MENAU! WINS FROM VARSITY SECOND TEAM

Presbyterians Take Game By Narrow Margin.

Last Saturday afternoon in a snowstorm and other raging elements was played one of the "slipperest" games that has yet been seen on the athletic field, Menaul's eleven winning from Varsity second team by the narrow margin of 7 to 6.

The ball was on all parts of the field at different times of the game, and it was a matter of chance as to who would win. In the first quarter Menaul received the kick from the Varsity and carried the ball over the line in a few minutes by means of the speed of Menaul's backfield. Goal was kicked.

This seemed to put the Varsity men on their toes and Menaul's line was smashed almost at will, the first quarter ending with the ball almost over Menaul's goal line.

In the second quarter the ball was carried over the line by line-smashes, but goal was not kicked. From that time on the ball zigzagged up and down the field with the Varsity threatening Menaul's goal several times, but Menaul staging comebacks and the game finally ending with the ball in the University territory.

Though the weather was very unfavorable, quite a little bunch of Varsity rooters turned out and showed the team that they were back of it in spirit if not in numbers.

SEE THE TEAM OFF.

WANTED! Lots of jazz and pep a la U. N. M. at the depot Friday night. Give the team a send off that they will remember when they are out on the El Paso gridiron. It will make them hit the line a wee bit harder and speed 'em up just a lil' bit more. Remember—everybody out—lots of pep and jazz on display—Friday night. Railroad station.

UNIVERSITY CALENDAR.

WEDNESDAY 7:00-8:00 p. m. Recreation Hour. University Male Quartet followed by Dancing. Professor and Mrs. P. F. Sherwin, chaperones. Rodey Hall.

FRIDAY 1:00 p. m. Geological Lecture, "Coon Butte, Petrified Forest and Grand Canyon" by Professor R. W. Ellis.

SATURDAY. Football. U. N. M. vs. Texas State School of Mines, El Paso.

NOVEMBER 27. Football U. N. M. vs. Aggies, U. N. M. Field.

George Hite was called home Saturday by the serious illness of his father. George does not expect to get back to finish the quarter but may return in January.

SENIORS ELECT OFFICERS

At a meeting held Nov. 6 at 12:30, the Seniors elected the following of ficers to pilot the class through its last year in the University: El J. Cristy, president; Eunice Latamore, vice president; Mary O'Laughlin, secretary-treasurer; Anne Cristy, student council representative.

With seventeen members of the class present and two absent, the Senior class this year promises to be one of the biggest ever graduated from the University.

SOPHOMORES RE-ELECT OFFICERS

After the election held October 30 had been contested, and after a ruling that all students having as many as 24 and under 86 credit hours should be classified as sophomores had been passed at a meeting held at 12:30 Wednesday, the Sophomore class met Friday for the third time to elect their officers, and the following were chosen at that time: Thomas C. Gallagher, president; Mae Bell Rogers, vice president; Thomas Calkins, secretary-treasurer; M. J. Doran, student council representative.

THE GREEN FROSH ON THE HILL (Concluded.)

After many, many, many weary hours of brilliant recitations, the 12:00 bell finally rings. Of Boy! Chow time once again! Joyously he hurries to his room, brushes his shining curls and washes his lily white hands—for he must sit at a table with fair damsels. After stowing away all he can without causing the young ladies to think him a pork, he takes from his pocket a beautiful cigarette case, extracts therefrom his favorite cigarette, taps it gently on his wrist, and smokes contentedly his Home Run. He then wanders around the campus until time for his next class. When the bell rings he extinguishes his cigarette and carefully hides the remainder (he fears the upper classmen will find it) and goes to class.

The Professor, who is vainly endeavoring to pound knowledge into this young man's head, finds to his surprise that Napoleon discovered America; that the new world was made up of New York, New Jersey, New Hampshire, and New Mexico; and that the leaders of the Renaissance were Nero and Julius Caesar.

Biology is the Frosh's next worry. In this class our young hero learns "when is a bug not a bug" and other buggy things.

At last the day of recitations is over and our noble hero, with his green capped companions, goes over to the Grotto where they all—(no, they don't either, because "Swede" won't let them). The most prosperous of the bunch buys five cents worth of salted (Continued on page 4.)

