VARSIITY DOWNS MINERS

LOBOS TO MEET HARD- FIGHTING ELEVEN TOMORROW

West Texas Normal Team Will Try for Lobos' Scalp; Said to Be Stronger Than Miners

In the West Texas Normal Buffaloes, the Lobos meet a team tomorrow that has been coached by play winning football, and that is conceded to be one of the best teams in West Texas. With last year's squad practically intact, the Buffaloes are out for blood this year, and will exert every energy to win a victory over the Lobos tomorrow, with the prestige they would gain thereby.

Up to two or three years ago, the West Texas Normal never boasted a team that could offer serious competition to the University, the Aggies, or the Military Institute, but two years ago, Coach Burton, former star guard of the University of Oklahoma eleven, took the Buffaloes in hand, and the change for the better was at once apparent. Last year the Buffaloes were good enough to play any team in New Mexico or West Texas a stiff game, as evidenced by the fact that they beat Clarendon College, Wayland College, and Abilene Christian College, held Simmons College to an extremely low score, and outplayed the Military Institute in a game which the Cadets won, 19 to 10, by getting the breaks of the game. Two weeks before school opened, about September 1, the Buffaloes reported for practice under Coach Burton, thus getting the edge on most of their rivals by early practice. According to the dope, the Buffaloes should be at least twenty-five per cent stronger this year than last year, which means that the Lobo pack will have to fight viciously for every taste of Buffalo meat tomorrow.

The Buffalo specialty last year was the long forward pass, a mode of attack which caused the Cadets no little trouble in their game with the Buffaloes, and which will result in more than one touchdown tomorrow, should the Lobo defense relax for even a moment. But the Buffaloes have lots of stuff besides the forward pass. They also include effective line smashes and snappy end runs in their list of accomplishments.

While they were expert in the use of the forward pass as an offensive weapon the Buffaloes last year were noticeably weak on defense against the same mode of attack and allowed the Cadets to get away for two touchdowns with forward passes when the proper defensive would have kept the Cadets from scoring.

Coach Johnson has pointed his Lobos for the Buffalo battle with just as much care as for the Denver University and Colorado games, for he realizes that tomorrow's game will probably be anybody's game, and that the team that keeps on its toes and keeps its eye on the ball will probably be the victor. Several new plays have been worked out especially for the Buffaloes, and will be used for the first time tomorrow afternoon. The lineup has not been given out, but will probably be as follows: Center, Greuter; right guard, Ferguson; left guard, Dutton; right tackle, Stannett; left tackle, Hopkins; right end, Canteloni or Kelly; left end, L. Hernandez or Dow; quarter, Harrington; right half, T. Popejoy; full, W. Hernandez; left half, Jones.

FOOTBALL HOLDS THE CENTER OF INTEREST EVERYWHERE

Review of Past Week's Games
Shows Peculiar Situation;
Princeton Humbles
Chicago

With the 1922 football season in full swing every week-end brings some new surprises to the followers of the game. This week, Princeton fighting with the old Tiger spirit downed Chicago and took revenge for the 9 to 0 defeat which was administered to it by the Crimson last year. In the first three quarters, with John Thomas leading the attack, Chicago repeatedly plowed through Princeton's line for long

FACULTY MEMBERS AND BETTER HALVES CELEBRATE

Startling Revelations of Strange
Happenings at Wild Party

Strange things happen 'neath the midnight sun, if we are to believe the author of "The Cremation of Sam McGee," but surely nothing stranger than the progressive dinner indulged in last Saturday evening by eight members of the faculty and their better halves namely, Dean and Mrs. Mitchell, Dr. and Mrs. Hodgkin, Dr. and Mrs. Clark, Dr. and Mrs. Hessler, Professor and Mrs. Rockwood, Professor and Mrs. Haught, Mr. and Mrs. Simpson, and Professor and Mrs. Carey.

