FRESHMEN DANCE AS PER SCHEDULE

In Spite of Attempts by Sophomores Saturday morning to Break Up the Party, Freshmen Hold Dance for Freshmen Only.

The freshmen say it was a wonderful party. It was, as far as any real interference on the part of the sophomores was concerned. There was no fight, no rumpus, no exhibition of any bestial brutality at the dance. Joy was as unconfined as it ever gets, and great gobs of it were running around loose and making most unearthly sounds. The freshmen were apparently indulging without restraint in different varieties of good spirits, and why not, we would like to ask? Did they not propose to entertain their members at a dance in Rodey hall at a certain specified time, in spite of what the results were? And did they not fulfill all the specifications to the minutest detail? They certainly did. In spite of the knowledge the sophs had obtained by attending the freshmen meetings through the medium of the hole in the wall of the Economics room and the stool behind the bookcase in the English room, they seemed to be unable to bring the knowledge thus gained to any specific advantage. The freshmen knew what they were going to do, and so did the sophs. The freshmen did; the sophs tried and didn't.

According to Hoyle, the sophs should have slightly twisted the freshmen's tails. They took the jump on the unsuspecting youngsters by ganging them in their beds the night previous to the light fantastic. Enough of the youths of tender age were cabbaged to make it a lead-pipe for the smaller group, but the same happened in their case as happened in the case of the Hebrew; "He got away." Punk Phillips, the diminutive and insignificant leader of the fresh (next to Harry Lee), slipped Hon. Herb Hickey the double O, and executed a neat fade-away, after which the jig was up, along with a million freshmen, who came up in autos, followed by the indignant Punk. They soon collected a most formidable mob and, after raiding the Alpha Delta house and taking the resident sophs on a long, weary jaunt, they released the original orator himself, who took further details in his charge. Before the day was done, or half done, the greater part of the soph element were chasing the squirrels in the county jail, or walking the ties back from Isleta. Something became of them, anyhow, because when the time came for the dance to start, eleven sophs were on the job to step in to the "Hail the conquering hero comes" stunt, and when it came to doing, they didn't. We absolutely do not blame them. Even the fire department was among those present, after the arrival of which nothing could be seen, but the red lights of six fuses on the top of Rodey hall.

At the close of the dance a few remarks were addressed to the assembly by the distinguished orators, Aph-

ASSEMBLY IN HONOR OF YOUNG OFFICERS

State Superintendent Wagner is Chief Speaker at Celebration for Recently Commissioned Men. Lieutenants Also Speak.

The assembly held Tuesday morning in honor of the newly commissioned lieutenants, some of whom are former Varsity students, was an interesting one from every standpoint. The five young officers, First Lieutenants Emmons, Shufflebarger, and Tierney, and Second Lieutenants Hesselden and Goodell, occupied the stage alongside Dr. Boyd, State Superintendent Wagner, Dr. James and Professor Milne. The program was opened by the Grand Opera Chorus which sang "Italia, Italia Beloved," and as an encore, "Go On My Boy, Your Country Needs You."

Dr. Boyd then introduced Lieutenant Glenn Emmons, of the infantry, who was a student at U. N. M. last year. Lieutenant Emmons told of some of the experiences which he had,

LETTERS REFUSED BY THIS YEARS TEAM

At Assembly Where Letters Are Awarded, Captain White Refuses Them for Team. Booker's Victory at Santa Fe Celebrated.

At the assembly Thursday morning, called to award the football men their letters, Captain George White shot a thunderbolt when he announced that the majority of the men did not feel that they had a right to wear the insignia, since they were not up to the standard of former players, and for that reason would not accept them. This action by the players was entirely unexpected.

Dr. Clark awarded the letters for the athletic council, but spoke briefly on the season before the award. He stated what conditions had to be met at the beginning of this school year, that all of last year's first team men are either in the army and navy or engaged in the war work in some manner. Several of them are now in France or on their way there. At

FINE ARTS SCHOOL TO GIVE A CONCERT

Students of This Department Will Give Entertainment Under the Direction of Professor Seder—A Lecture on "Il Trovatore."

