PRES. HILL SPEAKS TO VARSITY MEN

Advantages of College Education and Plans of the University Told to Students.

An assembly of all men in the University was held Tuesday, Dec. 9th, at 11 a. m. in Rodey hall. President Hill was the speaker of the occasion, delivering a good man-to-man talk.

The speech was opened by showing the advantages of a college education as proved by statistics. Less than one half of one per cent of the population of the United States are college men, yet the influence of this small group on the affairs of America is most marked. In the book of noted men of the United States, "Who's Who in America," 22,000 names are given and 72.8 per cent of these are collegiate men. Thus one half of one per cent of the population produces almost three fourths of the leaders of the country. It is an incontestable fact that college education for most people produces leadership and for the fellow who has the grit and determination to endure hardships, there are always opportunities waiting both in college and elsewhere.

The matter of choosing a profession was taken up by the speaker who advised every man to study very carefully the opportunities offered him since there are hundreds of occupations in this country. It should be remembered that a choice has to be made, and one should not hesitate too long, but should decide, stick to his decision, get the right training, connect with the right people, and get in the right place.

The plans of the University of New Mexico for the future were also briefly outlined. The needs of the University are many and include such all-important things as buildings, equipment, and an enlarged faculty. These will be taken care of by the administration in the near future, but there is another need of the University which must be attended to by the students themselves. That need is a unification of college spirit. There is a great difference between the feelings of the individuals and those of the society; of these two the feelings of the individuals should be sacrificed when essential to the welfare of society. Likewise, there are deliberative actions as well as emotional; the deliberative is the true college spirit, and deliberate action should always predominate.

The many friends of Mr. Chao, will be glad to hear that he is improving since moving to the "San," and hopes to sail for his home in China sometime during January.

ARMFIELD COURSE HERE IN JAN.

That the Armfield course will be brought here on January 6th and 7th under the auspices of the Community Playhouse Association was the information given out by Miss E. A. Hickey, manager of the society.

The University is very fortunate in obtaining the Armfields for the recitals since the course is on its way from California to Chicago, having shown in England for several years before coming to this country. A series of four lectures and recitals will be given as follows:

PROF. IBARRA JOINS UNIVERSITY FACULTY

Interest at the University in the teaching of Spanish, French and Italian is being increased by the arrival of Assistant Professor A. Ibarra y Rojas from Chicago. Mr. Ibarra is a graduate of the Universidad de Barcelona (Spain), has attended the University of Bordeaux (France), and has also studied law in Chicago. He is a son of a Spanish father and a French mother and speaks Spanish, French and Italian fluently.

Although Mr. Ibarra is a young man, under thirty years of age, he brings to the post of assistant professor of romance languages at the University considerable experience in the teaching of modern languages. He taught two years at the Instituto Superior de Occidente, Leon, Nic., C. A., one year in the Seminario Conciliar de San Ramon, Leon, Nic., two years in the Chicago Law School, Chicago, Ill., and during 1918, was interpreter of the Headquarters Base Section No. 2, A. E. F., of the American army in France. He conducted a course in the French language for soldiers. He has given private lessons for the last seven years.

Professor Ibarra holds the degrees of Bachiller de CC. LL., Universidad de Barcelona, and LL. B., Chicago Law School.

In addition to his experience in Spain and France, Professor Ibarra has also lived for years in South America, and has had practical employment with large business corporations. It is expected that a new course which will be of great use at the University will be one in commercial Spanish, which will probably be offered in the near future. The work of Mr. Ibarra will be matched with keen interest by citizens of New Mexico and friends of the University.

It is a matter of keen regret that the temporary illness of Miss Edna Oakley compels her withdrawal from the University. She is admired greatly by her pupils and by the faculty.

ACTIVITIES FEE RAISED BY STUDENTS

Student Activities Fee Raised From $1.25 to $2.50 Per Quarter. Des Moines Representatives Considered. Cheating In Exams Discussed.

In the last student body meeting of this quarter held at 11 o'clock, Monday, in Rodey hall, the students' activities fee which has been $1.25 a quarter was raised to $2.50 per quarter to meet the increased expenses of student activities.

Heretofore, the fee has been $5.00 a year, collected $1.25 every quarter. As the summer school attendance in 1918 was small and as there was no summer school in 1919, only the past two years. Thus the student activities fund has become very low.

The question of the University's sending two delegates to the Des Moines Student Volunteer Convention was considered. Professor Landers gave a very interesting talk on the necessity and value of our sending a delegation, after which Thomas Calkins, chairman of the committee to raise funds for the delegation, passed out pledge cards to the student body and $125 was pledged by those present.

