VARSITY TEAM LEAVES FOR ROSWELL THE 31ST

Indians Hang Their Signs on Us in Scrimmage Game; New Park is Completed; High School-Normal Game Reviewed

The United States Indian School defeated the Varsity eleven in a scrimmage game at the Indian School last Thursday by the score of 6-0.

Although the Varsity tried different men in different positions, the Relmen clearly showed a superior knowledge of real scrimmage. Many forward passes were tried and failed. The Indians depended on line bucks for most of their gains, while the Varsity contented themselves with going around the ends.

For the Indian School the fullback Holo Tso was easily the hero. Time and again he plowed through the line for gains, always leaving several Varsity men strewn behind him. Pierotti, the quarterback, ran the team well. His headwork, coupled with hard playing, made many yards for his school.

Walker, of the University, played a fine game at center. He was especially strong on the defensive, breaking up play after play.

Calkins at halfback, played his usual hard and steady game, being able to make a gain whenever called upon.

The only score of the game was in the third quarter when the Varsity fumbled a punt. Like a flash the fast Indian quarterback had scooped up the ball and was started for a touchdown. They failed to kick goal and the game ended six to nothing. We don't think there was any particular excuse for the loss of this game, but that over-confidence of victory caused the glaring defeat. It is to be hoped that the next practice game with the Indians will find our men aware of what they are about to encounter.

The team leaves Thursday night for Roswell, where they will play the New Mexico Military Institute. This is the first game of the season and it will be watched with interest by fans all over the country. The championship of the southwest will lie between the winner of this contest and the winning team at Las Cruces the same day, where Arizona and the Aggies will lock horns. The Roswell team, although not so heavy as last year, will probably outweigh our men. They are fast and from all reports are a first-class football aggregation. Nevertheless the University men assure us that they will present us with Roswell's goat when they return. With a couple of good scrimmage practices next week there is no doubt that the team will be in fine condition, and should be able to give a good account of themselves at Roswell next Saturday.

The team will leave here Thursday night and will arrive in Roswell about noon Friday. This will give them some time to rest up after the hard trip. They will arrive home again Sunday night.

The next big game will be played here, probably on November 16, when the "Farmers" play here. This will be one of the hardest games of the season. Last year the Aggies had the strongest team in the state and nearly all of the old men are back this year. These are also strengthened by many new men.

The Arizona game is to be played in Tucson this year and, from all indications, will be a hard fought game.

We will only have the opportunity of seeing the team in one game here this year, so let us put all our enthusiasm into that game. And we can also help to fill the team with determination to win next Saturday at Roswell. Let them know that the whole student body is back of them. If they have the support of the united student body there is no doubt but that they will emerge the victors in the first battle of the gridiron.

HIGH SCHOOL-NORMAL.

In a game featured with many spectacular plays, the Albuquerque High School defeated the New Mexico Normal University, last Saturday, by the score of 31 to 19. During the first quarter the High School made three touchdowns from forward passes, two of these being credited to McCanna and one to Farrell.

In the second quarter the Normal got their feet and no scoring was done on either side.

After a rest between halves the Normal went in with determination, and by a series of good line bucks made two touchdowns in the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter Ellis, the fast Vegas man, got away with the ball and the score was tied.

After trying line plunges, Hesselden went around end for a touchdown and the performance was repeated again by a forward pass to McCanna.

Ellis featured for the Normal, making many sensational runs for large gains.

Honors for the High School lie with Hesselden, Farrell, Camps and McCanna. Hesselden displayed nerve and "grit" such as is seldom seen in any game.

NEW PARK.

The new athletic park was initiated last Saturday by the High School-Normal game.

Although not completely fenced, this will be done the fore part of the week. The field has been plowed and graded and will be rolled in the near future.

This park will furnish an ideal place for all school games to be held, as the ground is much better than Traction Park and is much more convenient.

The boys of the University, High School, Manual and the Indian School have been putting up the fence.

