YANNIGANS MEET HOOLIGANS IN UNPARALLELED EXHIBITION

ANNOUNCE VARSITY INSIGNIA AWARDS

Fifteen Players and Manager Receive Distinction of Coveted "N. M."

Following the close of the football season with the defeat of the Aggies and the acquisition of the state championship by the Varsity, a complete list of men winning the coveted N. M. in this sport was compiled by Coach Johnson. Fifteen players and the manager were adjudged to have put in the required work to achieve this honor.

To secure the insignia of the school, a player must have at least played in eight quarters during the season. The sixteen picked this year by Coach Johnson, besides filling this requirement, have all demonstrated tireless energy in their efforts to make the team a success, attending practice regularly and devoting hours of their time daily.

Following is a list of the 1921 squad who will receive the N. M. from the Associated Students:

Frank Greenleaf, John Popejoy, Cullen Pearce, Tom Popejoy, Ogle Jones, George White, Marion Stinnett, Eddie Mapes, Clifford Bernhart, Ralph Hernandez, Walter Hernandez, Maxwell Fergusson, Kenneth Grouter, Vernon Willey, Thomas Calkins and Manager John Fernstrom.

According to present plans the Varsity Club, composed of all wearers of the "N. M.," will meet next week to adopt plans for a reorganization and to officially select some badge, preferably a lapel button, to denote their membership.

LOWELLITES DISCUSS DEBATE POSSIBILITIES

Members of the Lowell Literary Society met last week to discuss their program for the year. While nothing definite has been settled, it is likely that the University will be represented in several debates by the society during the year. The first will probably be with the speakers of the State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts. The Universities of Southern California, Redland and Texas have also asked for a date.

It was determined that an emblem of recognition presented to each of the debaters who should be chosen to represent the U. during the year. This emblem is to be in the form of a key to be worn on a watch chain or fob. Membership in the Lowell Society is open to all those interested in oratory and debating.

WOMEN PREPARE FOR BASKETBALL SEASON

All the women interested in basketball for the coming season got together Monday afternoon, showing a lot of pep and interest in the approaching games. About thirty were present; and Miss McCormick, the coach, says prospects are bright. However, the teams will not be picked for two weeks.

The games will be inter-class matches, the Juniors and Freshmen combined and the Seniors and Sophomores. There is a possibility of a silver loving cup for the best team, but as yet nothing definite has been arranged.

Telegram Received from the President of the United States.

"I regret exceedingly my inability to attend the annual Yannigan-Hooligan game at the University of New Mexico, because of urgent business in Washington, but am watching with great interest for the result. May the best team win. (Signed) "Warren G. Harding."

NO BASKETBALL TEAM DECISION OF COUNCIL

The regular meeting of the Athletic Council was held in the Chemistry building last Monday with all members except two of the Faculty present.

On account of insufficient funds, inter-collegiate basketball will not be attempted this season. However, basketball between associations within the University was proposed and considered favorably. The purchase of a cup to be presented to the winning team of a local tournament was authorized.

The matter of status of the Tennis club was discussed and arbitrated. Action was also taken on the distribution of letters and sweaters to the members of the 1921 football team. A letter from an official of the Rocky Mountain Conference was read, which stated the requirement of a number of representatives to the conference meeting scheduled for December over in Denver.

Mascot to Hibernates

The Lobo mascot is to hibernate this winter at the home of Bruno Dieckmann, its purchaser, where it will be guaranteed plenty of food and a good, warm shack for the cold months. Lobo has not quite recovered from the effects of the Varsity cheering section, but barks that it hopes for better support next year.

LOBOES SOON TO BLOOM IN VARSITY SWEATERS

At a meeting of the Student Council, held Monday night in the Administration building, it was decided, at the recommendation of Coach Johnson, to award the sixteen letter men of the nineteen twenty-one squad with sweaters in addition to the Varsity letters.

This is the first time since nineteen-eighteen, when the Varsity tied for the Southwestern championship, that sweaters have been awarded to members of the team. This year's group of letter men will receive them as additional recognition of their service, and should be wearing them within the next three weeks. The sweaters will be colored in red and gray.

New Wireless Equipment Received.

Professor Carey announces that an additional shipment of wireless equipment has been received. It is promised that the remaining apparatus will be shipped from the factory by December 5; and the wireless is expected to be ready for use during the Christmas holidays. We will then be able to enjoy the wireless operas given by various companies. A plifier will be connected to the set. In the East, as a reproducer and amplifier. Who says we aren't up-to-date?

