MIRAGE CONTEST ENDS

FOOTBALL LETTER MEN ELECT NEXT YEAR'S CAPTAIN

Selection of Ogle Jones as Leader of Lobo Pack Made at Football Banquet

Ogle Jones, Lobo left half, and All Southwestern half for the last two seasons, was elected captain of the Varsity Eleven for 1923, at an elaborate five course banquet given in honor of Lobo letter men in Sarah Reynolds hall Thursday night, and served by the girls of the home economic department.

After the banquet had been served Coach Johnson talked briefly on football prospects for next year, among other things stating that next year no transfers will be eligible to play on the Lobo eleven, and telling of the tentative football schedule that has been arranged, which now includes games with the University of Montana, Denver University, Arizona, the Texas Miners and West Texas Normal, with the date for the New Mexico Aggie game not yet definitely set, and with the possibility of a game with the Colorado Aggies.

Retiring captain John Popejoy urged the Lobos present to keep up the old fighting spirit and make next year a successful one by playing the game as it should be played, but the captain-elect refused to make a speech, preferring to wait until next year, and say it with touchdowns.

Before the party broke up Coach Johnson presented the letters, and each man was given his choice of a gold football or a jersey, which will be given out as soon as they can be ordered.

Men who were present are: Captain John Popejoy, Tom Popejoy, Greuter, Dutton, Hopkins, Ferguson, Kelly, Louis Hernandez, Walter Hernandez, Pearce, Thompson, Jones, Hammond, Harrington, Horgan, Stinnett, Cartwright, Greenleaf, Manager Hanger and Coach Johnson.

VARSITY LOSES SEVEN FOOTBALL LETTER PLAYERS

Team Loses Seven Strong Men by Graduation Next Spring

With the close of the 1922 season, seven seniors on the Lobo squad turned in their suits for the last time, and never again will represent the Varsity on the gridiron. These men are Cullen Pearce, Max Ferguson, Marion Stinnett, Frank Greenleaf, Ed Horgan, Edmund Hopkins, and Bob Cartwright.

Pearce has played three years with the Lobos, originally holding down the pivot position, but this year shifted to left guard, which position he held until a dislocated elbow received in the Canyon Normal game, put him on the bench for the rest of the season. Pearce is a fast, aggressive man, and one of the best linemen the Lobos have ever owned. His presence on the Lobo grid machine will be missed. Even when his injured arm kept him from taking part in scrimmage, Pearce put on a suit and came out for practice every day, hoping that his arm might mend in time to allow him to play in the Aggie game.

Max Ferguson held down the right guard berth for the Lobos until late in the season, when he was moved to right tackle. Whether at guard or tackle, Ferguson could always be depended on to play a stellar game. His able use of his hands on the defensive, gained from a knowledge of wrestling, made him especially feared by opposing linemen, and he has been characterized by more than one Lobo fan as one of the most powerful linemen who ever played on a Lobo eleven. Ferguson played with the Lobos two years, and will leave a gap in the line hard to fill.

Marion Stinnett has played with the Lobos three years, and has been a letter man two years. In spite of the fact that he weighs but 160 pounds, Stinnett has always been a valuable lineman, able to fill a guard or tackle position at any time, and fill it well. No man on a Lobo squad has ever been a more consistent player than Stinnett. He gets in every play, and fights from the kick off to the final whistle. In

THE DOWNTOWN PERFORMANCE OF "CLARENCE" PLEASAS

Shows Distinct Advance Over Premier Appearance Before Students Last Week

Booth Tarkington's "Clarence," which was so enthusiastically received at its first presentation by the University Dramatic Club in Rodey Hall Thanksgiving night, went over in a splendid manner at its second showing at the Crystal Theater last Monday night.

While every member of the cast performed in a style worthy of professional artists, and which reflected great credit both on the cast and Dr. George S. Hubbell, play director, special mention should perhaps be given Juliet Fleisher, who played the part of Cora the flapper, and Pat Miller, who took the role of Bobby, the seventeen year old, home from school on a forced vacation, because of his habit of "rolling the bones" against school regulations. Young people are Tarkington's specialty, and both Miss Fleisher and Mr. Miller took full advantage of the strength of their respective roles, and brought laugh after laugh from an appreciative audience.