We claim that the University is certainly supporting the high school. To prove it a large number of University students were present at the High School-Normal game, rooting enthusiastically for the High School. Among them were Lillian Kieke, Charlotte Lembke, Irene Boldt, Frank Gouin, Arthur McCollum, Bill Higgins, Treasure Hartmann, Earl Olds, Leslie Harkness, Jimmy Redfield, Red Balcomb, Dora Nuckles, Clifford Nichols, John Pease, Ike Littrell, Arno Leupold, Mary Cooper, Laurence Lackey, "Toots" McFie (and Ira Boldt) Louise Lowber, and Miss Mary McFie. The High School didn't seem to root much themselves. Probably thought they had the game in the first half, and were too scared in the second half.

Miss Laureen Asselin wears a Wilson pin. Hooray for Laureen—the local reporter is going to be a democrat when he grows up.

NEW ATHLETIC CONSTITUTION RATIFIED WITH 2 EXCEPTIONS

The Following Two Articles Do Not Meet the Approval of the Students

After much hard labor, thought and study, the committee appointed to revise the Constitution of the Athletic Association, consisting of Frank Spitz, Ed Doran, Helen James, William Higgins, Professor C. E. Hodgkin and Professor J. D. Clark, finally finished the task, and the Constitution in its entirety was submitted to the Student Body Wednesday and Thursday; for the most part it has been accepted as it stands, with the exception of the following sections:

ARTICLE VI.—INSIGNIA.

Section 1. The insignia of this Association shall be as follows:

For women's basketball the letters U. N. M. For football the plain block letters N. M. with the smaller letters B. B. one on each side. For track the letters N. M. with small wings at the side. For women's tennis the letters U. N. M. with crossed rackets. For men's tennis the letters N. M. with crossed rackets.

Section 2. (1) The Athletic Council shall award these insignia as specified in Section 1 to any member of this Association who has participated in four athletic contests in one branch of athletics, or won a first place or two second places in an intercollegiate track meet as a member of a N. M. team, or who has been a member of a single or double tennis team which has represented the University in an intercollegiate tennis match, with the condition that in no case is the same individual to receive more than one insignium for the same branch of athletics in one season. The Council shall award insignia in accordance with the above rules to any one who is in their judgment worthy of such insignia, considering in this connection the reports of the Captain, Coach and General Manager.

(2) In the event that there be less than four games in any athletic season, the matter of insignia is left to the discretion of the Council.

ARTICLE X.

Section 1. This Constitution may be amended at any time by a vote of two thirds of the total membership of the Association, provided that the proposed amendments have been posted on the bulletin boards of the University of New Mexico at least two weeks in advance.

Whether these articles shall be incorporated in the Constitution or whether their places shall be taken by proposed amendments, will be decided upon at the next meeting of the Student Body, which will be held early this week.

STUDENT BODY PASSES RESOLUTION OF SYMPATHY.

At the close of Dr. Boyd's address Thursday morning, the student body held a brief meeting under its vice-president, Helen James, at which a short resolution of regret was read and accepted, conveying the sympathy of the student body to Ed Doran, manager of the U. N. M. Weekly, for the sudden death of his mother, Wednesday evening.

Insignia Not Liked.—Students Would Keep the Present Amendment Rule

Albuquerque, October 26, 1912.

Editor U. N. M. Weekly:

As a member of the student body, and of last year's Athletic Association, I have been greatly interested in the proposed new Constitution of the Athletic Association as drawn up by the committee and submitted to the student body. I agree with everything as contained in this new Constitution with the exception of the article dealing on Insignia, in which it is proposed to award insignia for different athletic events with proper decorations to show in what branch of athletics they were won.

To me this appears ridiculous. Any one who knows anything about the manner in which insignia are awarded in a large college or university, is aware that the players work for their letter, their Y of H, of whatever institution they may be connected with. An insignia shows that the wearer has distinguished himself or herself, as the case may be, in a branch of athletics, but the value of the insignium should be equal, no matter what branch that is. It may be all right for high or preparatory schools to wear distinguishing marks, but for a University to do so seems nonsensical. The student who has won his plain N. M. ought to and will be just as proud of it as he would be with all the gaudy appendages attached thereto as can be conceived.