The public and students of the University will have an opportunity to hear an excellent musical program next Friday night at Rodey hall, when the members of the College of Fine Arts will give a concert. This is another of the delightful events gotten up and directed by Professor Seder. An unusual program has been prepared for the evening, which includes operatic numbers, high-class songs and piano selections. The best talent in the University will take part. An unusual feature will be the opera talk on "Il Trovatore," by Professor Seder, illustrated by musical numbers.

The program is as follows:

- "A Spirit Flower" . . . Campbell-Tipton
"Cradle Song" (1915) . . . Kreisler
Miss Estelle Harris.
"Valse Arabesque" . . . Lack
Miss Anita Osuna.
"Calm as the Night" . . . Bohm
Miss Dorothy McIntosh.
"Saracen Songs" . . . Burleigh
Miss Hallie Mitchell.
"A la bien Aimee" . . . Schutt
Miss Helen Thacker.
"Knowest Thou the Land," from
"Mignon" . . . Thomas
Miss Helen Vincent.
"Witches' Dance" . . . McDowell
Miss Nola Keen.
"With Haste My Song Would Be Flying" . . . Hahn
Mr. George Givan.
Nocturne in E flat . . . Chopin
Miss Helen Thacker.
"From the Land of the Sky-blue Water" . . . Cadman
"The White Dawn Is Stealing" . . .
Cadman
Miss Grace Stortz.
Opera talk on "Il Trovatore" . . .
Prof. E. Stanley Seder.
Duet—"Back to Our Mountains" . . .
(from "Il Trovatore") . . . Verdi
Miss Dorothy McIntosh and Mr.
George Givan.
"Miserere" . . . Verdi
Miss Estelle Harris and Mr. F.
Heslet.
"Alma Mater," . . . by the audience

Another in the splendid series of artist concerts brought here by the Fortnightly Club will be presented January 9th, when Lucy Gates, internationally famous soprano, and Carlos Salzedo, one of the greatest living harpists, appear in recital at the high school. Those desiring tickets will please see Professor Seder.

Mr. Paul Menaul, professor of biology at the university, resigned to accept a position as assistant in organic chemistry at the Oklahoma Agricultural college. Mr. Menaul left last week for Oklahoma. No one has been secured to take his place here yet.

Registration of Students

Faculty regulations require that students now in residence who expect to attend the University next quarter shall make out their program of studies before the end of the present quarter. The time set for this purpose is Wednesday to Tuesday, inclusive, the 12th to the 18th of December. Students who fail to make out program of studies in the time appointed and file the same with the Dean and Registrar are liable to the fine of one dollar for late registration. Registration day for next quarter, January 7th, is set apart for the registration of new students only. All classes next quarter begin on January 8th. Old students, who now make out program of studies for next quarter, not only escape the fine for late registration, but also are not required to be present until class exercises are resumed on January the 8th.

Students first see the Registrar, then the Dean. These officers will keep extra office hours during registration week. No additional fees are due from present students unless the Regents decide that the student activity fee should be raised.

Students who have been absent from the University on athletic and glee club trips or for other excusable reasons are required to follow the usual procedure in obtaining excuses for such absences. Otherwise these absences will be penalized the same as absences incurred in any other manner.

both at the first training camp at the Presidio, and at the second one at Leon Springs. He gave some of the humorous incidents which help to make life bearable in camp. His experience, he said, had been of inestimable value to him, and he would not trade it for anything else in the world.