SHALL WE GO?

Where? To El Paso. When? Next Saturday, November 15. What for? To back the football team. LET'S GO!

Quite a bunch of Varsity people have been talking about going to El Paso on the 15th to help the team beat the Texas Miners. It is almost certain that rates can be secured if as many as thirty people will sign up to go. Several down town enthusiasts have signified their desire to go, and if the students will talk this up and some body undertake to handle the proposition we can send a rooting section of El Paso that will make a respectable showing.

THE NEW CALENDAR.

The first issue of the "University Calendar" appeared Friday, and caused quite a little favorable comment. The "Calendar" is simply a schedule showing the time, place and nature of University functions for each week, and is published officially by the University for the benefit of students and town people.

RECREATION HOUR.

The University's first officially recognized "recreation hour" was held last Wednesday night from seven to eight o'clock in Rodey Hall, and proved to be a most successful innovation. Miss Cameron rendered two very pleasing violin selections and afterwards the audience danced to music furnished by the Varsity orchestra. Dr. and Mrs. Clark very kindly acted as chaperones.

The "recreation hour" represents a co-operative effort on the part of the faculty and students to perpetuate the long established custom of informal after-supper recreation in a still informal but slightly better organized manner. In the past the observation of the custom has come to be confined to an unregulated, and sometimes unchaperoned, dance participated in by a few of the students residing on the hill. It is hoped that by means of an organized recreation hour with the time divided between dancing and some other form of entertainment, a recreation hour may be provided in which all will participate.

The attendance on the first Wednesday night indicated that the students from town as well as those living on the campus appreciate any mid-week entertainment, and it is likely that a large part of the student body will be coming out for "recreation hour" as soon as the new plan is a little better organized.

Doctors J. E. Kiemlel and George W. Stiles, jr., of Denver, and J. W. Sale, W. E. Schaeffer, and George D. DeBord of Washington, D. C. were visitors on the campus November 5. These gentlemen are government scientists who came to Albuquerque on legal business. They expressed themselves as very pleased with what they saw of the youngest state university.

U. N. M. DRAMATIC CLUB ORGANIZED

Dramatic Club Begins Year With Splendid Showing.

The Univeristy Dramatic Club was definitely organized when the student body adopted its constitution and 67 students signed applications for memberships in an assembly at 11 a. m. Thursday.

Six plays will be given by the club during the year, four on the hill and two in the city. The two plays to be given in the city will be one by members of the Play House Association sometime in February and a musical comedy by Varsity students about March or April.

Office vacancies were filled at the meeting. The following named officers were elected: Katherine Angle, vice president, and Margaret Lee, secretary-treasurer.

WHERE ARE WE?

"A house divided against itself can not stand." This quotation from Abraham Lincoln is recognized as a maxim of truth, and applies equally well to all houses, both great and small. Yet we find our school divided; there are factions that are rapidly becoming bitter against each other; statements are being made about individuals as well as about groups which have no foundation. If the hearer takes the trouble to run them down, he finds no author for them, or else he is given the paltry excuse, "I didn't mean it in that sense."

What is the cause of all this "cut-throating"? No one seems able to put his finger on the immediate cause; rather it seems the culmination of many events of the past, aided at present by the addition of the selfish ideals and aspirations of a small group of people. Suspicion is everywhere. If the present situation continues, we shall soon be at the stage where a certain person's declaration that he "did not hardly know whom to speak to" will be true.

Now is this condition of affairs hurting the University? The University is composed of the men and women who are students in it, and anything that affects the latter undoubtedly affects the former. Ask the professor how the work in his department is progressing; what amount of ground he has been able to cover, how many well-prepared daily recitations are being given, what the quizzes are revealing to him. His answer will convince you that the work is far from satisfactory, that the minds of the students are plainly fixed on other things; that they are disturbed and occupied with affairs outside of the schoolroom.

We suggest that there are a number of causes for this condition, but chief among them is school politics. How indefinite! You say true, and how small, yet how large! Perhaps the root of the trouble lies in the fact that too often men are nominated for office not on account of what their qualifications are, but according to what group they belong to. Should a person who has never done anything in athletics, debating, or student-body activities, hold an office, high in the affairs of the University, just because that person happens to be associated with a group having power enough to elect him? We leave this for the conservative reader's decision.