Earl Gerhardt, as "Clarence," who had been in the army, where he had driven mules without swearing, and had been wounded by artillery at target practice, and who, in his early childhood possessed a cannibal for a nurse, interpreted his part in splendid style, and a sympathetic audience had pity for him in his shambling demeanor at the opening of the play, and rejoiced at his good fortune at the end.

Fred Wagner and Fay Strong, as Mr. Wheeler, the busy business man and his second wife, much his junior, were good; and Margaret Easterdar, taking the part of Mrs. Martin, the confidential secretary, in the absence of Clarissa Parsons, who played the part originally, filled the role to perfection.

Leona Boyle, as Violet Pinney, the pretty young governess, who exerts an exceedingly disruptive influence on the Wheeler household, was quite charming, and Ellsworth Duke, in the part of Hubert Stem, grass widower, with designs on the affections of Miss Pinney, was quite the astute villain in his role called for.

Billy Loudon, as Della, the maid, and Otto Beber, as Dinwiddie, the extraordinarily dignified butler, were model servants.

So successful have been the two performances of "Clarence" already given, that a tour of the Pecos Valley, showing at Clovis and Roswell, is being considered by the play management.

MUSIC STUDENTS GIVE EXCELLENT PROGRAM IN ASSEMBLY

Much Credit Due to the Music Department for Showing Made by Pupils

Assembly last Friday was a most pleasant affair, with the Music Department of the University under Prof. Lukken and Mrs. D. W. Faw, in charge. This is the first assembly of the year in which the Music Department has taken complete charge, and the program was a pleasant treat to the student body. After a few announcements relative to school affairs the following program was given.

Alma Mater—State University Band and Audience.
As torrents in summer—Longfellow-Elgar, State University Chorus.
Arbuesque—Mamma Zucca, Miss Carol Wilson.

Gipsy Love—Victor Herbert, Mr. Charles Dearing.
Bird Raptures—Sneider, Miss Dougherty.

Shadow March—Protheroe.
All Kinds of Women—State University Male Quartette.

The Two Larks, Leschetizky—Mrs. Paul Hayne.

Greeting to Spring, Straus (From the Blue Danube Waltz)—University Women's Glee Club.

More Love to Thee, Grey—Miss Carol Wilson.

(A) There Was a Little Man, Hadley.

(B) Keep on Hopin', Salter-Maxwell—State University Chorus.

(A) Red Cross March, Panella.

(B) Boots and Saddles, Lusk—State University Band.

MIRAGE BEAUTY-POPULARITY CONTEST ENDS WITH SELECTION OF MISS BURNS AND MISS STOWELL

Beauty Ball Brings Spectacular Contest to a Close Finish. Manager Hickman Announces Contest Very Successful Financially

With the Beauty Ball last Friday night, the Mirage Beauty and Popularity Contest for 1922 came to an end. The most ambitious and best contest ever held thus far by the Mirage Staff was a huge success both financially and every other way and amply repaid the efforts expended to make it good.

After a week of no little work on the part of the candidates and their supporters gaining votes for the most beautiful and most popular, the climax was reached at the Beauty Ball given at the Masonic Temple last Friday night. During the evening votes were going into the ballot box continually and the results were announced successively at nine-thirty, ten and ten-thirty o'clock, as interest and enthusiasm rose higher and higher as the fateful hour of election approached. The ballot box was opened finally on the stroke of eleven and the votes were counted by the committee.

Manager Hickman announced the results as soon as they were known. Miss Pearl Burns was awarded the prize for the most beautiful, and Miss Helen Stowell was elected as the most popular. The vote was very close and throughout the contest the lead had been changing from time to time with Miss Fay Strong and Miss Dorothy Goeltz running strong favorites to the end.

Upon the announcement of the results of the voting, Manager Hickman presented the prizes to the winners. Each one received a beautiful doreen from Mindlin Jewelry Company, a handsome purse from Rosenwald Brothers, a large box of candy from Butts Drug Company, and various other awards were announced. The Emcee Studio was to take the pictures of the winners, and the Sunday Herald carried the pictures of the most beautiful and most popular on the society page. Other donations in honor of the Beauty contest added greatly to the success of the Beauty Ball.