Next, Lieutenant Shufflebarger, of the coast artillery, was introduced. Lieutenant Shufflebarger told some of his experiences and described

That was all of importance that happened, but we might mention that the Cigaroot wore mourning, having lost a Jimmie and a perfectly good banner.

the beginning of the season, we were confronted with a schedule including several games in the Rocky Mountain conference, games with Texas University and the University of Arizona and one with Cruces. This last game was the only one we could see our way clear to play, owing to the lateness of getting started, so preparations were made for it. Dr. Clark stated further that although we were badly beaten, that we could not be accused of not living up to our obligations. At the close of his speech he read the names of the following men whom the athletic council had awarded letters upon the recommendation of the coach, manager and captain of the team: Boldt, Chavez, Clark, Foraker, Greenleaf, Harris, Mann, McClure, Patton, Phillips, Romero, White (captain), Manager Richardson.

It was then that White made his speech refusing them.

NOT GUILTY.

The Round-Up, via Charlotte (who had all the other women in Cruces left in the dormitory,—ask Punk or Blanco), mentioned the fact that the University came up with the reputation of having a light, fast eleven, and that we played well against odds. We hate to criticize the noble sheet, but we deny that we ever had any reputation at all, or that we demonstrated any speed whatever at Cruces, unless it was in trying to get out of the way. We therefore have to accuse the Aggies of giving us credit in order to make it seem that their victory was worth considerable more than it was, which would be adding insult to injury.

LET'S SHOW OUR SPEED.

Football is a past issue. Let the dead be forgotten. Basketball now holds the boards, and she is going to hold her own. We have every chance in the world for a good team, in spite of the gloomy remarks to the contrary. We are going through the season with our share of victories and when we meet the Aggies we will wipe out our recent disgrace by capturing their fluffy little scap. However, we should not worry about such small fry. We have not yet got a coach, but one will be available soon, and practice will begin in earnest. Let's get 'em, Varsity.

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL HAS BEEN REORGANIZED

At a meeting of delegates from the different fraternities last Thursday night the Pan-Hellenic council was reorganized. The Pan-Hellenic was first started last year, but none of the old officers came back, and nothing had been done up to this time. The meeting was held at the Phi Mu house.

An election of officers was the first business transacted, at which the following were elected. James E. Hoover, president; Lina Ferguson, secretary and treasurer. Plans were laid for future activities. A meeting is to be held Wednesday night when these plans will be more fully developed.

The representatives present were: Phi Mu, Lina Ferguson and Louise Lowber; Alpha Gamma, Kathleen Long and Katherine Keleher; Kappa Delta, Nu, Miss Garrett and Helen Darrow; Pi Kappa Alpha, James Hoover and Robert Hopewell; Sigma Chi, Herbert Hickey and George Given; Alpha Delta, Ed King and John Scruggs.

briefly the artillery in use and methods of range finding. He stated that to his mind the position of the man who has to stay at home because of perfectly good reasons was harder than that of the men in the army. Those already in the army know that they are in the right place, while those at home are assailed by serious doubts at times.

The audience then listened to two more selections by the opera chorus, "To Arms," from "Go Ask Willie," and a parody on "Where Do We Go From Here," after which Lieutenant Goodell was introduced.

Lieutenant Goodell spoke of the work to be done behind the line, and urged those too young for the draft to remain in school and prepare themselves for the task which will be their after the war.

Dr. Boyd introduced the chief speaker of the day, State Superintendent Jonathan H. Wagner, who first complimented the University and especially the University chorus, upon the way they had conducted themselves at the state educational meet in Santa Fe. Mr. Wagner then spoke concerning the war. He stated that the old motto, "Carthage must be destroyed," had been changed to fit the present times into "Germany must be destroyed." By Germany he meant all that Germany has practiced and the principles she has stood for in this world war. The speaker concluded with the assertion that some young man from some one state in the union, from some one city or town in that state, and from some one home in that city or town, would carry the American flag through the streets of Berlin before the war is ended, and that he could wish no better luck to the officers on the platform than that one of them should have that honor.

Professor Milne then spoke briefly on the way that the University and high school are working together, and upon the fact that the University is doing standard college work, whereas it had been doing preparatory work when he first came here.