INITIATE DR. HESSLER.

Gathering in the sanctum of Bill Stahl's room, the Pipe and Pen Club held its third official meeting last Sunday night. With the exception of Tom Calkins, who was conducting services in Belen, and George Skeel, who is herding sheep on the mesa, the entire membership was present to assist in the initiation of Dr. L. B. Hessler. The head of the English department offered a paper in the meeting which was accepted unanimously as filling the qualifications for members' contributions.

It was decided that the first issue of the Pipe and Pen's Bulletin will be issued on or about December fifteenth, and will probably be an entirely humorous number. A drive for subscriptions to the Bulletin will shortly be opened and the members of the club urge every undergraduate to become a subscriber to the publication, which will contain the best of University literature. Subscriptions, it is promised, will be priced very reasonably, approximately fifty cents for the school year, and will be used merely to defray the costs of printing.

Keys symbolic of the name of the association were adopted, and will be worn on watch chains or fobs, as soon as the official jeweler to the Pipe and Pen completes the order. It is planned to hold the next meeting within the next two weeks.

A motion was passed which resolved that the Pipe and Pen Club was not to be confused in any way with the Lowell Society, and which assured the Society of the Club's hearty support in all its activities.

SIG HOUSE WITNESSES UNPRECEDENTED EVENT

The Sigma Chi house was the scene of several interesting events during the reunion last week but none of them was more solemn and impressive than an event which took place last Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Mann and their baby daughter, Betty Irene, were in town during the past week and on Saturday afternoon the baby was christened by Deacon Calkins. The event was somewhat unusual for a fraternity house and because of it being unusual and also because of the solemnity of the occasion it marked a red letter day for the Sigma Chi fraternity.

Claude Mann was a Sigma Chi and all-Southwestern quarter-back for two years and Mrs. Mann is remembered by the older students as Irene Seward.

Claude says that Betty Irene will never make a football player for New Mexico University but she will make a mighty fine rooter.

"Beat the Hooligans," cry the Yannigans, and "Tounce the Yannigans," shrill the Hooligans, for the far-famed annual contest between these two undefeated and seemingly invincible teams of football warriors will again occupy the center of the stage in nation-wide interest when they mix tomorrow on University Field. The campus has teemed with unsuppressible excitement over the outcome of the crucial struggle, and all undergraduates will be cheering on the sidelines tomorrow.

Required by the rules of the Conference to appear on the gridiron puffing a cigarette, cigar or pipe, and compelled to drink at least five bottles of ice-cold soda pop during the four quarters, the teams are expected to appear in the pink of condition. Safety zones will be provided at intervals along the white lines, in order that weary players may safely rest, and the spectators will be entertained between the halves with the stupendous spectacle of a one-mile bicycle race, under the direction of the great improvisario, Blanco White. All who wish to enter the RENOWNED AMERICAN POET TO VISIT U. N. M.

Students who were in the University two years ago and who heard Vachel Lindsey read his own poems will hail with delight the announcement. That he is to return to Albuquerque for a reading between now and Christmas time.

Mr. Lindsey reads his poetry with the idea in mind that the old minstrels were working on the right principle when they sang instead of read their poetry. When a person first hears Mr. Lindsey read, the semi-singing tone adopted seems to be quite funny, but soon the spirit of the poet impresses itself upon the listener and the music of the verse becomes quite impressive.

Vachel Lindsey was awarded the prize by "Poetry" for having written the best poem of the year about four years ago. The poem was "The Chinese Nightingale." Among others of his best compositions are "The Congo," "General William Booth Enters Heaven," and among his shorter ones, "The Bröncho That Could Not Be Broken of Dancing" and "Heart of God."

Lindsey is one of the best of the modern American poets. He is not hectic and impossible like Carl Sandburg and his type, but is an appealing writer with a unique idea.

Telegram Received from Walter Camp.

During the past year the following were noted:

The gift of $1,500 by citizens for the grandstand, $500 for the seniors, Cullen Pearce, Vernon Willey, Ed Horgan, and George Bryan, who constitute the total active membership of the Khatable Senior Honor Society, met for a short get-together and business meeting. While the organization is still a comparatively

THE SEASON.