Miss Pearl Burns, the beauty queen of the U. N. M. campus is a sophomore in the University of New Mexico, though this is her first year here. She is a pledge to Kappa Kappa Gamma and in addition to being the most beautiful she is known as one of the most popular of the University girls.

The winner of the Popularity contest, Miss Helen Stowell, well deserves the honor of being named the most popular girl for she is well liked by everyone. Coming to the University of New Mexico in her Sophomore year, Miss Stowell is now a Senior and in that time has won her way into the hearts of all. She is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma, and has been identified with many University activities, now being a member of the Athletic Council.

Roy Hickman, business manager for the Mirage this year, announces that the Contest was financially a great success turning out even better than all expectations. The sale of Mirages was especially heavy, with approximately two hundred and ninety-two sold during the contest, and then there were also many votes and tickets for the Beauty Ball sold, all of which will contribute to make the Mirage a better and bigger book this year.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT RAPIDLY NEARING THE FINALS

Brown, Long and Wilfley Leading Contenders for Prize in Handicap Tournament.

With the Annual Winter Tournament of the U. N. M. Tennis Club rapidly progressing through its final stages, the competition is narrowing down appreciably and by last Saturday had reached the semi-final stage. As might be expected in a handicap tournament there were several close matches, often going to three sets to determine the winner.

Wilfley continued victorious, and by Saturday was ready for the semi-finals. He beat Berger, who had an edge of one point each game, 6-4, 6-3. Long, who had taken the first round from Burcham by default, overcame Walter Bowman and then met Merritt. Their match was one of the best that has been played, for though Merritt won the first set, 6-4, long came back at him in the second set, taking it 6-4, and then completely swept Merritt off his feet

ALL-VARSITY XMAS HIGH JINX GO OVER BIG

Clever Stunts by Various Groups and Dancing Make Pleasant Evening

Friday evening December 15, 1922, saw the best line of stunts ever put on at an Annual Christmas Party at the University. This annual event always draws forth original talent in acting and writing and affords great pleasure to the audience. The Woman's Dormitory stunt took the prize as the best stunt put on by women and the Pi Kappa Alpha stunt took the prize for the men. After the stunts were over the floor was cleared and the rest of the evening was spent in dancing.

The winning stunt for the women was entitled "Love Thru The Ages" and was very cleverly acted by the inmates of Hokona. Beginning with the cave man and taking man up thru the ages to the modern time and even showing a prediction of the future, a Prince Charming was traced in original and clever style. The cave man scene and the modern

ATHLETIC COUNCIL FAVORS BASKETBALL SEASON FOR U. N. M.

Vote to Schedule Games with Outside Schools; Prospects Are Excellent

In a recent meeting of the Athletic Council it was voted to have a basketball season at the University this year. Although the football season was not a success financially and leaves the Athletic Council with a deficit which seriously cramps any further athletics this year, it is believed that a small season at least can be arranged for this year.

It will be remembered that last year the University played a five game series with the team from Arizona, and if possible it is hoped to have a return schedule with them this year. It is also possible that games will be secured with the New Mexico Agricultural College five, with the Flagstaff Normal quintet and perhaps other teams. The Socorro School of Mines is reported to have a fine team and athletic relations with that school might be resumed this year, giving the University not a very large but nevertheless good schedule.

It would be a pity to let all of the good basketball material which is in school this year go to waste. Practically all, in fact, every man, that played on the team that showed up so well against Arizona's strong quintet last year after only a little practice is back in school again this year and besides there is a wealth of new material which could be whipped into a strong team which would well represent the University. There has been some little difficulty as to a place to practice, for the men's gymnasium is too small; but if this can be arranged as it probably will be, practice and tryouts for the Varsity team will begin immediately after the holidays.

The inter-organization basketball schedule will be delayed until after the regular season instead of holding it beforehand as has been done previously. There are several strong teams put into the running by the various organizations and some fast and furious games may well be expected. The Sigma Chis have already played one game, more in the nature of a practice game, losing to the strong Banker's team, 38 to 18.