The freshmen were not rushed in Rodey. There were only a handful of Sophs on the Hill. The freshmen knew it, yet they were afraid, so afraid that their knees proved insufficient support for their frames, and they were unable to perambulate as far as the dormitory. They were able to walk only as far as the street car track, where they took a car to town in order to trust their peaceful slumbers to a hotel.

Doug. Fairbanks has nothing on Kid Keinath. When pursued by the Freshmen, he crawled up the side of the Barnett building like a human fly. None of the Freshmen were able to duplicate the stunt, and were forced to abandon the chase.

IN HONOR OF OFFICERS.

Mr. Leo Murphey entertained at a most enjoyable dance at the Country Club last Friday evening, December 7. The affair was in honor of his fraternity brothers, Lieutenants Emmons and Hesselden, and clearly demonstrated that they have lost none of their former speed or accuracy.

The club was gaily decorated with pennants and college ornaments. An appetizing luncheon was served towards midnight, and a thoroughly enjoyable evening was reported by those present.

The ladies present were: Misses ulie Hubbell, Ruth Tompkins, Alberta Hawthorne, Jimmie Standley, Clara Bursum, Edna Garton, Louise Dadey, Frances Bear, Le Clair Cavanaugh, Ann Harris, Shirley von Wachenhusen, Estelle Harris, Lina Ferguson, Dorothy Macintosh, Irene Boldt, Wilma Snyder, Margaret Lee, Lorraine Asselin, Bernice Hesselden and Irene Fee. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lackey acted as chaperons.

SIGMA CHI ENTERTAINS.

The "Sigs" gave a most informal but nevertheless delightful dance at the fraternity house on Friday evening.

MANN IS NEXT YEAR'S FOOTBALL CAPTAIN.

Plucky Little Back Field Man is Chosen to Head Team Next Season; Subject of Letters Discussed.

A meeting of the football team was called last Tuesday by Manager Don Richardson, for the purpose of electing a captain for 1918, and to transact other business of importance.

Clark, Mann and Boldt were nominated to head next year's eleven. Boldt withdrew his name from the nominations. A ballot was taken, and when the votes were counted Mann was declared elected, winning by the narrow margin of one vote. Mann certainly deserved the honor, being one of the only real football players on the team this year, clearly demonstrating his caliber in all of the games played.

The matter of letters was then taken up by the team and discussed. Practically all of the team decided to refuse their letters in order that the high standard of athletics heretofore maintained in the University might remain unsullied.

PROMISING SQUAD OUT FOR BOYS' BASKETBALL

Boys' basketball practise started this week with a likely bunch of candidates out to fill the shoes of last year's championship quintette. Practise is held three nights a week at the Armory, the place where all the games played in town are played. The prospects are for a very good team, considering that none of the first team men of last season are back to play.

Mann and Chaves, who starred for the Albuquerque High school, which won the state championship last year, are out for forwards, and clearly demonstrate that they have lost none of their former speed or accuracy.

Greenleaf, who also was on the Hi team last year, is out for a guard.

From the Deming High school we have Phillips and McClure. Both come here with a reputation.

From last year's squad, Hopewell and Moore are on the job. These men played good ball last year as substitutes and probably will get a chance to demonstrate their calibre on the first lineup this season. Clark of last year's squad is out for center.

A captain has not yet been elected to take the place of Thacker, who was elected last year, but who failed to put in an appearance this year, having entered Annapolis. The squad expects to elect a captain this week. Manager Hugh Cooper has not yet given out any definite schedule of games, but we will probably meet the Farmers, Arizona, and several teams of the Rocky Mountain conference, besides games with local schools in the city league.

CHRISTMAS MUSIC AT NEXT SUNDAY'S VESPERS.

The usual program, appropriate to the Christmas season, will be given at the vesper service at 4 o'clock next Sunday. This service will be the last of the present quarter. Mr. McKain, of the Menaul school, will speak.