Festivities began at 6:30, with soup at Dr. Hessler's, followed by dinner at Dr. Clark's, and desert at the Simpson residence, after which the game of charades was surreptitiously carried on until the unearthly hour of ten-thirty.

But the most noteworthy feature of the affair was the extremely unique and tasteful manner in which the participants were garbed. Dr. Hessler appeared as a flapper, a part for which he is ideally fitted, both through the gifts of nature and by acquiring characteristics. Cunningly and stunningly attired in a black skirt of coquettishly abbreviated length, with form fitting lavender sweater that served to accentuate the girlish lines of his figure, rolled hose, and dainty oxfords, he presented a charming picture of roguish femininity. The secret of his school girl complexion lay in the assiduity with which he piled his powder puff and lip stick, gazing the while in the hand mirror which dangled by a cord from his waist.

Professor Haught, as a sailor, in middie, Windsor tie, knee trousers, and white stockings, was especially appealing, while Mrs. Haught blossomed forth as a gypsy, in flaming scarlet.

Dr. Mitchell and Dr. Clark were cleverly disguised by means of the judicious use of black grease paint, the former boasting a toupe and sideburns, and the latter a mustache of the most approved Wilhelm II. type. Conjectures as to their identity formed a considerable part of the evening's entertainment.

Mrs. Clark, in long black gown and tall, peaked cap, made an ideal Mother Goose.

Dr. Hodgkin fared forth in a frock tailed coat, exuding the pungent odor of moth balls, wearing murderous grease paint sideburns, and an extremely high collar of the prevailing style in the winter of '89-'99, modishly set off by an orange hued tie of the convenient, ready tied variety. Not to be outdone by her spouse, Mrs. Hodgkin had arrayed herself in a magnificent white silk gown of the vintage of '76, or thereabouts, with a big bow at the throat, tight sleeves, and a basque, and a crinoline skirt with a dust ruffle attached, all this surmounted by a Paris hat, Model 1912, of a modified Merry Widow type, turned up in some places, and down in others, and with a black aigrette extending skyward.

Professor Rockwood was quite the Beau Brummel, with a mustache and goatee, sprouted especially for the occasion, and wearing a moth eaten frock coat, an Ascot tie of cardinal hue, and other things too numerous to mention. Mrs. Rockwood was resplendent in a gorgeous white silk gown, with leg of mutton sleeves and a long train. On her head jauntily perched a diminutive hat of Tuscan straw, especially appropriate for the snowy evening.

Taking it all in all, the affair was a splendid success, and deserves to be classified as one of the leading social events of the season.

Living up to their fighting reputation, the Texas Miners gave the Lobos a real battle in last Saturday's game on Varsity field, holding them to a 13 to 0 score in a game that appeared for three-quarters as though it might end in a scoreless tie, with the Lobos outplaying the Miners most of the time, but lacking the necessary punch to score when opportunity presented itself. A nasty wind, with gusts of rain, made things disagreeable for both spectators and players and prevented both teams from exhibiting anything very spectacular, and making the use of the forward pass almost prohibitive.

The ball was kept in Miner territory throughout the greater part of the game, with McCormick's toe doing good work in keeping the Miners from being scored on till the game had gone over three periods. The Miners made few first downs, while the Lobos made many more than the score would indicate. Several times the Lobos threatened the Ore Diggers goal, but each time were pushed back by the desperate Miners.

In the last quarter the Lobos opened up with a real offensive. Jones skirted left end for forty yards, and planted the ball in the shadow of the Miner goal, and carried it across for a touchdown, after Popejoy and Hernandez had each hit the line for two yards. The second touchdown came two minutes and a half before the end of the game when Jones hurled a perfect forward pass thirty yards to Harrington, who ran with it forty yards to a touchdown.

