Varsity to Meet Texas Miners Tomorrow

Unexpected May Surprise Over-Confident Lobos as Miners Are Scrappy Bunch.

Victory Expected Over Ore Diggers From El Paso.

In the second engagement on their home field the Lobos will meet the Texas Miners from El Paso. In view of the fact that the Miners played Arizona last Saturday this game will be especially interesting, as we may be able to compare the strength of our team with that of the Wild Cats. Arizona outplayed the Miners in every stage of the game, defeating them by the large score of 60 to 7. We should have little difficulty in defeating the Texas team, the only question will be by what score. The Ore Diggers, however, are a scrappy aggregation and are bound to scrap from beginning to end for every inch.

In the report of last Saturday's game in the El Paso Morning Times, last year's Varsity team was said to be superior to that of Arizona's present machine, and Grant Mann, the superior of Sionaker, the Wild Cat's star and quarterback. This year's Varsity team has very few new names in the line-up and is stronger than last year's team. From all the dope it appears that we should have little difficulty in piling up a large score against the Miners.

With but very few exceptions the Lobos are in excellent shape. Blondy Booker, who was out with a bad knee, is back in his old position at tackle. Bevo Bevan is improving slowly but will be unable to play in Saturday's game.

Coach Johnson has developed a strong, heady, fighting team and is now teaching them the finer points of the game. Saturday's contest should be an exhibition of some very clever football.

Let us get out and back the team with a big ticket sale and a record crowd, and don't forget to pray for no rain.

WAGNER ADDRESSES REGULAR ASSEMBLY

Assembly Friday Featured By Pep Meeting.

The regular assembly Friday in Rody hall opened with the singing of two selections by Mr. Tom Calkins, after which President Hill introduced the speaker of the day, Superintendent of Public Instruction Wagner, who made a very impressive talk on the public schools of New Mexico and the prospects of the teaching profession. Mr. Wagner spoke of being glad to address young people seeking their education in their home state. Some of the impressive sparks from his speech are: The winner is one who gets into the game and stays there. There is no politics in the county schools of New Mexico. The biggest problem in New Mexico is the need of teachers. The turn-over of teachers varies from 14 to 50 per cent in New Mexico. In closing Mr. Wagner spoke of the coming of the teaching profession to the front and asked that every student think about the teaching profession before choosing a life work.

The meeting was then turned over to the students who put in the time under the able direction of Cheer Leader Gerhardt in singing and practicing yells.

WORK ON BASKETBALL TO START AT ONCE

Last winter the basketball season was not a success because of the intervention of the flu epidemic, so we must make a particularly good showing this coming season.

In order that those men who desire to play basketball and are not playing football may get into condition, arrangements have been made with Mr. Osbourne of the Y. M. C. A. to handle any University boys who may wish to get busy at the game.

Mr. Osbourne played with the Kansas University a few years ago and thoroughly understands the game. This is a fine opportunity for interested university men to get some fine pointers on the game. Mr. Osbourne's classes are held at 7:30 in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium and all men desiring to participate are asked to be on hand promptly at that time and get the winter basketball practice started.

These classes, for a short time, will be held only on Tuesdays and Thursdays. For that reason it is very necessary that all men participating attend both classes regularly.

ELIGIBILITY RULES PRINTED AGAIN

Those Unacquainted Should Read Carefully.

1. That the eligibility rules of the Rocky Mountain Conference, as given on pages 8-11 in the Constitution and Rules of the Rocky Mountain Faculty Athletic Conference, be adopted for the University of New Mexico, with the amendments and interpretations to Article 1 as given below.

2. That the Registrar be made a member of the Committee on Eligibility and act as its secretary.

DIVISION I—ELIGIBILITY.

Article 1. Residence and Scholarship.—In order to take part in any public exercise or game as a member of any University organization, or to act in any editorial or managerial capacity in connection with any form of student activity, a student must fulfill the following conditions:

Rule I. He must have completed 15 units of preparatory credit.

Rule II. He must have been in residence for at least one-half of a college year. (Not in force until the male enrollment shall reach 200, and not then in competition with institutions not having a similar rule.)

Rule III. He must have been registered in person and regularly at work within two weeks of the beginning of the semester in which he is to participate, or he must have been registered and in attendance at least one month before participation.