Therefore I hope that when this article comes up for consideration it will be voted down by the student body, and something saner and at the same time more dignified and quiet, will take its place.

Trusting you may find space in your paper for this letter, I beg to remain,

Very sincerely,

U. N. M. STUDENT.

Editor of the U. N. M. Weekly:

I ask for the privilege of using a little of the valuable space in your publication for the purpose of drawing the attention of the student body to a matter which is, I think, in danger of being passed upon without due consideration. I refer to the proposed amendment to the tentative constitution of the Athletic Association submitted by the committee appointed for that purpose,—an amendment which would change the number of votes necessary to amend the constitution when adopted, from two-thirds of the total membership of the association to two-thirds of the membership present at any meeting.

I believe this matter is more important than it may seem at first glance. Much of the strength and usefulness of any organization depends on its stability—on its faculty of staying put, if I may be permitted the expression, and of being in the same place every time some one finds occasion to look for it. No organization whose fundamental principles are embodied in a document subject to easy change has this quality—turn your back on it, miss one or two of its meetings, and you have little idea

WE HAVE IT — WE'LL KEEP IT.

The editor sincerely hopes that this editorial will cause no epileptic fits or strokes of apoplexy among its readers. The prevailing topic of the editorial page of the Weekly has so long been the absence of school spirit and the failure of the students to take part in affairs in general, that it will no doubt come as a surprise to our readers to learn that the opinion of the Weekly is that matters are just about as they should be among the members of the student body. Every man and every woman in the University is taking some part in the activities of the school or will take part later on in the year. Those of the boys who are not playing football are waiting for the basketball and football seasons; those who are not athletes at all are engaged on the publications, managerships, and literary activities of the school. Perhaps we have not realized it, but the school spirit of the Varsity is good this year. The assemblies are well attended; there are no factions in the student body; everyone is willing to put his shoulder to the wheel and boost for the greater University, which is bound to come, when the united efforts of the administration, the faculty and the students are applied in one direction. No knocker has been heard uttering dire predictions in mournful tones; no dead students are encumbering the campus. If there is anything for which the Weekly cherishes an unrelenting animosity, it is for carpers and students who are "dead". The knockers have been silenced; the dead students have been either resurrected or removed by the undertakers, so that there is no longer anything to complain about as to the harmony of the student body and the corporate University.

We students must exercise every precaution to see that this harmony, so long lacking, and so difficult to create, is not again destroyed by any dissension, trivial or great. There will be times when our judgment will be severely tested by the intricacies of certain questions which we may be called upon to decide. A single rash moment will suffice to demolish the spirit without which there is no pleasure in our college life. We must not jump at conclusions, and consider that an important matter is a serious one. From time to time certain lovers of strife will no doubt arise who will attempt, not openly, but through some ruse or other, such as righting a wrong, to destroy the spirit of good-fellowship and unanimity which we so long lacked, and have but so recently acquired. Don't heed them. Let us see to it that our good judgment is not warped by the machinations of those who would set us at one another's throats in order to gain some trivial personal end. But why all this upon carefulness? Surely the spirit of the U. N. M. is already strong enough and idealistic enough never to sink again. We are all here for a common purpose, and we are all willing and eager to contribute our utmost to the advancement and glory of our Alma Mater. We are building a university for New Mexico. Our college spirit and our absolute harmony are our most powerful agents. Shall we allow anyone to wrest them from us? Never.

LOOKING BACK.

The surest way of ascertaining progress is comparison with the past. The reports of the University for 1908 showed strictly collegiate students to be only one-third of the enrollment. At the present time a prep is almost a curiosity. In 1911 an editorial appeared in the Weekly deploring the fact that the University had no college department of philosophy, while the department of philosophy has today one of the largest enrollments of any department. With the exception of the department of geology, the University has complete courses, even offering courses in astronomy. While not exactly necessary, it would certainly be a pleasant surprise if some kindly disposed citizen would bestow a well equipped observatory upon the University. But, judging from the sentiment of the state, the next addition to the University should be a school of law, which would without doubt draw a large attendance.