Jones, while not playing up to his usual stellar form, because of minor injuries received in the Colorado game, and in practice, made a greater part of the Lobo gains. A thirty yard run by Popejoy through the whole Miner team, was a spectacular feature of the third quarter. On the whole, the defensive work of the Lobos surpassed their offensive play with the work of Hopkins, at left tackle an outstanding feature.

Varsity suffered a severe blow in the opening quarter, when Pearce was taken from the game with a dislocated elbow on the third down, and when Greenleaf was sent out with a wrenched shoulder a few minutes later. Pearce, according to the doctor's statement, will be out for the rest of the season, while Greenleaf will not be able to start in tomorrow's game with the Canyon Buffaloes.

Summary of the Game

White kicked off for the Miners, with the wind to the center of the field, and a fumble gave the Ore Diggers possession of the ball. Bennett hit right tackle for three yards, and the Miners lost five yards on a fumble, and were forced to punt. Hartman received the punt on Varsity's ten-yard line, and ran it back ten yards. Hernandez went through left tackle for nine yards, and Pearce Lobo guard, was taken out with a dislocated elbow, Dutton going in for him. Popejoy made five yards through left tackle, and Jones was thrown for a two-yard loss on a run around left end. Hernandez went through right tackle for four yards, and Popejoy hit the line for another yard. Jones kicked 30 yards to Ragsdale, who returned the punt ten yards.

Bennett made two yards through right tackle, and Ragsdale added another yard through the line. Binford skirted left end for three yards.

Hartman returned the punt 20 yards, and Jones added another 20 around left end. Hartman skirted left end for five yards, Jones made four yards through right tackle, and Hernandez went through the other tackle for four more. Popejoy bucked the line for no gain, and Jones went around right end for six yards but was thrown for a loss on an attempt around left end. Jones tried left end again and made seven yards by clever dodging. A Lobo fumble gave the ball to the Miners. Stannett went in for Greenleaf, Lobo tackle, who was taken out with a dislocated

WORK ON "CLARENCE" DELAYED BY LACK OF MANUSCRIPTS

Dr. George S. Hubbell of U. N.
M. English Department to Direct Play

Activity in the Dramatic Club has been considerably delayed through several upsets in plans, during the past week and as yet nothing definite has been done. As soon as possible work on the play will start in order to get it ready for performance on the 25th of November as is planned.

Last Thursday and Friday afternoons, those who were interested in the play met together and read the lines to familiarize themselves with the story and the parts of the various characters. There were many people at these meetings and several have announced their intention of trying out for each character. As the plays which had been ordered had not yet arrived it was impossible to attempt any definite work toward choosing the cast and so it was put off until the plays which have been ordered for some time will come.

Miss Helene Jackson, President of the Club has announced that Dr. George S. Hubbell of the English Department of the University has consented to direct the play. Dr. Hubbell has had considerable experience both in acting and directing many plays before he came here and is undoubtedly well qualified to make this one a complete success. It was indeed a great favor on his part to consent to do the work as it requires a great deal of time and effort in addition to his present duties.

Through a mistake last week it was announced that several managers had been selected to perform different duties in connection with the play. These men are only assistants to the play manager for this one performance and are not appointed for the entire year. Wagner is the play manager, McCarthy is publicity assistant and Waters is in charge of the stage. An assistant is still to be appointed to take charge of properties, costumes and other small functions connected with the actual staging of the play.

Miss Jackson has written to Mr. T. W. Conway, of the New Mexico State Teachers' Association, saying that the Play will be ready to present before the teachers on the 28th of November when the Association meets here in Albuquerque, so that it is imperative that the play be ready in time.

shoulder. Ragsdale attempted a run around left end, but lost the ball.

Hartman made eight yards around left end, and Popejoy went through left tackle for a yard. Pollock went in for Olsen at fullback for the Miners. Hernandez went through right tackle for four yards. Jones made a yard around right end, Hernandez made another through the line, and Popejoy was stopped for no gain around left end. Miners' ball.