Of course it is to be expected and sincerely desired that there be different parties in the University, and a healthy competition for the different offices; for it would be a "peppless" person indeed who did not have a personal opinion on each question. But there are two kinds of competition in the world: The one which works for the betterment of all concerned, since it stimulates people to greater deeds; the other is the "cut-throat" kind, otherwise interpreted as "rule or ruin," which tends to bitterness and works for evil.

We believe that every student in the University is a well-wisher of our school, and endorses the first kind of competition. We believe further that it is only for a time that we let our selfish interests come before those of the school. We cannot afford to let petty quarrels interfere with our work in the University; nor can we afford to let them magnify themselves, ranking in our minds and embittering our hearts, for these same feelings will remain with us when we are out in the world as man to man.

Now, admitting that a disturbing spirit is prevalent in our University and also that it is having injurious effects on the school, the next question is how to overcome it. Several moves are already on foot to heal the breach, one of which is the winding up of the class elections, which were due to have been held within the first two weeks of school.

As another plan, we wish to propose a fraternity smoker, in which all active members shall join, and shall there discuss the situation in a frank and friendly manner. We suggest that Registrar Williams take charge of some such movement, that each fraternity appoint delegates to see him, and get the men together. If he should be kind enough to do this, won't you help him make it a success?

A CONTRIBUTION.

Little things may not seem much when taken separately, but consider them collectively and a number of little things make something big. So on account of one little slip, a school may lose many students and create much discontent. This seems to be what has happened during the last week or two in regard to the arrangement made about room and board.

Those students who did not take advantage of the opening of the dining hall on Sept. 28 are required to pay for something they did not receive, since most of the students were not even at the University at that time. It seems to be poor management, considering the fact that many students came here with only a small surplus and intending to pay only $22 a month for room and board. Nevertheless when a raise to $25 a month was announced, not a student protested, since everyone realized that the University should at least make expenses, and saw the justice of the act. However, people do not like to pay for something they never receive and if many unjustifiable calls are made on the students, it will only mean that they cannot continue the entire year. So something should be done about such, and affairs of management should be closely watched—dollars and cents are not all that count in this world.

SOCIETY

P. K. A. DANCE.

One of the largest and most elaborate dances of the year was given by the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, Friday evening, at the Masonic Temple. The ball room was decorated in gold and garnet, the fraternity colors, and from the walls hung Pi Kappa Alpha shields.

When midnight arrived, the hosts escorted their guests to tables, upon which were yellow chrysanthemums. Here and there, numerous pledges rushed, serving chicken-sandwiches, olives, coffee, ice cream and small white cakes, with P. K. A. in rose on the top.

The Blueher's orchestra played entrancing music. Frank Neher, Chet Boldt, and William Sganzi were in charge. Enough said! Those present were the Misses Bear, Cristy, Chess, Breedan, Angle, Hart, Cavanaugh, Fee, Bursum, Frasier, Miller, Parker, Spruce, Rogers, Makin, Vaughey, Herkenhoff, Gouley, Joyner, Hardeman, Kiech, Arnot, Morrisette, Bowman, Thompsons, Burton, Smith, Patton, Asselin, Dougherty, Lovelace, Warren, Lee, Spickard, Conway, Darrow, McAlvane, Walraven, MacArthur, Latamore, Switzer, Hunt, and Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hughes and members of the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

ALPHA CHI PLEDGE DANCE.

Alpha Chi Omega pledges, showed a splendid example of inter-fraternity friendship, when they gave a most delightful party Saturday night, at their lodge on east Central Avenue, honoring the pledges of all the fraternities on the hill.

Delicious refreshments were served towards the end of a perfect evening. Buster Kellam played the piano and Ralph Myers "beat the big bass drum."