Football was a real success this year. When all is figured out, we only lost one game. By this we include the C. C. game in the victory column. The '21 eleven was the first that ever invaded Colorado's territory without being swamped by at least forty points. This year C. C. was fortunate to secure a victory by the scant margin of seven.

In spite of the handicap of lack of games, the team came through, trouncing the Bliss officers, and taking the Intercollegiate State Championship Thanksgiving Day from our old friends, the Aggies. In consideration of points we were well to the good over our adversaries. The only fly in our ointment was Arizona, who met with greater resistance from the Lobos than from any other team in the Southwest.

This year's season also gives us something to look forward to. We are only losing three letter men; all the others expect to return. This, in addition to the incoming freshmen class, from which we are sure to draw a number of players of calibre.

Nineteen twenty-two will see the Southwestern championship in the hands of the University of New Mexico.

Dean Eyre Returns to Classes.

Dean Eyre became suddenly ill last Saturday and being confined to his bed was unable to attend classes for a few days. Professors Carey and Dougherty substituted during his absence. Prof. Carey said that the task was rather pleasant, as all he had to do was to remind the classes that Dean Eyre intended to flunk the whole bunch if they didn't do all the work that had been assigned.

MODERN INVENTIONS HARM PHYSIQUE — H. C. CURTIS

"Invention is the ruination of physique," was the theme of an address delivered to the student body last Friday in Rodey Hall by Dr. H. C. Curtis, noted play-ground instructor and physical trainer.

Dr. Curtis went on to state that the baby could well be the teacher of any man in physical training. "If you do not believe it," he said, "just follow the antics of a child for a short time and see what the result will be."

"A person to become skillful in any delicate profession or game, such as playing the violin or tennis, must be trained for it before they reach the age of puberty."

"I believe that playgrounds are the most advantageous thing that is being given to children."

"The man who rides a mowing-machine is getting no more physical training than the woman who runs a typewriter." He went on to state that the long hours that the workingman was formerly forced to undergo produced no greater results than the eight-hour day now does.

Again he says, "It is not the working man who produces vice, but the man of leisure. Drink, sex and gambling appear where there is too much leisure in the crowded city." He gave Columbia University as a good example of an efficient system of physical instruction. There, he said, a person must learn to play six outdoor games before he is allowed to graduate.

Miss Ada Pierce Winn, a former Metropolitan star, favored the assembly with two very charming selections. Mrs. Winn is probably the most talented artist who has yet sang in Rodey Hall. Mr. George Geake, a local singer, also rendered two selections.

Bruins Select Opponents.

Possible opponents mentioned for the Tournament of Roses game with the University of California at Pasadena in the first week in January are Center College, Cornell University, Notre Dame, LaFayette and Pittsburgh. According to indications, either the sons of John Harvard or the Kentucky colonels will face the Bruins in the inter-sectional contest.

PITFALL AND GIN

The following is the little ditty that really was responsible for the final wreck of Pitfall's poetry contest. As you see, it is signed by a co-ed, and its context proves the veracity of that. We don't know what her name is, but it's even money on a blonde. What do you think of this for a contribution?

Eddie, when you lead the yells,
You always look so kissable;
My heart in rapture simply swells,
Your blue eyes are so blissable!!

Spasm 2.
Your sunburned map is so darned cute,
And your smile so fulla charm,
Who wouldn't seek a glance from you
Without meaning any harm?

CONTEST.

Pitfall and Gin announces the "Big 10 Co-Eds." This list has been secured after tremendous effort. Twenty free-hearted male students each picked a list of whom he thought were the "Big 10." Pitfall and Gin then compiled the combination given below. Pitfall and Gin will risk its reputation on the fact that the programs of these ten will be the first filled at any University dance. They are as follows:

Lorena Burton;
Margaret Phillips;
Elizabeth Shepherd;
Emma Gerhart;
Nelle Hess;
Wilma Snyder;
Margaret Spargo;
Mardell Morrison;
Dorothy Stevenson;
Blanche Guley.

We've heard a lot about the business of bluff among students, particularly co-eds. We have also heard frequently that the little game has about played out in our dear old Alma Mater, but when a little blonde, with a cute, inquiring nose and an innocent atmosphere can get away with one set of shorthand notes about a football game, by turning them in for Psychology, Hygiene Biology and History, you'll have to admit it's still a great old game.