McCormick punted ten yards to the Lobos on the Miners' 20-yard line, and the Miners recovered the ball on a fumble. Bennett hit left tackle for a yard. McCormick punted to Hartman on the 50-yard line, who returned it ten yards. Popejoy made three yards through right tackle, and the quarter ended with the ball on the possession of the Lobos on the Miner 40-yard line.

Second Quarter

Hernandez hit left tackle for no gain, and Jones fumbled for an 11-yard loss; Jones kicked forty yards to Linford on the Miners' 30-yard line. Binford hit the line for a yard and was knocked out. McKemy went in for Binford. The Miners fumbled on a line buck, but recovered the ball. Ragsdale hit right tackle for

VARSIITY PEP APPEARS AGAIN IN SPECIAL ASSEMBLY

Ticket Sale for the Game Saturday
Started Off in Great Style;
Deficit Disappearing

The special Assembly of the Student Body called Wednesday morning by Dr. Hill for the purpose of clearing up the $900.00 deficit now facing the University Athletic Association turned out to be a huge success when the U. N. M. spirit which had been lagging in the dust once more came to the surface, to assure the completion of the 1922 football schedule.

Horgan, president of the Student Body, in his opening remarks explained that the deficit had been incurred by the small attendance at the University football games so far this year, coupled with the expense of purchasing considerable new equipment for the team, to the extent of about fifteen hundred dollars. He said that if the University is to continue football—or athletics of any kind this year—it is absolutely necessary to clear up the present deficit, and that we must show the spirit that has carried the Varsity through all its other ventures. In the past, Bruno Dieckmann and Dr. Coan have been forced to sign notes to secure the money to pay incoming teams but that is no longer possible or practicable.

Bruce Hanger, student manager of football then outlined the plan for selling the tickets to this game which is the last home game of the Varsity this year. In order to give added incentive to the sale of tickets, he proposed that every person should pay cash for the tickets which they volunteered to sell and in this way guarantee the Athletic Association the $1000.00 necessary. In consideration of the manner in which tickets are sold in some other schools this is by no means extravagant. He then called for volunteers among the students who would take tickets there on the spot, pay for them there and then go out and sell them to people down town. In this way, the Athletic Association would be assured of securing the money—except in cases of bad checks. At first the response was a little slow, but with the added impetus of talks by Pres. Hill and H. Waters they went over big. Dr. Hill led off by taking fifteen tickets while Waters and Dutton have the biggest bunch with two hundred each.

From the way that the tickets have been selling since it appears that neither the students nor the Athletic Association will lose money. It all goes to show that the students of the University can do just about anything when anyone gets them finally in the mind to.

Y. W. C. A. PLAYERS PRESENT CLEVER SKIT

Miss Mildred Miller Shows Considerable Ability as Dramatic Writer

One of the cleverest bits of drama that has shown up in the University for some time was "My Isabelle," given by the Y. W. C. A. last Wednesday. The play, which was written by Miss Mildred Miller, was a take-off on characters taken from the Mid-Victorian period.

An unusual feature of the play was the fact that it was read by the author as the acting proceeded, making the take-off very vivid. The part of the heroine was taken by Miss Mary Doss who was resplendent in lavender sateen with an ivory shoe horn adorning her curls in lieu of a side comb. She carried an onion as a charm to make the tears come when the occasion demanded. The villain, Miss Gertrude Soash, was fittingly arrayed with a mustache which gave her quite a striking appearance. Miss Josephine Chacon made a very dapper little hero, and showed excellent technique in the portrayal of her role.

It is to be hoped that Miss Miller will produce more such plays, for those who were fortunate enough to be present, enjoyed a delightful hour and the success of this work says much for the ability of the playwright.

A COMMENDABLE RECORD

As a general rule, the end of every six weeks finds the population of the University campus diminished to some extent, while silently various to our members of the school sink off home because they failed to pass. This is especially true of the first six-weeks period of each semester, and it is usually predicted beforehand that a certain percentage—more or less—will have to go.