While time makes us forget the deficiencies of the University of the past, a comparison shows that we have advanced in a thousand and one ways. But now that New Mexico is a state, our advancement in the next few years will be far greater than that in the past. We may as well climb on the boosters' wagon now, for if we don't we'll be run over. People are asking about us, and pulling for us who did not know a year ago that the school on the hill was the University of New Mexico. That is the difference between yesterday and today. Indications were that we would double our enrollment this year, because of the vast number of inquiries received by the registrar. The fact that the enrollment did not increase is no reason for discouragement. The vast number of inquiries, hundreds more than had ever come in before, show that people know we are here. During this year they will find out that our representations were bona fide, and next year they will begin to come here. You have heard that before? Yes, but never has the claim been advanced with anything resembling the strong reasons for its advocacy at the present time. No one is asked to believe anything. But this cannot but be the "right dope". Ten years ago the University was little more than a prep school. Today no one disputes that it is an institution of full collegiate rank, and at the head of New Mexico's educational system. To use the words of Elbert Hubbard, we must say to those who would hinder our progress, "get out of the way, doggone it, get out of the way," and if they don't get out of the way, we can't help it if they get hurt. No opponents have appeared lately, however. They have evidently all been converted to our cause.

Pedro Sanchez says:
"These Indians, she don't have no sense anyhow. Why the hell don't she tell a fellow they goan to play the good football game? Thees University boys thinks they beat heap big red man easy, an' doand play no good game, an' get-a beat bad. Mebbe so our fellows doand feel lak they know so much, an' that ees good for 'em. Adios, I got one date in Barelaz."

The "Weekly" is in receipt of "The New Mexico Progress," a monthly paper written and published by the students of the New Mexico Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb. They also publish a supplement for the children. Altogether it is a very interesting paper.

Jay Allen, "the football hero," after registering and coming out to practice two or three times decided that he liked work better than study and left for San Pedro Saturday, having accepted a position at that flourishing mining camp.

SOCIETY AND CLASS NOTES.

Friday afternoon the Y. W. C. A. girls entertained all the University girls in Rodey Hall from three until six. Those in the receiving line were Misses Everitt, Cooper, Lembke and Seder.

As the invited guests arrived, those who had come with the expectation of taking the "masculine" part, were suddenly wheeled about and on their back was pinned a verse telling the gentleman's name. For instance: Hezikah-Mary McFie; Jonah-James Joe-Cooper; Mutt-Arnot; Jeff-Bright; Bill-Nuckles, etc.

At four o'clock the grand march was started, Mary McFie at the piano, and Evelyn Everitt leading. Dancing continued until about five, when a contest in the art gallery was held for ten minutes. The winners of this contest were: Miss Brown, winner of a handsome brooch, and "Hezikah"-McFie, winner of the gentleman's prize, a Billiken stick pin.

At 5:30 refreshments of sandwiches, olives, cookies, tea, and cream were served by Misses Hinds and Lembke. The stage was decorated very cleverly with college pennants, Navajo rugs and had numerous cozy corners. This affair was something different from anything ever given at the U. N. M. Just think, not a "mere" man was allowed to intrude.

In all, the girls had a "perfectly glorious good time." The Y. W. girls will be entertained in the near future by some of the down-town girls.

A cynic once said: "Give a woman the luxuries of life and she will dispense with the necessities."

Often when we become a little too chummy with ourselves, we suddenly wake up and begin to wonder what onerousness we're trying to square ourselves for, with our conscience NOW!

Miss Frances Helfrich, a former student of the Varsity returned last week from a trip to eastern cities. Miss Frances had intended registering in the U. N. M., but on account of her parents moving to Denver she will not come back to the U. N. M. this year.