The matter of cheating in exams was considered and several remedies were proposed, but no definite action was taken.

COMMUNITY PLAYHOUSE FORMALLY ORGANIZED

Last Saturday at 8 p. m. the Community Playhouse Association of Albuquerque was formally organized in Rodey hall. A constitution was adopted, and the following officers elected: Prof. P. F. Sherwin, director; Miss E. A. Hickey, manager; Mr. Dillon, secretary. A board of directors was also chosen to consist of the three officers of the association, Clyde Morris and Mary Sands as student members, and Mr. Hutcheson and Prof. R. R. Hill as other members of the board.

The meeting was presided over by Prof. Sherwin, and some of the programs as outlined for the year were read to the society by Miss Hickey. The feature of the Saturday evening program was the reading of the Irish play, "The Rising of the Moon," by Mr. Hutcheson, formerly of the Liberty Hall players of Chicago. The causes of the trouble in Ireland and the idea behind the present movements were explained by the reader, and at the conclusion of the evening everyone felt they had been entertained in a most delightful and instructive way.

Guy Shipley, who was out of school for a couple of days at the end of the week on account of the La Grippe, is again attending classes.

U. N. M. TO DES MOINES

U. N. M. To Break Into National Collegiate Affairs By Attending Student Volunteer Convention.

While Gale Seaman was in Albuquerque last week he told U. N. M. people of the great Student Volunteer Convention to be held at Des Moines, Iowa, December 30 to January 4th. Almost seven thousand students from all sections of the United States are expected to attend this convention. There they will discuss and hear discussed the greatest religious and social problems confronting the world today.

When Mr. Seaman told the group of Varsity students about the convention, they immediately decided that U. N. M. should have a representation at Des Moines. A committee was appointed to consider ways and means, and this committee began work at once.

Monday at eleven o'clock a meeting of the student body was called, and Prof. Landers, Frances Bear, and Thos. Calkins spoke concerning the importance of the convention, and the necessity for U. N. M. to send a delegation. After they had spoken, about $125 was raised among the students present. Two hundred and fifty dollars will be needed to send the delegates to Des Moines but it is believed the remaining hundred and twenty-five dollars can be raised among the faculty and students who were not present at the assembly. Ten dollars were received from the Lead Avenue Epworth League to assist in the project.

The University of New Mexico has been living in too great a state of isolation from other progressive educational institutions. If it is to grow and measure up to the colleges of the United States, it will be necessary to mingle with students from other institutions in order to keep pace with the best student ideas and activities of the land. If our delegates bring back to us some of the spirit and inspiration of the Des Moines Conference, we will have another point in touch with great movements of the day which will be of immeasurable value to us.

The delegates who are to represent the Varsity were selected by vote of the students, Thomas Calkins and Mayme Hart being the ones chosen.

FOOTBALL LETTER MEN.

Names of the following men have been announced as earning their "N. M." in the football season just closed: M. Rogers, G. Rogers, MacArthur, Greenleaf, Gentry, Foraker, McClure, Whitten, Booker, Hernandez, C. Mann, G. Mann, Gerpheide, Aydelotte and Sganziini.

These men may be proud of their record this year, and it is only hoped everyone will be back at the University next year to win another letter.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 17, 1919

To the Members of the Student Body:

Complaints have been filtering in to my office to the effect that certain students have engaged in the act of cheating during examinations.

I do not believe that this vicious habit is characteristic of our student body as a whole, and I do not believe that any considerable number of our students would tolerate the act upon the part of any one. I am too well assured of the vigorous, wholesome spirit of cooperation already manifested during the past quarter at the University of New Mexico to believe the contrary.

It is unnecessary for me to characterize this act when it is done deliberately and with the intention of stealing credits and honors from one's fellow-student and from the institution. In practically all reputable institutions the act of cheating is understood to be a matter meriting severe penalties both from the students and from the governing authorities. Such is the policy of the University of New Mexico.

I am writing this not to call upon the students to help in preventing any occurrence of this matter in the future. The old adage that "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" seems applicable, and I am calling upon both the student body and the faculty to rally together in harmonious cooperation both to prevent and to stamp out any tendency of any individual to cheat either in class exercises or upon examinations. If in the future there should be a few individuals who thus defraud themselves, their fellow-students, and the institution, we shall be able to get rid of them.