Just such predictions were made before the six weeks exams this last time. Various jokes, deplaining that the campus would lose some of its verdure in a short time were rampant, circulated and probably some people were trembling in their shoes for fear that they would be the ones to go. But when the Faculty Committee on Student Standing met to go over the records of the University students, not a one was found who was so low in his work that he would have to leave. And it is not because the work is becoming any easier. Far from it, most of us have to struggle night and day to keep above water at all. There were several who just barely got over the fatal mark, but suffice it that they did get over this time. Next six weeks they will have to work just that much harder.

Another thing worthy of mention is the fact that not one of the first team men on the Varsity football squad have been kept from playing in any game on account of low grades. They just naturally never got on the ineligible list. And that is another thing that has not happened here within the memory of most of us.

This all goes to show one thing for certain. Most of the idlers and those who go to college just for a good time have found that U. N. M. is no place for them and have been taken themselves elsewhere while their places have been more than filled by a larger group of students who have come here to work first and play afterwards—each in its own time and place. U. N. M. is on the right road to real success and all set to get there.

However this is not the end of the year, or the end of the semester, or even the end of the football season. There is still a lot to do and we can't lay down on the job yet. Just remember that the first six weeks grades don't make the semester grades but are just the first step on a hard row but one that passes pretty quickly. So let's get busy and try to go through the whole semester without having a single student flunk out, sinking off with a black page and a D. D. behind him.

HOW COME?

The other day after the pep assembly in Rodey Hall, a great many of the student body, including members of the football team, went downtown to sell tickets for the game Saturday. Well and good. Among the bunch were three Freshman girls. Fine.

These Freshmen were going along the street stopping everyone who seemed like good prospects. At the street corner three of the men of the U. N. M. football squad—one of them with a Varsity sweater on and the other wearing one of the U. N. M. sheepskin coats. And they were men that almost everyone on the Campus knows. The little Freshman maidens went up to the football players and tried to sell them some tickets to the game that they were going to play in Saturday afternoon. And then the Freshies looked insulted when they laughed at them.

Of course in a way it is a good deal of a laughing matter when University students don't know their own football team and besides can't even recognize U. N. M. insignia when they see them. But it is a mighty poor joke that they haven't ever taken the trouble to find out who and what they are. It's all fine to go out on the bleachers and yell for the boys a little when they are playing a game—makes one feel quite virtuous—really. But when it comes to seeing who they are or going out to congratulate them or when they played or anything like that it's quite a different matter. One might think from the attitude of some people on the campus that a football player was a thing to be known and recognized only when in uniform and to be scorned as an inferior at other times.

Say, did you notice the yelling at the game Saturday? In spite of the wind and the rain and the dust, there was a little of the real old noise after. And the pep at the assembly Wednesday noon. Once in a while in spite of ourselves the old U. N. M. pep does come to the top—but how soon it goes. It might be a very good thing if someone would stick a nice long pin into our complacency—the spirit might stay a while.

ANNOUNCEMENT MADE OF AMHERST MEMORIAL FELLOWSHIPS

Of Considerable Interest to All College Graduates and Instructors

An announcement has been received from Amherst College in regard to the Amherst Memorial Fellowships for the study of social economics, and political institutions. The Committee in charge announces that applications will be received for appointment to an Amherst Memorial Fellowship for the term beginning September 1, 1923.

The purpose of these fellowships as expressed in the deed of gift is: "Realizing the need of better understanding and more complete adjustment between man and existing social and political institutions, it is my desire to establish a fellowship for the study of the principles underlying these human relationships."

The fellowship which is a term of two to four years is open to all University or College graduates of sound health who have given some evidence of marked mental activity in some branch of the social sciences—economics, politics, and history—and of study, and who desired to make some real contribution in the way of new learning in the field which he is interested. Each fellow who receives the appointment must carry out a course of study and research with the Committee in charge, and may reside at any place approved by the Committee though it is advisable that at least one-half of his appointment should be spent in Europe. At the expiration of the term of the appointment, the material information which the appointee may have secured in its use or publication as they may decide.