SOCIETY

Friday night, the Beauty Ball took place at the Masonic Temple as the climax of the Beauty and Popularity Contest. About seventy couples attended and the dance was a very live and enthusiastic affair. Dr. Mosher chaperoned.

The Masonic Temple was the scene of another dance the following evening when the Ki-yotes gave their first dance of the school year, one of the best that has yet been held. The hall was decorated in cherry and silver and the same general color scheme was carried out in the program. Punch was served throughout the evening and dancing continued until the conventional hour of eleven-thirty. Dr. Edna Mosher chaperoned.

The guests were: Misses Billy Loudon, Helen McArthur, Elizabeth Cooper, Cathrine Owen, Tinsley Burton, Grace Goodhart, Marie DuPont, Dora Russell, Frances Holshelmer, Germaine Baer, Zimrud Hext, Fay Strong, Alice Sundt, Pollock, Mary Woods, Helen Kimball, Helen Frazier, Anita Osuna, Margaret Easterday, Leona Sherwood, Ruth Bursum, Elizabeth Edmondson, Miriam Harrold, Freda Mitchell, Twigg, Thelma Farley, Helen Nelson, Merle Strickland, Lorena Burton, Elizabeth Shepherd, Ruth Morgan, Mary Wilson, Claire Bursum, Mary Popejoy, Pearl Burns, Octavia Johnson, Isabel Porter, Dorothy Goelitz, Leona Beyle, Edna Mosher, Messrs. ## DOWNTOWN Y. W. TO ENTERTAIN

Invitations are out by the downtown Y. W. C. A. to the University members for a banquet Saturday evening at their rooms on North Second.

UNNAMED MAN MAKES GIFT TO WIRELESS STATION

On Thursday, December 15, 1922, a gentleman of Albuquerque notified Dr. John A. Reidy, Treasurer of the University and Regent, that the University is authorized to draw upon him to the extent of five hundred dollars for the purpose of adding to the equipment of the Korber Wireless Station at the University. When approached upon the subject President Hill stated that the gentleman in question modestly refused to have his name published in this connection, and therefore the name of the generous donor must for the present remain undisclosed.

During recent days the Korber Wireless Station of the State University of New Mexico has been put into operation, and on Wednesday, December 13, 1922, a demonstration of the transmitting facilities of the station was given at the Albuquerque Kiwanis Club by Professor Carey, assisted by the students. At the University, a phonograph produced music which was heard plainly and loudly from the receiving set placed downtown at the Kiwanis Club.

The Korber Wireless Station was established in 1921 and was made possible by an initial contribution of five hundred dollars, contributed by Mrs. Jacob Korber of Albuquerque, at the solicitation of Dr. J. A. Reidy, Regent. Since that time several citizens have made small contributions of various materials which have been put into place by Professor Carey, until now the State University has probably the most powerful station in the state. Messages are received from distances as great as that of Honolulu, and when atmospheric conditions are favorable messages may be broadcasted to a distance of several hundred miles.

SCARBOROUGH WINS IN FIRST ANNUAL CROSS COUNTRY RUN

In the first annual cross country run which was held last Monday afternoon, Bernard Scarborough, of this year's Freshman class took first honors with the remarkably fast time of 22 minutes and 24 seconds over the four mile course, a good part of which includes some very rough country. Fairfax Stephens, also a Freshman, was second, with the time of 24 minutes and 36 seconds.

Scarborough will receive from the Athletic Association a handsome silver loving cup, while Stephens will be given a jersey with Freshman numerals.

Both Scarborough and Stephens are former Santa Fe High School men, and Scarborough broke the state high school record for the mile run in the annual interscholastic track and field meet, held here under the auspices of the University last spring.

The beginning of an annual cross country run here at the University is another point which shows that the field of activity at the U. N. M. is steadily widening. Of course, this year the entries in the run were small in number, but the excellent showing made by those who did try out is a favorable indication of further advances in this line.

