MISS HICKEY MAKES REPUTATION AS AUTHOR

Faculty Member Shows Great Skill and Ability by Producing Musical Comedy Which Results in a Tremendous Hit.

Miss Ethel Hickey, authoress of "GO ASK WILLIE," has been teaching at the University for some time, and is considered one of the "Old Timers" in the Institution. During her time here she has served the University unlimitedly, and while although always in the foreground, Miss Hickey has distinguished herself once and for all time to come, as real genius.

"Go Ask Willie" is an entire'y

"GO ASK WILLIE" BEST PRODUCTION EVER STAGED BY U. N. M. REPRESENTATIVES

Musical Comedy One of Most Successful Amateur Performances Witnessed by People of Albuquerque; After First Act, Audience, Wild With Excitement and Enthusiasm, Calls for Authoress, Miss Hickey, and Composer, Prof. Seder. Large and Appreciative Audience Kept in Constant Uproar.

"GO ASK WILLIE," produced by the students of the U. N. M. Dramatic Club last Friday night at the Crystal Theatre was the best production ever put on by the University and Miss Ethel Hickey, the authoress; Miss Ferguson, the costume designer, and Prof. E. Stanley Seder, the music composer cannot be given too much praise.

Director Joe Scotti, a very noted actor, and an Albuquerque boy, comes in for his share of the glory at this point. Mr. Scotti has in his career taken part in many musical comedies, and is indeed a past master at the game. The smoothness exhibited by the cast, is due to the coaching received at the hand of Mr. Scotti. The student body wishes to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Scotti for his untiring effort in making the play a success.

Lyle Vincent in the role of "WILLIE" was easily the star, and played his part to perfection. Lyle handled himself with the greatest of ease and was at home from the time he made his first appearance until the curtain fell. Vincent has a good voice and with his unlimited amount of experience in appearing before the public, simply added one more feather to his cap. Lyle with his natural good looks, size, and ability was the proper man for the leading role. "You'll some how or other get used to it," sung by "Willie" seemed to be the most pleasing song to the audience, aided of course by the Cop Chorus and the "Ponies." The four Copettes, Alberta Hawthorne, Rebecca Horner, Carolyn Michaels and Ethel Kieke added very materially to the uniqueness of the performance and received repeated encores to their special feature stunts. Alberta Hawthorne would have no difficulty in signing up with the best companies. The "PONIES," Lillian Spickard, Julie Hubbel, Lillian Gustafson and Mildred Cady were cutest, naughtiest and little chorus girls and were indeed pleasing to the large audience.

When Adelaide Shields, as "Rosalie" made her first appearance the audience was completely captivated with her sweetness and charming attitude. Adelaide, without doubt, showed signs of real acting ability, and in fact, can be classed as a professional actress. The love scene between Rosalie and Willie appeared to be the most natural affair ever staged. The large audience was kept in constant laughter at the actions of our dainty little actress, and it is rumored that there are several scouts attempting to take her from our midst, one of the cleverest little actresses that ever represented the U. N. M. Adelaide will more than likely be with us for two or three more years, and will undoubtedly serve as a strong nucleus for our future plays. Everyone knows and appreciates the ability of "Ady" as she is out so completely before, we are proud to say that she is one of us. The work connected with figuring out this kind of an affair is enormous and Lina as President of the Dramatic Club has worked untiringly and willingly.

MUSIC ONE OF MOST ATTRACTIVE FEATURES

Prof. E. Stanley Seder, Composer and Writer of Music and Verse, Deserves His Share of Credit for Success of Musical Comedy.

Prof. E. Stanley Seder, composed the music and wrote the verse of the entire musical comedy with the exception of one song by Shirley Feather, one by Adelaide Shields and a Ballad by George White. Professor Seder has been head of the department of music at the Varsity for two years, having graduated herefrom the year previous to that.

The amount of knowledge stored away in Professor Seder's brain, along the musical line, is marvelous, and sufficient proof of this statement is seen by referring to the comedy staged last Friday night.

Prof. Seder is most assuredly to be highly complimented for the catchy airs distributed throughout the entire performance. Our professor has been accused in the past, of not being able to write or even play ragtime, but any "crabs," so to speak, must be satisfied by this time, that he is capable in all parts of the music world. DO IT AGAIN PROF. JUST TO MAKE SURE OF IT.

Gridiron Eleven Picked to Represent This Section of the Country Would Undoubtedly Prove Hard Combination to Defeat.

At the end of each football season it has heretofore been customary to pick an All Southwestern team. Due to the fact that the Coaches have not been able to get together as yet, "Van Surdam" has come to the rescue and picked a team which is considered worthy and able to compete with any in the Southwest. All partiality has original production and too much praise cannot be given Miss Hickey for its success. The keen brain, untiring effort, and enthusiasm which Miss Hickey has displayed since the beginning of this semester, working on this play, tells very easily the reason for the great success of it.

Miss Hickey is now working up another play entitled "Helena Garret," which will undoubtedly be even better than her first play, if such a thing could be possible, of course. At any rate, we are proud to say that we have a person in our midst who is capable of writing such a successful play. Needless to say, the entire student body and town people appreciate the fact that Miss Hickey is a real genius.

COSTUME DESIGNER IS STUDENT AT U. N. M.

Lina Fergusson's Artistic Eye Adds Greatly to Attractiveness of Stage and, Incidentally, Success of the Comedy.

Miss Lina Ferguson, an art student of very keen ability deserves considerable credit for the attractiveness of the stage, by means of the costumes and make up. Lina designed the major portion of the costumes worn in the play last Friday.

The effective costuming of the performance added greatly to the appearance of each member of the cast. The fluffy green costumes of the Merry Makers, as well as the dainty red and white arrangement of the Ponies were extremely attractive, to say nothing of the Cop costumes.