Those who danced were the Misses Rogers, Hardeman, Miller, Brooks, Coffin, Fallis, Parker, MacArthur, Barton, Fee, Walraven, Duncan, O'Hara, Joyner, Rasmus, Gouley, Breedan, Frasier, Tipton, McAlvane, Smith and Bartholomew, and the Messrs. Bruce, Rogers, Bryan, Ussery, Reynolds, Wells, Sheldon, Grunsfeld, Patton, Davenport, Sampson, Gerphelde, Lighth, Skell, Robertson, Dean, Gass, Grantham, Breneman, Culpepper, Moots, Thomas, Caldwell, and Steed.

PEN POINTS.

Some students regard University activities with interest, enthusiasm, and loyalty. Others drift off, indifferent to the school and its doings. Which class do you belong to?

Service for the welfare of your school involves a sacrifice of some of your time. Come across with your share.

Americanism 100 per cent. Who can radiate this more than the college man or college woman?

You—upperclassmen—notice any of the green frosh that need steering? Yes—then get busy and help hold them on the straight and narrow.

Yep! The Freshman is mighty. Mighty fresh.

The University demands lots of hard study. So study.

Discipline is yet a mystery to many of the "infants' class."

Hitch your ideals to a star but don't ride 'em in wagons.

It is your duty to uphold the standards of the University.

Your college plans are to be of greater value to you in the immediate future.

LETTER FROM BURNEY.

I wish to say a few words to the fraternity men on the hill, in regards to the fraternity fights we have been having the past two weeks. Perhaps it is no affair of mine but nevertheless I am interested and would like to see an end to so much bitter feeling and wordy personal debates, etc., and above all let's abolish dirty underhanded work.

There isn't a fraternity on the hill but what has indulged in dirty politics and, fellows, that is very small in us. I don't believe in any kind of dirty work. I feel that if I can't come out in the open, and win on my own merits and in a fair way any position that I have an ambition to attain, I had rather not win.

Now, U. N. M. is too small a school for so much personal feeling and fraternal strife, so let's cool down and come to our senses and all pull together in place of in several directions. It seems that some men whom we give credit for being good democratic, loyal U. N. M. men are using their fraternities to advance their own personal interest, regardless of their personal merit and capabilities.

That is wrong. I think the men should be considered and not which fraternity they are affiliated with.

I endorse the idea of having a fraternity smoker or get-together meeting soon, and we should have every active member there, and see if we can't patch up our differences and get back

GIRLS' BASKET BALL.

Prospects of a champion Varsity basketball team for the coming season looks very bright. At the first meeting of basketball enthusiasts this year, few of the former years stellar players are back and much new material was unearthed.

However, with a regular coach to guide their destinies, the Varsity girls will undoubtedly set a precedent in the basketball circles of the state.

THE GREEN FROSH ON THE HILL

peanuts and generously passes them around. It is about time for football practice, so they all troop over to the gym and dress in their old fighting togs. On the field each Upper Classman takes his turn at falling on every Freshman and then it is feed time. Back to the gym, a shower, and then supper, at which the greencap stocks up for the next twelve hours.

After supper the crowd jizzes up to Rodey Hall and trips the light fantastic for a while. After this the greencaps journey to their rooms and engage in several (?) hours (?) study (?). Before hitting the hay our hero makes sure that the windows are locked and the door securely bolted. Just as he is going asleep he hears a mournful, awe-inspiring, terrorizing Ki—Ki—Ki—O T. The Kiyotes are out!! Yea, bo, it is enough to make the most courageous tremble with fear. Our greencap prays that the Kiyotes will not call at his humble abode, but, alas, his hopes are shattered and his fears fulfilled—the terrible Kiyotes are at his door. Knowing that he is "going to get his" our wise Frosh dons six pairs of trousers and bravely (?) stalks forth to meet his fate.

Two hours later—our brave knight returns and on his noble breast that green and red ensign, indicative of much suffering, can be seen. But the anguish is not over; yea, verily I say, the anguish is not over, for when he attempts to rest his aching bones upon a chair he painfully finds "it can't be did." Slowly he drags his suffering body to bed where his means of rest are much softer.

Bzzzz, bzzzz—the end of a perfect day.

on a peaceable basis. If it is necessary, I will bring my boxing gloves along and will be willing to referee the settlement of any dispute, but let's get out of the rut.

The girls have set us an admirable example, I think, as they are playing fairly and decently with each other. At any rate we need a big change for the better, so let's have it.
