The Alpha Chi's will again come forth with one of their jolly informal teas, which has characterized their social program so much this year, when they entertain for their Patronesses next Sunday afternoon. The affair, of course, will be at their house. Miss Dorothy Stevenson will be in charge.

Miss Helen Lindsey of Las Vegas has been a visitor at the Alpha Chi house for the last few days.

ALPHA DELTA PI.

The Misses Cameron, Dorothy and Eleanor, are now active members of the A. D. P. chapter, having successfully ridden the goat and accomplished the ritual last Saturday night.

Alpha Delta Pi is planning an "at home" in the near future for the fraternity mothers and patronesses.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA.

Picnic.—The Kappas, friends and automobiles went out over the lone prairie last Sunday afternoon on a picnic. Bonfires, eats and music, entirely surrounded by rough, mountainous scenery, furnished all the ingredients necessary for a wonderful time. The party drove home to the tune of a lonesome moon with everybody happy.

PHI MU.

Hallowe'en Dance.—The Phi Mu house, decorated in beaucoup plenty of all those Hallowe'en things, was an ideal setting for the snappy dance held there last Friday night. Ginger was the password, and the party went rollicking along until an early eleven o'clock, when dainty refreshments were served.

ALPHA DELTA.

After the expenditure of yards and yards of labor, and after coping with the problem of too many bosses and not enough laborers, the Alpha Deltas announce the finale—the last curtain on the repairs in their new home. Peace will now reign.

PI KAPPA ALPHA.

The Pi Kappa house will be filled up Sunday night with all the pledges, actives and alumni in the city, when they all assemble at their second get-together dinner.

SIGMA CHI.

The Sigs have their plans fairly definitely arranged for their annual reunion which will take place the latter part of this month.

Sigma Chi is planning a series of open houses to begin in the near future.

AGGIES TO MEET ARIZONA.

While the Lobos are taking the measure of the Texas Miners at El Paso Saturday, a decisive battle will be fought between the Farmers and the Wildcats. While the dope will probably favor the Arizonians, it is doubtful if they will have things their own way. The Aggies demonstrated a real fighting team when they humbled the Cadets by a 32 to 0 score and the fans wouldn't be greatly surprised if they copied the long end of the score from the Arizonians.

SOCIETY

FACULTY BREAKS OUT.

Hallowe'en was responsible for a number of parties on the Hill during the past week, but none gayer than the Faculty Festival held in the Gymnasium last Friday. The fact that no students were present gave the sage Ph.D.'s a chance to shake their dignity and, at the same time, a mean foot. Judging from the way whoops that escaped from the gym, every one present spent a rapid evening of lively entertainment.

EUQUEREBULA AGAIN.

The Euks tuned up considerably in the gym last Saturday night. The place was strikingly decorated with corn stalks, ghosts, pumpkins, and like things suggestive of Hallowe'en. The dancing program was varied with feature dances, and queer methods of securing partners; all of which gave entertaining variety to the evening's fun. Civerolla captured first prize in the witch contest, by being the most instrumental in aiding the old girl to collect her sun-bonnet. Refreshments, consisting of doughnuts, apples and sweet cider were served as a finale. The guests were unanimous in declaring the function far too short.

NELLIE CLARKE RECOVERING.

Dr. Clarke reports that his little daughter, Nellie Luciele, has been ill for the last week with appendicitis. She was taken to the St. Joseph's Hospital on the twenty-fifth of October, where she underwent a successful operation. As yet no complications are evident and she is improving as well as could be expected.

SCIENTISTS TO GATHER.

A convention of the New Mexico Association for Science will be held on November 22, according to Dr. Clark, President of the Association. The reading of scientific papers and transaction of business will be the order of the day.

TIGERS DEFEATED BY AGGIES

The C. C. Tigers were practically eliminated in the Rocky Mountain Conference struggle last Saturday, when they were decisively beaten by the Colorado Aggies 24 to 0. This leaves the Conference scrap pretty well in the hands of the University of Colorado and the U of Utah, with D. U. and the Aggies having a fighting chance.

ARIZONA SWAMPS OREDIGGERS.

Arizona had everything her own way last Saturday in her tangle with the Texas Miners, running wild around the wings and gaining at will through the Texans' line. The Orediggers were always on the defensive, making only two first downs, completing their only plays through the forward pass. The Wildcats scored in all periods, the final score standing 74-0.
