IN COMING ISSUES

The Spring 1953 New Mexico Quarterly will feature the first publication in America of a book by the prominent composer, Ernst Krenek: Self-Analysis. The book, revised and considerably expanded for this publication, is a unique examination of a musical career by a composer who has loyalties to Schubert as well as to Schoenberg. Self-Analysis will be printed in its entirety, and will include a facsimile reproduction of a new score, as well as a complete bibliography of Mr. Krenek's compositions to date.

THE COLORADO QUARTERLY

PUBLISHED BY THE UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO

The Colorado Quarterly is a university-sponsored journal of regional and national interest, with the primary aim of bringing to the general reader whatever the scholar, researcher, historian, or creative writer may have to say—in readable but dignified style. It is an effort in the popularization of knowledge. The specialists in all fields who contribute to its pages are required to write, not for other specialists, but for the general reader.

The support of readers (that is, subscribers) and of contributors of materials is earnestly solicited. Sample copies while they last are available at 50 cents. In ordering, please mention this advertisement.

Subscriptions are $3.00 a year. Address The Colorado Quarterly, University of Colorado, Boulder.