All further information, forms, inquiries, and applications will be mailed on request to Mr. Walton H. Hammon, Amherst College, Amherst, Massachusetts. The final selection by a committee of five leading educators will be made after careful consideration of all applications late in January or early February.

THE LIBRARY CORNER

WHAT SHALL WE READ?

The answer to this question must necessarily be as varied as the tastes, the talents, and the circumstances of readers vary. The primary aim, however, should be the same in all. We should read in order to do well, whatever we have to do in life. This implies not only the increasing of one's knowledge but also the cultivation of our nobler powers as the imagination and the sympathies and the gaining of the power of appreciating what is highest and best in literature and life. Are Homer, Dante, Shakespeare, Milton, and the rest of our great writers merely names to you? If so, the best use that you can make of the library is to at least attempt to understand and enjoy some great author. And when you have found a worthwhile author who interests you, you have gained more than the acquirement of any mere book knowledge, and secured a start to even better appreciation. All persons who desire any help in the selection of books or authors should apply to the librarian.

PHI KAPPA PHI ELECTS NEW MEMBERS

The Phi Kappa Phi honorary society held a meeting Monday evening, October 30th in room 16 Chemistry Building for the purpose of electing new members.

It was not possible to obtain the names of the prospective members until they cannot be divulged until the bids have been accepted. However, we can watch for the appearance of pledge ribbons on the campus very shortly.

Phi Kappa Phi is an honor society which elects its members for general scholarship work, not confining itself to any special branch of scientific or literary achievement. Students are eligible for membership after becoming Seniors, the highest fourth of the class in scholarship being the only ones considered. The organization is national in scope, the local chapter bidding only the most promising of Senior scholars.

The society may at its discretion choose ten percent of the senior class in the fall and then complete the percent up to twenty-five by a second election in the spring.

From the graduating class of 1922 Mr. Frank Ogg, Miss Wilma Snyder, Miss Eleanor Cameron and Mr. Ralph Gould were chosen.

DANCE AT GIRLS DORM

Saturday night the inmates of the Women's Dorm threw on a big dance, Halloween style at the Girls Gymnasium and great was the rejoicing thereat. The hall was variously decorated with black and orange streamers, cornstalks, pumpkins, witches, goblins and cats, symbolic of the season and in one corner a booth was arranged where refreshments of cider—absolutely sweet—and doughnuts were served throughout the evening. Music was dispensed by the White Lightning Harmonizers. A feature of the program of the evening was the Three Dances—the Devil, his weapon, and the Result. The Devil was symbolized by masks, his weapons were shining red apples, and the Result was fireworks—as is usually the case the devil had his fling. Those who took in the evening were:

Misses Mosher, Farley, Rogers, Sundt, Thomas, Wingfield, Gamm, Fraser, Dupont, Owens, Culpepper, Craig, Miller, Zink, Soash, Wylie, Nelson, Shepherd, Fisher, Sherwood, Goodhart, Bowman, Holshieser, Wood, Carlier, Reder, Miller, Burns, Edmonson, Pearson, Morse, Baer, Farley, Pollock, Strickland, Crumley, Mary McClane, Jane McClane, Boyle, Shahan, Lyckman, Chacon, Dykes.

Messrs. Berger, Huffine, Chitt, Dow, Hickman, Owens, McCullough, Howard, Wood, Payton, Miller, Grimes, Stoffer, Doty, Wagner, Hale, Willey, Waite, Georges, Keich, McCort, Reeves, Thompson, Campbell, G. Bryan, Bowman, Scoppimire, Whittier, Stovell, Lewis, C. Cartwright, Stinnet, Gerhardt, Pollock, E. Bryan, Angle, Hopewell, Blake, Kinney, Bartlett, Orange, Miller, Burrows, Bunn, Walter, Pearce, Raymond, Roy, Ward, Martin, Hopkins, Craig.