Lina has been with us two years and although she has never been found Examinations are before us and everyone is anxious to get them off their mind and return home for the holidays. There is one thing not to forget, and that is, "PASS THAT COURSE," or you will be passed up when you return to enter for the second semester. There is no reason in the world why everyone should not pass the amount of hours that he or she might be taking. If some are passed the stage where a little advice will do them good, let others profit by their experience and make up your mind to start hitting the ball the first day of next semester. In a hundred yard dash, the man with the start usually wins. One semester is not much longer than a hundred yard dash when you compare all sides, and therefore the man, that hits hard the first day, and keeps at it is one who comes out on top. New Year's resolutions are in order at this time and it is better to make them before examinations than after, because you never can tell just what will be in the exams. Brace up, PASS THAT COURSE! Enjoy yourself during the holidays, and return January 9th, 1935, with the determination to do even better than you have done this semester. The Weekly wishes everyone a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

WILL YOU DO YOUR SHARE?

Do you let your studies interfere with your college education. Now that the football season is successfully over and the Musical Comedy is a thing of the glorious past, there would seem to be nothing of interest to mix with our studies, nothing to keep us from taking the coming examinations and a good marks too seriously. But not so like the poor, we have ever with us, the Mirage.

The Mirage ought to be a very important part of our college education. One need not go to college to read and study books, nor even to take examinations—that is only a popular idea. But to play football, to make a fraternity, to star in a college theatrical, to edit an annual—in other words, to be a Freshie, a Soph, a gay Junior and a dignified Senior, one must go to college. And therein lies a real college education.

The purpose of this little article is to dwell on the importance of writing for the college year book. The Mirage is our book and it should be our pride, the responsibility of every loyal U. N. M. student. To make it worth while, that is, representative of our University, we must each contribute to its success. No staff alone, can publish a year book worthy of the name. The Mirage is a personal book and there is no reason why it should not contain some contribution from every member of the student body. A write up, a verse, a filler, with your initials at the end, or even a joke at the expense of your name, will make the Mirage partly yours.

Watch the bulletin board for notices of staff meetings. If you have the spirit and feel that you can help, offer your services and become a welcome member of the staff. There are places for artists, cartoonists, poets, humorists and literary aspirants. Come early and avoid the rush!

Miss Myrl Hope is the editor of this worthy publication and will undoubtedly be glad to talk with anyone who desires further information. Let it be the ambition of every student to see Miss Hope, and contribute something to the Mirage of 1935.

SANTA FE EXTENDS LIMIT TO JAN. 8TH

Mr. P. J. Johnson, Agent, Receives Permission to Allow Students to Stay Home Until the Day Before School Starts Second Semester.

Mr. P. J. Johnson, agent of the A. T. & S. F. Railway Co., has been courteous enough to take the matter up with the head office and has arranged to extend the limit from January 5th to January 8th. The schedule as it now stands is: "Students will be able to go home during the holidays for a fare and a third, round trip ticket, providing they leave December 23rd, and return January 8th." This applies of course only in the state.

The Santa Fe system has always been very obliging to accommodating the University on such matters and we surely do appreciate it.

This is a good chance to get into the best possible condition, and beat some one out of his position on the first line-up. All chances are equal now. Coach and captain have not been able to look material over sufficiently to pick a team.

University of Arizona have written asking about a game to be played here about the first of February. This will be a good chance to get in touch with Arizona in regard to basketball and with proper support and enthusiasm of student body, the game should be able to be arranged.

Negotiations have been started to have the Crescent Basketball Team from Chicago stop here on their way to the coast and give our men a chance to see if they are any good.

Basketball has the floor now, and every effort should be combined with the management to make this season a success, financially as well as otherwise.

better known, and her appearance last Friday night only strengthens these opinions.

Lillian Williams as Sylvia Spunk-hurst, the suffragette, held the audience spell bound during her first speech, which ended in an uproar that filled the Crystal to the last mark. Waiving her umbrella and the exhibition of the suspenders, holding her skirt in proper place, brought forth unlimited applause. Lillian has taken part in several Varsity productions since her arrival, and each time has demonstrated that she is duly qualified to be a representative.

Hortense Switzer, as Hokona, the Indian Princess, and later proclaimed Queen of the Carnival, proved the statement that she is one of the best singers in Albuquerque. The ease with which Miss Switzer sings, is marvelous, and indeed worthy of special mention. Hortense has an unusually sweet voice and is able to reach the highest of notes without the slightest difficulty. Appearing in a leopard skin, as the Princess, she was indeed in striking figure, and added greatly to the success of the performance.

Beatrice Selser, as the Prophetess, displayed her artistic ability as an actress as well as her unusually good voice, and was accorded a great deal of applause, after rendering solos in a most pleasing fashion.

Pryor Timmons, as Kwataka, the Indian Chief, clothed in real leather costume acted his part extremely well, and sang several pleasing selections. Jimmie Wait, as Pancho, the bandit, furnished a great deal of amusement in the scene with Sylvia Spunk-hurst.

Misses Heacock and Hoge demonstrated their ability in the dancing line, with two very pleasing dances. Both these young ladies have had considerable experience teaching along this line and are indeed a credit to the University.

The Merry Makers, Indians and Carnival Crew Choruses, clothed in the proper attire was a source of great amusement and showed sign of long and constant practice, in steps and dancing allotted to them.

The theatre was packed with a very appreciative audience, the loyal and constant patrons of University functions. The interest which has been shown by the town people in all Varsity affairs this year has been wonderful, and the student body as well as the administration itself wishes to thank each patronizer.

The show was a grand success and with examinations now before us, it will be necessary to prolong our celebration until some future date.