WHY HE WASN'T PROMOTED

He grumbled.
He was always behindhand.
He had no iron in his blood.
He was willing, but unfitted.
He did not believe in himself.
His stock excuse was "I forgot."
He was not ready for the next step.
He did not put his heart into his work.

He learned nothing from his mistakes.
He ruined his ability by half doing things.

He chose his friends from among his inferiors.
He ner dared to act on his own judgment.

He did not think it worth while to learn how.
Familiarity with slipshod methods paralyzed his idea.

He tried to make "bluff" take place of hard work.
He thought it was clever to use coarse and profane language.

He thought more of amusements than of getting on in the world.
He did not learn that the best of his salary was no in his pay.

Still he wondered why he did not get on. — Chesapeake & Ohio Employee's Magazine.

WITH THE GREEKS

In spite of heavy examination schedules, the Greeks are not altogether lifeless socially. Three fraternities and two sororities are busy over the week-end. All of them are more or less recuperating from the strain of Thanksgiving week, the Sigs especially are trying to settle down after the big reunion and its accompanying festivities. In a short time, however, the pre-holiday events will begin and affairs will move with a rush until vacation.

Interfraternity. Alpha Delta, Pi Kappa Alpha and Sigma Chi have combined forces and will stage the first inter-fraternity function of the season tonight. The affair is honoring the football team and will be held at the Masonic Temple. The committee in charge consists of C. S. Caldwell, K. Wilkenson and G. White.

Alpha Chi Omega. Because of the illness of several of the active members and because of the completeness of the recent social flurry, the women of A. X. offer nothing to the column this week.

Alpha Delta Pi. Residents in the Heights are remarking on the peaceful atmosphere existing thereabouts. The Alpha Delta Pi's have not been entertaining.

Kappa Kappa Gamma. — Gamma Beta of Kappa Kappa Gamma has issued invitations for a dance which will be staged tomorrow night at the Women's Club. Many alumnae from out of the city will be in attendance, and a real for sure Kappa party is promised.

Phi Mu. Miss Edna Miller is giving a tea for the Actives and Pledges of Xi chapter. Miss Miller will be at home in her apartments on Roma Avenue tomorrow afternoon.

Alpha Delta. The Alpha Deltas will stage one at the Masonic Temple on December 9th.

Cupid Scores Another Touchdown.

It is in the air. Flighty, unsuspecting and amorous individuals are advised to be on the alert. Last week another perfectly sane young man of the University circle made his obeisance to the shrine of matrimony and is now bound by the chains of Hymen.

Victor Miller of the class of '23 made a trip to Santa Fe last Thanksgiving and with the assistance of Rev. Sam Marble and the county clerk took unto himself a wife. The lady concerned was Miss Peggy Payne, who is known to many of the University people. Of course, every one wished them joy, but, gosh! it was an awful shock.

As we say, it is in the air, and all unattached individuals are warned to be on the alert and remain unattached.

race may do so by seeing White, and a handsome trophy is promised the winner.

Genuine football will be displayed in spots during the game, however. The pigskin will not be stuffed with rags, as was commonly rumored, but will be inflated in the usual manner; uniforms will be worn and ragged; and many bewildering plays and shifts are promised by both sides. During the past week the two squads have been practicing on opposite ends of University Field, but a code of honor was adopted, which forbade any Hooligan observing the Yannigan formations, and vice-versa.

Doctors Hessler and Hubbell are the favorites for referee and umpire, respectively; pending their acceptance, while Professors Haught and Coan also drew mention for these positions. It is possible that the officials may be substituted in the same manner as the players, as they fail to function efficiently. Coach Johnson has consented to act as mediator, head-linesman and time-keeper, and will prevent any symptoms of roughness in the game.

Dopesters predict that for a hearty laugh the Yannigan-Hooligan fray will surpass any review Al Jolson ever dreamed of presenting. All the well known society men of the University will be seen in action, and the stands, filled with cheering, colorful femininity, will be worth the price of admission, which is small, and levied for a purpose. The game is called at two o'clock, in order that the approach of darkness may not interfere with the complicated plays of the unequalled elevens.

Mrs. Faw Wins Approval

Mrs. D. W. Faw, instructor in piano in the University, has been bringing much publicity to the University by her excellent accompanying of visiting artists. Mrs. Faw delighted Richard Bonelli, the prominent baritone, by her finished performance, and has furnished the accompaniment for the majority of singers at the University chapel exercises.