I am asking the business director and the chairman of committee on schedule to make arrangements so that there may be more space available at each examination, and each student may occupy an alternate seat and otherwise be more comfortable.

I should be grateful for the loyal cooperation and help of all concerned.

DAVID S. HILL, President.

With this issue of the Weekly goes our best wishes to each of our fellow pupils for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. There will be no issue of the Weekly during the holidays.

Another quarter of school work is drawing to its close. We now look back over the past three months and wonder what we have done with the time. Have we employed it to the best advantage so as to improve and enrich our lives? The answer will be worth nothing except as a basis for what we are going to do with the next three months.

Are you returning to school after the holidays? We feel reasonably sure that the majority of the students will be enrolled here again next quarter, but there are a few who do not expect to return. Of course circumstances alter cases, and each one has his particular case to work out. Is it a question of inclination, or means? If you have the opportunity to return, it is worse than foolish not to do so. Of course if you prefer some other school, and think that it can do more for you than this one, cast your lot there, but go to school. While realizing that our University is somewhat handicapped at present, yet we feel that there are certain advantages that a small school has over a larger one. Again, we think this University can do much for the young woman who expects to teach in this state or the young man who expects to enter professional life here. Sometime we hope this University will come into its own, and will have the influence a State University ought to have.

Consider the matter seriously before you decide to quit school.

Y. M. C. A. ORGANIZED.

Turning Over of Local "Y" to National Results In Reorganization.

Thursday and Friday of last week, Mr. Gale Seaman, general secretary of college Y. M. C. A. of the Pacific section, was in Albuquerque discussing the possibility and advisability of reorganizing the Y. M. C. A. at the University.

Thursday afternoon Mr. Seaman met several Varsity men in the Seminar room and considered the various problems with which the Y. M. C. A. has to contend at U. N. M. The men present were optimistic about the reorganization of the "Y" and decided to make an effort to put the Varsity Association to work with a constructive purpose.

Friday noon about twenty men met in Rodey hall and elected the following officers: Earl Gerhardt, president; E. J. Cristy, vice president; J. M. Scruggs, secretary-treasurer.

Instead of conducting the Y. M. C. A. through the cabinet as formerly, a group of fifteen men, called the Friendship Circle, is to administer Y. M. C. A. affairs. Each of these men will have a list of men for whom he is responsible. When the "Y" holds a meeting, a social event, or any other affairs, these fifteen men are responsible for advising each of those on their lists of the event and to get their opinion on the matter. This plan has worked very well in larger institutions and it seems plausible for the Varsity.

U. N. M. is not so great an institution quantitatively as some others, but she is ready to prove that she cannot be beaten qualitatively. Let's get behind the "Y" and show what we can do. Other schools have excellent Y. M. C. A.'s and there is no reason why we should not have the same.

Joe Jordan, a former Varsity man, has returned to Albuquerque to work and is living at the Alpha Delta Fraternity House.

THE IRONY OF FATE.

It is something of an anomaly to have the first international labor conference under the peace treaty held in a country which has specifically rejected the labor provisions of that treaty.

'NUF SAID.

Perhaps it is best that the world will never know the emotions that swept over Vice President Marshall when informed of the demise of his superior. He is pictured as being overcome with grief, so let us be charitable and inquire no further.

SOCIETY

HORTENSE SWITZER HOSTESS.

Miss Hortense Switzer was hostess to her fraternity, Alpha Chi Omega, at a delightful party and luncheon Saturday.

During the afternoon, the girls performed stunts, sang, and had a wonderful time. Miss Switzer sang a clever, catchy song from a musical comedy; Betty O'Hara and Lucile Makin sang a character song; Alma Bixby played, and Norma Rasmus read. A delicious course supper was served at six.

ALPHI CHI OMEGA.

Tuesday night, the Alpha Chi Omega's gave a delightful party in honor of their pledges.

Every pledge was told to do something, in fact, they were quite frightened at the project of what appeared to be a preliminary initiation but all was safe and a wonderful time was experienced.

TO PHI MU.

The Phi Mu Fraternity was the recipient, Saturday afternoon, from three to six, of an attractive "Dansante," at Country Club, given in their honor by Mrs. S. A. Bixby and Mrs. Leroy Peters, patronesses of the fraternity.

Mrs. George K. Angle, and Mrs. George Simms presided at the table and were assisted by Mrs. John Simms, Mrs. Frank Pooler, and Miss Adeline Pyle. Members of the other fraternities on the hill were asked to enjoy the hostesses hospitality. The Club was attractively decorated with Christmas greens, mistletoe, flowers, and delicious refreshments were served.