Not to be outdone by the married couples of the faculty, the unmarried women of the campus pressed dinner last Saturday night. Bad weather cut the progress short, however, and accordingly the dinner was combined into two installments. The first course was served at Miss Shelton's home on East Silver and then they all went to the home of Miss Roy where the remainder of the dinner was in readiness. Afterwards the ladies ventured forth on some devilish stunts and even invaded the Dorm dance. It is rumored that two girls dressed as men attempted to steal some of the refreshments but were caught and rebuffed. Those present were Miss Mosher, Miss Evers, Miss Shelton, Miss McCormick and Miss Foster.

The Sigma Chi at home Sunday afternoon at the chapter house on East Central was a very pleasant affair. The day was just chilly enough to make the fireplaces fully appreciated by the guests. Mrs. B. Hanger, Mrs. Harry Benjamin, Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Russell poured in the dining room which was decorated with autumn flowers.

New Mexico XI of Phi Mu has issued invitations to a dance which is to be given at the Country Club Saturday night from eight to eleven thirty.

Walter Ward will motor a bunch of High School boys to the High School football game at Roswell next Friday night.

Miss Luella Craig received a visit from her mother Mrs. T. H. Craig last week.

Miss Francis Hoshelzer received a visit from her brother-in-law L. A. Simms last week.

gains and pushed over three touchdowns, making the score 18 to 7 at the beginning of the fourth quarter. Then with an apparently impossible lead against them, the Tigers swung up and went through for two more touchdowns and kicked goal each time. When the game ended, Chicago held the ball on Princeton's one-yard line but they held and the score ended 21 to 18.

In the East, Harvard downed Dartmouth, Syracuse played Penn State to a 0 to 0 tie and Army tied Yale in the Yale Bowl, playing 0 to 0. The game between Minnesota and Wisconsin was somewhat out of it on account of the 7 to 7 tie with Northwestern the past week. The contest between Minnesota and Wisconsin this Saturday will serve to clear up the situation somewhat.

Nebraska and Drake went into a tie for Missouri Valley honors Saturday, with the edge greatly favoring Nebraska which is said to have one of the greatest teams in its history. The Rocky Mountain Conference is still a great deal involved, though Denver University defeated University of Colorado, 10 to 0 and Colorado Aggies beat Utah Aggies, 10 to 0. On the coast, California defeated U. S. down the line. Santa Clara won from Arizona in the last Stanford fight, the game from Oregon Aggies, 6 to 0.

Saturday the New Mexico Aggies travelled to San Francisco where they met the St. Mary's Aggies. St. Mary's was conceded the edge in the game and won, 19 to 6. This Saturday the Aggies are primed to meet Arizona in a game which will have a great deal of interest for U. N. M. as we meet both later in the season.

LOCALS

Misses Vivian Evans of Gallup and Mary Wilson left last Friday night for Gallup where Miss Wilson spent the week end with her parents. Miss Evans joined Miss Wilson here, spending the day on the hill.

Miss Lorraine Cleveland who was a student here two years ago visited her sorority sisters the K. K. G. here last week. Miss Cleveland has been in Stanford for the past year and signifies her intention of returning there the coming semester. She has been spending the summer on her parents' ranch in the Datil mountains.

Mrs. H. R. Parsons, of Ft. Sumner, who has been visiting her daughter, Clarissa, here for the past week so returned home last Tuesday evening.

CO-ED REFLECTIONS

Some of the Chili flippers seem to think an invite to a dance is unnecessary—witness one who appeared at the Dorm dance and stayed the whole evening—we wonder if a course in etiquette would be amiss.

Thirteen seems to have been unlucky for the Texas Miners—and to think an El Paso paper said they would go back with the Lobo's scalp.