Rule IV. He must be earning passing grades in at least 11 hours. No student registered for less than 12 hours may be considered eligible. In order to be eligible to take part in any athletic event he must maintain a passing grade in all courses in Physical Education in which he is enrolled in addition to the above.

Rule V. He must have obtained at least 11 credit hours toward graduation in the courses in which he was registered during the last semester during which he was in residence (including credit hours gained from official condition examinations for which the regular fee has been paid), or, if he was registered for less than 11 hours during the preceding semester, he must have passed all courses for which he was registered. This clause shall not apply to Freshmen during the first term of their residence, but it shall apply to students obtaining advanced standing for work done at other colleges. (This rule shall not apply to students whose last term in residence ended previous to March 29, 1920.)

Rule VI. He shall not participate more than four years in the aggregate, and participation in any part of an intercollegiate contest shall be considered as participating for that year.

Rule VII. (Shall apply only to relations with the Rocky Mountain Conference.) He must, if he enters one conference institution directly from another conference institution in which he has participated in athletics, not participate until he has been in residence one year, and in case he has not participated, until he has been in residence one-half year.

Rule VIII. (Shall apply only to relations with the Rocky Mountain Conference.) In case a student enters a conference institution after a year has elapsed since he took part in intercollegiate contests in another conference, his case shall be treated according to Rule V.

Administration of rules in Article 1, above:

(a) As soon as possible after the opening of each semester, the Registrar shall notify each student of his status, according to Rule V. (A statement of the number of hours credit earned during the preceding semester shall be ample notice.) Other persons interested, such as managers, captains and coaches, may be notified of the status under this rule of students under their charge, on request.

(b) Each member of the Faculty shall report, on blanks provided for the purpose, to the Registrar, on the second Friday of each semester and on every second Friday thereafter, the names of such students as are not passing in courses under his charge. The Committee on Eligibility shall then determine the names of those not complying with Rules IV and V, and shall post on the principal bulletin board of the University, on the Monday following, a list of such names.

A student whose name appears on the posted list shall become ineligible beginning one week after the posting of such list, unless he shall have, in the meantime, presented to the Secretary of the Committee signed statements from his instructors, (Continued on page 4)

Weather Station at University One of Mosts Interesting Features

Little Station Turns Out Two Reports Daily to Denver.

Tucked away in a little room on the top floor of the Administration building the weather station maintained by the University and the Chamber of Commerce is one of the most interesting features of the campus. This station turns out daily reports on sunshine, humidity, temperature, wind velocity and general weather conditions which are of interest all over the country. This is a work which will not only be a benefit to the present generation but will furnish valuable scientific data for coming years.

The station is of interest even to those who do not understand the scientific workings, for the measuring of sunshine has a romance to it which appeals to everyone. The little instrument is simple in its construction, consisting of a tube with bulbs at both ends and filled with mercury and air. One of the ends has been covered by a black insulating which is heated by the sunshine more than the other end which is uncovered, expands the mercury and makes a connection between two electric wires. This current makes its impression on the recording machine and the sunshine is put down in ink. The wind velocity works through the agency of revolving cups and is recorded on the same machine which records the sunshine. Barometer readings are taken in the same way that all such readings are taken in the laboratory and do not have the same fascination that the little machine which ingeniously does so much work.

The messages sent off to Denver twice a day are written in code so as to save expense. The code book used contains over fifteen hundred words. Prof. Rockwood supervises the work, and Mr. Sharp, a student, has the work in charge. Mr. Sharp issues an invitation to all interested students to see the workings of the station any evening at four or five o'clock.

The monthly summary of the station is given below.

Rainy Day Prevents Fast Game; Mud-Covered Players Do Fine Work on Slow Field.

Only Line Plunges Used on Muddy Field.

On a field of mud and water and in a game characterized by practically nothing but line plays, the Lobo Pack "forward marched" through the heavy soldiers' team for two touchdowns. The visitors failed to tally. Fort Bliss sent their best team, the 82nd Field Artillery, and were confident of victory.

The field was so heavy that end runs were almost impossible, although the Varsity pulled several good ones. It was also impossible to use the forward pass and both teams stuck to line play entirely.