BY KAPPA PLEDGES.

One of the prettiest dances of the school year was that given Friday night at the Masonic Temple by the pledges of the Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity, in honor of their alumnae, actives, and the pledges of the other fraternities on the hill.

It was a Christmas dance, and the decorations were characteristic of the season. Two shades of blue covered the lights, and the Kappa Owl, perched on his tree, chaperoned the party with far-seeing eyes. The programs bore the pledge pin in the center and were decidedly Christmasy.

The K. K. G. pledges are: Bell Barton, Irene Fee, Helen MacArthur, Francis Parker, Lorena Burton, Louise Walraven, and the initiates are: Anna Lee Duncan, Evelyn Hunt and Joy Spruce.

Theatre and its relation to the community.

Jan. 6.—Evening.—Costume Recital, The Eastern Gate by Dorothy Johnston, consisting of poems, songs, and stories ranging from ancient Hindu, Arabian, and Syrian airs set to music. The recital is costumed in ten color progressions by Maxwell Armfield, who is responsible for the several musical instruments employed.

Jan. 7.—Afternoon.—Lecture on the Synthetic Drama by Maxwell Armfield in the form of a studio talk, illustrated by means of blackboard, instruments, and gesture.

Jan. 7.—Evening.—Synthetic Reading of "Miriam" by Constance Smedley and Maxwell Armfield, assisted by Dorothy Johnston.

Such a program should not be missed by any University student to whom especially attractive rates are offered: To members of the Dramatic Club, $1.00 for the series; to those not members, $2.00 for the series; single entertainment tickets may also be purchased at slightly higher rates. Those students who are not members of the U. N. M. Dramatic Club are advised to join, since membership in it costs only $1.00, and includes membership in the Club and Community Playhouse Association, the members of which are entitled to free admittance to all its own programs and half prices to imported entertainments. Thus a student will pay $2.00 for the Armfield course and membership in the two clubs, with all future programs either free or half price. Arrangements will be made for the selling of tickets on Jan. 5th, Registration Day, to students who have not already purchased them.

An optometrist is one who refracts or "tests" the eyes without the use of drugs or drops. He never treats diseases of the eye, specializing in the fitting of glasses.

My one and only Specialty is the refracting of the eye, and the fitting of "Eyeglasses that Satisfy" for the relief of all abnormal strains which impair the vision, waste the vitality, and lower the sum of human efficiency.

OUR COACH.

Coach John McGough comes to us with a pedigree as long as your arm. He is a graduate of Colgate 1910 where he was mentioned by Walter Camp for tackle in the 1919 All-American. At St. Cloud, Minnesota, he coached a football team that wasn't scored on. Then he came to the wild and woolly, where he coached the Missoula, Montana, High School for three years and was a member of the faculty—what he taught, we do not know. During this time he studied at Chicago summer school. In 1916 he coached at Moline, Illinois. In 1917 he migrated to the Gonzaga University at Spokane, Washington. While coaching there he also made his degree in law. In 1917 he enlisted in the heavy tank corps, U. S. A. He was discharged at Camp Grant in December, 1918, and then went overseas with the Knights of Columbus.

In the fall of 1919 he came to the University of New Mexico and started work with a bunch of men most of whom had had practically no experience in football and some of whom didn't know whether football was a game or a variety of Bolshevism. Out of this bunch of scrappers he produced one of the best football teams that has ever represented the Cherry and Silver and which won the championship of New Mexico and Western Texas. Therefore we believe that we have not only the scrappiest squad of men that ever trotted out on the grid but that we have the best coach in these parts.

GRIND.

Grind! Grind! Grind!
Oh it's grind, grind, grind—
Not a minute spare to find
For exams are still before us
And we grind, grind, grind.

Let me rest for just a minute,
Take those darned old books away.
I studied those things all night;
Need I study them all day:
There's not a doggone minute
In which to rest a fellow's mind.
You stop a minute to breathe the air,
Then back again to grind.

My head i ssore and weary,
My fingers ached and cramped,
But not a single lesson
Upon my brain is stamped.
I sit up past the midnight,
And I work all thru the day
Plagueing at these woeful lessons.
Was there ever any play?

I miss my morning gossip,
And I rave and tear my hair
When I see the books before me
With no time at all to spare.
I shall weaken sure by Xmas,
My dead body they will find
Worn out, yes, but ever faithful
To the grind, grind, grind.