"Backward, oh, backward time in thy flight—make me a boy again just for tonight," evidently was the motto of one of our PHD'S at the faculty party. Knee trousers and middie will make you feel psychologically younger.

It is a shame that we were unable to view another professor at a party as a flapper—short skirt, lip stick, n'everything—a good course to offer along with English.

We understand that an instructor who naturally is minus the top covering commonly known as hair, mysteriously sported beautiful wigs—wonder what kind of hair tonic he uses.

Now that the series of autumn to have begun, everyone is getting on their stock of social lies and polishing them up.

Some of the fellows on the campus are certainly optimistic—we note they have not yet detached their corkscrew from their key-rings.

Correct this sentence: "No," the fair Co-ed to the football he: "I can't go to the dance tonight must study for a quiz tomorrow." Everything has its just retribution—look at the hot endings to the Halloween pranks.

GRID DOPE

In spite of the nasty weather of last Saturday afternoon, the representation of students in the bleachers at Varsity field was better than it has ever been, and the cheering was very effective.

The Lobos will line up tomorrow, without Fat Greenleaf and Cullen Pearce, who were injured in the Texas Miner game, a loss of no mean proportions, for these two men have been a tower of strength in the Lobo line.

The Buffalo eleven which faces the Lobos tomorrow, according to the dope, is a stronger team than the Texas Miners, which means that tomorrow's scrap will make the battle of the Marne fade into significance in comparison.

The Miners proved themselves worthy opponents last Saturday, and demonstrated that they have a team which far surpasses anything they have ever put in the field before.

Lobo life right now seems to be just one west Texas team after another. Last Saturday, the Texas Miners—tomorrow, the West Texas Normal Buffaloes.

The appearance of Captain John Popejoy on the field in a football uniform, adds strength to the team, even though his sprained knee has not recovered sufficiently for him to get in tomorrow's game.

Herbert Elliot, former football star, tackled two bandits when they attempted to hold him up in Chicago last Saturday, killing one of them, and severely wounding the other. This is our idea of practical football.

The cross country squad, consisting of Scarborough, Doty, Stephens, Broster, McDonald, and Wood, is working out every day now, running three miles one day and four the next, in preparation for the big cross country run which will be held after football season.

It is understood that the police department is making an effort to discover the identity of the two girls dressed as boys, who attempted to steal the refreshments at the party held by the faculty women last Saturday night. If the guilty parties will leave a letter, addressed to the Weekly, under the east end of the bleachers on Varsity field before next Monday night police investigation will be halted.

WANTED—Will the person who stole my towel from my locker in the gym please return it before Saturday night, as I shall need it badly at that time? John Popejoy.

Delegates to the state convention of the Federated Woman's Clubs of New Mexico visited the University, Thursday afternoon, October 26. Attractive signs, pointing out the different buildings of the University, were placed on the campus for the guidance of the visiting club women.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL MEETS TO DISCUSS FINANCES

Large Deficit Faces Varsity on Account of Poor Attendance at Games

Monday evening a meeting of the Athletic Council was held to discuss ways and means of financing the remainder of the football season this year. Thus far things have been running along pretty poorly so far and the attendance has never been enough to anyways near pay expenses and unless things improve it may be that University football schedule will be discontinued.

Manager Hanger made a report on the last game. The guarantee to the Texas School of Mines team was six hundred dollars, for the trip. Ticket sales and gate receipts amounted to only about two hundred dollars leaving a total deficit of four hundred dollars on a game which, of all others, should have been a financial success. Together with the loss of five hundred dollars on the guarantee to Denver University and the various expenses for uniforms and new equipment, the University Athletic Association is now nine hundred dollars in the hole.

Plans were discussed and outlined for the ticket sale for the final home game of the season, the game Saturday with West Texas State Normal. A real ticket canvas will be made in order to include the whole town and unless it is successful, athletics at U. N. M. for the remainder of the year will be placed in a bad position.