From the first it was evident that the Lobos would take the Army boys into camp, at no time did the soldiers threaten our goal. In the first two quarters our backs never failed to gain through the line. Early in the first period McArthur recovered a punt which the Army's safety man had fumbled, bringing the ball within striking distance of the goal. The backs smashed through for first downs twice and Mann carried the oval over for the first touchdown.

The second touchdown came a few minutes later. The opponents kicked and the ball was again taken down the field, this time by a series of brilliant line plunges by Gerheide and Hesseldeine. Mann carried the ball over the second time, making the score 12 to 0. No goal was kicked.

The last two periods were much slower due chiefly to the mud and water soaked up by the team itself and the additional rain and mud on the field. At times it was almost impossible to distinguish one team from the other.

Every man played an excellent game. Gerheide's work at fullback was exceptionally good and he never failed to gain through the opponent's heavy line. In the line McArthur, Whitten and Booker distinguished themselves. They had the Indian sign on the soldiers and commanded halt on every play. They expressed their surprise in the strength of our line and in the plunging power of our backs.

EXCITEMENT AMONG STUDENTS AS ELECTION RETURNS COME IN

Passive Interest of Past Few Weeks Yields to Excitement of Election Night.

The University students who have not been very much interested in the election except in a passive way turned out in full force to learn the election returns Tuesday night and they were in evidence at every receiving station. Those who acted as judges, and there were quite a few of the student body selected for those positions, worked far into the night after the crowds had dispersed and gone home.

The day following all that could be heard was talk of election bets and the Republican sympathizers crowding over the Democrats. One fair co-ed is reported to have said that she will be making fudge for the rest of the winter to pay her election bets.

Y. W. C. A. ELECTS OFFICERS

A meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held Wednesday at 12:30 and officers were elected for this year. The meeting was presided over by Catherine Shotwell. Mary Sands was elected president, Dorothy Stevenson, vice president, and Helen Shaw secretary-treasurer.

A drive for membership will be started soon and every woman student in the University is expected to join. A number of plans are being formulated for Y. W. C. A. parties to be given later and the annual Middy dance will probably be held soon. It is hoped that a great deal of enthusiasm will be shown and that the season will be a successful one for the Y. A Duty.
The old adage says, "Patronize those who patronize us" is one which should be kept in mind by the students in regard to their patronage in town. The Weekly is made possible only through the advertising which is placed in its columns. These ads are prompted by two reasons; first, that the advertisers want University trade; and second, that they realize that the University is a big asset to the town, and should be supported. Regardless of their reasons the University student should trade whenever possible with the advertisers in the Weekly, for they are the merchants in this city who are supporting the U. N. M. and want your trade. They are reliable and the Weekly recommends them to you for square dealing.

The Eligibility Rules.
In this week's issue so that any doubts of their meaning and regulations will not be overlooked. There is a tendency for the average freshman and even upper class man to forget these rules from year to year, and though small, all violations become ineligible. Look them over and study them.

She Had Him.
Husband and wife were having words, when he said: "I don't believe in parading my virtues!" "No?" answered the wife. "Do you think you could, dear? It takes a number, you know, to make a parade."

FOOTBALL, THE INSIDE GAME; MENTAL ATTITUDE OF THE PLAYERS

By Eddie Caser, Harvard Star.

One of the hardest and toughest bugbears with which the professional coach must contend is the mental attitude of his players before they go into the game. An outfit that has no loyalty to its coach and no faith in his words is going to have a gruelling time in the course of a season's schedule, if only from the mental attitude of their minds. For a man is, no matter what his courage may be, he is bound sooner or later to let outside considerations affect his play—almost always for the worst. No athlete is self-sufficient.

Keeping Up Balance.
The coach is always concerned with keeping the mental balance of his team just right, as well as bringing them along in football play. They may get cocky as a result of early triumphs in the season, only to go to pieces after a crushing defeat; or they may regard themselves as picked from the start and never get going at the pace they deserve.

There are all kinds of angles at which a team may go wrong and it is a busy coach that knows just how to hold his men in away. One thing that makes the mentor's job harder is the accepted fact that football players will read the newspapers. And from the sporting columns they sometimes get the wrong slant on their own abilities and deficiencies. You can not imagine what effect comment of any sort has on football players, even when they know that those who write particular things are singularly uninformed.