An elaborate program of music will be given, under Professor Seder's direction, by the Opera Chorus and soloists. The numbers include "The Birthday of a King" (Neidlinger), Miss Hortense Switzer; "Nazareth" (Gounod), Robert T. Sewell and chorus; "O Holy Night" (Adam), Miss Estelle Harris and chorus.

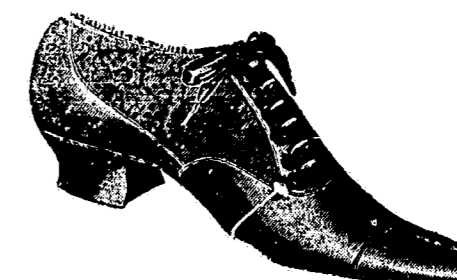

The Opera Chorus will sing several carols and the cantata, "The Christmas Rose," by William Lester, with solo parts by Misses Switzer, Harris, Stortz and Mr. Sewell. Congregational singing of the Christmas hymns will be part of the program.

THIRD OF THE LECTURE SERIES BY DR. JAMES

The third of a series of lectures given by Dr. George Wharton James, author and historian, was delivered Thursday evening at the High school auditorium. The subject was, "Acoma, the City of the Sky." This lecture was the most interesting one given thus far by Dr. James.

Dr. James thinks that Albuquerque is neglecting a great opportunity for advertising itself and Acoma by not building a road from this city to the pueblo. He says that all the romantic splendor which Taos claims can be found ten-fold at Acoma. During his talk Dr. James also described the "Enchanted Mesa," and told the legend connected with it. The speaker thinks that the wonderful rock formations in sphinxes, spires, temples and mesas put to shame the renowned Garden of the Gods in Colorado.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

SERVICE FLAG.

A large service flag has been presented to the local chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha by Mrs. F. M. Lee and daughter Margaret, who made it. There are twenty-six stars in the flag, one for each member of the fraternity who has given his services to his country. Two of these stars are for two of Mrs. Lee's sons, Chester, who is with the Forestry regiment in France, and Floyd, who is with Battery A, which is probably on its way to France now. Stars will be added from time to time, as members leave to join the army or navy. The next star added will be for Paul Butts, who left Monday for Washington, D. C., to enlist in the medical corps there.

LOCO WEED

There is nothing more loco than the Sophomore girls were, about hog-tying their freshmen sisters. When it came to a rough-and-tumble, the Sophomore girls left the male element to do the knitting. The freshmen boys had to manhandle them in order to have something to dance with.

And now the menace. Mutterings have been heard about the campus that the Freshmen, in lieu of their successful insubordination, are going to force the Sophomores to wear yellow socks. Good night, Elizabeth!

Frank Anderson is a slick galoot. He ought to register as a Freshman.

Jimmie Hoover may have gone to the hospital to have his tonsils removed, but the wise ones will tell you it was a broken heart. Did you go to the last Thirty Club dance?

Paul Butts, an alumnus of the University, left Monday afternoon for Washington, D. C., to enlist in the medical corps.

Chalmers Bowers enlisted in the army yesterday.

LETTERS REFUSED BY THIS YEAR'S TEAM.

Manager Richardson took the floor and in behalf of the football team, presented Coach Wood with a sweater as an appreciation of the services which Professor Wood had freely given the team.

Coach Wood responded in a speech, thanking the men and stating that although there were no real stars on the team, there were some real first class men on it. His relations with the team would ever be a source of pride to him, he added.

Dr. Boyd spoke on the athletic outlook for the future, and stated that if fully convinced that the men showed the right spirit, he would do all in his power to secure an athletic director and coach in the near future. He commended the spirit of the men who refused the letters, but urged them to accept the insignia and wear them proudly.

At the close of Dr. Boyd's talk, Vice President Hodgkin called upon Harold Booker, winner of the state oratorical contest at Santa Fe, to tell us about the contest.

Booker said that he would much rather have gone with the team to Cruces, but felt it was more his duty to win the oratorical contest if he could.

We think Booker did his duty, all right, and congratulate him upon winning the contest for the University of New Mexico.
