

1948

Contributors

University of New Mexico Press

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalrepository.unm.edu/nmq>

Recommended Citation

University of New Mexico Press. "Contributors." New Mexico Quarterly 18, 1 (1948). <https://digitalrepository.unm.edu/nmq/vol18/iss1/2>

This Front Matter is brought to you for free and open access by the University of New Mexico Press at UNM Digital Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in New Mexico Quarterly by an authorized editor of UNM Digital Repository. For more information, please contact disc@unm.edu.

CONTRIBUTORS

STANLEY EDGAR HYMAN, well-known American critic, a staff writer on the New Yorker, has had criticism published in many literary magazines. ERNA FERGUSON is author of a number of books on foreign travel and on the Southwest; her latest one, Albuquerque, is a humorously historical account of her home town. RUTH UNDERHILL, lecturer and writer upon ethnological subjects, is widely known as an authority on the Indians of the Southwest; she is now working with the United States Office of Indian Affairs in Washington, D. C. FREDERICK C. IRION, assistant director of government research and assistant professor of government at the University of New Mexico, has been active for a number of years in various fields of labor relations. MERVYN CROBAUGH, author of Economics for Everybody, recently published, is acting head of the department of economics at the University of New Mexico. ARTHUR W. HAMILTON, a free-lance writer of articles and fiction, lives in Mesilla Park, New Mexico.

IRMA FUEHR, author of articles and fiction published in various magazines, lives in Pinos Altos, New Mexico, where she manages a small ranch and carries on her writing activities. WID OMAR NEIBERT, formerly laboratory technician of the department of speech at the University of New Mexico, is living now in Lafayette, Indiana. VINCENT GAROFFOLO, whose writing has appeared in a number of magazines, is owner of the Guadalupe Art Gallery in Old Albuquerque, New Mexico.

LEGARDE S. DOUGHTY is author of one novel and of verse, fiction, and criticism published in various magazines in this country and abroad. BYRON HERBERT REECE has published one volume of poetry and is now working on a novel. ALEX AUSTIN has had poems and fiction published in this country, in England, and in Canada, and has recently completed a novel. ERNEST KROLL has published poems in Atlantic Monthly, New Yorker, Furioso, and other magazines. CHARLES EDWARD EATON, author of one volume of poetry, The Bright Plain, and of another collection, to be titled Center Green, nearing completion, teaches English at the University of North Carolina. WILLIAM HULL, teacher of English at Hofstra College, has had poems appear in such magazines as Sewanee Review, Accent, etc. JOSEPH WARREN BEACH, author of two important volumes of literary criticism and of one volume of poetry, is chairman of the department of English at the University of Minnesota. J. S. MOODEY, formerly a teacher of English at the University of California at Berkeley and author of poems published in many magazines, lives now in Sanger, California, where he farms an orchard. S. RAIZISS has recently completed a study of American poets in relation to 17th-Century metaphysicals to be published soon by the University of Pennsylvania Press. PHILIP MURRAY has published poems in Harper's, Poetry, and other magazines. NICHOLAS MOORE is a well known English poet whose verse is seen frequently in magazines in this country. LAWRENCE OLSON, author of a volume of poems, lives in Washington, D. C. TOM CALKINS, whose first published poem appears in this issue, is a student at the University of New Mexico.

RICHARD F. BEHRENDT is a professor of International Affairs and the Chairman of Area Studies at Colgate University, Hamilton, New York. HARIDAS T. MUZUMDAR, a professor of sociology at New Mexico Highlands University, Las Vegas, New Mexico, is an authority on India and the Orient. ROBERT BUNKER is employed by the United States Indian Service as a subagent at Zuñi Pueblo; his first novel, Amanda Said the Grass Was Green, was published in February by The Swallow Press and William Morrow and Company. DUDLEY WYNN, professor of English and director of the humanities program at the University of Colorado, in Boulder, was for many years a member of the University of New Mexico English department and editor of the NEW MEXICO QUARTERLY REVIEW. HUGH MCGOVERN, author of fiction and criticism published in a number of magazines, is a GI student at the University of New Mexico. All other reviewers are of the University of New Mexico: DOROTHY WOODWARD, department of history; ALBERT C. F. WESTPHAL, department of government; ALBERT R. LOPES and THELMA CAMPBELL, department of modern languages; ADA RUTLEDGE, NEW MEXICO QUARTERLY REVIEW; WILLIS D. JACOBS, GEORGE ARMS, JULIA KELEHER, JANE KLUCKHOHN, and DEANE MOWRER, all of the department of English.

LYLE SAUNDERS is assistant professor of sociology and research associate of the School of Inter-American Affairs at the University of New Mexico.