The small college going against the big fellow is another instance of the mental attitude affecting play. The members of the small college outfit naturally feel somewhat awed in the presence of the big college men whose names they have read in the press constantly and of whose prowess columns have been written.

Looks at Surroundings.
Even if this background of wood-pulp glory does not stir some feeling in the small collegian's breast, doubts of their meaning and regulations will not be overlooked. There is a tendency for the average freshman and even upper class man to forget these rules from year to year, and though small, all violations become ineligible. Look them over and study them.

Tradition also cuts some figure in the yearly results of games. In many cases where certain rivals meet year after year, one in particular seems to have the edge. In the old days Yale beat Harvard perennially—up to the time of Percy Haughton. In the old days, but a trifle more recently, Pennsylvania annually walloped Cornell. And there are many other great annual battles that are seemingly settled before they are played.

I have been told in the above two cases I mentioned, the men on the traditionally short-end team practically thought they were whipped before they went on the field. They felt that only a miracle would let them win, and waiting for miracles to happen is an aimless game in football as in anything else.

Frequently Gets a Hunch.
Now it wasn't that these fellows of the Cornell and Harvard teams of former years lacked courage or nerve or training. They were pretty good teams, all of them. But they let the old ideas that tradition had planted take root in them, and

They never quite played at their best.

Then, again, a player frequently has a hunch, before a game, that he isn't going to play well. It has no foundation, and simply drops in on his imagination from the deep blue sky. But the player has just got to make one slip in the game to be convinced that his hunch is working, and once convinced he crumbles away. That is peculiar, but it frequently happens with the very best players oftentimes, but usually only once in a lifetime.

The curious part of this phenomenon—and the sad part of it—is that if going to play a whale of a game, a player rarely has a hunch that he is going to win. The hunching is always in the direction of adversity. —Copyright, 1920, by Wheeler Syndicate.

Lady and Gentleman.

A smartly dressed woman was sitting in an omnibus when a quiet-looking young man, in getting accidentally trod on her dress.

She talked to him for ten minutes and wound up by saying: "A gentleman would have apologized." The young man bowed and calmly said: "A lady would have given me a chance."

SAFELY IN DEBT.

Going in debt is sometimes a dangerous financial practice, but going in debt to save is often both wise and profitable, is the belief of the Ohio State Journal. Many people have such a horror of debt, that they use the Journal, that they do not differentiate between kinds of debt but try to avoid them all. Debts incurred for running expenses mean living beyond one's income and are deplorable and not to be contracted except in dire necessity. But going into debt to make conservative investments is a wise policy.

Such debts as a man started right and provide him with that very important aid in saving, a positive and definite incentive. If he buys a government bond, paying part and binding himself to pay the balance in specified installments at regular intervals, he is not likely to go back on his agreement. Under such an arrangement he is more likely to save a certain sum each month than if he were merely trying to save it under no obligation to anyone but himself. It helps him stick to a good habit. Going into debt to save is a step toward independence.

AD REFERENDUM
The question of last week having been fully discussed and an answer agreed upon, here is the question for this week:
Why is the Varsity Shop so popular?
Stern: Because that's where they sell pie.
Hempstead: Say, is this an advertising scheme? Nothing doing, I trade in town.
Miss Gerhardt: We see so many boys there.
Brooks: It's not popular with me; the one I know don't go to school.
Ralf Gould: It is the place where student opinion is formed and arguments started. That's reason enough.

SINGING IN ASSEMBLY FRIDAY MORNING

We do not have enough singing in assembly, so next Friday morning we are to get busy, sing some songs and learn others. All of these songs can be very profitably used in clearing next Saturday at the game with the Texas Miners, and the following Thursday against the Institute. Do you know the following songs? If not, memorize the words and learn the tunes Friday morning. All Freshmen must know them.

THE CHERRY SILVER.
To the Cherry and Silver, our voices we raise
To thee, Alma Mater, our songs of praise.

Chorus:
So then we'll cheer, cheer New Mexico,
Thy honor we'll uphold till life is done—
And may the Cherry and Silver wave,
O'er the football field 'till victory's won.