MUSIC

Probably the first exceedingly rude attempts of primitive man at what he might have called music were directly due to the consciousness of possessing a faculty of vocalization which enabled him to imitate the sounds of nature, or the cries and calls of animals. With the passing ages, the exercise of this faculty has changed, by imperceptible degrees, from a mere imitation into a somewhat elusive and intangible, yet certain means of expressing the deeper emotions of life. Such was the conditions of things when the curtain of history discloses to our view the ancient peoples at their sacred dances and festivals. Music was essentially emotion, entirely unadulterated by intellect. And today we, who are pleased to term ourselves advanced, are only beginning to realize that music, composed under the influence of any particular state of feeling, can convey under proper conditions a semblance of that feeling from one human mind to another.

Shakespeare knew that in 1600 though, for we have the following inimitable lines:

"Ireposterous ass that never read so far;

To know the cause why music was ordained

Was it not to refresh the mind of man,

After his studies or his usual pain?"

The power of music lies to a great extent in the depth of the emotional appeal. Franck and Beethoven are supreme simply because their vision was more unclouded than that of their contemporaries and because they could express what they saw, unhindered by technical limitations. Thus the value of music to any person lies in his ability to feel keenly and deeply all the finer and nobler things of life, and in just such measure as we possess this ability, will we enjoy the music of the masters and thereby receive not only sensual education, but what is more, spiritual development.

This is the reason why the Fortnightly Club is bringing real musicians to Albuquerque. It is not that we may while away a few moments in a concord of sweet sounds, but that we may receive a message of truth and inspired beauty. We should go from each concert better fitted to cope with our petty tasks of life, saying with Browning, "Here is the finger of God, a flash of the will that can, Exist behind all laws that made them, and, lo, they are!"

LOCALS

Y. W. C. A. MEETING

The Y. W. C. A. was conducted by Mrs. Hessler this week, who gave events in the life of Rachel.

The series of studies of the women of the Bible is handled by the members of the advisory board and has proven quite popular.

"Ted," the fire department dog, has become a frequent visitor at the University, under the patronage of Cullen Pearce and Max Ferguson. Finding his presence in English 61 undesirable, he has adopted a policy of watchful waiting outside the door while that class is in session. Last Wednesday, Ted had a happy idea. He knocked at the door, and gained admittance before Dr. Hessler discovered the identity of his visitor, only to be forcibly ejected, much to his chagrin. His head turned with the success of his initial attempt at a strategic entry into class, Ted knocked again and again, but to no avail. Now, Ted is working up another scheme.

In an attempt to demonstrate the swan dive, as it is performed over a tennis net, Ellsworth Duke made a forced landing early last week, with the result that he carried his arm in a sling for several days, while a dislocated elbow mended. Duke has obdurately refused to repeat the performance for a larger and more appreciative audience.

Coach Johnson was discussing in hygiene class the other day the various classifications of the white race. Someone aroused P. D. Miller from a sound slumber in time for him to inquire with an air of eager interest, "Coach, where do the negroes and Chinamen come in?"

In the final set, winning it, 6-1. They played on even terms.

In the lower half of the tournament, Brown upset the dope bucket a little and beat Wagner in straight sets 6-2, 6-2, after losing the first one, 7-5. He played with a handicap of 15, while Wagner was rated 2-6. Under the same rating he played and won from Horgan, 6-2, 2-6, 6-3 thus advancing to the semi-finals. That was all of the matches that had been played up to the time that the paper went to press. Saturday afternoon, Wilfley was scheduled to meet Long in their semi-final match to determine who was to play Brown. Though Wilfley is the ranking favorite, Long is playing a splendid game and might very likely upset the champion. The finals will probably be played off Sunday or Monday.

It is interesting to note the manner in which the handicap ratings are working out in the tournament. Though in general they are approximately right in some cases they were placed too high for some men and too low for others. However, this is the first handicap tournament that has been held in some years and as this is furthermore the first tournament of the year it is evident that with a little more data a very satisfactory system of rating can be worked out.

Accompanists—Mrs. Jennie S. Faw, Miss Norma Williams, Miss Helen Wiley, and Mr. Fred Wagner. Violin Obligati—Mr. Maxwell Merritt.

The program was further marked by the premier appearance of the University Male Quartette and the band again demonstrated its ability. Really every number on the program was excellent and the participants gave ample proof of the good work that Professor Lukken and Mrs. Faw are doing in the Music Department. It is to be hoped that the Music Department will appear before the student body again within a short time.