Every man believes he is entitled to a lot of credit he doesn't get.

We were right about it. Miss Mary Cooper is wearing a Phi Mu pin. Congratulations. We haven't seen Katherine, so we don't know whether she met with the same good fortune or not.

There is no cause for wonder at Walker playing "like one possessed". He has a double incentive for making the team this year. If he pulls off sensational stunts in Arizona don't call it "grand stand", for he will be playing to only ONE of the spectators.

Sunday afternoon in the Sigma Tau Fraternity House witnessed the torture and subsequent initiation of two members of that Frat, Messrs. Bateman and Lapraik. From all accounts they stood the frightful ordeal manfully, and are able to be out and about their business as usual.

Which member of the faculty is always shocked.

Which members (if any) are handsome?

Which member is solemn?

Which member is always positive?

Which members should play football?

Don't all answer at once, please.

A copy of "The Spectrum," a monthly magazine gotten out by the students of the University of Redlands was received by the "Weekly" last week. It is the best monthly we have seen for some time. It is well gotten up, is printed on a fine quality of paper, and has a very attractive cover. Any school that put out a paper like "The Spectrum" can well feel proud of itself.

INSIGNIA NOT LIKED

where it stands or what its rules are. There must, of course, be some means for remedying any clause in a constitution which practice proves to have an effect opposed to the best interests of the Association, but it seems only reasonable that if one-third of the membership of that association is so little interested in or affected by such a clause as to fail even to attend a meeting called for its remodeling, or so little convinced of the injurious effect of the clause as not to vote for its amendment, then that clause had better stand. In an association the size of ours the margin is large enough to allow for those who cannot attend the meeting; if there is anything of importance to come up but a very small fraction will be there,—give your fellow students credit for so much interest in their school.

It may be argued that such a clause would give a smaller number of students,—those most interested in a certain branch of athletics, let us say,—too good a chance to keep the constitution in a form beneficial to their own interests at the expense of the Association as a whole. The fallacy here is obvious. Every part of our constitution which stands adopted was subject to amendment or entire removal by a mere majority vote, and the same applies to parts still under discussion and to any additions any one may wish to make. Such an arrangement could not fail to produce a document standing for the greatest good of the greatest number; and once we have such a document, let's hold on to it—hold on to it until something in it merits the well-considered censure of two-thirds of the entire organization, not the hasty disapproval of two-thirds of those who happen to have found it convenient to attend a certain meeting. The possibility for the use of shrewd methods in securing the predominance of members of one sentiment at such a meeting is too plain to need pointing out.

The makers of every constitution, large or small, are moved by two considerations, and the document they draw up is the result of more or less of a compromise. First, there is the pleasure of legislating for an ideal people, the people as they may some time become, when the constitution is still in force; and second, there is the necessity of legislating for a real people, the people as they actually are. No doubt there will come a time when the total membership of the U. N. M. Athletic Association and the attendance at every meeting will be so nearly equal that the "difference may be considered equal to zero"; and at such a time it will be very well to amend our constitution by a vote of two-thirds of the members present; but that time is not yet. There are some students—they include us all, with very few exceptions, to tell the truth—who are too prone to let the distractions of a cloudless sky and a cool breeze or the immediate necessity of writing up a note book, keep them away from a meeting. It is scarcely fair, since we are almost all equally guilty, to pass on a question without them, especially as every one of them would find a way to attend, did something really pernicious need amendment.

I believe every one who will give the matter unprejudiced consideration must admit the advantage of a firm and stable constitution, which may still be amended without difficulty, should any real necessity arise.

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the Glee Club and help to keep our record as the best men's musical organization in the state. We have at least one notable soloist, a splendid quartet, and plenty of voices for chorus work. With this material there is no reason why we should not hold up the enviable record made last year.