So then we'll cheer, cheer our football team,
Thy honor they'll uphold 'gainst every foe.
Our line they'll never yield,
They're marching down the field,
So cheer New

STUDENT COUNCIL MEETING OF LAST WEEK

Constitution Is Delayed for One Week.

At the last meeting of the Student Council a week ago last Wednesday it was impossible to revise the new student body constitution because of the fact that the faculty advisory committee which was checking over the constitution had not completed their job. This fact caused the postponement of the publication of this important paper over a week. As soon as the faculty is through with the constitution the Student Council will go over it and it will be published for the approval of the student body.

Because of the fact that Grantham is unable to act in the capacity of yell leader the Council appointed Earl Gerhart in his place. Various members of the Council offered valuable suggestions to him as to the leading of the pep in the student body. It may be possible for the Student Council to hire a band for the game on Armistice day.

John Scruggs, President of the student body, expressed the belief that the Student Council was trying to act in accord with the student body, and was trying to secure such co-operation between the students and administration as would lead to the best interests of all concerned.

SPECIAL ASSEMBLY CREATES MUCH PEP

Students Are Given Season Tickets to Sell.

A special assembly was held on Wednesday preceding the game with the Fort Bliss Soldiers. Due to the short notice given there was a relatively small attendance; however, those who took part were full of pep and responded well to the University songs and yells.

Short speeches were given by students and an appeal for more school enthusiasm was made. Manager Bryan urged all to assist in making the financial end of the contest a success. At the close of the meeting all were given a chance to dispose of tickets, both for the game and for the season.

indicating that he is passing in the amount of work required by Rules IV and V, in which case his name shall be removed from the list. A student who has become ineligible; as stated above, shall remain ineligible until he has presented to the Secretary of the Committee signed statements from his instructors indicating that he is passing in the required amount of work, provided, however, that no student may thus regain his eligibility later than six days (144 hours) before the event in which he is to take part.

(c) The Eligibility Committee shall furnish, at the request of the director responsible for any intercollegiate contest, a certified list of those eligible to take part, for presentation to the officials of opposing teams.

(d) These rules shall be posted in a permanent manner on or near the principal bulletin board of the University and in other conspicuous places and shall be offered for publication in the U. N. M. Weekly immediately after adoption and early in each semester.

(e) All rules in conflict herewith are hereby repealed, and the rules hereinabove set forth shall become effective two weeks after their approval.

Making Vermillion.

Ever since Hong-Kong was established the industry of vermilion making, entirely in the hands of the Chinese, has been an important one. The factories of Hong-Kong have inviolate trade secrets. The manufacture of this pigment is among the foremost of the colony's industries. There are something like a hundred small plants for the manufacture of vermilion in Hong-Kong and Kanton. The raw material comes from Australia, and the vermilion is prepared altogether by what is known as the wet method. To this day there are trade secrets in the vermilion industry which no European has been able to fathom. Some of the granite stones between which the pulverized ore is ground are almost prehistoric.

FRESHMAN-SOPHOMORE FIGHT SET FOR DEC. 4

The Freshmen will be given an opportunity on the second Saturday after Thanksgiving of whipping the Sophomores in a regularly organized class fight and thereby having all of the present Freshman rules placed into the discard until next fall, or of being whipped by the Sophomores and continuing to obey these rules for a time longer. The fight will consist of events for both boys and girls. It will be held on the athletic field, and the President of the student body will appoint all of the N. M. Club and such others as he may deem necessary to referee the fracas.

The boys will have 20 minutes of tying each other with ropes. The entire Sophomore class will be used in the fight and an equal number of Freshmen shall be chosen from among the infant class. The leader of the Sophomores shall pick half of the number of Freshmen to take part in the fight and the leader of the Freshmen may pick the other half. Each man shall be given three feet of rope and he shall try to tie his opponent with it. A man shall be considered tied when he has one hand and both feet securely fastened or has both hands and one foot. At the end of 20 minutes the referees shall count the number of Freshmen and Sophomores that are tied and they shall declare which class is the victor.

The girls will have a five-minute tug-of-war. There shall be chosen from each class 15 girls who shall represent their class in the rope-pulling. The contest shall be conducted under regular tug-of-war rules and shall be decided by the referees as to who is the winner under these rules.