MILL WOOD STOVE WOOD AND KINDLING

The faculty has again been impressing upon the students that not less than two hours preparation must be applied to every subject taken. Our genial friend, Bert Hunter, wishing to comply with the wishes of our revered faculty, drafted the following schedule for a four-subject course, cutting the corners quite sharp:

A. M.
6:30 to 7:30, Breakfast.
7:30 to 9:00, Study Chemistry.
9:00 to 10:00, Algebra class.
10:00 to 10:30, Assembly.
10:30 to 11:30, English class.
11:30 to 12:30, Geometry class.
P. M.
12:30 to 1:00, Dinner.
1:00 to 4:00, Chemistry class.
4:00 to 6:00, Football.
6:00 to 6:30, Supper.
6:30 to 8:30, Study Algebra.
8:30 to 10:30, Study English.
10:30 to 12:30, Study Geometry.
12:30 to 1:00 a. m., Study Chemistry.

1:30 to 6:30, Sleep.
Granting another hour for going back and forth, all good students who have such a course as this may have the pleasure of sleeping four hours and a half. A student carrying five subjects, will, it is understood, be too brainy to require any sleep at all. Time for outside reading and student activities is not included in this schedule of a moderate course.

A number of University students were invited to the dance and reception tendered the visiting Normal team by the A. H. S.

Fireless Cook Stoves in all sizes at Albert Faber's, 308-310 W. Central.

It is possible that the Western College at Artesia, which closed its doors last year, may be re-opened as a Methodist institution.

Those literary clubs seem to be getting a rather slow start. Come on, girls, show 'em that you'll do the right thing, anyway.

We sincerely hope that Ed Doran's recent bereavement will not prevent his ultimate return to the University. We need students of his calibre.

Students of the U. N. M., we solicit your trade.—Bryant's Parcel Delivery, phone 502.

Two new books for Latin 15 have been received by the library. They are "Roman Public Life" by Greenridge, and "Roman Political Institutions" by Abbot.

Announcement have been received of the marriage of Miss Lucy Eddie and Mr. Charles A. Nelson in Los Angeles on October 23. Mrs. Nelson was formerly a student of the U. N. M. The Weekly joins with their friends in congratulations and best wishes.

Ticket Seller (at football game): "Are you from the Varsity?" Nichols: "I think so. I hadn't been expelled the last time I was up there."

It is high time that the lavatory in the boys' dormitory be rushed to completion. The weather is becoming too cold to make these outdoor ablutions so very comfortable.

Dr. Mitchell has been busy during the past week arranging his new home, for which the furniture arrived on Tuesday last. He may now be said to be really and truly at home.

The work of clearing away the ruins of Hadley Hall was actually begun last week. Mr. Pritchett states that in two weeks time he hopes to have the site of the old building leveled down.

Fall styles of Drapery Goods now on display at Albert Faber's, 308-310 W. Central.

Wow! heap big injun, hang big ugly wooden sign on great big University football squad. It will be Lo-poor-Lo for the Indians when we practice with 'em again next week, though.

Blankets, Comforters and Pillows. Largest variety, lowest prices.—Albert Faber, 308-310 W. Central.

One of the features of last Saturday's game was an exhibition by Frank Gouin. With Policeman Rodgers taking the part of the pursuing tackle, Mr. Gouin ran the length of the field for a touchdown.

It would be a good stunt if the students would get together and hold a mock campaign rally either on the hill or down town one of these nights. There ought to be a good deal of fun in the affair.

What our politicians say: Nichols—"Wilson will certainly be elected."

Pease—"Taft is the only man for president."

Cook—"Me for Roosevelt." Doran—"Debs alone can solve our problems."

"The Round-Up" for last week contained a very interesting writeup of Dr. Boyd, in connection with his inauguration on November 9th. We are pleased to feel that other schools in the state are taking an interest in the University and its president, and that while we have a natural and healthy competition, there is no longer enmity.

Bruno Dieckmann and James Wroth, former students of the University, were on the hill Tuesday in company with C. H. Lembke, '12. It has been some time since Dieckmann and Wroth have been on the University hill, and both were warmly welcomed by their old friends and fellow students, of whom but few remain.
